He warned in his first annual report as civilian head of the air force that the United States cannot afford to waste its time and resources in "stop-and-start" planning of air power.

Symington's views are expected to attract the attention of air power advocates in Congress, who awaited President Truman's budget message and its widely-reported reduction of the program instituted without his sanction by Congress last year.

Air force officials generally are understood to feel that the 70-group program, developed in 1944, still is the minimum size with which the United States can feel safe.

Weatherman Gets Dates Badly Mixed As Eastern Provinces Basking In Spring-Like Temperatures

By The Canadian Press

From East to West Canada's weather picture has been turned topsy-turvy, with sunshine and spring-like breezes bringing a seeming end to winter in the East and cold frosts nipping the unusually mild western coast. Only the Prairie Provinces presented a normal picture and cold air from the West was expected today to move into Ontario and Quebec, bringing things there back to normal.

The Maritime Provinces, with two full weeks of spring-like conditions already, were told that it would last at least until Wednesday.

Halifax, with no snow since Christmas, had one thermometer register 74 degrees in the sun. Sunday golfers queued up at the first tee of a local golf course.

At Saint John, N.B., which has had only one light snowfall this winter, the Saint John River is exected to break up. Other rivers throughout the Maritimes and Newfoundland are running free, and Newfoundland trains, normally stalled in snowdrifts at this time, are on schedule.

Sports Hard Hit

Sport is taking it on the chin. Hockey teams in both Ontario and the Maritimes that depend on natural ice have had to hang up their skates temporarily. Skiing enthusiasts took one look at bare hills and went for rides in open convertibles.

The three Prairie provinces, however, are at the other end of the weather scale under a blanket of Arctic air which has plunged thermometers well below zero.

Calgary temperatures Sunday night dropped to 25 degrees below zero and the mercury at Regina followed close behind in the downward plunge.

Vancouver, normally boastful about its English winter, donned overcoats and mufflers as thermometers hovered a few degrees above zero. At Prince George, in north central British Columbia, the temperature was 20 degrees below zero Sunday night.

Strange Activities

Happenings throughout Ontario were strange and varied during the balmy weekend.

Golfers found fine playing on green fairways in Toronto and Goderich; three men near Fort Erie donned bathing suits to wade about in the Niagara River building a boat house; flowers bloomed at Sault Ste. Marie and summertime birds took baths in puddles.

Toronto's Sunnyside boardwalk was crowded with city residents, minus overshoes and overcoats, while Windsor temperatures soared to 55 degrees to meet the 1880 record. Country roads turned to muddy ruts as frost left the ground and rivers filled with ice-floes.

Golds Edge Ahead In Moderate Action

TORONTO, Jan. 10 — (CP)— Golds edged quietly ahead in moderate action on the Toronto Stock Exchange today while base metals moved slowly downwards. Industrials moved in a narrow rut to hold steady.

Producing golds continued last week's advance in a moderate way on small gains. A few senior issues were fractionally brighter and some juniors showed gains ranging up to 15 cents. Kayrand attracted some attention in penny stocks for a small advance. McIntyre led the seniors on a gain of a point at 54.

Base metals moved opposite to the golds, slipping quietly into loser ground. Smelters, Noranda, International Nickel and Hudson Bay—the big four—weakened fractionally. Sherritt was brisk for a 15 cent gain and Pend Oreille dipped 15 cents.

Industrials moved irregularly with almost all changes held to fractions. Montreal Locomotive was active, adding ¼ and Imperial Oil, Dominion Bridge and Canadian Car brightened. Ford A, CPR, Brazilian Traction and a few paper issues slipped downwards.

Fire Destroys Big Farm House

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 10 — (CP)—The spacious farm home of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Asher at Caistor Centre was totally destroyed by fire of unknown origin Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Asher and their daughter, Ruby were away at the time. Only Mrs. Hugh Asher and her grandson Lorne were at home.

The fire was first noticed in the upper part of the house. Neighbors were able to save the living room furniture and most of the dining room furniture. There is no fire department in Caistor. A bucket brigade was unable to squelch the flames, held in by brick walls.

Mercy Flight To Aid Priest Bitten By Dog

WINNIPEG, Jan. 10 — (CP)— Medical aid for a Roman Catholic priest bitten by a mad dog moved a step closer today as an RCAF mercy plane prepared for the second lap of its flight to Igloolik, N.W.T.

Air force officials disclosed that the mercy aircraft, a Dakota piloted by Flt. Lt. Terry Winslow of Sherbrooke, Que., reached Churchill, Man., at 7:45 p.m. Sunday night after a 4½-hour trip from Winnipeg.

They said it was expected that the plane would take off again early today. Aim of the mission is to drop medical supplies to Italian-born Father Ostran, 26, who was bitten last Friday. A health department spokesman in Ottawa said Sunday night that Father Ostran, who came here from Italy two years ago, is not considered in serious condition.

The spokesman said that even if it was found the priest had been infected with hydrophobia from the bite, the air force still had 15 days at least to reach him with vaccine. Plans call for medical supplies to be dropped by parachute to the priest. These will include a syringe, as well as instructions on proper methods of application.

Britain, France Hold OwnPeaceConference

LONDON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Britain and France will have a peace conference of their own Wednesday.

In an effort to straighten out their difficulties, France's Foreign Minister, Robert Schuman, will arrive Wednesday to talk things over with Foreign Secretary Bevin in a two-day meeting.

British and French officials expect them to dwell mainly on whether to set up a parliament of Europe for western anti-Communist governments, and on Germany's political future.

Other issues that will come up are: The future of Italy's prewar African colonies; the North Atlantic security pact recognition of Israel and its admission into the United Nations, and co-ordination of French and British colonial policies in the Far East and Africa.

Five Policemen Welcome Inquiry

TORONTO, Jan. 10 — (CP) — Five of the eight police officials charged by Constable J. E. Keays of Belleville with fraud, perjury and maladministration of justice, said Saturday they welcomed a royal commission called by the Ontario Attorney-General.

The other three were not available for comment.

Attorney-General Blackwell announced Friday night that Mr. Justice J. Keiller Mackay would conduct a public inquiry into the charges laid by Keays, who has been on the Provincial Police force for eight years.

It is unlikely the inquiry will get under way until early in February, Mr. Blackwell said.

The provincial constable claims his superior officers sought to discredit him and that a crown attorney interfered in every case he prepared for court presentation.

District Inspector Cousins said: "I stand on my record of 27 years' service. It must have been satisfactory or I wouldn't be here, would I?"

The other three available for comment—Const. J. B. Driscoll, District Inspector A. W. Page and Sgt. J. A. Stringer—all agreed the public investigation was welcomed.

Report 2 Fires Deliberately Set

MOUNT FOREST, Jan. 10.—(CP).—Two separate fires in bedrooms which contained the bodies of an elderly man and his mentally-ill daughter were set 'by some third person,' police said Saturday.

The fires broke out Friday in the upstairs rooms of a small house in this community 40 miles south of Owen Sound.

Police said they "had no doubt" the fires from which the charred bodies of George White, 72, and his daughter Florence, 42, were taken were deliberately set.

No charges have been laid.

Crown Attorney J. M. Kearns announced Sunday night that an inquest will be held in Mount Forest Jan. 18.

In Toronto Harold Johnson, a cousin, added to the mystery surrounding the mentally-ill daughter's death. He said no one who had visited the Mount Forest family ever was allowed to see Florence.

"I was her first cousin but I have never seen her. A year ago, when I last visited them, they shut the door and wouldn't let me upstairs until the door was closed."

This probably would include notice to the Security Council that Britain no longer feels bound by the embargo against shipping arms to participants in the Arab-Jewish strife. It probably would be accompanied by an even greater increase in British power in the mideast.

Just Forget It

The United States today urged Britain and Israel to treat the shooting down of five R.A.F. planes as a "regrettable incident only."

A statement by the state department expressed hope that the incident will not interfere with Palesine truce negotiations expected to open Wednesday on the Island of Rhodes.

The department disclosed at the same time that the United States was informed in advance, but not consulted on the movement of British forces to the Trans-Jordan port of Aqaba. Press officer Michael J. McDermott declined to say whether any American objections were raised to the move.

All Jewish troops have been withdrawn from Egyptian territory, an official Israeli statement said tonight.

Denies Aid Given

The foreign office denied again today all published reports that Britain has supplied Egypt and other Arab states with munitions since the arms embargo was laid down last summer.

Public resentment against Israel was bitter, but Bevin also came in for his share of criticism.

The Independent-Liberal newspaper Manchester Guardian said the foreign secretary "is taking perilous and needless risks in the Middle East."

It said in particular:

1. The action of sending British aircraft over a corner of the area where Israel and Egypt have been fighting was "indefensible."

2. The decision to send British troops to Trans-Jordan's Red Sea port of Aqaba was a case of bad timing.

BRIDGETOWN, NS, Jan. 10 — (CP)—Dr. Otto Strasser, 51-year-old German political refugee who has been living on a quiet Annapolis Valley farm here for the last five years, said today he had applied to Ottawa for a passport to return to his homeland to lead a "rally of German Democratic forces."

Dr Joseph Holdcroft

many hardships attending patients in the days of the horse and buggy.

Born three miles north of Gananoque in a railway station where his parents, the late James Holdcroft and Margaret Cliffe settled after their marriage and where his father was employed as section foreman on the railway, Dr. Holdcroft was the oldest of six children. His education began in a country school a mile from his home. At the age of ten, he passed his entrance examinations to the High School at Gananoque and left there when he was 14 to take up telegraphy. After a few years he returned to school to matriculate before entering medical college.

His headmaster was Clarendon Lamb Worrell, who later entered the ministry eventually to become Primate of the Church of England in Canada. Dr. Holdcroft recalls that he holds the distinction of being one of the two boys that My Lord Bishop thrashed.

Dr. Holdcroft's hobby was fishing, especially for trout and whenever possible during the trout season, he would spend the morning on Belapraine creek, which he had leased as his own private stream. Shortly after settling at Havelock, he built a cottage at Koshabogamog lake where he and his family spent a holiday every year.

Early in the 1900's he started stocking every stream within 12 miles of Havelock with Government trout fingerlings, all except one. This, known as Belpraine Creek, he had leased from the farmer-owner until the present day as his private trout stream. It was here that Mrs. Holdcroft caught a four-pound two-ounce squaretail speckle, a challenge yet to be beaten.

Dr. Holdcroft was a member of Havelock Lodge AF and AM 426.

Surviving besides his widow are three sons, Dr. Donald J. Holdcroft, Clarence of Havelock and William of Kingston; a sister, Mrs. Laura Nickle, widow of the late Dr. Nickle, Clearwater, Florida.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon. A private service at the family home will be conducted by Dr. Holdcroft's brother-in-law, the Rev. H. A. Ben-Oliel of Toronto, who will be assisted by the Rev. P. A. Rickard of St. John's Anglican Church, Havelock. Burial will be in Maple Grove cemetery.

Youth 16 Confesses Scissors Slaying

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10 (AP) —A slim, bespectacled 16-year-old youth whose room was found littered with comic books about crime, today was held on a homicide charge in the scissors slaying of a 12-year-old neighbor.

The battered and slashed body of Ellis Simons was found behind a garage Sunday, clad only in shorts and bound hand and foot. Police said he apperently put up a "terrific battle" before he died.

Police said that Seymour Levin admitted the killing.

Toronto Seaman Saves 5 Mates

BELFAST, Jan. 10 (Reuters)— Bill Brace, an able seaman from Toronto, saved five of his mates by letting them cling to his body in the wash of giant waves across the deck, it was disclosed when the storm-battered Canadian freighter Cumberland County reached harbor here.

The ship's hold was full of water and some of her plates were sprung.

At the height of a storm off Narvik, Norway, a huge wave swept Brace and five others to the rails.

The Toronto man gripped a stanchion with one hand and hung on while the five clung to his body.

"If his strength had failed, all of us would have been lost," said messman David White of Cape Breton, Nova Scotia.

The 7,176-ton freighter, bound from Narvik to Baltimore, with 5,000 tons of iron ore, survived a four-day battering in the worst storm in the crew's memory.

Crew members said it was touch and go for three days and at times they thought the ship could not possibly stay afloat.

Wants Wolf Bounty Boosted To $75

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 10 (CP). —L. C. Anderson, Port Arthur mining man carrying on an anti-wolf campaign, said that wolves were responsible for a decline in the deer population in northwestern Ontario.

In an address, he suggested that the wolf bounty be raised to $75 from the present $25 and that the provincial government appoint a man in charge of a wolf-extermination program. In recent weeks Anderson has paid for radio and newpaper advertising to make residents conscious of what he terms the wolf menace.

000 figure for this year.

Other estimates:

Veterans, $5,500,000,000; public debt interest, $5,400,000,000; social health, welfare and security, $2,400,000,000; natural resources, including atomic energy, $1,900,000,000; agriculture, $1,700,000,000; transportation and communication, $1,600,000,000; housing, education, labor, finance and all other activities, $2,300,000,000.

The President asked for $600,000,00 to start a universal military training program which he said would cost $2,000,000,000 a year later.

Higher Spending

The spending program the President outlined is $1,678,000,000 higher than this year's—also a peacetime record.

During the fiscal yeal ended six months ago, the government ran up an unprecedented surplus of $8,419,000,000. Then the Republican-controlled 80th Congress rammed through its multi-million-dollar tax-cutting bill over the President's veto.

Truman said his budget is founded on the conviction that the United States "must continue to exert strong, positive effort to achieve peace in the world and growing prosperity at home." He served notice that the cost of government is likely to go on increasing.

Canada presumably will share in any military-aid program. Observers here see the likelihood that she will manufacture arms for American shipment to Europe. With United States dollars obtained in this way, Canada would buy American equipment to bolster her own armed forces.

Sacrament Is Subject Of Lesson Sermon

"Sacrament" was the subject of the lesson sermon which was read in all churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, including First Church of Christ Scientist, Peterborough, on Sunday.

The Golden Text was "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me." (Psalms 51: 10).

Selections from the Bible included the following from I Corinthians 5: 8: "Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

Correlative citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy included the following: "Are all who eat bread and drink wine in memory of Jesus willing truly to drink his cup, take his cross, and leave all for the Christ-principle? Then why ascribe this inspiration to a dead rite, instead of showing, by casting out error and making the body 'holy, acceptable unto God,' that Truth has come to the undstanding? If Christ, Truth, has come to us in demonstration, no other commemoration is requisite, for demonstration is Immanuel, or God with us; and if a friend be with us, why need we memorials of that friend?"

Given Four Months For Indecent Assault

Malcolm Laing, 54, of 146 Simcoe St., was sentenced to four months in Guelph Reformatory in court today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of indecent assault.

Detective William Clark of the city police testified that the accused had been arrested on Saturday following a complaint from a theatre patron. A girl in the theatre had been molested by the accused, who was seated beside her. The incident happened twice before Laing left at the request of an usher.

"It is unfortunate," commented Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, "that there is no place available where such cases can be treated."

Controller Begins Fight

TORONTO, Jan. 10 — (CP). — Controller Allen Lamport started a fight today to legalize Sunday sales and games when he filed with the city clerk a notice of motion seeking to have council petition the Ontario Government for an amendment to the Lord's Day Act. The petition would ask the Legislature to legalize Sunday sales and permit games and performances that are of "recreational nature" on Sunday.

Each American's Share In Gov't Cost, $282

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—(AP). —Each American's share in the cost of government, as proposed by President Truman in his United States budget message today, averages $282.82 for the 12 months beginning next July 1. This compares with $271.04 for the preceding 12 months.

Based on an estimated population of 148,000,000, that is the cost for every American—man, woman and child — of the government's operations at home and abroad.

The comparative cost in the year ended June 30, 1941, the last full fiscal year before the attack on Pearl Harbor, was $101.14. The population then was only 132,350,000.

Quebec Snowshoers Now Hold Title As Best Team In America

By RICHARD DAIGNAULT

QUEBEC, Jan. 10 (CP).—At the close of the month Quebec City's oldest club of snowshoers, "L'Union Commerciale" will defend the title it now holds as the best team of "raquetteurs" in America at a bang-up carnival in Montreal. Competing for the biggest event among several contests—a 10-mile relay race—will be 60 Canadian snowshoe clubs and a number of teams from New England where French-Canadian settlers of 100 years ago perpetuated the Quebec snowshoeing tradition.

In Quebec, where snowshoeing is as old as Canada's history, it was always—and still is to a surprising extent—a convenient if strenuous mode of travelling the snow-covered forests.

Trappers, farmers and even government land surveyors use them as a matter of course. Indians, who began the snowshoe tradition, use them with great agility for hunting.

Record Stands

One authority places the first authentic record of a snowshoe race as late as 1945 when the fabulous Lloyd Evans, of St. Hyacinthe, Que., covered 10 miles in 59 minutes 23 seconds, near Quebec City. Officially the record still stands.

Mainly Pageant

To this day a "Carnival de Raquetteurs" is still mainly a pageant.

Quebecers especially — they form the bulk of Canadian snowshoers with some 41 teams—are fond of their snowshoeing dress, their marching songs, ice palaces, torchlight parades, and games.

In ancient times the snowshoers dress was cheap and convenient. Transposed to our times it is an expensive bulky garb that costs about $75 to buy—if you can find it.

The history of the costume of the Quebec snowshoers stems from the 1837 Rebellion when "Les Patriotes" bundled themselves in knee-length robes called "Bourgrine" and a long headgear called "capushon." Below the robe the rebels wore short britches.

The women of these early times travelled with their men over the long distances and devised a similar costume. As a result, Quebec women, usually excluded from rugged sports, have always claimed their right to practise this one. At the coming carnival there will be several contests for the women.

Refugee Has Baby Without Medical Aid

TORONTO, Jan. 10 (CP) — A young Estonian woman who in 1944 with 23 other persons braved a 78-day trip in a small boat to come to Canada, gave birth to her baby without medical aid last week.

In a dingy, third-floor room, Mrs. Oswald Mets delivered her own child on a bed without a mattress, and didn't waken her jobless husband until she had a healthy son to show him.

Without funds, the couple were unable to supply warm clothes for the child or a crib.

But neighbors soon heard of the woman's trouble. They called a doctor and got in touch with the Red Cross for clothes and a layette.

After their arrival in Canada the husband found a $30-a-week job in Kitchener, but he moved to Toronto hoping to better his position. However, he hasn't been able to find a job.

City Policemen Check 3 Accidents

Three minor accidents were investigated in the city by the Police Department during the week-end. There were no district accident reported by Provincial Police.

A truck and a car were in collision at Argyle and Water Sts., about 7.30 p.m. Saturday. Damage to the car driven by William Shadgett of 295 Margaret Ave., is estimated at $50. There was no damage to the truck, which was driven by Leo Baptiste, 679 Dovercourt Rd., Toronto. PC M. D. Traynor investigated.

Two cars and a city bus were involved in a tangle on George St., although only one car—driven by Miss H. A. Boyer, 102 Wolsley St.—was damaged. Bus driver was Bert Rowe, 125 Princess St. A parked car also involved was that of A. F. Clark, 561 Aylmer St. Only damage was about $40 to the one driven by Miss Boyer. PC Sherman Keliele investigated.

Slight damage to two cars was caused at Lock and McGill Sts. Saturday evening. Drivers were Claire Hill of Lakefield and William Bethune of Timmins. Damage to the Hill car was about $20 and a fender was bent on the Timmins car. PC M. D. Traynor investigated.

Want Met Changes

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP).—The Metropolitan Opera may get a new home—or at least a reconditioned one. George A. Sloan, chairman of the Opera Association's Board of Directors, said in a radio talk Saturday a new opera house with more seating capacity "would undoubtedly contribute to an easier financial picture." "Extensive alerations" to the old house, with air conditioning, would be "another possibility," he said.

Timmins Ignorant Of Settler Scheme

TIMMINS, Jan. 10 (CP)—Town officials here said Sunday that Thomas A. Blake, an English nurseryman who planned to bring 100 Kent County families to settle in the Timmins district, had not told them of his scheme.

Mayor Karl Eyre and Town Clerk N. V. Sloaman both said they had received no correspondence on the subject. Wilfred Spooner, secretary of adjoining Mountjoy Township, said there was plenty of available land in the township, although he had not heard of Blake's plan.

In England, Blake has been told he will not be allowed to enter Canada. It was disclosed that he was deported from Canada in 1927 and since then has had a police record in England. Canadian officials in London have indicated they are willing to assist the families in getting to Canada if they wish to go.

98% Taxes Collected Cobourg Official Reports

COBOURG, Jan. 10—(ENS).—Ninety-eight per cent. of the 1948 taxes have been collected, according to the records of tax collector E. A. Hircock. The total roll for 1948 amounted to $179,731.68 on an assessable value of $3,254,665.00. The amount collected was $172,434.99, leaving a balance of $7,296.69. With the court of revision figures plus transient traders' taxes prepaid, the total collected is 98 per cent. of the roll.

Arrears outstanding as of Dec. 31, 1947, were $20,864.43. Arrears collected in 1948 consisted of $7,333.68, plus $1,335.40 of interest on arrears, or a total of $8,669.08. Outstanding taxes prior to 1948, as recorded on the books now, amount to $6,488.27 and the current arrears of $7,296.96, bring a total arrears to date of $13,784.96, a figure which Mr. Hircock says is the lowest in 20 years.

Mr. Hircock agrees in part with the recent tax judgment of Judge W. Lane of Picton in which the judge said that Cobourg was badly in need of a re-assessment.

Business premises could stand an upward adjustment to meet the increased business which is being transacted. He said that hotels were assessed low during prohibition period and raised later, and he felt that hotel assessments should be scrutinized to bring them in line with present-day business. However, their inflated sales value of the present time was not a proper yardstick by which to gauge their value for assessment purposes.

Commenting on industrial assessments, Mr. Hircock said that any change in that connection should be studied very carefully and that every circumstance involved should be taken into consideration before increasing industrial assessments.

Meanwhile Mayor Joe Smith has announced that the 1949 Council plans to tackle the job of bringing about a new re-assessment of the town and the Mayor declared that the town is losing the revenue which it would receive if the assessments were increased the $300,000 to $500,000 which he feels are proper increases.

Say Fire Regulations Hamper Officials

TORONTO, Jan. 10 (CP) — Local regulations prohibit city fire prevention officers from using the authority given them under the Ontario Fire Marshal's Act, City Fire Marshal Sam Hill said Sunday.

He said that divided authority in the prevention of fires has allowed Toronto citizens to live in a "fool's paradise."

Although fire department officers can inspect buildings to see that inflammable rubbish is not allowed to accumulate, the Fire Marshal said that structural changes to provide fire exits could only be recommended and not enforced by city fire officials.

WI Buys 50 Chairs For Harwood Hall

HARWOOD, Jan. 10—(ENS)—It was grandmothers' day for the Women's Institute on Thursday when grandmothers attended the branch meeting. The president, Mrs. Arthur Lawton, took the chair.

Members planned to make articles for the hospital auxiliary. The members of the Institute were asked to cater for the park committee dance on Jan. 14. A committee of three was appointed to arrange for this.

The secretary-treasurer gave the statement of the materials for the kitchen of the community hall, which amounted to $50.40. The members voters to purchase 50 chairs at $3 each as their further donation to the hall. $10.50 donations were hande in towards the kitchen equipment.

Mrs. Glenn Hogg, Mrs. G. U. Isaac, and Mrs. A. Sandercock, were named to meet the park board to see about the chairs for the hall.

Mrs. Glenn Hogg was convener of the program and there were 12 grandmothers present. Mrs. R. S. Johnson then read a poem entitled 'Grandmother's All,' and Mrs. Hogg gave an address to the grandmothers, each one being presented with flowers. Mrs. G. U. Isaac sang "Little Old Lady" and Mrs. Cheyne then read "Grandmother Stays Out Late".

The prize for the oldest grandmother was presented to Mrs. J. Sandercock. The prize for the youngest grandmother to Mrs. Wilfred Stevenson. The prize for the most glamorous grandmother to Mrs. Arthur Lawton.

Has Lucky Hunch

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10—(AP).—J. R. McLean, Union Pacific Railroad telegrapher, had a hunch on Saturday night. So he's alive today. The streamliner City of Los Angeles was coming by his station in suburban Pico. He could have stayed at his desk, but he went outside, to flag down traffic. The streamliner hit a cattle truck. When the wreckage had cleared, 15 steers were dead, that many others were bellowing along the tracks. The truck driver, Charles Nash, walked to an ambulance for treatment of minor injuries. But McLean's telegrapher's room was a shambles. The truck and a semaphore had hit the station.

Credit Restrictions May Cut Production

DETROIT, Jan. 10 (CP) — Kaiser-Frazer Corporation disclosed Sunday it is considering a production cutback because of credit restrictions imposed by the Federal Reserve Board.

These reduce the time allowed for completing payment on the purchase of automobiles generally to about 15 months compared with a previous time allowance of 24 months or more.

Currently, Kaiser-Frazer is producing 675 cars a day. It disclosed Sunday that it may reduce this total to 400 a day. Edgar E. Kaiser, vice-president and general manager of the corporation, said if this is done from 3,500 to 4,000 workers may be laid off at the big Willow Run plant.

Henry J. Kaiser, board chairman of the corporation, said most purchasers do not object to the one-third down payment but only a select group of about 14 per cent of family heads who earn $5,000 a year or more can afford the high monthly finance rate.

Detectives quoted Mrs. Dorothy Wilson, also 27, as saying: "He accused me of going out with other men and won't let me sleep. I had been working hard and need sleep. I got out of bed, got the ax and hit him twice."

Hamilton Pays Highest Salary For Teachers, Survey Shows

TORONTO, Jan. 10 — (CP) — Ontario's five largest cities pay their public school teachers from $1,300 to $3,900 a year; their firemen and policemen from $1,750 to nearly $2,900.

Most of the five cities boosted these salaries last year. Further increases may come in 1949, the Canadian Press learned in a survey of Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa, Windsor and London.

Toronto, the largest city, pays the biggest salaries to firemen and policemen. But the highest teachers salaries are paid in Hamilton where a new salary schedule came into effect this year.

The following table shows maximum salaries:

	P.S. Teacher	H.S. Teacher	Police Constable	Fireman
Toronto	$3500	$4100	$2827	$2895
Hamilton	3900	4600	2761	2710
Ottawa	3400*	4400	2530	2365
Windsor	3100	4000	2350	2350
London	1900	3950	2550	2400

The figures shown are for male teachers and only in Windsor do men and women teachers receive the same maximum salary.

Pay Bonuses

Most cities pay bonuses in addition to the salaries shown in the table. Toronto policemen and firemen get a cost-of-living bonus of $1 a week. Ottawa policemen got a $300 bonus and firemen got $350 last year. Both departments in Windsor paid a $371 bonus last year, and this year they'll pay $450. In London the two departments paid $4 a week extra last year and both policemen and firemen asked a 10-per-cent raise for 1949.

Maximum salaries for Ottawa teachers were boosted $200 last year while Windsor teachers got a raise of $150. London teachers are asking a raise of $550 in maximum basic salaries this year.

Teachers in each city can get bonuses if they have additional degrees, hold executive positions or teach special classes. Ottawa public school teachers, for example, get $100 extra a year if they are university graduates while in Toronto the degree is worth an extra $200 a year.

Warning to Hydro Consumers.. Difficult Winter Months Ahead

The co-operation of labour and industry in re-arranging working schedules to relieve the power shortage is very much appreciated by The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario and the Municipal Systems. It is vital that the weekly working schedules spread over six days and six nights be continued, if the present level of production is to be maintained.

While present water levels and the high degree of co-operation on the part of all classes of Hydro consumers have enabled the Commission to maintain increased power quotas to municipalities, we are now entering a critical period of the Winter when extreme care in the use of electricity must be exercised by all consumers.

It should be remembered that, despite increased quotas, the power shortage is still with us, present resources being some 4,000,000 Kilowatt-hours per working day short of meeting the demand. Unfavourable weather conditions and excessive use of electricity can easily aggravate this condition to a point where a return to power interruptions may be necessary.

Cut down on electricity. Keep pay envelopes full.

The Price Of Milk

On December 29th an arbitration board appointed by the Ontario Milk Control Board granted farmers in 37 districts (including Peterborough) increases of 20 to 25 cents per hundredweight of milk. Farmers selling to the Peterborough distributors (the dairies) are now getting $4.00 a hundredweight for "composite" milk—milk used for various purposes other than bottling. They are getting $4.10 for milk which the dairies bottle. That is almost double what farmers were paid for their milk in 1930, when the price paid was $2.20 a hundredweight. An 86½ per cent. increase in nine years is not an insignificant gain to the farmer, even though his feeding costs have risen considerably.

* * *

The increases granted the farmers have resulted in increased prices to the consumers. Milk is now 13 cents a quart in this district—an increase of one cent. It is the fourth jump in the last 30 months. Cream is up five cents a half-pint. Skimmed milk is up three cents a quart to 13 cents. Buttermilk has risen similarly to the same price.

* * *

We have compiled a table to clarify the price changes in milk in the last ten years. In the first column below is the effective date; in the second the retail price of milk per quart; in the third the approximate retail price which the dairies get per hundredweight (calculated on the assumption that 40 quarts of milk can be got from a hundredweight); in the fourth, the money paid the farmer per hundredweight; and finally, the difference between what the dairies pay the farmer and the prices at which they retail the milk.

Date	Per Qt.	Per Cwt.	Farmer Gets	Spread
May, '29 ...	12½c	$5.00	$2.36	$2.64
June, '30 ...	12½c	5.00	2.20	2.80
Oct. '35	12c	4.80	2.36	2.44
" ..	12c	4.80	2.35	2.45
Oct, '46	15c	6.00	3.35	2.65
Dec. '47 ...	17c	6.80	3.90	2.90
Jan. '49	18c	7.20	4.10	3.10

(*Figures applied during most of the war years when a 2 cent subsidy was paid which reduced the price to the consumer to 10c a quart).

The percentage increases since 1929 have been: to the dairies on retail selling prices by the hundredweight—44 per cent.; to the farmers—74 per cent.; on the spread between what farmers are paid by the dairies and the approximate retail price per hundredweight—18 per cent.

* * *

They are substantial increases, for even the 18 per cent. expansion of the "spread", when taken as a percentage of the sale of thousands of tons of milk, seems ample to provide for the dairies' increased cost of labour, machinery and bottles. The increases have been made at the expense of the consumers, the people who in 1935 paid 12 cents a quart for milk and now must pay 18 cents. Though it is but a fifty per cent. increase, it is important, since milk, a basic food, is a large item in family budgets.

U.S. Foreign Policy And State Department

In President Truman's "State-of-the-Union" speech and his subsequent report to Congress, references were made to United States foreign policy involving that nation's military and economic strength. In both instances, although no details were given, there was the expected assurance of continued full-scale participation of the United States in international affairs, along the lines already laid down by Mr. Truman's pre-election Administration. At the same time, however, word came that there would be a change of leadership in that nation's foreign office—its State Department.

While there had been hope, both in the United States and in other western capitals, that General George Marshall would remain as Secretary of State, it was based on little more than wishful thinking. General Marshall expressed a desire to retire last year, but remained at his post when Mr. Truman asked him to do so. After undergoing a major operation last month, however, General Marshall's resignation appeared certain, and Mr. Truman accepted reluctantly. And the opinion had been freely expressed that Mr. Robert Lovett, Undersecretary of State, would not remain in that office after General Marshall resigned, if he remained that long. Serious disagreements between Mr. Truman and Mr. Lovett were undoubtedly the "personal reasons" to which the latter referred in his resignation.

General Marshall and Mr. Lovett formed a remarkable diplomatic team. Their careers were comparatively brief, yet marked with outstanding ability. It is regrettable in a way that the loss of one should mean the loss of both, and yet it is possible that Mr. Lovett's effectiveness as Undersecretary would have suffered under another chief—e.g., Mr. Dean Acheson, named to succeed General Marshall. Mr. Lovett believes that some of the technique of business and finance could be used to advantage in diplomacy, and his belief is to some extent supported by his success as second in command of the State Department. Mr. Acheson, on the other hand, is a brilliant diplomat who believes implicitly in the traditional methods of his profession. The mixture might have been unsatisfactory. Little is known in this country about Mr. Lovett's successor, Mr. James E. Webb, except that he has been a capable director of the budget.

There will be world-wide interest in the manner in which these two men carry on the work so ably begun by General Marshall and Mr. Lovett, under whose leadership United States foreign policy assumed its present form. Since Mr. Truman has indicated that the policy itself will remain unchanged, its success in future will depend largely upon the men to whom it will be entrusted.

Cars For The Comrades

The Soviet Union is producing sedans, called "Moskvich" which sell at $1,700 and are reported to be comfortable, and sufficiently numerous to satisfy the buyers' market. It seems remarkable that the Soviet Union, which has had no long experience in the mass-production of automobiles, can put a car on the market which is as cheap as our cheapest. It is less remarkable when we remember that $1,700 in Canada is a different sum from $1,700 in the U.S.S.R. That sum in Soviet Russia (9,000 rubles) is a small fortune, not the money made by a workman in nine months. When the new model went on display in a Moscow show-room the first five buyers were a circus lion tamer, a foreman of a tool works, a doctor employed in a clinic, a locomotive engineer and a research scientist. Not one was a farmer, a shoemaker or a factory hand. Perhaps on the second day the ordinary peasants and manual workers flocked to the show-rooms, each with 9,000 rubles. Somehow, we doubt that they did. We are inclined to think that, at $1,700, the market could easily be glutted with "Moskvichs", unless, of course, the cars are being manufactured merely as showroom tokens of the good times to come in ten or twenty years.

Age In The Senate

When Senator Donald Sutherland died a week ago at the age of 85, several journalistic commentators took occasion to write about reforming the Senate. This time they argued that an age-limit should be established, and when a Senator reached the fixed age—say 70—he should automatically retire. We think that reformation could be made in the Senate to the good of the country and to the Upper Chamber, but doubt that an age limit would be as efficacious as it may seem, or even that it would be beneficial.

It happens that some people who are ripe in years are also ripe in wisdom and experience and retain vigour of mind and body, and even a youthful spirit, long after they have attained threescore years and ten. Gladstone became Prime Minister of England for the fourth time when he was 83. Sir Charles Tupper resigned as leader of the Conservative Party in Canada when he was eighty. Sir William Mulock presided as Chief Justice of Ontario when he was in his nineties. Few senators carry their years as competently as these distinguished old men, but age does not weary them automatically nor should years alone condemn them to surrendering their seats.

"Of Cabbages And Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

THOMAS H. Raddall's new book—Halifax Warden Of The North which has just been published, is a lively and readable account of that romantic and historic port. The 1750's were a hard and cruel time, especially in the town. "Men were hanged for petty burglary. A woman who stole two saucepans, one copper pott, a quart & pint pewter pott, two brass candlesticks, all of a value of five shillings was able to escape the death sentence only by benefit of clergy. (She was branded in the hand with the letter T for Thief and thrown in the common jail for two months.) When a simple carpenter hanged himself the Governor commanded that he be buried without Christian rites at the nearest crossroad, and the coroner was ordered 'to cause a stake to be driven through the said body and such other marks of infamy to be set up 'in terrorem' as heretofore has been used and accustomed in like cases.'"

* * *

WE take modern postal conveniences for granted. Life was not always so easy and soft. In 1758 postage was paid at the receiving end. This had dire results in that year an officer posted up-country complained that "upwards of 10 letters for officers and soldiers of the 62rd Regiment lately lay at the Post Office at Halifax, and the postmaster transmitted them back to New York, not knowing how he should be repaid the postage." There were no envelopes; the letter-paper was folded in an oblong packet and sealed with a daub of red or black wax, with the address written on the outer fold. A typical letter from England addressed to a Loyalist soldier discharged in Nova Scotia after the Revolution bore this superscription:

For Mr. Willm. Cooke belonging to the Prince of Wales American Volunteares,
Now in Novicotia near Port Rosleway in the Province of Halifax, North America.
If you are a Seaman or a Soldiers friend
Pray lett this Letter goe to its Journeys End

THERE is a legend that the Reverend Henry Ward Beecher was once reproved at the end of a church service by a parishioner who said, "Dr. Beecher, do you think you should have used such words from the pulpit?" And he replied, "Ah, madam, if you only knew some of the words I think!" This is a suitable introduction to Dr. Burgess Johnson's fine book, The Lost Art Of Profanity. In his foreword, H. L. Mencken points out that the "art" is really lost. All the good derivatives of "hell" were really invented between the American Revolution and the Civil War. Nothing more than hackneyed four lettered words are used now. The modern soldier shows less originality than his father, who was himself far behind his grandfather.

"When Henry Mencken and Sinclair Lewis were younger and evidently enjoyed poking holes through stained glass windows, (writes Johnson) they came in for a great deal of abuse. Mr. Mencken brought together from signed letters and printed editorials all of these attacks he could find and printed them in a little book, after the best German university tradition, and called it 'Menckeniana: A Schimpflexicon'—now a highly prized rarity. I quote from a few of the letters and editorials written by the clergy: From a minister in Oklahoma City: "Mencken is just a dirty buzzard and the folks who follow him are no more than damn scoundrels."

From a minister in Dayton, Tenn.: "A cheap blatherskite of a pen-pusher—a nut suffering with a severe case of Menckenitis."

From a minister writing in the Gospel Call: "Appalling degeneracy—a creature devoid of decency or truth."

And finally from an editorial in the Pythian Herald: "The vilest slander of the South and the Christian people that ever been spewed up from the slimy sewers of a diseased brain and a putrified soul."

Well. According to Johnson this is all profanity. The dictionary says, he points out, that profanity is any language which profanes, which is "to violate or treat with abuse, irreverence, obloquy, or contempt, something regarded as sacred."

THE Clergy are not exempt from treatment in his book:

"A most eminent clergyman first told me that classic tale of the bishop who was motoring along a highway and passed a stalled truck driver trying to change a tire. The air around the truck was blue from unrestrained emphasis as the man struggled with an obstinate rim. The bishop, eager to assist, stopped his car, got out and said,

"'My friend, have you tried prayer?'

"The perspiring driver looked up and said, 'I'll try anything once.'

"So the bishop knelt and prayed, and the driver took another whack at the rim. It slipped off quite easily this time and the bishop said, 'I'll be damned!'"

Unconsidered Trifle

"And now."

"I've got it yet."

Letter To The Editor

PAYING FOR THE HOSPITAL

Sir: Some votes were cast against the Civic Hospital By-law by property owners who did so unwillingly but felt they were forced to do so as they were paying for their homes on the monthly instalment basis. They felt that paying for their homes, maintaining their families and meeting day to day obligations was about all they could afford without assuming another three mills a year increase in taxation.

I have suggested to the Mayor and several members of the Council that the time for payment of the Hospital debentures be extended from twenty years to forty years.

I was told that Premier Kennedy and Hon. Harold R. Scott, said they did not wish to establish a precedent in varying the period of municipal obligations. If these gentlemen knew Ontario Municipal history, they would know I secured by private bill for the City of Peterborough an extension of time to pay the Hunter Street Bridge debentures from twenty years to forty years, which passed the Municipal Committee and the Legislature unanimously.

If we did not establish precedents, we would be living in the days of Henry I, without stoves, sanitary conveniences, windows and very little else to make homes comfortable.

If the Premier and Mr. Scott will look at the 1921 Ontario Statutes, P. 448, they will see the Hunter Street Bridge By-law debenture payment extended for twenty years and a first-class precedent, right at home here, staring them in the face.

The advantage of this plan is that it reduces by nearly half the annual payments of which industry and business pay about half, and this will enable other ratepayers who are living between twenty and forty years from now to pay their share.

The life of this Hospital, constructed of concrete and steel is probably more than seventy-five years, so why pay for it in twenty and allow the property owners living here in the period of twenty to forty years hence to pay no share of the costs of this necessary but costly plan?

I can assure the Mayor and Council that this plan is seriously considered by the men and women paying for their homes and making serious sacrifices to do so.

If this relief is not obtained, I may tell the Mayor and Council that there are three bright and active citizens who will be nominated for the next Civic Election, advocating this platform. They are not the stand-still type who are afraid of establishing precedents either. Yours truly,

G. N. GORDON.

On Recalling Our Exiles

Ottawa Journal: Alarmed at last by evidence of some of our brightest young people becoming exiles in the United States, the Government now has one of its departments writing Canadian students in U.S. universities to tell them that after they are graduated they ought to come home.

How effective will this be? Our own idea, as we feel sure it must be the idea of most people, is that in the gross it must be futility. Because in the long run there is but one way to induce people, and especially lively, adventurous people, to stay in their own country—the way of making that country interesting, a place of opportunity, with glittering prizes for sharp wits, and with qualities in its texture which win and hold affection.

Is Exercise Necessary?

Harold Nicolson in London Spectator: When I was a young man I shared the illusion that unless I took regular exercise I should die. I was cured of this fantasy by a French professor with whom I was studying the language at Blots.

"Do I strike you", he asked me, "as less healthy than your teachers at Oxford? Yet I assure you that I have never taken any exercise in my life. If you allow this English fallacy to dominate you, then you are preparing for yourself a dyspeptic middle age". From that day I have only taken exercise when I desired to do so.

Too Heavy A Load

Vancouver Province: The citizen with a good home is taxed to the hilt. His slipshod neighbour pays about a third of the taxes and yet enjoys exactly the same civil services for which the other fellow is paying. This kind of inequity can go only so far. When civic costs continue to mount, as they have been doing, the tax load on property owners becomes heavier and heavier. If the tax rate doesn't go up, the assessments do. Eventually the penalty of owning a good home, in these high-priced times, could become too heavy for any working man.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? . . . Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing: and I will receive you, and will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty. (II Cor. 6: 14, 17, 18.)

* * *

Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God. (II Cor. 7: 1.)

* * *

There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all. (Eph. 4: 4-6.)

* * *

Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy name: and deliver us, and purge away our sins, for thy name's sake . . . So we thy people and sheep of thy pasture will give thee thanks for ever: we will shew forth thy praise to all generations. (Ps. 79: 9, 13.)

Socialists Make Poor Fist Of Business

Montreal Gazette: Despite the glowing claims of how much better state control can run industry and commerce and the national economy as a whole, the evidence mounts that the best production of socialist bureaucrats is in political theories and regimenting orders. The difficulties encountered in the state operation of nationalized industries in Britain (coal and railways) have been duplicated on a much smaller scale in the attempt of the C.C.F. Government of Saskatchewan to engage in commercial enterprises. A recent case in point was the summary closing, only four days before Christmas, of the Government's tannery and shoe factory at Regina.

The plants were put into operation within the first year after the socialists took office in Saskatchewan in the summer of 1944, and even after several years were still running at a loss. Premier T. C. Douglas reported at the last session of the provincial Legislature that losses totalled $14,000 in the fiscal year ended March 31, 1947, but had been reduced to $3,000 during the remaining months of last year. The abrupt closing at Christmastime and the admitted inability to market large stocks of shoes which have piled up at the factory, suggest that the financial results have not improved.

The official statement on the closing claimed it was "in accordance with the seasonal practice of the trade." The fact is that in past years Canadian shoe factories often closed down for a month or so in the summer, but have not done so for at least four or five years because continuous output has been necessary to meet a demand far exceeding the supply. While the demand has been somewhat less in the past year for work shoes—the sole type produced in the provincial plant at Regina — the private firms in the same field have not found it necessary to close (least of all on the verge of Christmas) because they knew their markets and regulated production accordingly.

Lowest Toll In Months Only 8 Die In 5 Provinces

By The Canadian Press

Eastern Canada experienced its lowest week-end death toll in months during the week-end. Only eight fatalities were reported throughout the five eastern provinces. A Canadian Press compilation showed that traffic mishaps accounted for five of the deaths — three of them in the Toronto area.

Drivers of two automobiles lost their lives near Toronto in separate collisions with street cars. John Leja, 45, of Toronto, was killed and a passenger in his car, Casimir Sczek, 51, of Toronto, was critically injured in a street car collision in New Toronto.

William McMillan, 24, of Long Branch, a Toronto suburb, died in hospital after his car skidded into a street car at Long Branch. His companion, Lorraine Carr, 20, is in critical condition.

In Montreal, William Desroches, 63, died in hospital of burns suffered in a fire last week and six-year-old Andrew Lefort died after being hit by the tank of an oil truck.

Thomas Lavigne, 16-year-old Indian from a Restigouche, Que., reservation, drowned in the Restigouche River at Campbellton, NB, when he fell through the ice.

Mrs. Mary Napier, 71, of Toronto, died of scalds when she suffered a stroke in the bathtub and was unable to turn off the hot water. Another Toronto woman, Evelyn Jones, 55, died of injuries suffered Friday in a street accident.

The death in Hamilton, of Alfred Turgeon, 28, brought to three the toll of a Jan. 4 level crossing crash near Hamilton in which George and Andrew McBride, brothers, were killed.

Senator Denies Marriage

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—(AP)—Senator Warren G. Magnuson (Dem. Wash.) denied Sunday that he is married to actress June Millarde, 25. "The reports that Miss Millarde and I have been married are completely absurd," Magnuson, 43, told a reporter.

Jane Wyman Sitting Atop Movie World

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 10 (AP)—Picture of a girl sitting on top of the world: Jane Wyman.

And why shouldn't she be? She has reached the peak of her career, with awards coming in almost daily for her mute role in "Johnny Belinda." And she may yet reach another peak come the Academy Award time.

She now holds a position of eminence at her home lot, Warners, and is much sought after by other studios. Free from her marriage to Ronald Reagan, she has been squired around town like a debutante, particularly by Lew Ayres. All this adds up to a happy girl, which is how I found her at her comfortable West Los Angeles home.

"It really is very gratifying to see the whole thing grow," she enthused. "'Johnny' did not have a very big budget and not too much was expected of it. But a lot of thought and sincerity went into it."

So serious was she about role that she used ear plugs throughout the shooting. She had to be directed by hand signals.

Uphill Battle

Success has not come easy for the former Sarah Jane Folks of St. Joseph, Mo. In 12 years at Warners, she has done more than 60 pictures, many of them on seven and eight day schedules. She had to go on the outside for her first big break, "The Lost Week-end" and "The Yearling."

Looking Back

To-day's feature: 20 years ago in Hollywood.

Al Jolson was honeymooning with Halifax-born Ruby Keeler ....Conrad Nagel was the first new hero of the talkies....Lupe Velez was another new star.... "Our Dancing Daughters," with Joan Crawford as a symbol of the flaming age, was breaking records.

Charlie Chaplin chose Virginia Cherrill as his new discovery for "City Lights"....

Hold 2 In Robbery

TORONTO, Jan. 10.—(CP).—Police Sunday announced the arrests of two persons in connection with fur coat and jewelry store robberies in Toronto involving more than $25,000. Clifford W. Clifford, 38, and his wife, Margaret, were charged with breaking and entering a downtown clothing store following their arrest Saturday, a charge of receiving also was laid against the woman.

Senator Improving

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—(CP).—A general improvement in the condition of Senator James Murdock (L-Ontario), 77, confined to his bed with a heart ailment, was noted Sunday night. A member of his family said the senator who had been ailing for the last 10 days "is getting better" and it is hoped he will be able to take his place in the Upper Chamber when Parliament opens Jan. 26.

Delay Margarine Sale

MONTREAL, Jan. 10.—(CP).—A spokesman for a large packing house said Saturday that no margarine will go on sale in Quebec until such sale is authorized by the Quebec government.

RECOVERS SPEECH — Laverne Tindale, 13, of Vancouver, who became paralyzed and mute following an axe attack last March, suddenly regained her power of speech when a pair of ballet slippers were brought to her hospital bedside. She cried "Shoes!" and now can speak several words distinctly.

Want Official Residence Bought For Prime Minister

OTTAWA, Jan. 10—(CP).—Some parliamentarians believe that a move will be made at the forthcoming session of parliament to provide an official residence for Canadian Prime Ministers. Canada is one of the few countries which does not provide a state-maintained residence for the Prime Minister during his term of office. The need for such a residence has become apparent since Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent assumed the Prime Ministership.

The housing situation being what it is, the best Mr. St. Laurent has been able to do is find a small, centrally located apartment. While quarters are comfortable they are not suited for the type of entertainment or receptions a Prime Minister is expected to extend to visiting dignatories, diplomats and others.

Heavy Obligation

In his last speech in the Commons last session, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King said he hoped that subsequent Parliaments would make some provision for an official residence for the Prime Minister. He said that if it had not been for the kindness of Lady Laurier and the help of friends, he would not have been able to furnish and occupy Laurier House.

Prime Minister's salary totals $23,000 a year, but most of it is taxable. The salary is small compared to what a man with a comparable rank in the business world could draw down.

A few years ago, the government expropriated a house not far from the home of the Governor-General which could be used as a Prime Minister's residence. It now is occupied by the Australian High Commissioner to Canada.

But it will be up to Parliament to say whether the official residence should be established and whether the state should foot the bill.

Transportation

The Royal Commission on Transportation will be opening operations soon, but even the government does not know just when.

A Cabinet source says it all depends on Hon. W. F. A. Turgeon, chairman, and his two fellow commissioners. Mr. Turgeon is still in Eire, where he has been serving as High Commissioner, but the government has wired him to get back as soon as he can. It has not been advised when he will be leaving.

Late February looks like about the best guess for the time of opening of public hearings before the Commission.

Telegrapher Dies

VICTORIA, Jan. 10.—(CP).—G. H. (Harry) Davy, 80, widely known telegrapher, died Saturday. Davy, a native of Napanee, was credited with scooping the world by getting the report of Field Marshal Lord Roberts' troops relieving the force of Col. Baden-Powell at Mafeking during the Boer war. On a hunch, he talked with telegrapher pals in Montreal and New York and finally pieced out the story six hours before the war office learned of the event.

Griffiths Heads Labor Party's Revival Drive

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Jan. 10.—(CP)—Insurance Minister James Griffiths, 57, an affable Welshman, beats the big drum in the Labor Party's revival campaign.

His party expects a lot from "Jim." His associates believe that as a man who left school at 13 and slugged out 17 years in the Welsh coal mines he will relight the torch of Labor enthusiasm and make the drive for re-election in 1950 a crusade.

Labor leaders fear complacency as much as they do the Conservatives. The triumphant majority in the 1945 general election and a series of successes in by-elections since have made once-belligerent party adherents relax.

So "Jim" as party chairman started the new year with this message:

"We must go out to the highways and byways. We must take our message to the doorstep and fireside. We must revive the missionary spirit that created this general movement of ours."

Labor complacency has been demonstrated in municipal by-elections where party candidates suffered heavy losses in 1947 and 1948 while the Conservatives made gains. The opposition party showed it had livened up local organizations and campaign vigor but Labor had rested on its oars.

Ask New Election Day

TORONTO, Jan. 10.—(CP).—Mayor Hiram McCallum of Toronto said Saturday he will petition Premier Kennedy soon to establish a province-wide municipal election day, other than Jan. 1. Toronto along with several other Ontario centres now votes on New Year's Day. Public apathy towards recent municipal elections deemands "something be done," the mayor said.

Older Workers' Problem Studied

WINNIPEG, Jan. 10 — (CP)—Workers in the field of public welfare are faced with new problems arising from Canada's change from an agricultural to an increasingly town-dwelling industrial nation.

Before the three-day meeting of the Canadian Welfare Council's Public Welfare Division ended Sunday, Sid Simpson, national secretary of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (CCL), told delegates the phrase "life begins at 40," has become to many employers "too old at 40."

Mr. Simpson said labor particularly is concerned with the problem of the over-age worker.

B. W. Heise, Ontario Deputy Welfare Minister, said that Canada will have to face the problem of caring for an aging population. Canadians were living longer and the birth rate was declining. Barring immigration programs, the proportion of aged persons in the population would continue to increase.

Edward Dunlop, executive director of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, estimated rehabilitation services available now to handicapped persons covered not more than one-fifth of the group requiring them.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

No ice again on Saturday at Civic Arena, so once more the Legion-Petes' OHA senior "B" fixture had to be postponed. The probs didn't click and 'twas decided around noon to forget the fray for that week. When it'll be worked in we don't know as neither team has too many spare nights coming up for a spell. It was unfortunate Friday and Saturday but the only way to beat the mild weather in hockey is with artificial ice—and that, we fear, is a long way off here yet. Oshawa, yes, and Kingston, Belleville and other smaller cities. Even Lindsay. But not Peterborough. We have to do everything the hard way.

* * * * * *

Weather permitting—isn't that a heck of a thing to have to say in the middle of the hockey season?—an OHA senior "B" tilt will be staged at nine tonight at Civic Arena. Toronto Meteors are due to meet the Petes and it should be a fine scrap. Unfortunately, the sports deadline comes early and we have to write our stuff well in advance. So, things may look fine the night before or early that morning but by evening the weather may mess our predictions up. We're hoping the Petes get an early home game as it costs money to travel and they haven't had one yet. Maybe tonight—and maybe we can announce something definite ere column's end.

* * * * * *

All About Tickets

Word comes that the Tem Ticket Agency on George St., just below Charlotte on the east side, has been picked to handle arena senior "B" reserve ducats. They go on sale at noon the day before a game and must be picked up by 10 a.m. the day of a game by those on the subscribers' list or they'll go on general sale. And reserve seat tickets for Friday's postponed Legion-Petes' game will not be honored at tonight's tilt (if played). Folks may get a refund or they can hold the tickets till the game is played at a later date. Something to do with keeping the serial numbers in order or something.

* * * * * *

Now, the OHA setup around these parts for this week—always, of course, if weather permits in our natural ice rink. Senior "B" fray here tonight, as mentioned above, and our junior "B" IOOF-ers are off to Oshawa's good artificial ice arena this e'en. Then, they tackle the Lindsayites here on Wednesday, and they trek to North Toronto Lions' den on Friday. A fairly busy week for Archie Weir's bunch. Legion meet the Meteors in Lindsay on Wednesday on artificial ice, so that's for sure. And the Petes and Legion mix it here next Friday in Legion's home game. Trust this January thaw doesn't, like an onion, repeat.

It Just Isn't Done

Outboard Marines' cagers hadn't too much trouble wrapping up a pair of wins on Saturday here against outside opposition. Gord McIntyre's intermediate "B" band beat Oshawa handily in a Lakeshore Basketball League fixture to open it up, with Dadson—a handy guy to have around for pitching ball next summer—and Payne leading the snipers. Marines "A" squad rolled to a 41-22 exhibition victory o'er Toronto Blacks as Ed Nicholls topped the scorers with Bill Edger, Doug Plunkett and Gord Burns prominent throughout. Al Clark's crew looked strong. Joe Stewart, team captain, took a swing at Referee Bob Dyer and the latter had to retire. That's not good. Referees must not be mauled by players and, if that hadn't been an exhibition joust, Joe would be on the suspended list.

Ruby Pearse has wrapped up all the scoring honors to date for girls in the Mercantile Bowling League. Has a swell high single of 379 and top triple of 861 as well as best average so far with 206 for 36 games. Harold Mesley and Frank Worsencroft have the men's honors at present between 'em, the former with high single of 350 and top threesome of 843, while Frank has a tie in singletons of 350 as well as being even with Don Penrose with best average of 228, though his mark is for 30 games and the latter's for 20. Braund's No. 1 and City Hall are tied atop the pile. Marj Behan and Ruby Pearse had high counts last week for girls, as Art Barnes and Jack Gimblett led the males.

Pro Grapplers Back

Professional wrestling returns to Peter's borough this Wednesday night in the Brock Arena after a four-week layoff. The big fellows scatter to their homes all over the continent for the Christmas holiday season, but are drifting back to work again now. Headlining this card here will be Big Ben Morgan, the bearded mountain, and Earl McCready, the popular ploughing-in husky who is always on the attack. Semi-final has the Masked Marvel against Ben Sharpe, and that one should be right interesting. The prelim sees Jack Wentworth tackling Bowmanville Bill Stack. Three promising bouts on this pro mat card to start the '49 season.

Sports Officials Hope Gov't Will Make Grant

By JACK SULLIVAN

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.— (CP). — Canada's first national sports-governing conference, embracing nearly all amateur and professional associations, was tucked away in the land of limbo today. Results arising from the two-day sessions won't be known until the middle of March at least.

It was simply a fact-finding meeting, aimed at diagnosing the ills suffered by amateur sport in the Dominion and to suggest just what is needed to put a little life in it. The cure-all, as delegates saw it, was cash.

The conference, which ended Saturday, made recommendations, principally of a financial nature, to loosen strings around the Dominion government's bank roll. But well-qualified sources believe they are "whistling in the dark" if Canada's much-needed shot in the arm for amateur sport is to be administered from public funds.

Decline Comment

Government officials declined comment on the proposals, involving expenditure of $10,000,000 over a three-year period for expansion of recreational facilities for amateurs and an additional $300,000 a year for development, coaching, organization and services.

The Government has come out against subsidizing sports and this lends support to views nothing will come of it.

Other Measures

Other measures taken at the meting were:

1. Received reduced travelling rates for teams and individual athletes and for accredited officials of recognized sports-governing bodies travelling to and from competitions and meetings.

2. Setting up of a three-man committee to study the question of amateurism in Canada as related to other parts of the world.

3. Formation of a Canadian advisory council and a three-man committee to figure just now it will work.

4. Training of school-age children by teachers and also for athletes of all ages.

5. Canada appoint its own representative to the International Olympic committee. As constituted, the IOC is a self-appointed organization.

Badminton Club Hands Loss To Bowmanville

The Peterborough Badminton Club had revenge on the Bowmanville badmintoneers Saturday night at the Market Hall where they won 17 of 24 inter-club matches. In ladies' doubles, the local club captured six events and the men took four. The visitors did their best in the mixed events, winning five of 12.

Minus the aid of their two top men, Al Osborne and Jackie Brough, the Bowmanville team was handicapped. Most of the matches were well-played and, though the score was one-sided, a lot of the matches went to three games.

Vince O'Donoghue and R. McDonald had a hard match with Dr. Austin and Red Swindles, but won out in the third 17-14. S. James and Gord Flaxman took the other local team of E. Johnston and R. Charlton in two games. The local ladies were far too strong for their opposition. Peterborough will entertain the General Motors Club next Saturday and the Stratfgowan Club of Toronto the following week-end. At the conclusion of the games Saturday, a lunch was served by the conveners, Mrs. Ralph Charlton and Mrs. Vince O'Donoghue.

Here and There in Sport

The Ontario Minor Hockey Association moved Sunday to take rough play out of hockey by placing responsibility for roughness on the coaches.

The OMHA decided to issue cards to all minor hockey coaches. If a team persists in rough play, the coach's card will be lifted.

To discourage spectators from rushing on the ice, every OMHA club will be instructed to post signs warning that spectators who go on the ice during an altercation will be prosecuted.

India's Thomas Cup badminton team wound up its Canadian tour with a clean sweep of exhibition matches at Victoria Saturday. The squad will now invade California. India lost to Canada in the opening round of Thomas Cup play.

The touring Scotch curlers — accorded a royal welcome by Ottawa's curling fraternity Saturday—left Ottawa Sunday for the Seigniory Club and Montreal after a series of victories over Ottwa and district clubs.

Of 12 matches played, the Scots showed their curling and broom-sweeping skill by winning nine and dropping only three to local opposition. On the aggregate score, the overseas curlers held a margin of 28 shots, running up a total of 82 shots against the Capital's total of 54.

Some 70 young skiers went through their initial class at the Ontario Travelling Ski School at Collingwood during the weekend. Unseasonably mild weather left plenty of bare patches on the hills.

If they pass their exams, skiers will return to their respective ski clubs as assistant instructors. Representatives include skiers from Owen Sound, Kitchener, Collingwood and Toronto.

Two Kitchener juniors have signed agreements to try out next season with Detroit Red Wings. They are Al Reibel, centre, and Ed Stankiewicz, right wing, the leading scorers of Kitchener undefeated Ontario Hockey Association Junior B club.

A golfer Sunday successfully defended the power of his golf sticks against the arm of a cricketer.

Ernest McLennan, captain of the North Foreland's golf club, won a freak 18-hole match over Beverley Lyon, five and four, at Broadstairs, Kent, England.

McLennan played orthodox golf. Lyon sought to "outdrive" him by throwing the ball between the tee and the green but damp runways slowed the roll of the ball. He holed out with a putter.

The lead in the International six-day bicycle race at Cleveland was passed around like a hot potato Sunday as 11 remaining teams passed the 1,325-mile mark.

Nernando Grillo and Stanley Bransgrove, the Italian-Australian team, regained the lead on points although they were still tied in laps with Grauss and Pousse had taken the lead from Cesare Modetti and Angelo Debacco of Italy.

Jules Audy and Rene Cyr of Montreal were five laps behind the leaders.

Pick Committee To Study Amateurism

By JACK SULLIVAN

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—(CP). — The touchy question of amateurism in Canada and talk of princes and dukes and exiled dignitaries in Europe brought chuckles and recommendations, at concluding sessions of sports-governing organizations here Saturday.

The question of amateurism, lopped off the agenda Friday and put aside for "new business" came up and as a result Canada now has an organization called the "Canadian Amateur Status committee." Royalty came up during discussion of the Canadian Olympic Association.

George C. Machum of Montreal, past president of the Amateur Athletic Union, revived the amateur question dealing with intermingling of amateurs and professionals and his motion for a three-man committee was carried. Its terms of reference are to "study the amateur question in co-operation with other nations with a view to future co-ordination and simplification of the code.'

Many delegates chuckled when Machum introduced his motion and Horace S. Lyons of Montreal, representing the Dominion of Canada Football Association, brought laughs with the observation:

"The question we should consider is 'shamateurism' and you all know what I mean."

Hazy on Duties

The committee will report back to the next meeting of sports leaders, to be called before February, 1950, but Orlick is a bit hazy on its duties.

Royalty entered the discussion when A. Sidney Dawes of Montreal, president of the Canadian Olympic Association said the International Olympic committee has many "outstanding people on it."

Dawes, Canada's member on the International Olympic committee, added: "Why, we have Dukes and Princes..." and some of his remarks were drowned out by laughter. He mentioned later that "personages in Europe, members of the IOC, can't get out of their own countries and we think they may be held in jails." This produced more laughter.

Dawes was appointed to the IOC, a self-appointed body, in 1938, and the conference recommended that:

1. "We forward through our representatives on the IOC the strong suggestion that the Canadian representatives on the committee be chosen by the COA.

2. "Strong representation be made that the constitution of the IOC be changed so that its membership be composed of representatives appointed by the sports-governing bodies of their respective countries.

3. COA be properly represented and be elected by the participating sports-governing bodies."

Canada To Send 65 Athletes

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP)—Canada will send about 65 athletes and 10 officials to the 1950 British Empire Games in Auckland, New Zealand, it was learned here Sunday.

The team will be away about two months and the Dominion government will be asked to pay the shot—about $100,000.

"We shall try to enter eight events," a well-informed source told The Canadian Press. "We shall leave by boat Dec. 22 and return by air shortly after the week-long games end Feb. 11."

Cost of transportation, from Vancouver return, is estimated at $62,500 against $43,000 in 1938 when Canada sent 79 athletes and eight officials to the games in Melbourne.

"We expect expenses to run about $100,000," said the source.

He said that trial dates are "very much in the wind" but tentative track and field dates have been set for early September in Toronto.

"If we can't get a sponsor there, we shall probably hold them in Western Canada," he added.

B.E. games sports are: track and field, boxing, cycling, fencing, rowing, swimming, weight-lifting, wrestling and lawn bowling.

Lawn bowlers, according to preliminary information from the New Zealand B.E. games committee, will pay their own expenses.

Artificial Curling Ice — That's the answer.

While all other winter sports were held up owing to the annual January thaw, the Peterborough Curling Club was going all day Saturday from 9.00 a.m. until 10.30 p.m.

The Peterborough Skating Club took over the ice in the morning and in the afternoon the men's bonspiel had a capacity entry.

In the evening the mixed ring bonspiel went over big, again with a capacity entry.

Adding it all up we figure that there were more than 200 people enjoying skating and curling on Saturday at the curling rink. And all on account of Artificial Ice.

The winning skips in the afternoon were J. Lowes, I. Moore, V. Brown and J. McDermid.

In the evening the winning rinks were skipped by S. Lowe, F. Batten and O. Steer.

Marines' Cagers Take Wins From Oshawa and Toronto

Outboard Marines cagers were successful in two basketball games at the Collegiate gym on Saturday night. The Marines "B" team coasted to an easy win in a Lakeshore League fixture to open the twin bill, while the Marines "A" squad turned back Toronto "Eddie Black's" bunch by a 41-22 score before a fair-sized crowd of hoop fans.

In the first fray, the local "B" boys took an early lead and piled it up as Oshawa showed lack of condition. Led by Payne and Dadson, the homesters took a 21-8 lead at the half, with Crawford and Patte the only visitors to hit the hoop. Marines showed good coaching and hustle as the line of Trimm, Dadson and McLaren went strong the second half to pile up the count. Dadson led the snipers with 13 points as Payne got 11, Trimm 7, McLaren 4, Butcher 3 and Griffin 2. Salway, Crawford and Fairhart were most effective for the visitors, who tried hard all the way. The teams:

Oshawa: Patte, Crawford, Magee, Fairhart, Salway, Rife, Hanna, Seeley, Anderson.

Marines "B": Payne, Butcher, Batchelor, Smith, Green, McLaren, Trimm, Dadson, Griffin, Gardner.

Second Game

The Marines "A" bunch outplayed and outshot the Toronto "A" club for their victory in a hard-played and rugged match with frequent penalties on each side. Marines' long shooting was good the first half with Burns and Al Stewart throwing neat 20-footers. It was a bit ragged the second half as they threw their weights around but Al Clark's crew had more polish under the hoop. Ed Nicholls and Doug Plunkett were effective on rebounds with big Nick rounding into form and Bill Edger effective all through. Gord Wright and Baker stood out for Toronto. The teams:

Toronto: Baker 3, Steadman, Bricker 3, Lepelley, Quenell 2, White 2, Florims 3, G. Wright 8, J. Wright 1, H. Wright.

Marines "A": J. Stewart 3, Edger 7, Gillespie, Burns 6, A. Stewart 6, Nicholls 10, Smith 1, Plunkett 8, Menzies, MacPherson.

Referee, R. Dyer.

LED SCORERS—Lanky Ed Nicholls led the snipers for Al Clark's classy Marines "A" cagers here Saturday night as they defeated Toronto by 41-22 count in an exhibition tilt. He notched 10 points as he rapidly reaches his form of last hoop season.

Barons Lace St. Louis Reds Trounce Rockets

By The Canadian Press

Team standings in the eastern and western divisions of the American Hockey League remained unchanged during the nine-game week-end schedule.

Thirteen proved unlucky for St. Louis Flyers Sunday night. After winning 12 straight games on home ice they went down to a 4-3 defeat at the hands of the Cleveland Barons with Bobby Solinger getting a brace of goals for the victors.

Providence Reds, who are making a runaway of the eastern division race with a 20-point lead over the nearest rivals, Hershey Bears chalked up a 10-3 triumph over the cellar-dwelling Philadelphia Rockets.

The best scoring performance of the week-end was turned in by Pat Lundy who accounted for four goals as Indianapolis Caps waltzed to a 11-1 victory over Springfield Indians.

Wings Whip Habs, Tie Leafs Take 3-Point League Lead

By BILL GRAHAM
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Detroit Red Wings rule the roost today by three points after a week-end in the National Hockey League which was notable only for its abundance of tie games.

With a 4-1 victory over Montreal Canadiens Saturday night and a 2-2 deadlock with Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday night, Red Wings were able to boost themselves into a three-point lead over Boston Bruins who went down to defeat 4-2 before Chicago Black Hawks. In other week-end contests Toronto tied Chicago 3-3 and New York Rangers and Montreal battled to a 1-1 draw.

Chicago still clings to the No. 3 spot in the standings. Hawks trail Boston by three points and lead Canadiens and Leafs, who are tied for fourth spot, by three points. Rangers to occupy the cellar.

Tough For Clancy

Detroit scored a deserved win over Canadiens Saturday night at Montreal. It was a rugged game which featured 10 minor penalties and an injury to an usher when he was hit with a whiskey bottle aimed at Referee King Clancy. In New York Sunday, Clancy was hit in the eye with a coin, also heaved by a fan.

Bud Poile fired the first tally for Detroit early in the opening frame and Captain Sid Abel later whipped in Ted Lindsay's pass to give Red Wings 2-0 lead. Billy Reay banged in the only Montreal goal in the second. George Gee and Marty Pavelich sewed up the game for Red Wings on third period tallies.

A head-injury to left-winger Gaye Stewart of Chicago marred the Hawks-Leafs' game in Toronto Saturday when he collapsed in the showers. It was announced later that his injuries were not as serious as first feared. Doctors said there was no fracture and he would be released from hospital in a few days.

Ted Kennedy opened the scoring after four minutes of play. Before the first period ended, Doug Bentley tallied for Hawks. In the same frame Roy Conacher and Metro Prystai scored for Hawks and Harry Watson for Toronto. Leafs earned the tie on defenceman Bill Barilko's goal at the 12-minute mark of the third period.

Come From Behind

Detroit came from behind Sunday night to gain their 2-2 deadlock with Toronto. After Leafs took a 2-0 lead on first period goals by Harry Watson and Bill Ezinicki, Jimmy McFadden banged one home in the second frame and rookie Jim Enio hammered home the equalizer in the final stanza.

A total of 14 penalties, including two 10-minute misconducts, were dished out during the Ranger-Canadiens game Sunday night in New York. Murph Chamberlain of Canadiens and Bill Moe of the Broadway Blueshirts were handed the misconducts after they started swinging punches in the penalty box.

Joe Carveth notched the only Montreal tally early in the first period and Alex Kaleta rapped home the tying goal late in the middle frame.

Roy Conacher was the biggest reason for the Hawks' 4-2 victory over Boston Sunday night. The high-scoring winger rapped in two goals. But the biggest sensation of the evening was when Gus Bodnar sank a 125-footer in the last minute of the final period after Frankie Brimsek had been yanked from the Bruin cage. Adam Brown beat Brimsek for the other Hawk tally, Paul Ronty and Ed Harrison were the Bruin marksmen.

Week-End Stars

Roy Conacher, Chicago, who scored three goals as the Black Hawks picked up three points with a win and a tie.

Harry Watson, Toronto—Tallied twice in the Maple Leafs set of draws with Chicago and Detroit.

Billy Rea and Joe Carveth — Montreal — accounted for both goals as Canadiens lost one game, tied another.

Jim McFadden and Marty Pavelich, Detroit—Each picked up a goal and two assists as the Red Wings spurted into a three-point league lead on a victory and a tie.

Alex Kaleta, New York— His first goal since acquired from Chicago Black Hawks averted defeat for the Rangers.

Hockey's Big Seven

By The Canadian Press

Linemates Roy Conacher and Doug Bentley of Chicago Black Hawks remain deadlock at the top of the National Hockey League's individual scoring race today after picking up three points apiece in two week-end engagements. Each has 15 goals and 26 assists for 41 points. Meanwhile, all other sharpshooters high up on the list found the going tough. Only Detroit's Syd Abel was able to improve his position. He sailed past Boston's Grant Warwick, who was held scoreless.

US Curlers Win 'Spiel

DETROIT, Jan. 10.—(AP). — American curlers broke a five-year Canadian monopoly on the international bonspiel's top prize Sunday as J. J. Ahern's St. Paul, Minn., rink came from behind with three counters in the final end to edge W. B. White of Oshawa, 12-11. Bob Dunbar, who skipped the winning St. Paul rink because Ahern was on the shelf with a back ailment, threw a perfect draw shot for the winning point with his final stone in the 12th end.

LITTLE PAULINE HORTON seems to think her horse is better than huntsman Charles Wooldridge's animal. Proudly straddling her toy nag, Pauline is all set to gallop after the hounds. She arrived just in time to join the Tetcott Hunt, at Stratton, England.

Roseneath News

Mrs. Storey Redshaw of Oakville visited her mother, Mrs. Leonard Brisbin, during the week. Mrs. Brisbin is seriously ill

Mrs. Sarah Brown is visiting relatives in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson, Picton, are spending the winter with their daughter, Miss Mae Thompson.

Mrs. C. W. Varcoe is staying in Peterborough and Lakefield to be near her daughter, Mrs. Sam Black, in Civic Hospital, Peterborough, with her infant daughter, born January 3.

HAS TALENT

Reg. Turner has a spaniel that he can be proud of. Friday afternoon while out for a walk the dog began to bark. A magazine Mr. Turner had was given the dog to carry. It was also to keep the dog quiet. But the pooch had different ideas because whenever Mr. Turner stopped to talk, paper or no paper, the dog barked. He seemed to say: "Come on, boss, Let's keep moving."

NOT ENERGETIC ENOUGH

Union Jacks should be taken down at the setting of the sun and put up with the sunrise. This custom is taught all youth organizations and is practiced in the armed forces. Most of the flags flying in the Peterborough district have never been taken down since they were put up. The odds are they weren't put up at dawn either.

LIVE DANGEROUSLY

Some children in the northend of the city have been skating on the river near the open water. One little girl about nine years old shot across some ice which wasn't much more than two inches thick. Police urge parents to check this dangerous practice.

Temperature Soars To 47 Above On Sunday But Balmy Weather Fails To Set Record

Everyone is talking about Sunday's balmy weather which reached a high of 47 above. A great many people took advantage of clear highways and enjoyed an afternoon drive in all directions out of the city.

Going back over weather records since 1920 official recorder Jim Harrison came up with some interesting figures on past mild spells and found Sunday's high the lowest of several records. They are, namely, 50 above on Jan. 8, 1928; 52 above on Jan. 9, 1937; 48 above on Jan. 26, 1944, and 54 degrees above in 1946 on Jan. 6. These figures are an interesting figure in the time cycle of January thaws which appear to occur consistently between Jan. 6th and 9th. Temperature this morning had dropped to one degree above freezing.

Main Street Topics

STICKERS SELLING

Parking stickers, permitting parking of vehicles for loading and unloading, are again being issued by the Police Department. About 40 have been sold so far, at the $5 rate. There were about 350 sold in the city last year.

HIGHWAYS BARE

Motorists travelling to Toronto over the week-end found that driving conditions in this January climate were almost too good to be true. Both Highways 28 and 2 were bone dry.

SMOKER LIGHTS MATTRESS

A cigarette dropped on the mattress by a boarder at the home of C. Friendship, 473 Sherbrooke St. caused a fire on Sunday afternoon. The Fire Department was called and the blaze was speedily extinguished. Damage was described as light.

SEE LARGE DOE

A number of coffee drinkers were sipping from their cups on Sunday afternoon as they stared idly out of the windows of a Bewdley coffee shop. Suddenly they noticed a large doe trot across the ice on Rice lake and disappear to the south.

MILK PRODUCERS' MEETING

Whole milk producers of Peterborough have arranged a meeting for Tuesday night at Canadian Legion Hall. Mr. V. S. Milburn, secretary of the local producers will be here from Toronto to discuss various phases of their business from the basis of developments in recent months.

USING MORE POWER

Peterborough's electric power average last week was 256,800 as against 246,000 kwh. toward the end of the year. Consumption on the first three of the five days of the industrial week was 260,000 kwh. Hydro quota is 270,000 kwh. Consumption Saturday was 196,000 and Sunday 172,000. Figures last week for those days were: 172,000 and 168,000 kwh.

ILLUMINATE PLACQUE

Students of the Collegiate have purchased two spotlights which have been put up outside the principal's office to light the memorial placque. The objective of the students this year is to raise $500 to help the organizations in the school. So far $400 has been raised by the students. Some of this money was used to purchase the lights.

DANGER SPOTS

Bus drivers and motorists using Hunter St. east complain that there are two bad holes in front of the new stores. The holes were filled last week but are now deeper than they were previously. Two motorists stopped their cars Sunday evening to check their springs after bouncing into the depressions.

NAVY APPOINTMENT

Surgeon Commander Marvin C. Wellman, RCN, formerly of Rawdon Township, Hastings County, has been appointed Atlantic command medical officer and principal medical officer of HMCS "Stadacona" at Halifax. He was born at Harold 44 years go and joined the RCNVR in July, 1941, transferring to the RCN in March, 1946.

TELEPHONES DEAD

For three minutes shortly before noon on Sunday telephones were not working. The explanation is that circuit trouble developed at the Bell Telephone building. The trouble began at 11.40 and service was said to be spotty throughout the city.

WORST SKIING ACCIDENT

Bill Davidson, 611 George St., had a ski pole driven into his thigh while skiing at Bethany on Sunday afternoon. After first aid was given Davidson was rushed to the Civic Hospital where 12 stitches were required to close the wound. This is the worst skiing accident to occur in the Peterborough area this year.

BAN .22 RIFLES

Campbell Rowatt, president of the Peterborough Fish and Game Conservation Association, received so many protests about the use of .22 rifles on the fox hunt next Saturday that he called an emergency meeting of the executive. It was decided by the directors that only shogtuns would be allowed on the hunt. This is a safety measure, as .22 slugs might endanger the lives of the men who will be placed on the flanks and at the finish line.

Roy Bullock Heads Trustees

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 10—(ENS)—Roy Bullock was appointed chairman of the Lakefield Public School Board for the year 1949 at the statutory meeting and Miss Grace Yonge was re-appointed secretary-treamurer at a salary of $240 per annum.

K. R. Jakins and C. H. Hunter were named as members of the finance committee. The first named to be chairman.

It was moved by trustees Jakins and Hunter that M. O. Kingdon, S. E. Richardson, E. H. Northey comprise the finance committee.

Chief Garnet Samis was re-appointed attendance officer at a salary of $50 per annum.

It was moved that James Sloan be paid $37.50 for caretaker's services during the Christmas vacation. Trustees Kingdon and Jakins moved that one thousand letterheads and envelopes as per sample be purchased for the use of the secretary.

A motion that the chairman of the board sign all vouchers for tools, supplies, etc., shall indicate where they shall be purchased.

Mr. F. Payne addressed the board on compensation insurance coverage, explaining that the policy had been renewed until such time as the High School District Board had been contacted.

Principal E. G. Sloan reported attendance for the month of December as 274: average 77.15% and asked that books recommended by Dr. Stothers be purchased. It was moved by trustees Northey and Hunter that these books be bought and grant applied for the number of pupils reported by the principal requiring this aid.

Inspector K. O. Birkin's report was received.

The report of the finance committee recommended payment of the following accounts: Bell Telephone, phone, $3.04; LHEC, light, $29.66; John Buck, keys, $3.20; F. A. Payne, insce., $103.06; J. L. McCool, material and tool rent, $44.12; Hubert Chown Hdwe., tap, holder, etc., $1 95. Total $185.03.

Moved by Trustees Jakins and Hunter, "That report of the Finance Commitee be received and adopted."—Carried.

Daring Rescue Saves Boy 4 From Icy River

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 10.—(Staff).—Billie Coleman, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Coleman, Lakefield Park, rescued Terry Markwick, age 4, from drowning in the Otonabee River on Sunday noon. Terry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Markwick, was sledding on an icy slope in the park with his friend, John Murduff, when his sleigh raced out of control over the road and plunged off the river bank into several feet of icy water.

Coleman, who was himself rescued from drowning last June in the Lakefield canal by D'Arcy Hill, was getting a pail of water from his dock 50 feet away when he saw the commotion. Whether or not the child had gone under the water is not known, but Coleman jumped in and managed to get the little chap to the icy shore safely. His father took Terry home immediately where he was put to bed. He was running a slight fever on Sunday evening, due to exposure, but from reports today he is none the worse for his experience.

Hastings Election Set For Friday

HASTINGS, Jan. 10.—(ENS).—An election is assured in Hastings village this year. As a result of the second nomination meeting held on Saturday there will be two candidates for Reeve and two for the office of Councillor.

Arthur Orr, reeve last year, decided to run again after refusing to qualify at the first nomination meeting. He will be oposed by Walter Peck, a former councillor.

Harry Chennell, a newcomer to municipal politics, will oppose W. E. Edwards for councillor.

Three of the 1948 council went in by acclamation after the first meeting—W. Warrington, J. Mulholland and J. Calberry. W. E. Edwards, the fourth member of the previous council did not qualify, and this together with the refusal of Mr. Orr to stand necessitated a second nomination meeting.

Although both men have now allowed their names to stand they are each opposed by a candidate and a spirited election campagn is now in progress.

At the second nomination meeting six men were nominated for reeve—W. Peck, A. Orr, W. Wellman, Dr. W. E. Wilson, F. McKinney and W. Thomas. Only Messrs. Peck and Orr qualified by the deadline at 9 p.m. on Saturday.

For councillor seven were nominated—Harry Chennell, C. Oliver, W. Wellman, F. McKinney, W. E. Edwards, L. W. Potten and C. Reycroft. But this also was eventually reduced to two—Messrs. Chennell and Edwards.

Dr. Wilson questioned Mr. Orr on the cost of the Hastings Recreation Memorial Centre, and the present reeve gave a detailed explanation of the costs.

The Hastings Council Chamber was packed to hear and see the second nomination meeting.

R. Hanbidge Heads Jersey Breeders

Roger Hanbidge was re-elected president of the Peterborough Jersey Breeders' Association Saturday. Wellington Sutton is vice-president and Harry W. Young continues as secretary-treasurer.

The directors are: W. R. Bell, Harry Gainer, Don Robertson and Foster Eggleston. Peterborough breeders have just closed an active and generally satisfactory year, and Harold Butcher, secretary of the Ontario Jersey Club, Toronto, said the breed throughout the province was making steady progress.

Mr. Hanbidge commented that the attendance at the annual meeting should have been larger, especially as the general affairs of the association are in a healthy condition.

250 Youngsters Eager To Learn Ski-ing Methods

Peterborough's Junior Ski School got under way on Saturday morning when 250 youngsters visited Kemp's Hill by bus.

Weather and snow conditions were almost perfect for the tyros. The hill was wet and sticky with some bald spots showing through, but for the young beginners conditions were ideal.

Hal Barker, chief instructor of the school and 12 assistants taught proper methods for using poles for downhill runs and climbing, the sidestep and herringbone climb, the stem turn, and the proper use of tow.

Many of the falls could be attributed to improper bindings, harness and boots. A number of the youngsters wore soft rubber boots and a strap binding which would not hold the foot in place on the ski. Parents can aid their youngsters and prevent possible injury by making sure their children have adequate bindings and boots.

Equipment is better than last year, but there is still room for improvement among some of the youngsters, and parents are urged to obtain, if possible, a good grade harness and boots to prevent possible injury or discouragement.

The youngsters were divided into small groups and placed in the care of an assistant instructor. Many caught on quickly and could soon make a proper stem turn.

An open competition in various age groups will be held on the closing day of the school, in five weeks time. The assistant instructors were: Bob White, Molly Craig, Mary Dodds, Jane Gillespie, Agnes Strickland, Rod Reed, Judy Strickland, Bruce Upper, Tony Clark, Mary Barker, Guy Peterson, Marg Strickland, Ian Blacklock and Tom Ashby.

Veteran Printer Harry Lacheur Dies Age Of 79

Harry Lacheur, 309 Rubidge St., retired foreman of the job department of the Examiner prior to its severance and sale to the Peterborough Printing Company, died Sunday at his home.

He had been ill since the day before Christmas. Mr. Lacheur was born at Ottawa 79 years ago, and has lived here 75 years. He was attracted to the printing business to which he was apprenticed in the days before the linotype machine was invested, substantially reducing the manual composition which was the old method and practice of setting up columns of type.

He was a charter member of the local union No. 248, I.T.U.

Worked In Toronto

Mr. Lacheur worked for a time with the Toronto Mail and Empire, and returned to the Examiner in a long stretch of employment until his retirement. He was interested in sports from his youth, and was a loyal supporter. He used to recall some of his out of town trips, especially with the intermediate hockey champions including Chris Graham and R. M. Glover, to Kitchener and Goderich, and other towns in the play-off circuit.

He was a member of the International Typographical Union more than 40 years, and was a rather frequent visitor to the Examiner and its composing department.

Mr. Lacheur was a son of the late John Lacheur and his wife, Ann Jane Armstrong. He leaves his sisters, Misses Mary and Elizabeth Lacheur of Peterborough; Mrs. J. B. Lancaster and Mrs. Emma Catchpole, Toronto; and brothers: John of Craik, Sask., Robert of Chicago, and Mr. Charles Lacheur, postmaster in Peterborough.

Mr. Lacheur was of an amiable, good humored and friendly disposition, and had a large number of friends who admired his fine character. He was a member of All Saints' Anglican Church all his life, also of Peterborough Lodge AF and AM. and was a charter member of the Woodmen of the World.

The funeral Tuesday at 2.30 p.m. will be from the Nisbett funeral home, Charlotte St., to Little Lake cemetery. The service will be conducted by Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite.

Between curling down at the Curling Rink shoot the ducks, figure eights, three, fox-trots, blues, and waltzing are being cut by the members of the Peterborough Figure Skating Club. The skaters are from four years and up. They are divided into three groups, junior, intermediate and senior under the guidance of Miss L. Coburn, professional. The juniors are from four to 12 years of age, the intermediate, 12 to 18 and the senior above 18.

Peterborough Figure Skating Club has written to the Civic Arena committee for a night, either a Friday or a Saturday near the end of February. On that night the club plans to hold a skating carnival. While on January 28 a group of skaters from the club are going to Oakwood to give a demonstration of figure skating. They will be under the direction of Miss Coburn.

Executive of the club are concerned about the long waiting list of people wanting to join the club. They are disappointed that they can't take and more due to the limited time on the ice. They hope that by next year there will be lots of room in the Civic Arena if there is an iceplant secured for the rink.

Norwood Couple Married 60 Years
Bridesmaid, Best Man Send Congratulations

NORWOOD, Jan. 10 (ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. William Finlay Elliott celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on Sunday. They were married at Mrs. Elliott's parents' home in 1889 by the Rev. Francis Andrews of Westwood Presbyterian Church. An interesting feature of the anniversary celebration was that the bridesmaid, Elizabeth Nelson, now Mrs. Alexander Strong, cousin of Mrs. Elliott, is still living and also the groomsman, John Elliott, Mr. Elliott's brother, is living in Norwood. Mrs. Strong's home is in Peterborough.

After their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott lived on their farm on the Norwood-Hastings road until their retirement to Norwood in 1925. Mr. Elliott is the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott who lived at Asphodel and Mrs. Elliott, formerly Susanna Best Moore, is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton T. Moore whose home was in Otonabee. They have four children, Harvey T. Elliott of Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. E. W. Sargent (Bertha) of Westwood; Miss M. Edith Elliott of Ottawa and Eric M. Elliott of Ottawa; four grandchildren, Leslie Sargent, Mrs. R. G. Boate (Isabel); Karen Elliott and June Elliott and a great granddaughter, Barbara Boat.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott are members of Norwood United Church and were former Methodists. They were both in good health until a year ago, when a fall confined Mrs. Elliott to her home.

A dinner party had been planned but owing to the fact that Mrs. Elliott contracted a severe cold, this was abandoned. Instead a reception was held Saturday afternoon, and because Mrs. Elliott's bedroom adjoins the living room, guests were able to felicitate her without any convenience. Among those paying tribute was Hon. Dana Porter, Ontario Minister of Education, who sent a telegram expressing his congratulations.

Name Ed. Foley General Foreman Of CGE Division

Mr. D. E. (Eddie) Foley has been appointed generad foreman of the induction motor division of the Canadian General Electric Company. His supervision embraces 250 men.

Mr. Foley began his service with the company as machinist in the induction motor department April 29, 1927. He was ten years in that work, excepting for a period of nine months in the tool making department.

In March 1937 he was promoted to the assistant foremanship in induction motors, and in April 1941 he was transferred to Genelco Limited as assistant foreman. The next year he became foreman on engine lather, and in 1943 night foreman. He remained in that position until April 1945 when he returned to induction motors as foreman.

Mr. Foley was born in Peterborough, and is another of the local men who have risen from the ranks at CGE, to department and divisional responsibilities. In his younger days before he had joined the CGE Company he was prominent in sports, notably lacrosse and hockey. It will be recalled that he was with the Peterborough SPA champions of 1925, as a spare defense man on the team headed by Irvin (Ace) Bailey.

Mr. Foley also played a rugged game of lacrosse, somewhere in the defense field in the declining days of the grass contests, before the abbreviated box substitute came in. Lives of 3 People Saved By Inhalator Squads Of Firemen During 1948

At least three Peterborough residents owe their lives to the swift, efficient work of the Fire Department's inhalator squad during the past year. As soon as word is flashed to the Fire Hall that a person's normal breathing has ceased or that he is in need of oxygen, two or three of the firemen on duty seize the portable equipment and speed to the address.

The first person to benefit in 1948 from the firemen's skill was W. Horner, Gilchrist St., who was overcome by coal gas on March 15, when Captain F. A. Shearer, Firemen P. Gould and W. Bloom answered the call.

After using the inhalator for 27 minutes they were able to revive the 61-year-old man. Dr. L. Thompson was present when they arrived, and supervised the work.

Speed was a particularly important factor in reviving Mrs. Roy Pilling, King George St. on April 24. She had suffered an attack and had stopped breathing properly by the time the inhalator crew had arrived. Dr. Robert Bell called the department for oxygen which was administered. Captain Albert Mason and Garnet Brown and Fireman R. Hall answered.

Worked in Ambulance

Both the inhalator and oxygen were used to revive her. On the way to the hospital she collapsed again and the crew worked on her as the vehicle raced through the city streets.

The third person who was snatched from death by a narrow margin was 25-year-old Thomas Wilcox, St. Mary's St., who was unconscious for more than two hours on Sept. 27, after an electric shock.

Mr. Wilcox had leaned over from the bed he way lying on to plug in an electric lamp. The plug was defective and he was knocked unconscious by the charge. Captain Brown and G. Deck worked on him with the inhalator for two hous and 20 minutes before he was taken to hospital, still in a semi-conscious condition.

On May 1, Duncan Ferguson, 43, a Kingston resident who was visiting here on Canadian Legion business collapsed when he suffered an attack. Fireman James McFarlane, Henry Nokes and Harold Black gave him oxygen for nearly an hour at the hotel room where he was staying, and continued with this as he went to the hospital in an ambulance.

They were able to revive him, but he died later that day.

Three deaths by drowning occurred in the city during the past year and all of them required the services of the firemen.

On July 5 Gerald (Buddy) Harran, son of Toronto parents, was drowned at Inverlea Park. Despite 40 minutes work with the inhalator he could not be revived.

The other two drowning victims were both discovered floating in the Trent Canal. They were Frank Lynch, 43, and Arthur Ellis 34, who had been in the water too long for inhalator treatment to be of any value.

Another tragedy that firemen could not prevent was the death of 3-months-old Robert Jarvis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis on May 10. He died of asphyxiation despite the prompt arrival of the crew.

Chief George Smith stated that while the term "inhalator crew" is used, there is no special roster of men set aside for that duty. All the firemen are fully conversant with the working of the two respiratory units—the H-H inhalator and the resuscitator.

93 P.C. Oxygen

The inhalator has a supply of 93 per cent oxygen and seven per cent carbon dioxide and is always used in conjunction with the Schaefer method of prone artificial respiration.

On the other hand the resuscitator can be used in three ways: as an inhalator, worked in conjunction with artificial respiration; as an aspirator, whereby foreign bodies or mucus can be sucked from the throat and a resuscitator which fills the lungs with pure oxygen.

Peterborough's Fire Department which has every man fully qualified to run these two pieces of equipment, also has some of its own methods when using artificial respiration.

"When we change men while applying artificial respiration we use our own method," said Chief Smith. "The correct rythhm is very important and we've practised this for a long time and found it satisfactory."

Reserve Judgment On Receiving Count

Judgment was reserved for one week today by Magistrate Philp in a case against Stanley Richardson of Hastings. He has pleaded not guilty to a charge of receiving stolen goods. Evidence was heard today.

Provincial Constable Arthur Kellogg of Hastings testified that he had searched the accused's home at Hastings on warrant during an investigation of theft of cigarettes from the CNR freightsheds in Peterborough. The search, on Dec. 14, resulted in the recovery of 10,400 cigarettes.

A statement given the police by the accused at the time of seizure and arrest said that he had received the goods from a Hastings man (who had later pleaded guilty to theft and been sentenced). Richardson's statement was that he had been asked if the cigarettes could be left at his home, where he said they had been in a closet until the police arrived.

Spring Whirl

HERE'S PLENTY OF PROOF that the full-skirted dress will continue to spread its charms through 1949. The whirling skirt of the "diabolo" evening dress (left) is named for the children's game played with sticks, spool and string. White eyeleted Swiss organdy, embroidered with rhinestones makes a creation which is probably the "dream dress" of Maurice Rentner's collection. The skirt owes its incredible mobility to multiple gores of alternating straightness and fulness which would serve as a geometric study in circles and elipses. The full-skirted print dress (right) which is a Robaix-designed silk that plays a pink Chinese mosaic against one of plum-purple, is an example of the Empire influence on spring fashions.

One of my friends who has made a determined resolution to reduce in 1949 has discovered the cans of unsweetened fruits that the grocers sell for the use of diabetics. She says she finds the apricots nicest of all for they do not need sugar like the other fruits, and at the same time she does not feel she is cheating herself of her beloved desserts.

Steamed Currant Pudding

One-half cup shortening, ½ cup brown sugar well packed, ½ cup molasses, 2 beaten eggs, 2 cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cloves (less if desired) 1 cup washed and dried currants (or figs or dates), ½ cup milk. Cream the shortening with the sugar until creamy then beat in the molasses and eggs. Sift together dry ingredients, add the dates or figs or currants to them, and stir them into egg mixture alternately with he milk. Pour ino greased mould (2-quart size) or 2 smaller moulds and steam 2 hours. This is good with Foamy Sauce too.

Curried hard-cooked eggs are favourites with our family; you merely hard-cook the eggs, make a medium thick white sauce and add 1 or 2 teaspoons curry powder—according to how much you like it. Other good spices are paprika, shake of celery and onion salt. I like chopped broken stuffed olives in it too.

DOROTHY DIX

Husband Who Neglects Wife, Final Sufferer

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My wife and I were married when we were very young. Our children came close together and she had her hands full with them and with her home while I was struggling to support the family. She was so occupied with her work and I was so busy with mine that we drifted apart and became cold to each other. I had my little fling with other women, though I never considered for one moment leaving my wife and children. My wife did not reproach me with my infidelity, but she grew colder and colder toward me. Now the children are married and gone and I am so lonely. How can I win back my wife's devotion?

Dorothy Dix

LONELY HUSBAND

ANSWER: Alas, we cannot have our cake and eat it, too, which is a homely truth that men find it hard to accept. In his youth a man is faithless to his wife. He insults her by his amours and tears her heart to shreds with jealousy. Then when he is tired of his Lady Loves he comes home to his wife and expects her to welcome him back with open arms, and to forget the past, and to feel toward him just as she would have felt if he had remained loyal to her.

And, of course, it never happens. It is one of the things that can't be because there is really no such thing as forgiving and forgetting. Always there is the memory in the back of the woman's mind. Always the scar that aches. Always the contempt for his weakness. Always a complete disillusion.

Can't Ask Impossible

So for you to expect to win back your wife's devotion after all these years of coldness between you is to ask the impossible of life. But there is no reason why you and your wife should not establish a friendship that will be a solace to both of you as you go down last stretch of the road. With the children married and gone, your wife must be as dependent on you for companionship as you are on her, so the best thing for her to do is to help you kindle as bright a fire as you can out of the old ashes.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I love my wife dearly, but she has a weakness that makes trouble between us. Although I have cautioned her not to discuss my business affairs and she has promised not to do so, she goes right ahead and spills the beans, so to speak, to anyone who will listen to her. What can I do?

DESPERATE

ANSWER: Nothing, I am afraid, except to keep her from finding out anything that you don't want her to repeat, for a leaky vessel is bound to spill its contents. The women who have the blab complex just can't control their tongues. They are bound to wag.

A great many of the wives who complain that their husbands never tell them anything have only themselves to blame for being shut out of the confidence of the men to whom they are married. They can't be happy until they broadcast all that they know, and so their husbands find that silence is their only protection.

Many wives feel that they have a perfect right to discuss all of their husbands' most personal and secret affairs, and then they wonder why their husbands are glum and silent at home and never talk ove rtheir business or their hopes and plans with them.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am engaged to a man whom I love dearly, but if I marry him there can never be any children. What are the chances of happiness for me in such a marriage?

MILDRED H.

ANSWER: No one can decide that question for you, because you alone know how you feel about children. If the maternal instinct is very strong in you, and you have a desire to cuddle every baby you see up to your breast, then a childless home will be a tragedy to you.

But many women are not like that. Many regard children as brats and refuse to have kids cluttering up the house. Many others can take them or leave them and can be happy either with or without them. So it is up to you to decide to which class you belong.

Some of the happiest couples I have ever known were childless, but this can only happen when both the husband and wife love each other dearly, and when neither has a strong paternal or maternal instinct.

QUESTION: I am not satisfied with my Christmas plum pudding. We used to think it was the best pudding we ever tasted. Either our tastes have changed or we are tired of it—I do not know. Would you be kind enough to send me a recipe for a good rich plum pudding that keeps well and that you can recommend. I will make up a sample batch to taste and then put the recipe away for next year.

Viola.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The recipe I have chosen for you came from my sister-in-law's mother, and she is famous in the family for her discrimination. I tasted this on Christmas day and think it is very superior—and hope you do too.

Mrs. Watson's Plum Pudding

Two pounds stoned raisins, 2 lbs. washed and dried currants, 2 lbs. powdery-fine beef suet, 2 lbs. loaf sugar, 1 glass brandy (I would guess this would be about 4 oz.) 1 cup flour, 1 lb. chopped citron peel, 2 lbs. breadcrumbs, 1 pint boiling hot milk, 1 tablespoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 8 eggs, ½ lb. blanched almonds not chopped. (There are no instructions for mixing but I see no reason for not doing this this way: pour the hot milk over the loaf sugar, stir, then add the suet and breadcrumbs. Beat eggs well and add them and all other ingredients in any order. Stir very well. Steam 8 hours (eight) in buttered and covered moulds (you could use parchment paper to cover moulds if tightly tied on). This was reheated, of course, to serve, and both a lemony spice sauce, and hard sauce were passed. The hard sauce was in little rosettes and was very attractive with one little silver dragee in top of every rosette.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: My husband says his mother used to serve smoked haddie to the family in a thin milk sauce, and they loved it. I am just an inexperienced cook and would like to learn how to do this for him. Tell me how to do this like a good cook would do—my husband likes rather highly seasoned food.

Rockette.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER I think I will tell you how I prepare smoked fillets of haddock—boned and skinned.

Smoked Haddock With Herb White Sauce

For two people order 1 lb. piece of smoked haddie fillet. Cut in two. Place in heavy frying pan or in baking dish. Just barely cover with half rich milk and hot water. Add ½ teaspoon each crumbled dried thyme and sweet basil, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, ½ teaspoon pepper, and heat through, covered, either over direct heat or in oven—heat until a little of the liquid evaporates—this cooks the fish just about enough. Lift the fish onto hot platter. Mix 4 tablespoons flour with 4 teaspoons butter, blend, and pour the hot milky liquid from pan over it, stirring until thick. Pour over fish, sprinkle top with paprika, or strained hard-cooked egg yolk. Garnish sides with hot stuffed olives or wedges of tomato. This is good served with baked potatoes, scalloped tomatoes with buttered crumbs, lemon snow with soft custard for dessert. The smoked haddock seldom needs salt added but you should taste it before sending it to table.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: You mentioned braised celery in one of your menus. Would you print how to do this—I am always having outside celery stalks leftover.

Thrifty.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER:

Braised Celery

Separate and wash stalks of celery until you have the equivalent of about one medium-sized bunch celery. Cut in 2-inch pieces after washing. Add 1 small sliced carrot to it and 1½ cups boiling water or meat stock and cook 20 minutes. Drain reserving lisuid. Put in casserole over thinly sliced onion, sprinkle with poultry seasoning and parsley. Thicken broth 1½ cups with 3 tablespoons flour and butter blended. Pour over vegetables, sprinkle top with cheese, bake 20 minutes at 375 deg.

Say Sharp Blow Now Dealt Peace Prospects

By JOHN RODERICK.

KYRENIA CYPRUS, Jan. 10 — Events of the last three days have dealt a sharp blow to prospects of an early peace in Palestine.

In one stroke the little Arab kingdom of Trans-Jordan altered her role in the Palestine war by involving her treaty with Britain which calls for military help in case of her threatened attack.

Until that happened, Trans-Jordan was considered a strong factor for peace in the Holy Land.

The Trans-Jordan decision, and the shooting down of five R.A.F. planes by the Israelis, complicated the outlook for direct armistice negotiations between Arabs and the Jews.

Trans-Jordan had been at peace with Israel on all fronts since Dec. 1. Ten days ago in a secret military conference at Amman, Trans-Jordan and her Arab ally, Iraq, actually notified Egypt they could not help her in the Negev fighting. Reports to the contrary are in error.

Thus, when Egypt agreed to a cease-fire and armistice talks, it seemed peace at last was near.

These talks now seem doomed unless the Jews agree to withdraw completely from Negev.

The plain fact is that Britain feels she cannot permit a country she considers antagonistic to hold this sandy protective barrier to the Suez Canal and Trans-Jordan's Port of Aqaba.

Teepees Edge Irish 2-1; Spitfires Win

By The Canadian Press

It's tighter than a drum in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A race—one point separates the top three teams.

Both St. Catharines Teepees and Windsor Spitfires squeezed the idle Barrie Flyers out of first place during the week-end as they ran their points to 41—one more than Hap Emms' squad.

The Teepees took a big jump as they downed the eighth-place Toronto St. Michael's College Majors 2-1 Saturday to win their second four-point game in as many nights. The Spitfires defeated the sixth-place Guelph Biltmores 9-2.

In other Junior A games, Stratford Kroehlers overpowered the lowly Toronto Marlboros 6-3 and the last-place Galt Rockets held the fourth-place Oshawa Generals to a 5-5 overtime tie. In the only Senior A game, Toronto Marlboros extended their leadership margin to three points over Kitchener by beating Owen Sound Mercurys 8-3.

St. Catharines took a 1-0 lead in the first period, fought through a scoreless second and split two goals in the final stanza.

The Irish staged a desperate rally early in the third frame but missed the Teepee nets on numerous occasions. Minutes later the visitors put on the pressure and only fine goal-tending by Tom Shea kept them off the score sheet.

Sullivan Scores

Gerry Toppazzini and Red Sullivan scored for St. Catharines. Bud Marshall got the Toronto marker.

Windsor had little trouble disposing of Guelph. The Spitfires forged into a 5-0 lead in the first period, extended it to 7-1 in the second and outscored the Biltmores 2-1 in the last period.

Bruce Giesbrecht, John Wilson and George Ouelette each got two for Windsor. Others went to Doug McKay, Glen Skov and Hebe Lundmark. Lorne Ferguson and Floyd Martin counted for Guelph.

The Kroehlers, paced by Danny Lewicki's three goals, came from behind in the third period with five markers. They were deadlocked at 1-2 at the end of the first period and on the short end of a 2-1 count at the end of the second.

Other Stratford scorers were Pierre Cadieux, McIntosh and Dinny Flanagan. Bobby Hassard, Moe Galand and Lorne Pirie got one each for Toronto.

Lakefield's Loss From Fires Totals $1,021

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 10.—(ENS).—Out of a total of 31 fire alarms answered, three of which were outside of the village, a loss of only $1,021 was recorded for the entire year of 1948, in Fire Chief Allan Clark's twenty-fourth annual report.

During the year the re-vamping of the Department was completed. The old Mason hose and chemical truck was disposed of, the Bickle-Seagrave pumper was re-modelled and new overhead doors installed at the fire hall.

Periodical inspections of all public buildings, schools and factories were carried out. The training of the firemen has been held every month, and with the introduction of the new equiment and new fire hazards presenting themselves, it has been found necessary to change methods and technique to meet them. The use of fog-nizzles and the change over from chemical tanks to booster tanks has speeded up operations of the brigade. At present the facilities for training are madequate as there is very little room in the fire hall for anything except the apparatus and the matter of larger quarters for the fire department must eventually be faced.

There have been no injuries received by any of the staff during operations, the discipline has been of high order, the alarm system has functioned in the usual fine order.

In July Fire Chief Allan Clark attended the annual convention of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs held in Lethbridge, Alberta and had the singular honor of being re-eleted secretary-treasurer of the organization for another year, retaining the headquarters of the Dominion Association in Lakefield.

Fire Chief Clark recommended that something be done about the water supplies in the area of Concession-Albert and Bishop Sts. This matter has been brought before the council continually, but as yet no action has been taken. The need is still great and in case of fire of any proportions beyond the capacity of the booster tanks, the department would be helpless as fire cannot be fought without water.

Requests were made for 200 ft. of two and one-half inch hose, 200 ft. of one and one-half inch hose, 6 new helmets and two electric lanterns.

FORMER PRESIDENT HERBERT HOOVER (right) wishes former Under Secretary of State Dean Acheson well on his appointment to Secretary of State, succeeding George C. Marshall, in Washington.

Visitor Finds Peterborough Very Friendly

Mrs. M. S. Raymond, 308 Maitland Ave., who moved to Peterborough from Cobourg last month, wrote to the home paper that this was one of the friendliest of cities, "and you soon feel you are among friends."

"After they arrived," as reported in the Cobourg Sentinel-Star, "Mayor W. G. Ovens sent them a friendly letter of welcome which said in part, "I hope you will begin to feel that you are among friendly folk because Peterborough is a city of friendship."

That experience of Mrs. Raymond's inspired an approving letter in the Star, and everybody was cordially impressed by a service which turns out to be quietly organized under the name of "Welcome Wagon" with Mrs. C. S. Thompson as hostess.

"I have called upon people from 13 different countries this year," Mr. Thompson said. 'One of the most recent was a doctor from Hungary. He is doing intern work, I understand, at St. Joseph's Hospital, in preparation for obtaining a degree to practice here. I met him and his wife. They are grand people. Others during the year were from Malta, Africa, India, Trinidad, and so one. It is quite a story in itself where they come from and why they came to Peterborough.

In November alone I called upon 55 different newcoming families. It is a mystery to me how they obtain living quarters when there appears to be so much difficulty for our own people in getting places. Possibly they try harder, but at any rate they do get rooms or other accommodation more or less temporary."

This service is sponsored by a group of business men. The work of Mrs. Thompson, who says she thoroughly enjoys the experience and the meeting of many interesting people, is to help make them feel at home in their Peterborough surroundings. She tries to answer all their questions relating to their neighborhoods and the city as a whole. For instance, location of the nearest school and how to reach it; church affiliation, minister's name and other contacts; neighborhood stores; social introductions in the neighborhood, if desired; stores, theatres, utilities office and all the other questions which arise in settling inn a new community.

"We have carried on this service for ten years," Mrs. Thompson said, "and I have met a great number of people during the time I have been in charge."

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

is a lot of little things

BE PROUD OF YOUR COMMUNITY

If we didn't think a whole lot of Our Town we wouldn't live in it. Take stock of its advantages — for example — cleanliness — pleasant residential districts—beautiful parks—excellent educational facilities—modern stores! It pays to support local athletics—to take an active personal interest in civic affairs—to lend a helping hand to any campaign aimed at bettering general conditions. Yes, it pays you—in the satisfaction you get out of being a part of the world around you—that's "Good Citizenship". It pays the community by making it the best place in which to live.

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Week Of Prayer Well-Attended

Week of prayer was not only held in Peterborough last week, it was observed all over the States, Great Britain and Canada. Millions of people from these countries attended the services dedicated to prayer.

Week of prayer was started 103 years ago in England. Since then it has gradually spread across to Canada and the United States. Protestant churches are becoming more and more united in action and spirit. This is shown by the different denominations taking part in the services during this particular week.

Last week six services were held in the Peterborough churches belonging to the Peterborough Ministerial Association. In all 15 ministers took part in the services. On Friday night at Knox United Church the Rev. E. W. Kibblewhite of All Saints' Anglican Church preached on prayer and Christian unity. In this service seven denominations were represented.

Mild Weather Brings Business To Market

Saturday's mild weather created a fairly large market in both curb and basket departments. The largest group of produce being offered was apples and the smallest, probably due again to weather was wood.

Vegetables in bushel lots started with turnips and cabbage at $1.25, carrots $1.50 and parsnips $2. Potatoes were selling at $1.50 a bag, beets at 30c and onions at 40, both in six-quart basket measure.

Of the large offering of apples Mackintoshes sold from 45c to 60c, Starks 50c and Spies 60c for six quarts. In bushel lots were Greenings at $2, Russetts at $2.50 and Talman Sweets at $2.75.

Mixed hardwood and maple only in foot lengths moved slowly at $16 and $17.50 a cord respectively. Birch cordwood was labelled $12 a cord and in three-cord truckload lots and mixed hardwood slabs, $16.50 a load of slightly more than a cord.

There were more butchered quarters of meat on the market than in the past with pork ranging between 30 to 42 cents and beef from 40 to 43.

The range of egg prices in the basket market was from 40c a dozen for pullets to 35c for medium grade and 50 to 55 for large and extra large. Chickens and hens, and there were not many, were priced at 50c a pound for both. Homemade bread was priced at 20c a loaf and pan buns from 25 to 30 cents a dozen. Last of Christmas season food in mince pies could be had for 60c each.

Charges U.S. Films Dumped On Europe

By EDDIE GILMORE

MOSCOW, Jan. 10.—(AP). — The weekly, Soviet Art, today gives Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, an editorial pummelling, describing him as an imperialist agent with the face of a model and the smile of a "tooth-paste advertisement."

The newspaper says that after the war Johnston realized British, Swedish and French films would compete seriously with American movies abroad.

"Spectators, tired of detective pictures and comedies with cowboys, have refused American films, preferring to see theirs and the Soviet films," it says.

It goes on to accuse Johnston of dumping American films on the European market at losses he hoped to make up in his home market.

"Arthur Rank of Britain tried some resistance, but Johnston hurried to London and quickly talked the Labor Government into removing the tax on American films."

Veteran Reforestation Expert To Be Honored By Colleagues

TORONTO, Jan. 10—(Special)—The "grand-daddy of reforestation" in Ontario, E. J. Zavitz of Toronto, will be honored by senior officials of the Department of Lands and Forests when they meet in Toronto for their annual conference this week.

Mr. Zavitz, one of the world's outstanding forestry experts, was greatly responsible for the forest protection system now in use in Ontario, and copied in many other countries. He has been with the Ontario government since 1904, and was born in Ridgeway, Ontario.

One-time Deputy Minister of Forestry for the province, Mr. Zavitz was greatly instrumental in the formation of the Provincial Air Service, now the largest aerial forest fire fighting force in the world; urged upon rural municipalities the advisability of county forests and through his door-to-door efforts brought about the establishment of forest nurseries at St. Williams, Kemptville, Midhurst, Fort William and Orono.

Among his proudest souvenirs in a collection of photographs taken in the early days of the St. Williams plantation. An ardent photographer in the "old days" when taking photographs involved carrying a wagonload of equipment, he photographed an eight-acre tract of blow sand in the area located south of Simcoe. The pictures show a desert in the making. Recently, from the same corner, Mr. Zavitz re-photographed the tract, on which trees now rise 50 feet in the air and from which a small sawmill is steadily turning out lumber for departmental use. The trees had been planted by Mr. Zavitz in the first step of a reclamation program which finds many previously-dry streams now producing speckled trout and on which beaver today are building dams.

Reminiscing of his early efforts to educate farmers on the value of reforestation, Mr. Zavitz told reporters that he had travelled through the country by horse and buggy, going from one farm home to the next and demonstrating in person, just how trees should be planted to provide windbreaks, prevent erosion and even provide a paying Christmas tree crop. "It required a great deal of talking—but then I always could talk a great deal" he said. "Some of the farmers were reluctant to use their spare time in planting trees, but they quickly learned it was a paying proposition and now the demand for trees from provincial nurseries is far greater than we can fill.

From the early beginning of the provincial nurseries, when trees distributed were numbered in dozens, each year more than 13,000,000 small trees are now sent throughout the province. They are planted by individuals, boys' and girls' organizations such as the Girl Guides, service organizations and school children.

The most encouraging thing in my life has been the arousing of public consciousness and the increased interest taken by the people of Ontario in the need for reclaiming areas from which every tree had been cut" said Mr. Zavitz. "For many years people believed our forest areas were inexhaustible. The early settlers simply set fore to the bush as a means of clearing land. Swamps were drained and fence rows ploughed to the very edges. Today, though, people are better educated and as a result our forests are coming back. It will be a long time, of course, before we again see lumbering operations carried on in southern Ontario, but we must also remember it took our forefathers a long time to so denude the land that we had practically nothing left.

"We must always remember", he said, "that without forests our province would be a desert waste, and we must take steps to preserve what we now have and to bring our land back to its original state. It will be along, expensive task, but it is encouraging to see public opinion rising behind the government's efforts to bring this about."

ST. JEROME, QUE., is soon to have a new "push button" phone system, similar to the just announced New York system demonstrated above, which effects a saving in time for long distance calls. This is not for home phones but for the use of operators. The new key-bank will go into operation at St. Jerome when the dial exchange is opened there next month. St. Jerome operators will call Montreal numbers by punching them on the keyboard. The pulses, however, will be converted to ordinary dial pulses by equipment at St. Jerome, and will be transferred as such to the dial equipment in Montreal.

Truman Win Heartens Labor Party

By JAMES McCOOK.

LONDON, Jan. 10 — (CP). — The British Labor Party, with its own anxieties about re-election in 1950, has studied President Truman's victory in the United States and found new courage therein.

Denis Healey, Secretary, Labor Party International Department, said Truman's re-election demonstrated that "the most powerful nation in the modern world is moving in the same direction as our own—towards social democracy in its fullest sense.

"All the old arguments about Britain becoming an American satellite have lost their meaning. It would be equally wrong—or right—to say that America is becoming a British satellite."

Writing in the Labor Press Service, Healey continued:

"The American elections open up perspectives of growing partnership between the British and American peoples based on the same political and social ideals. There can be no real conflict of interest between a new deal America and a Labor Britain."

British labor counts among its stalwart supporters the trade unionists and their organizations. Healey noted that "the Democratic Party owes its victory to the support of organized labor and to the fact that the American people wanted a progressive policy and progressive candidates."

"It won its victory without any help from the Communist Party and its fellow-travellers, or from the reactionary Southerners on whose support it had previously relied."

RESCUERS IN SMALL BOATS (top) battle seas lashing Goeira Rock, 25 miles from the Atlantic port of Vigo, Spain, to take a line to 36 members of the crew of the fishing vessel "Tito" which piled up on the rock a few days ago. One of the crewmen edges to rescue vessel in a breeches buoy (centre) after the line had been secured to the rock. One of the last men saved is awaited by outstretched arms of rescuers (bottom) as he rides buoy to bow of the rescue ship.

Soap Collected At WI Meeting

ROSENEATH, Jan. 10 (ENS)—The roll call, "A Bar of Soap for England," opened a business period at the New Year WI meeting Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. B. Thackeray was hostess, the vice-president, Mrs. Charles Sandercock presided. As the result of the roll call a box of soap will be shipped January 15 to Miss Isa Lewis Baptist Deaconess, England, for distribution. Members not present and others may leave donations with Mrs. G. Mouncey or Miss Jessie Johnston. A letter from Miss Lewis was read acknowledging receipt and distribution of 20 pounds of candy received from the branch.

Plans for the annual bazaar to be held Jan. 22 in the town hall included the appointment of department conveners as follows: Afternoon tea, Mrs. Harold Taylor; farm, Mrs. E. Sandercock; home cooking, Mrs. B. Thackeray; needlework, Mrs. F. Adams; candy and novelties, Mrs. A. Pringle; fish pond, Mrs. G. Mouncey. Many donations were made toward the bazaar.

A book, "50 Years Achievement of Women's Institutes" was on display from Miss Anna P. Lewis, provincial superintendent of WI and it was decided to buy one copy. For publicity it was decided to buy and distribute in Alnwick township schools 100 WI blotters; decided to donate $5 to Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto.

Mrs. E. Skinkle, Warkworth, for two years in an iron lung in Isolation Hospital, Toronto is to receive a greeting card shower from the members.

Miss Jessie Johnston reported 25 Christmas cards dispatched to the aged, ill and shutins.

Plans for the February meeting included: An address on "Honey Harvest of Flowing Gold", by Fred Lewis, local apiarist; a pot luck supper, meeting in town hall and Mrs. J. W. Pacey, convener of agriculture and Canadian industries, in charge of program.

Mrs. Harold Taylor, home economics convener gave a demonstration on stuffed heart, escalloped beets and almond pudding with orange sauce.

A New Year program had two contests won by Mrs. C. Grigg, and three readings: "Roseneath WI" by Mrs. Frank Brown, "New Year Recipe" by Miss Jessie Johnston, and "Trying to lick the teacher," by Nelda Brown.

Votes of thanks were accorded Mrs. Harold Taylor and the hostess, the latter assisted by her daughter-in-law Mrs. Murray Thackeray, served supper.

A JOINT MEETING of the House and Senate in Washington, deep in counting the votes of the electoral college, got a surprise visit when President Truman entered the chamber. Here page boys, Congressmen and Senators shake the Chief Executive's hand as they file by. President's presence at the meeting is unprecedented.

Forecast Senate Approval Of Acheson Appointment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP).—Senate approval of Dean C. Acheson as Secretary of State was forecast Saturday by Senator Tom Connally (Dem., Tex.), despite a marked Republican coolness. Connally told reporters the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, organizing Tuesday under his chairmanship, will set a date for Acheson and James E. Webb to appear personally.

Catching observers largely by surprise, President Truman Friday named Acheson as Secretary and moved Webb from his post as budget director to that of Undersecretary of State, after reluctantly accepting the resignations of State Secretary Marshall and his chief aide, Robert M. Lovett.

The move was regarded in Congress as possibly only the first of several changes in top personnel. Speculation involved the posts of Defence Secretary Forrestal, Interior Secretary Krug and Commerce Secretary Sawyer.

Knows Senators

Acheson's confirmation was forecast on the basis of his personal acquaintance with many senators and the unwritten rule that a President can name almost anybody he chooses to his cabinet.

But there was evidence that some influential Republicans — and a few Democrats—were disappointed at the choice.

The reaction in Congress was considered important not only because it may effect Acheson's confirmation chances, but also because one of his big jobs will be to determine how closely to work with both Republican and Democratic leaders in developing new foreign policy measures.

Marshall and Lovett solved this problem by removing themselves from any part in domestic politics and consistently consulting Senator Arthur Vandenberg (Mich.) and John Foster Dulles, both Republican leaders in foreign policy, on every important step they proposed.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Jan. 8 — (CP). — A resolution calling for higher wages and additional game wardens in Northern Ontario will be presented by the Soo Hackle Club at the meeting to-day in Sudbury of the Northern Ontario Federation of Anglers. The local club, headed by Chester Bell, will also seek a later opening of the rainbow trout season. The motion states that the opening date in Michigan State is later than in Ontario, and that fish are taken from Northern Ontario waters while still spawning. A two-year closed season on moose and a bounty for bears will also be suggested.

BLOCKING ROADS

Fire Chief George Smith was a bit annoyed Friday night when cars following a fire department truck blocked Hunter street east. Chief Smith says the drivers ignored the fire siren and his car was held up. This is the last warning to fire truck chasers, because in future all drivers who fail to pull to the curb and give the right of way to police cars, ambulances or fire trucks will face charges in city court.

200 Nuns Missing

MUNICH, Jan. 10 (Reuters)—A trainload of 200 German Nuns missing "somewhere in Austria" after repatriation from Romania was sought by the United States military government for Bavaria. The Nuns had been released from house arrest in Romania and put on a train with visas for the American zone of Germany. Austrian officials halted the train at Salsburg and for some unknown reason rerouted it towards the Brenner Pass in the French zone, for which the Nuns had no visas.

A DANGEROUS TRICK

The hose was not locked in position.

Chinese Yuan Requests Cease-Fire

Admit Tientsin City Has Fallen To Reds; Mediation Requested

NANKING, Jan. 11.—(Reuters).—The Chinese Control Yuan (Council) today decided unanimously to appeal for an immediate cease-fire to end the war with the Communists.

The Control Yuan, highest supervisory body of the Chinese government, issued a 5,000-word declaration urging the Communists to "adopt the same attitude to peace" as President Chiang Kai-Shek did in his New Year message, and to respect the people's desire to end the war's suffering."

In addition to the unanimous cease-fire call, a group of control Yuan members also submitted for further consideration a four-point peace plan, proposing:

1. Chiang Kai-Shek, Prime Minister Sun Fo and Mao Tse-Tung, the Communist leader, should be asked to cease military operations and, as soon as possible, send representatives to meet and discuss concrete peace proposals.

2. They should hold early discussions on peace moves with Chang Chih-Chung and Chang Chun, members of the inner cabinet, and with Shao Li-Tse, former ambassador to Moscow, and Kwan Li-Tsin, an advocate of peace.

3. An approach should be made to the ambassadors of the four major powers to appeal for peace in the name of the people, urging them to transmit the views of the Chinese people to their governments and begin mediation.

4. Material should be prepared for peace negotiations

Mao In Hopei

A dispatch from Peiping published in the Kiangkan Evening Post here today said Communist leader Mao Tse-Tung arrived in western Hopei, with Marshal Li Chi-Sheng, leader of the Hong Kong Kuomintang dissidents for a new political consultative conference exected to be held soon.

Strong arguments for initiating immediate peace negotiations with the Communists were presed upon Gen. Chang Chun by members of the Hupeh provincial council during the former premier's recent visit to Hankow, informed sources said in Shanghai today.

The council members were reported to have told Chang Chun

Beer Waiters Must Pay Tax On Tips

OTTAWA, Jan. 11 (CP) —The Revenue Department confirmed Monday night that beer parlor waiters who have refused to pay income tax on tips have had the money deducted from returnable compulsory savings.

A spokesman referred specifically to a case of about 25 waiters in Calgary who have declined to abide by an income tax assessment of 10 per cent of earnings to cover tips.

"It stands to reason," said the spokesman, "that if they are not going to pay the tax, then we'll try to get it some way. We've decided to deduct it from the 1943-44 refundable savings."

He said a precedent for such action had already been established in cases of other waiters who had declined to pay the tax. Opposition to payment of income tax on tips had been "sporadic" across the country.

"We try to get at the facts in arriving at assessments for tips," said the spokesman. "If big hotels, we feel the assessment should be higher."

The spokesman added: "If the waiter, bellboy or taxi driver who is assessed for that feels the assessment is too high all he has to do is appeal and he'll be given consideration. The 10 per cent is not a fixed ruling. It can be changed if too steep."

Engraver Chained To Box Police Seek Counterfeiters

VANCOUVER, Jan. 11—(CP).—Police said Monday night a province-wide search for a gang of counterfeiters has been touched off with the finding of a 71-year-old engraver chained to a large metal box in the basement of a house in Vancouver's Dunbar district. Police said he has been chained for five days.

Police said they were certain the captive was being "softened up" for use in the preparation of plates for the printing of bogus currency.

Neighbors telephoned police late Monday reporting they had not seen anyone enter or leave the house for some time. Detectives found it empty except for the aged engraver.

He was taken to hospital where authorities reported he was apparently in no danger.

Neither police nor hospital officials would release his name.

Police said he totld hem he had been chained to the box since Thursday but had not been mistreated. He said he was given food and water.

Police said the house was rented out to two men. They in turn rented out separate rooms for two and three months intervals but refused their tenants access to the basement at any time.

Police declined further details saying their investigations were continuing.

There have been no reports in recent months of counterfeit money circulating in this area.

Hotel Employee Beaten To Death

WINNIPEG, Jan. 11 — (CP).—A middle-aged night clerk was beaten to death Monday night in the lobby of the downtown hotel where he was employed and the hotel owner said to-day a beer parlor waiter in the same establishment had accompanied detectives to headquarters for questioning.

Dead from head injuries is 48-year-old Robert Mabley, who had been working at the hotel for the last three weeks. Hotel owner Wasyl Lozowsky said that Howard Ferguson, 28-year-old waiter, had gone to headquarters with police following Mabley's death.

Lozowsky said he had found Mabley lying on the floor in the hotel lobby in a pool of blood shortly after closing up the beverage room at 10 p.m. Ferguson and other persons were standing around and the waiter then had rushed to the telephone and called police to order an ambulance.

4 Union Men Barred From US

TORONTO, Jan. 11 (CP)—William Edmiston and three other members of the United Chemical Workers Union (AFY) were temperarily denied entry into the United States Monday, it was announced by American immigration officials here.

It is understood the four men were heading for a labor convention at Akron, Ohio. Edmiston is Canadian director.

The other three men, organizers are Lewis Tait, George Care and Charles Manser.

500 Canadian Seamen Stage Three-Hour Token Strike

LONDON, Jan. 11.—(CP).—An estimated 500 Canadian seamen today staged a three-hour token strike beginning at 2 p.m. in protest against the labor policies of the operators of their ships.

Union officials said the sailors comprise the crews of 10 Canadian ships in British ports.

Jack Pope of Montreal, European representative of the Canadian Seamen's Union, said the token strike was one of sympathy with the crew of the SS Point Aconi, Canadian ship tied up at Barry, Wales. Also it was a protest against an alleged drive by the operating companies to lower operational costs by hiring new crews.

The Point Aconi's 40-man complement now is in the 17th day of a stay-in strike aboard the ship. The crew say the company, the Navico Shipping Company, Limited, of Montreal, wants to pay them off and replace them with locally-hired men. They claim this is a violation of their working agreement which provides for termination of employment only at eastern Canadian ports.

The company says repairs are needed to the ship and that it has offered the men sea passage back to Canada.

The only men to take advantage of the offer of passage aboard the liner Aquitania, leaving today for Halifax, are the ship's captain, W. P. Bell, and the chief engineer, J. W. Campbell, both believed to be of Montreal.

The Point Aconi case now is being taken up by lawyers for the company and the seamen and is expected to reach the courts this week.

Other ships Pope claimed were affected by today's token strike were the Montreal City, the Bayside, the Harmac Westminster, the Lake Nipigon, the Federal Mariner, the Federal Trader and two others unidentified by name

Workers Melt Away On Dismantling Job

HAMBURG, Jan. 11. (Reuters) —Only 15 of the 21 workers under contract to the British military government turned up today to dismantle mechanical hammers in the drop-forge shop of the Bochum Steel Works in the Ruhr.

Of these, eight later disappeared and the rest "went slow" with the job.

This was almost a repetition of what happened Monday when the squad arrived to take down the hammers, which are on the Allied dismantling list as "war plant."

The men were then told by British officers that those who refused to do the work would be prosecuted for disobeying military government orders.

Get Through Winter Without Power Cuts

TORONTO, Jan. 11—(CP).—Belief that Ontario can get through the winter without further power interruptions was expressed Monday night in a broadcast by Robert Saunders, Ontario Hydro chairman.

But he said it would be necessary to avoid waste of electricity and to spread use of power over each week by rearranging hours of work.

Said Mr. Saunders:

"We believe at Hydro that with the present water storage and the present flow of water on the different rivers, we shall be able to carry through the winter without a reduction in quotas to the municipalities."

UEW To Quit Factory In Hamilton

Call Special Meeting To Discuss It; January 14 Deadline

OTTAWA, Jan. 11 (CP)—C. S. Jackson, president of the United Electrical Workers, indicated today to a meeting of the executive council of the Canadian Congress of Labor, that his union will withdraw from the Sovereign Potters' plant in Hamilton.

He said a meeting of the Pottery Workers has been called for tomorrow night to discuss the withdrawal. If the U.E.W. does get out of the plant it will settle a jurdictional dispute with the C.C.L.

The congress last month gave Jackson 30 days to withdraw from the Pottery plant. That ultimatum, endorsed by the executive council, expires Jan. 14.

If the withdrawal is not completed by that time his 25,000-man union will automatically be suspended by the C.C.L.

If the Electrical Workers were suspended, it would be the second leftist union given that treatment by the CCL in the past year. Last summer the Congress tossed out the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers because its publication attacked CCL leaders.

After making apologies, the Smelter Union was reinstated.

Switch Allegiance

The big Electrical Workers' group got into hot water with the CCL executive as the result of a decision of the Hamilton Pottery Workers to switch allegiance from the American Federation of Labor to the CCL.

They first approached the United Steel Workers (CCL), and that body referred the application to the CCL executive. The executive decided to stay out of the plant until the AFL contract has expired.

However, the UEW moved into the plant in the meantime and organized the employees.

British Reject Ulster As Name

LONDON, Jan. 11.—(AP). — British officials have overruled a plan to change Northern Ireland's name to Ulster, it was learned today.

Prime Minister Sir Basil Brooke of Northern Ireland made the suggestion in cabinet talks last week. He said he thought the name ought to be changed to avoid confusion with the republic of Ireland.

Cabinet sources said, however, that a new bill may be introduced to change the King's title which now reads "King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions Across the Seas."

Northern Ireland would be substituted for Ireland. The phrase "Dominions" also is expected to be changed. The Dominions now are officially referred to as "Commonwealth countries" and the Dominions Office recently changed its name to the Commonwealth Relations Office.

All the Commonwealth countries would be required to approve any change.

Say 40 Prisoners Stage Hunger Strike

TORONTO, Jan. 11 (CP)—The Daily Star said today a former prisoner at Toronto jail reported that 40 prisoners staged a two-day hunger strike which ended at the evening meal last Saturday.

He said the strike started because prisoners were required to eat their meals in tables set up in the jail corridors, rather than in the dining room. The men were under the surveillance of Dr. William Hills, jail physician, who saw to it that the men took plenty of water and exercise, the former prisoner said. Two sittings were required at each meal to feed all the prisoners.

Frighten 2 Bandits In Brooklin Holdup

BROOKLIN, Ont., Jan. 11. — (CP).—Two young bandits who police believe were brothers because of their close resemblance, were frightened off when they attempted to rob a drug store Monday night in this town, 10 miles north west of Oshawa.

The men approached William McBain, manager of George Vick's drug store, and one of them said, "This is it, keep your mouth shut." McBain opened the door and shouted for help, causing the men to run and escape in an automobile. McBain didn't see any guns.

Neither of the men was masked.

Israel Complains About British Border Moves

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 11 (CP) —Israel will file a complaint later today with the United Nations against British military monoeuvres on the Palestine border but will not accuse Britain of belligerency, it was learned authoritatively.

TEL AVIV (Reuters).— The Israeli government today instructed its representative at the United Nations to request an urgent meeting of the Security Council to hear an Israeli complaint against Britain for "unilateral intervention in the Israeli situation."

The complaint will charge, however, that Britain's concentration of troops at Aqaba, Trans-Jordan Red Sea seaport, and aerial reconnaissance over the Egyptian-Israeli battlefield, are hostile acts.

Meanwhile, British delegation sources indicated that Britain might still file a complaint against the shooting down of five RAF planes by the Israelis last Friday.

Israeli representative Aubrey S. Eban arranged a press conference for 2 p.m. EST at which presumably the Israeli decision will be made known. Early in the day there were rumors that a new Israeli blast at Britain was on the way.

Monday, Eban declared British troops movements in Trans-Jordan constitute a "repudiation of the Security Council truce resolutions." He said Britain's action is causing "grave concern" in Israel.

Eban's statement was regarded as significant since it came after the United States State Department and the U.N. Secretary-General, Trygve Lie, appealed to Britain and Israel to forget their differences for the moment in the interest of the forthcoming armistice talks on the Island of Rhodes between Egypt and Israel.

Prejudice Talks

The Israeli representative said his government attaches great importance to the projected armistice negotiations but declared the talks "can only be prejudiced by provocative manoeuvres such as those in which the British forces are now engaged."

Have Worst Snowstorm

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11 (AP)—What probably is the worst snowstorm in Southern California history today blanketed several Los Angeles suburban communities with up to six inches of snow. Altadena, Montrose and Tujunga all reported six inches. Snow also fell on many beach communities.

General Wage Increases Justified By Conditions In Canada, CCL Declares

Recommend Unions Get Some Social Security Provision In New Contracts; Want Same Rates Paid Men And Women

OTTAWA, Jan. 11 (CP).—The Canadian Congress of Labor announced today that it considers general wage increases for Canadian workers justified by present conditions. The Congress issued a statement after its executive council had discussed the wage question. The Congress said it was recommending to its unions that strong efforts be made in the negotiation of new contracts to obtain social security provisions, eliminate the existing differentials in rates paid male and female workers, establish the 40-hour week and strive for a guaranteed annual wage.

The Congress said unprecedented profits, increased productivity, existing inequalities and the necessity for establishing rates which would provide a decent standard of living made it necessary for workers to demand an upward adjustment of wages in 1949.

Amount of increases will be determined by individual unions in the light of conditions in their industries and plants.

"The statements of corporations show that wage increases can be met without price increases," said the congress.

Need Buying Power

There was growing evidence of an emergent need for increased purchasing power to absorb goods now being produced. Under present high living costs many families were being forced to spend their entire earnings and dip into savings to meet current household expenses. The effect of their removal from the market for other goods is already being seen in accumulating warehouse stocks.

The Congress added:

"Official figures show that even by the subsistence budget of the Toronto Welfare Council hundreds of thousands of families are receiving insufficient income to provide essential family requirements.

"Roughly half of the 806,604 workers in manufacturing are engaged in durable goods industries where the average wage is $3.27 below the $47.70 estimated as a minimum by Toronto Welfare

Begin Police Hearing February 7, Ruling

TORONTO, Jan. 11.—(CP). — A Royal Commission called to investigate a provincial police officer's charges of fraud, perjury and maladministration against eight law enforcement officers, will start its hearings Feb. 7, it was learend Monday.

Donnan of Belleville; Provincial Police Commissioner Stringer; District Inspectors T. W. Cousins of Perth, and A. W. Page of Belleville; Sgt. J. A. Stringer and Constables Sam Ervine, H. Jurdy and J. B. Driscoll, all of Belleville.

Canada's Aid To Europe Tops Four Billion Mark

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—(CP). — Canada in 1948 unfolded a European aid program of her own which, on a comparable basis, ranked favorably with and possibly even surpassed the towering statistics of the United States' Marshal or European reecovery plan.

It was largely unheralded, obscured and unconnected, but it can be pieced together.

Total E.R.P. authorizations up to Dec. 31 ran to $4,300,000,000, of which $592,700,000 or 15 per cent was earmarked for expenditure in Canada, figures obtained here show.

From Canada European countries in 1948 drew roughly $150,000,000 in credits, and relief aid ran to between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000. Those alone, multiplied by 18 to bring them to a comparable basis with the U.S. in terms of national income, make for a favorable showing.

But added to them is the factor which nobody can seem to pin down to any particular figure although officials say it certainly runs into many millions of dollars.

It is the difference between what western farmers got from Britain for their wheat contract and what they could have obtained in the world market. Authorities here decline to make any estimate of the figure because, they say, any basis for computation is subject to controversy.

The credits represent the tail-end of the $2,000,000,000 post-war aid program by Canada, which on the comparative basis overshadows anything the U.S. has yet done. With the exception of the $240,000,000 left of the $1,250,000,000 loan to Britain, the Dominion's credits to Europe now have been exhausted.

Higher Freight Rates Halted On Implements

By JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.— (CP).— Higher freight rates on farm implements moving to western Canada are being suspended by the Board of Transport Commissioners, it was learned today.

An order of the Board instructing the railways to withohld the new rates was expected during the day.

The higher rates, on farm machinery travelling from Eastern Canada to the West, were put into effect by the railways in late December.

Protests were lodged by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and other groups.

The increases were imposed on special rates which have been considerably below the standard —or ceiling—rates allowed by the Board. The railways are permitted to hoist these rates, up to the ceiling, without application to the Board, which normally approves the increases after they have been filed.

In his protest, the Canadian Federation of Agriculture said the increases would mean "that within a year there will have been a total increase in freight rates on farm machinery from the east to west of nearly 50 per cent."

Bad Snow Storm Hits Western US

CHICAGO, Jan. 11 — (AP). — Weather's wintry elements unleashed further damaging blows to storm-weary states over most of the western half of the United States today.

Snow, ice and sleet storms hit an area from the Texas-Oklahoma panhandle to the Pacific coast.

California shivered again in freezing temperatures. There was snow and ice from the state's winter resort spots to the mountains. Many highways were closed because of ice and snow. The fruit and vegetable crop was further endangered by the wintry blasts. The freezing weather followed last week's killing frost which caused millions of dollars of damage to crops.

While wintry ice blasts dealt severe blows to the West, the South was basking in summertime temperatures. The mercury shot up into the 70s and 80s Monday from Louisiana to the Atlantic seaboard and from Florida to east Tennessee and most of Virginia.

Will Present 2 Chairs To King And Queen

LONDON, Jan. 11—(CP)—Officials of the the Canada Club said today that two chairs and two faldstools will be presented to Westminster Abbey for use by the King and Queen.

A faldstool is a small desk at which a worshipper can kneel.

The gift is designed as a memorial to Canadians who died in the second World War.

No date has been set for the presentation. The chairs will be made from imported Canadian birch and ornamented in burnished gold. They will be similar to the cross-legged venetian type used at the wedding of Queen Mary I and King Philip of Spain in 1554. Each Prie-Dieu will bear the arms of Canada.

Canada Hit By U.S. Air Budget Slash

Truman Wants Units Cut From 70 To 48; Sees Danger Less

OTTAWA, Jan. 11 (CP)—President Truman slashed heavily at United States Air Force plans today and, indirectly, did no apparent good to slim Canadian hopes of helping to arm it.

His recommendation that air combat units consist of 48 instead of a proposed 70 groups was seen here as:

1. Narrowing considerably the different approaches by which the U.S. and Canada have gone about establishing post-war air forces.

2. Lessening what hopes there are of selling Canada-made American-designed F86 jet fighters and Fairchild packet transports as part of USAF purchases running into billions of dollars.

3 Adding to indications that the President believes the Russian menace has cooled, particularly in the few months since heavy U.S. bombers took up permanent bases in England, within atom-bombing range of the Soviet.

Mr. Truman's defense budget represents an increase of $2.5 billion and is a precursor of increased Canadian defense spending beyond the $350 million for this fiscal year.

On a per capita basis, it means the US will spend $100 on defense for every man, woman and child in the country. Canada's rate now is $27. On the basis of national income the difference would be somewhat less.

The President's statement that plans for arming Western Europe are too indefinite to permit him to budget for any figure, backs Ottawa statements that it will be at least six months before any program is finally mapped.

What role Canada will play remains to be seen. Her own increased defense spending and her efforts to build up and arm her forces are seen by some quarters as lessening the prospects of any relatively large contributions to the Western Union powers.

Prices Report Almost Finished

OTTAWA, Jan. 11 (CP)—Second phase of Canada's post-war price structure development is expected to end this month with the completion of the report of the Royal Commission on Prices.

Following the first phase—that of gradual abandonment of the wartime ceiling policy—the second phase began more than a year ago when the government, in response to public clamor about rising prices, announced appointment of a House of Commons committee to investigate the high cost of living. The committee brought in its report last June, with the recommendation that its work be continued, and the Royal Commission on Prices was appointed.

Whether the report will actually be tabled when parliament opens, depends on the printers. The report itself will be a bulky, 300-page document and an approximately equal amount of statistical material and appendices may be contained in a second volume.

It will contain some definite observations and make certain recommendations, basing its findings on its own hearings as well as those of the Commons committee.

FIFTY-SIXTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY is being celebrated today by Mr. and Mrs. Robert William Drury, 533 Elm St. They plan to spend it quietly and hope to have a large family gathering for their sixtieth in 1953.

Mr. and Mrs. William Drury Wed 56 Years Ago In City

Robert William Drury, 533 Elm St., is celebrating his 81st birthday on Friday, and today he and Mrs. Drury mark their 56th wedding anniversary. They celebrated their 50th with a large family gathering and look forward to having another party to celebrate their diamond anniversary in 1953. They plan to spend today quietly.

At the age of two years, Mr. Drury came from London, England, to Peterborough with his parents and has lived and worked here a lifetime. He thinks the city is a fine community and can see no reason for going elsewhere.

He worked at the Canadian General Electric Company for 42 years on the yard crane, transformer and machine shop divisions, and was both night watchman and gate-keeper. Due to ill-health he was forced to retire on his birthday in 1946 but says if it were not for a heart condition he could still be usefully employed.

His wife, the former Winnifred Fox, was born in Belleville and came to Peterborough as cook in the homes of the late Robert Hall and David Dumble. She married Robert Drury after working in the above homes for three years and spent her younger years raising a family of four boys and three girls. Two sons died a few years ago but the rest of the family live in the city. Their modest home is kept lively with visits from 16 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Drury's hearing is not good these days and until a year ago she did a great deal of knitting and some reading. Her daughter said that she still does all her own housework and is an excellent cook.

They attended Murray Street Baptist Church for many years, but since retirement from this activity, the radio is their chief diversion. Mr. Drury likes to listen to daily sport broadcasts of all kinds as well as old time music. He admits, rather bashfully, that he was quite a harmonica player at one time and explained that young men of his age were very proficient on them.

He has a sister living in Toronto and Mrs. Drury has two sisters in Madoc and another living in Niagara Falls. Longevity on her side of the family was a rule rather than the exception; her parents lived close to the 90 mark and her grandparents were each over 100 at the time of their deaths.

The names of their children are Mrs. Harry Baptie (Evelyn), Mrs. Albert Carpenter (Annie) and Mrs. George McNabb (Margaret) and sons, George and Harold.

Emergency Hospitals Handle Flu Patients

PARIS, Jan. 11 —(Reuters)—Paris is considering evacuating the city's old people's home to make more beds available for the steadily increasing number of sufferers from the flu epidemic, it was learned today.

All Paris hospitals are overflowing, medical authorities said, although extra beds had been moved in.

Between 15 and 20 per cent of Paris bus and subway workers were down with flu today, and traffic in the city was reduced.

Near Grenoble, in the French Alps, a farmer and his wife died from influenza within a few hours of each other on the eve of their golden wedding. They were both aged 77.

Toronto Helps Estonian Couple

TORONTO, Jan. 11 —(CP)—A lonely Estonian couple, Oswald and Hilda Mets, have found both friends and kindness in Toronto through the birth of their second son a week ago in the attic room of a downtown tenement.

A newspaper story told how Mrs. Mets, lying on the bare springs of her bed, brought her son into the world with not a single helper present. The baby was wrapped in a towel because there were no clothes for him.

Toronto residents within the last two days have flooded the two small rooms of the Mets apartment with baby clothes, a carriage, boxes of groceries, blankets, even toys for an older son, Ants.

Most important to the small family is Oswald Mets' new job. He left a job in Kitchener with his wife and son to seek work here but difficulties with language hampered him.

Oswald and Hilda Mets have known hardship before. They fled from Estonia to Sweden in 1944 and with 25 countrymen saved for three years to equip a small sailing boat to cross the Atlantic. One man was washed overboard in the 78-day voyage and the party was held at Ellis Island, New York, until Canada accepted the group.

Dr. Brien graduated from Lindsay high school and Trinity Medical College, In the First World War he was a medical officer with the Canadian Expeditionary Force. He went overseas in 1916 and returned in 1917.

Italy May Produce Jet Planes For Britain

LONDON, Jan. 11 —(AP) —A spokesman for Dehavilland Aircraft Company said today his firm was negotiating with the Italian Government for the possible manufacture of Vampire jet fighters in Italy.

The Righest Rome newspaper Giornale Della Serka reported on Sunday that Italy may manufacture 1,000 of the British-designed jet fighter planes. An Italian Air Ministry spokesman in Rome today classed the report as a "trial balloon" and a "Canard." He added "there may be such an idea in the air but there is nothing in fact."

The Ministry of Supply, in charge of Britain's military plane production, declined to comment on the reports.

British Won't Allow Strasser To Return

LONDON, Jan. 11 — (AP) —A foreign office spokesman said today that Britain has "no intention whatsoever" of allowing Otto Strasser, former associate of Hitler, to return to the British zone of Germany from Canada.

He commented at a press conference on news reports that Strasser, now in Bridgetown, N.S., hoped to return to Germany to lead a "league for German revival" which he has been attempting to promote by mail.

To a question on why Strasser is banned from the British zone, the foreign office spokesman said:

"His long and leading association with the Nazi party is one sufficient reason."

Wm. Rutherford, 87 Dies In California

Word has been received of the death of William Rutherford, 87, of Nelson, BC. He died at the home of his sister, Mrs. M. F. Tate, of Oceanside, Calif., on Thursday while on a visit.

Stress Social Security

"The difficulty being experienced in meeting essential living requirements adds to the necessity for increased social security measures. In this regard congress unions are being urged to make provisions in new contracts for such protection as is afforded by pensions, sickness and accident insurance, medical, surgical and hospitalization plans and life insurance."

Recent figures showed that in most industries the maximum weekly wages paid women were less than the minimum received by men.

In a discussion of the 40-hour week, representatives of CCL unions reported lay-offs in a number of industries and said there was necessity for an agreement on hours which would provide fair division of available work.

DP Slashes Dietitian In Montreal Store

MONTREAL, Jan. 11 —(CP) — An Uptown department store dietitian was slashed about her face and neck with a knife Monday by a 35-year-old Ukrainian DP who then attempted to take his own life by cutting his throat. Police are still investigating the circumstances of the case.

Wounded are Elaine Forbes, 24, of Edmonton, and Ivan Krawetz. His condition was reported as serious but hospital authorities stated this morning that Miss Forbes is improving.

Police said witnesses heard Miss Forbes tell Krawetz that he had not completed his work. They went into the stockroom together and Miss Forbes came running out a few seconds later bleeding about the throat and face. Riaetz followed with a knife in his hand and applied the instrument to his throat when someone tried to seize him.

Writer Blames Papers For Undeveloped Culture

By NORMA MICHIE

VANCOUVER, Jan. 11 (CP)— A visiting British writer has accused the Canadian people of "borrowing" culture from the United States.

Mrs. C. B. Buxton of London, currently collecting material for two novels based on the Canadian scene, said in an interview that Canada is fast becoming a country whose industrial strength is paired with a hollow cultural void.

"Sooner or later this must come to an end," she said. "You can't borrow culture from America forever—heaven help you if you do."

In her survey of Canada, Mrs. Buxton has spent four months visiting magazine and newspaper publishers, and studying Canadian drama and art.

"Musically," she said, "you are very advanced."

The other cultural activities, however, do not impress her.

The blame for the apparent lack of a national culture she lays at the doors of the press.

"They cater to a teen-age intellect," she charged. "Most editors seem afraid to print adult material."

"The newspapers should give up a full page once or twice a week to literary and theatrical criticism," she suggested. "This would encourage authors and stimulate readership."

Mrs. Buxton has written more than 30 novels in England under the names of Anne Maybury and Edith Arundel.

Lower Salary Groups Escape U.S. Tax Boost

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)— Low- and middle-salary groups in the United States appeared likely today to escape any general income tax boosts this year despite a record $41,858,000,000 peacetime budget.

But there was fairly general agreement in both Democratic and Republican ranks that if President Truman's spending program for the fiscal year starting July 1 is to be followed, someone is going to have to pay more money.

Also, if his social welfare proposals are enacted, millions of workers and their employers will have larger payroll taxes.

Republicans shouted for economy. They pointed to the spectre of a deficit formed by the budget the President sent to Congress Monday.

The Democratic heads of the Senate and House of Representatives tax - writing committees, Senator Walter George of Georgia and Representative Robt. Doughton of North Carolina, maintained a cautious position. They said they want to see how much money Congress votes to spend before considering tax raises.

As a result, there is a strong possibility that the legislative budget provision of the Congressional Reorganization Act will be suspended. This provision requires Congress to set an estimate on appropriations and income by Feb. 15 each year. It hasn't been effective in past years and the congressional income-outgo goals have not been binding.

Representative Clarence Cannon (Dem. Mo.), who will head the House appropriations committee, said he will ask the committee to take the initiative to suspend the budget ceiling requirement.

Taking Over

Official sources today indicated the Reds either have occupied the greater northern industrial city of Tientsin or that terms have been agreed on for its surrender.

These sources conceded that "Tientsin is gone." They declined, however, to furnish details.

The northern city has been under heavy attack for several days. Last previous reports here said Red troops were fighting in Tientsin's suburbs.

Peace rumors continued to flow from every direction. One government official cautioned, "it's no use talking about peace until we know what the Communists want. And they are not saying."

A communist broadcast Monday said the Nationalist force had been "completely wiped out" as a fighting force. The encircled troops, originally numbering 250,000 men, had been cut to 130,000 by Communist estimate Sunday.

The government air force had been parachuting supplies to the encircled troops. But pilots reported survivors were so tightly packed into a narrowing area that they asked the airmen to call off the air lift.

PARTRIDGE A-LA-CRASH

A new method of preparing game birds on the wing was noted this week. PC Sherman Kelleie of the city, on George St. patrol, noted a patridge—or rather, its remains—crushed in the bumper of an out-of-town car parked. He inquired of its occupants if they had notice the collision with the recently deceased bird. No, they had not noticed, although they had seen "some feathers" fly while they were driving along the highway. The bumper was cleaned and the bird interred in a waste disposal can. Out-of-season, too.—RB.

Truck Driver Saw Plane Crash

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 11.—(CP). —A land search party consisting of a sergeant and eight men from Trenton Air Station and provincial police are searching rough country in the Sharbot Lake area some 40 miles north of Kingston today for a plane which is reported to have crashed Monday night.

The report that a plane was down came from a truck driver named George Sinclair of Gananoque who said he saw a ball of flame crash into the bush between five and six o'clock last night.

Sinclair got in touch with provincial police who reported to Trenton Air Station, with the result that the search party set out this morning. At mid-morning the party had not reported. A Trenton plane which flew over the area reported there was no wreckage of a plane to be seen.

Trenton Air Station officers reported no RCAF planes overdue and neither was any radio equipped plane in Eastern Ontario or Quebec which was flying on a regular flight plan.

Air station officers stated, however, that if a plane had crashed it may be some privately owned plane, not radio-equipped, which was not flying on any registered plan.

Appeal Court Asked To Rule On Resort Ban

TORONTO, Jan. 11 (CP)—An appeal under way here seeks to lift a racial restriction on the sale of property at the Lake Huron summer resort of Beach o'-Pines.

Sponsors of the appeal claim as unique in British law a ruling which upheld a deed clause barring sale of land to Jews, negroes or to colored races generally.

K. G. Morden, appearing for 42 residents of the resort, is scheduled to present before the Ontario Court of Appeals today an argument supporting the restriction.

The first move to have the restriction set aside was made by Mrs. Annie Noble, one of the 35 property owners who in 1937 pledged themselves not to sell their lands to Jews, negroes or other members of dark-skinned races. Several months ago, Mrs. Noble made an agreement to sell land to Bernard Wolf and asked for a court order setting aside the restrictive clause. Mr. Justice W. F. Schroeder last June denied the request.

Arguments for lifting of the ban were given Monday by John R. Cartwright, Norman Borins and J. S. Dennison.

On Equal Footing

Mr. Dennison contended that public policy from early in the 19th century in Canada had been to put all persons on an equal footing regarding purchase of land.

"But only insofar as all have the right to acquire property generally, not insofar as any particular individual acquiring any particular property," Mr. Justice J. B. Aylesworth told him.

Mr. Borins submitted that to give legal sanction to a racially-restrictive covenant would create a new public policy. Chief Justice R. S. Robertson remarked:

"Public policy doesn't depend for its existence upon the court."

Mr. Cartwright told the court:

"Either this covenant is good or it is bad."

Said Mr. Justice J. A. Hope:

"There are plenty of places in this great province where people in the prohibited class may acquire property and enjoy it to their heart's content."

Oldest Canadian Weekly Enters Its 119th Year

COBOURG, Jan. 11.—(CP).—An Ontario newspaper with the claim of being the oldest Canadian weekly today enters its 119th year of continuous publication. It is the Cobourg Sentinel-Star and its first issue, known as the Cobourg Star, came from the presses in this Northumberland county town on Jan. 11, 1831.

Its editor, Foster Russell, came to the paper in 1946. Like many other Canadian weeklies, the paper is a family affair. L. C. Russell, Foster's father, heads the printing department while Foster handles editing, layout and general managing. Mrs. Russell is advertising manager and sales-lady and seven-year-old Robin Russell is learning the rudiments of type-setting.

Cobourg, some 25 miles east of Oshawa on Lake Ontario's north shore, was settled in 1788 and has now a popiation of 6,-700. Within four years of the Star's founding two other newspapers were begun—the Reformer in 1832 and the Sun in 1835—but both faded from the picture.

The Sentinel began publication in 1861 and another weekly, the Cobourg World, started in 1864. The Star absorbed the Sentinel in Nov. 30, 1878, to bcome the Sentinel-Star. The World was purchased within the last two years. A line under the present masthead reads: "With which is incorporated the Cobourg World."

A rival for the Sentinel-Star's claim as Canada's oldest weekly newspaper is the Yarmouth, N.S., Herald-Telegram, which last year claimed the honor in announcing its 114th birthday.

The Cobourg newspaper normally publishes a 16-page issue complete with sports and comic section. Its circulation is 3,540.

Without political affiliation, the paper announces it is "independent but not neutral." Its present editorial campaign is directed toward obtaining an artificial ice arena.

The initial issue of the Cobourg Star in 1831, printed on the press of R. D. Chatterworth, contained a front page story on "aerial navigation." It was nearly as large as a modern tabloid newspaper.

Canadian Banks Extolled To Rotary Club

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan 11 — "Canadians can be justly proud of our banking system," said J. D. Mills, manager of the Bank of Montreal, Campbellford, at the noon luncheon of the Rotary Club on Monday. He said that in 1933 the 30,000 banks in the United States had met with such financial disaster the President had ordered them closed until they had been inspected by government officials. Approximately 8,-000 did not reopen and some 8 billion dollars was lost by the depositors.

He said that while financial chaos existed across the border, Canada did not have one bank failure. The Canadian people had remained perfectly calm because of their faith in the banks.

"In 1816," he said, "seven merchants in Montreal discussed the possibility of founding a bank in order to do away with the cumbersome bartering system. Since that date the bank has opened its doors to the public on every single business day. Branch banks were started at Fort Frontenac and muddy York and officials to reach these points from Montreal had to travel by stage coach. Today we have ten different banks in Canada with 3,400 branches and 6 billion dollars on deposit representing 6 million depositors."

He said banks were carefully supervised by the federal government and were directly under the control of the Bank Act and other regulationus. He said that the Bank Act was reviewed every ten years. The highest officials of the Bank of Montreal were the directors. On the next level was the general manager with his five assistants. The local branch managers were mostly responsible to the superintendents.

He concluded: "In order to speed business in financing foreign trade the Bank of Montreal has a private wire system across Canada and also private wires connecting Montreal with New York, Chicago, San Francisco."

The members of the Rotary Club were hosts to the Campbellford and Seymour Councils. The speaker was introduced by Rotaaian W. S. Wiggins and the vote of thanks was moved by Rotarian Jim Archer. President Bill Brady was in the chair.

Cobourg Council Tackles Re-Assessment Problem

COBOURGG, Jan. 11.—(ENS).—Council took the first steps towards re-assessment at the inaugural meeting last night of the 1949 council by passing a resolution which empowered the finance committee to consult with their own assessor and outside assessment experts with the view of looking into the re-assessment picture. The committee is to report back to the council by February 21. The resolution was sponsored by Reeve Roy Dodge.

The Reeve recalled that representatives of assessment firms had conferred with the council last year. The recent judgment of Judge W. Lane in which he urged a re-assessment of the town, was something which merited detailed consideration by the council. The Reeve lauded the ability of the assessor and tax collector, E. A. Hircock. He felt that Mr. Hircock and some outside experts should go into the re-assessment problem. He declared that he didn't favor drastic changes, but there should be some adjustments one way or the other, depending on the assessment conditions prevailing in the various types of properties.

"I prefer to call it not by the term 're-assessment,' but rather by 're-adjustment' to a more equitable level, as between business permises and industry and I think a burden will be lifted from homes. All the valuators which we consulted, urged that we hang on to our assessor as he was a valuable man. However, his office routine is old fashioned and should be brought up to date as he is working under a handicap. What a revaluation will do is to get the fellow who has been getting away with murder and help the fellow who has been paying through the nose. I think we should have a valuator who is capable of working on household assessments and a separate engineer-trained man who can talk the same language as industry, and go into the job of valuating industry for assessment purposes, Mayor Joe Smith said.

Site Is Problem

When the reeve brought up the question of the recreational centre, which is hanging fire because a site has not yet been chosen by the committee, the mayor said he had worked as finance chairman last year until September and then resigned because nobody could decide where to put the rink. Robert Holland, chairman of the building committee, has done a good job, the mayor declared, but the question still remained of where was the rink to go.

"You can't collect money, unless the people know where they are going to have the rink. There has been much talk regarding a site in the park but Mr. Proctor the engineer tells me that it would be utter and complete folly to put the rink in the park. Anything south of King street is only a short distance above the lake level and I am told by town engineer that the water table is only four feet below the ground, so you can see how hard it would be to make ice and keep it, under the moderating effect of the water. We have so far $20,000 in pledges and $50,000 from the town but what good is it going to be if we can't get a site started? Maybe it might be a good idea to let the council settle the site question if nobody else is going to do it," May Smith said.

Reeve Dodge said that the town owned the site of the old rink on University Avenue. It was central and if a little more land to one side were acquired, it should be ideal for an artificial rink, he declared.

$100 Raise Given Belleville Teachers

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 11—Salary increases of $100 for all teachers employed by the Belleville Board of Education were granted by the Board when several requests from the Teachers' Council were considered.

The $100 salary increase to the teachers was granted with the definite provision that it was for the calendar year of 1949 only.

At the same time the Board granted employees other than the teachers $10 per month with the same limits for the year. Caretaking employees are to receive additional $5 pr month, but on the same plan and from September to December, 1949.

The $100 salary increase for teachers granted by the Board was given largely to give Belleville reasonable bargaining power both in holding present teachers and in securing additions to the staff when required. Members agreed that the salary pattern decided on would not please all teachers, but considered it would assist employees to meet the rising cost of living and at the same time would not place too great a burden on the tax-payer.

Gang Warfare Inquiry

TORONTO, Jan. 11 — (CP) — The committee on gang behavior of the youth services department of the Community Chest will meet Friday to investigate the cause of Sunday night's teen-age gang war at suburban Long Branch, it was learned Monday. In the melee in which more than 100 youths and young girls took part, 12 were injured and seven arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. Six of the seven charged were remanded Monday until Thursday on bail.

Lindsay Needs Sewage Plant Now Says Mayor

LINDSAY, Jan. 11—Mayor R. I. Moore was installed as chief magistrate of Lindsay at an inaugural ceremony on Monday. He told the people of Lindsay three important things: (1) that they face a mill rate in line with expenditures (2) that a second vote on the bus question would probably not be necessary and (3) that large expenditures face the town with the present day borrowing rate at a favorable level.

Mr. Moore said that large expenditures should be no longer deferred. If Lindsay was to grow, then large expenditures for sewers in the east ward and a sewage disposal plant were projects that should be undertaken by the municipality. Money to borrow was at an all-time low. The arena debentures were sold at 2¾ and 3 per cent and if the town was to defer these projects it might be faced with a higher rate of interest. The debenture system was the only way to provide for the growth of the town which must come, if further industries were to be established. The debentures could only be issued for works that would bring financial returns, and security for the town.

The mayor said he was pleased with the favorable result of the vote on the bus question. He thought a committee ought to set up immediately to have the bus service in operation as soon as possible. He said he thought that could be accomplished by a private act of parliament and a special enactment whereby the Bill could be presented to the legislature.

"We see many municipalities spending large sums of money on arenas and recreational centres," Mr. Moore said. "Having been a member of the Recreational Board for 1948 I have every confidence that committee will pay all debenture debts and provide recreation for the youth of our town. We are going further than that and teaching crafts to older people as well as youth."

"I might add that the arena is very busy six days of the week, and I am definitely opposed to its being operated on Sunday," he declared. "The staff is very busy and is entitled to that day free from labor. While some might advocate that it be used, I feel we should leave Sunday to the churches. A community must see that the spiritual life has an opportunity to play its part as well as the material betterment.

Mr. Moore said that the committee dealing with the Board of Works was one department which would be most active and whoever was chairman would have to devote a good deal of time to this important committee. As representative of that body he would have to be in constant touch with the engineer. It looked as if the town was fast approaching the time when sewage disposal plant must be commenced, and this committee would have to consider the erecting of an incinerator on the property which the town now owned.

"The East Ward should have a sewage system laid out to take care of not only the immediate situation, but its future," the Mayor said. "It looks as if a pumping station will have to be built at once, so that it will serve the community in the large area south of Queen Street, and east of St. David Street, and in the not too distant future the sewage disposal plant, which will be north of the town on the west side of the river."

MacMillan's Qualification Questioned In Council Illegal Practice Alleged

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 11 — (ENS). — A letter signed by Cecil Bertrand on behalf of a group of citizens protesting against the qualifications of Councillor Peter MacMillan was read by Clerk McGregor at the inaugural meeting of the Town Council on Monday. The letter accused the Council of irregular and illegal practice in connection with Mr. MacMillan's right to sit on the Council; stating that one man is not permitted to qualify for another.

The accusation was that pressure had been brought to bear on Mr. MacMillan to stand for the Council, and that the proper procedure would have been to call a second nomination meeting. The letter indicated that those who were protesting intended to place the matter before a judge for his ruling.

Commenting on the letter, Councillor MacMillan said that he had qualified in good faith and that he had done nothing underhand. Mayor Donald pointed out that he "didn't look for such a thing in Campbellford, and such action by a small group of citizens might upset the whole Council."

Councillor P. J. Kelly stated that it was a majority group airing their grievances against one man and asked the Council to completely ignore the letter. Councillors Maier and Wilson thought that the town solicitor's advice should be given on the matter.

No Authority To Unseat

N. A. MacColl, town solicitor, said that the Council had no power to disqualify MacMillan. If Mr. McGregor, acting as returning officer, had made an error it was not the fault of the Council. In his capacity of returning officer, he was independent of the Council and MacMillan was a councillor until a court ruled otherwise. It was moved that the letter be answered by the clerk with the assistance of the town solicitor.

Children Read Most

The Rev. W. J. Lennox, speaking on behalf of the Library Board, said that the public library was "just as important as our high schools" and asked for financial support. H. Townsend, chairman of the Board, said there were 15,900 volumes. The children used the library most and because of this, a grant was needed for decoration of the basement, in order to give more space to the youngsters. The council granted $2,250, $150 more than last year's figure.

Mr. Townsend presented the following financial statement for the year 1948: Expenditures—salaries, $1,214.50; books, $1,161.07; periodicals, $88.48; binding, $71.-69; catalogue, $10.95; furniture, $358.44; heat, light and water, $372.42; stationery, $16.50; miscellaneous expenses, $40.91; insurance, $42.

Receipts—cash on hand, $19.24; town grant, $2,100; government grant, $1,119.50; rents, $48; collections, $183.10. There was a balance of $92.88.

The following committees were appointed, the first named acting as chairman:

Finance, R. J. Locke, C. J. Maier, P. MacMillan, J. C. Anderson; road and bridge, P. MacMillan, R. J. Locke, W. Nicholas and C. Davidson; property, P. J. Kelly, R. J. Locke and P. MacMillan; legal, R. H. L. Wilson, J. C. Anderson and C. J. Maier; fire, water and light, C. J. Maier, J. C. Anderson and R. H. L. Wilson; police, J. C. Anderson, C. J. Maier and W. Nicholas; relief, C. Davidson, R. J. Locke and R. H. L. Wilson; hospitalization, W. Nicholas, J. C. Anderson and P. J. Kelley; industrial, Mayor H. Donald, J. C. Anderson, R. J. Locke and P. MacMillan.

Veterans Raise Protest Against Recent Rent Boost

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 11. — (ENS).—A delegate of war veterans living on the wartime housing estate told the Council on Monday that tenants had been asked to sign new leases with the rent at the recently increased figure, and had been notified that the only alternative would be eviction.

A. F. Collette, who led the delegation, asked the Council to have the rents lowered to the former price. Another tenant, who said that no reason for the increase had been given, wanted the property committee to report to the Council afer making a thorough investigation.

Following the protests of the veteran delegation, E. C. McKeel also wanted to know why Wartime Housing found it necessary to increase rents when the corporation had been subsidized to the extent of $20,000 for capital expenditure and the regular taxes had been assessed at one-half of the normal amount.

He compared the treatment of veterans with restrictions imposed by the Government, rental authorities on private landlords and claimed that rents charged by Wartime Housing were higher than those charged by private property owners. He contended that Wartime Housing and private landlords must be placed on an equal basis.

Mr. McKeel advised the Council that he intended to take legal proceedings against the town, demanding that the Wartime Housing development in Campbellford be charged the $20,000 capital expenditure and that it meets its watermain, sewer and regular taxes on equal terms with private housing accommodation.

When J. E. Ayrhart's lot was discussed, Councillor Maier said that at the time Mr. Ayrhart purchased the lot he intended to erect a fine building, but unforeseen circumstances had prevented him from carrying out the project. He proposed two alternatives, either that Mr. Ayrhart be allowed to keep the property until he is able to build, or that the town pay him the purchasing price of $2,600.

The matter was left for further consideration at the February meeting.

The North Atlantic Treaty In Canadian Foreign Policy

The most important development in Canada's foreign policy in 1948 was Canadian sponsorship of a proposal to form a North Atlantic defensive pact. The most important act of Government and Parliament in foreign policy in 1949 will undoubtedly be the creation and acceptance of a North Atlantic treaty. Never since Canada has had the full control of her external relations has there been so momentous a decision in foreign policy, with the possible exception of the declaration of war on September tenth, 1939. For the first time in its history, Canada is entering a military alliance, giving pledges of mutual support, and preparing to arm herself and to assist others to arm, against undefined aggressors in a time of peace. Critics who will claim that Canada has no foreign policy had better examine the far-reaching implications, the positive direction, of this basic departure from traditional policy, from easy isolationism in peace-time and from implicit but unpledged military aid to Britain and Commonwealth countries in times of war.

* * *

The proposed North Atlantic alliance would be designed for close collaboration with the Brussels-Pact nations: Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. In many ways, it is an extension of the Brussels Pact by which the five nations are pledged to preparedness for mutual defence, for which Field Marshal Montgomery is now the senior tactical officer. It would include Canada and the United States and possibly Scandinavian countries. The purpose is that the western nations would together be continuously prepared for war, rather than that they make individual, sporadic preparations.

* * *

The Canadian point of view was made explicit last year by various Canadian leaders. Mr. Mackenzie King said on January 20th last:

"So long as Communism remains a menace to the free world, it is vital to the defence of freedom to maintain a preponderance of military strength on the side of freedom, and to ensure that degree of unity among the nations which will ensure that they cannot be defeated or destroyed one by one"

* * *

During the summer and autumn exploratory conferences were held in Brussels, London and Washington. Speaking in Kingston on September 21st, Mr. Pearson, Secretary of State for External Affairs, said: "The Canadian Government has made it clear that it is not only willing, but anxious, to join the other North Atlantic democracies in establishing a regional collective security pact for the North Atlantic". Mr. St. Laurent, as Minister for External Affairs and Prime Minister, has been a chief advocate of an Atlantic defence pact. Now it is coming into existence. Meetings are taking place in Washington to consider principles and details. Later this month or in February, plenary sessions will be held to draft the Treaty.

* * *

Such a treaty will require the sanction of the American Senate and the Canadian Parliament. It remains to be seen how strong a commitment both will accept. Some mid-western states, and in Canada the people of Quebec, will have to be convinced of the importance of the issues and the necessity for action.

Mr. MacNamara Was Not Rude

Two Latvian girls who came to Canada less than a year ago as Displaced Persons, have complained that the Deputy Minister of Labour, Mr. Arthur MacNamara, was "rude" to them because he refused to let them leave their work in a Montreal hospital in order to become dancing teachers in a Montreal dancehall. So far as we can discover Mr. MacNamara was not rude at all. He simply said "No" to a proposal which should never have been made.

These girls were brought to Canada by the International Resettlement Organization and by the Canadian government; the two bodies shared the expense. The girls undertook when they chose to come to Canada to abide by a contract which obliges them to do work to which they are assigned for twelve months; the work is usually some form of domestic or institutional service. They are, of course, paid for their labour, and if they are not well treated in the home or institution to which they have been sent, they can be transferred to similar work elsewhere. But they are not free to leave the work to which they have been assigned for work which looks as though it would be more pleasant.

It appears to us that the two Latvians need instruction in certain elementary facts. First, their contract imposes a legal and moral obligation upon them. Second, they owe a debt to Canada which is very easily paid by a year's work in a hospital. Finally, an official is not rude merely because he crosses their will.

Should Farmers Fill Out Income Tax Forms?

The President of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, Mr. R. A. Stewart, said at the opening of the Federation's 12th annual meeting in Toronto last week:

"The forcing of hundreds of thousands of farmers who are not taxable to make returns, just to justify the prejudiced thinking of some in other groups, seems to me to be a denial of freedom... and a reflection on the honesty of farm people".

Mr. Stewart seems to think that the Income Tax people are molesting farmers as a class by expecting them to file income tax returns. Does he not know that in this country every person from the cradle to the grave who is earning money of some kind or other is required to fill out the forms, whether he believes he has a taxable income or not? Even a boy of 18 who is earning $16 a week has to make a return. Moreover, he pays income tax.

Perhaps we place too much emphasis on Mr. Stewart's words. Perhaps he, the President of an organization, was merely intent on making a popular speech. The filling out of income tax forms is a bothersome, annoying annual job. Nevertheless, we cannot in our heart believe that farmers are less capable of doing the job than an 18-year-old boy. Nor do we believe that farmers want or expect to receive special pampering.

Most farmers will raise their eyebrows, as will factory workers, at Mr. Stewart's statement that "the majority of farmers with taxable incomes already were paying". Tush! Tush! That puts farmers in a bad light. Not merely a majority, but a hundred per cent. of factory workers fill out the forms or pay tax. Did Mr. Stewart drop a brick on his own toes?

A Rocket Outpost Of Earth

The U.S. Defence Department has a few tricks up its sleeve which it is not disclosing to the public Soviet eye. One far-fetched (it goes to the moon) proposal was made public on December 29th by the Defence Secretary James Forrestal, probably because it will not do Russians or anybody else much harm or good at this embryonic stage. The Department's "earth satellite vehicle program" even sounds like a Superman fantasy.

The proposal is to establish a "rocket outpost" to the earth, about nine-tenths of the way to the moon. The moon is 250,000 miles from the earth. About 200,000 miles from it, estimating moon-ward, is a non-gravitational belt where the pull of the earth is believed to be neutralized by the pull of the moon. A rocket shot into that belt would presumably stay there forever. So the proposal—which may be seriously investigated—is that a rocket outpost be established in this non-gravitational belt. What harm or good it would do we dare not guess. We doubt that there are any American airmen so dedicated to American defence of life and liberty that they would voluntarily pursue happiness by living the rest of their days in monastic seclusion in the belly of a rocket permanently poised 200,000 miles above the Statue of Liberty.

A Woman's Threat

One of the last judgements made by Chief Recorder J. A. Thouin of Montreal before his retirement from the Bench at the end of 1948 interests us. He dismissed a charge against a woman who had threatened to cut a man (her janitor) into ribbons with a knife. Recorder Thouin ruled that a woman cannot be convicted of threatening unless there is reason to believe that the man is frightened and in danger of his life. Is a woman's bark legally to be considered worse than her bite, merely because she is a woman? Must the meat-axe be not merely raised, but brought down on a head, before the voice in the head can persuade a court that a threat was made? Perhaps the Montreal Recorder is a feminist, and wants men not to stand up bravely to a woman, but to show signs of fright and run away, screaming, when the female raises her voice.

Farmers And Land Managers

By NIGEL HARVEY
In the London New Statesman and Nation

MAN is a tool-using animal and few men use more tools than the farmer. For tools are more than mere implements; they are crops and stock, buildings, machines and equipment. The tractor, for instance, is a power-producing tool, the cow a milk-producing tool, the granary a tool to enable corn to be stored and processed, the ditch a tool to rid the soil of surplus water. A farm, therefore, is not a piece of land with a homestead on it; it is a complicated and interlocking series of workshops. But there is a distinction between the tools of the farm and the tools of the farmer. The ones create the conditions under which the others can work. Thus the hedge and the ditch, the cowhouse and the yard, the water-scheme and the shelter-belt do not of themselves produce anything; but they form the agricultural factory in which the farmer operates his productive plant, his stock and crops, his implements and fertilizers. So the distinction is physical as well as technical; for the farmer's tools are mobile, whereas the capital equipment of the farm is fixed and permanent and therefore a matter of long-term policy.

IN professional terms, it is the farmer who attends to the cultivation of land and the care of stock, the estate-manager who concerns himself with the provision and maintenance of this capital equipment. The two trades can be, and often are, united on one man. But they are different in purpose and function, and demand different qualifications and outlooks. So the vague and widespread belief that anyone connected with the agricultural industry must necessarily be concerned with farming is a dangerous fallacy; and the traditional test, "Show us your hands," does not apply to the estate-manager. The designer of farm buildings does not need the ploughman's skill nor the drainage expert a detailed understanding of the manurial requirements of turnips.

Once upon a time, it is true, the farmer had created and equipped, as well as worked, his farm, carving his fields from the wastelands and erecting his crude homestead from local materials. But when, towards the end of the Eighteenth Century, the old bottles of the Open Field System failed to hold the new wine of the Agricultural Revolution, it was the estate-managers rather than the farmers who took charge. And a remarkable class they were. Some were landowners, some agents, some surveyors, nearly all were in greater or less degree farmers as well, and their energies and achievements were prodigious.

SUCH were the men, shrewd, tenacious and purposeful, who planned and executed the Enclosure Acts which changed the very landscape, who designed and built the new homesteads, reclaimed gigantic areas from waste, drained nearly one acre in ten of the entire land-surface of England and planted so many of the woodlands which still delight and serve us. They also found time to establish and staff the Board of Agriculture, the first industrial Department in our history, and produce an immense and singularly sensible professional literature. Their material legacy stands to this day, but they themselves reached their climax in the proud High Farming of the 1850s. For the next generation brought disaster from overseas. Beginning in the late 1870s, virgin prairie and mechanical harvester, railway and steamship, refrigeration and canning combined to break British agriculture. The farmer could at least live off his land, but the continued slump slowly took the heart and the sinews out of the traditional system of estate-management.

◆ ◆ ◆

BUT neglect and decay, derelict buildings and choked drainage schemes, are only half the story. While estate-management stood still or, too often, went backwards, agricultural development continued. New conditions and new tools produced new methods, in particular a steady swing from corn and meat to grass and milk: between 1870 and 1935, the corn and root acreage was roughly halved. Plant, processes and products changed; the farming factory remained the same, for there was neither the capital nor the incentive for reconstruction. With increasing and uneconomic difficulty did the new dairy herds, leys, tractors and combines fit into the obsolete physical pattern of the Agricultural Revolution. To take one instance, the waste of effort in some of our old buildings is incredible to those who have not studied it. One not particularly drastic reconstruction reduced the permanent labour-force on a 250-acre farm from four men to three, another saved 617 man-hours and 236 miles of unnecessary walking a year.

THE war, here as elsewhere, merely underlined the obvious. The need for increased production was clear. So were the agricultural means of meeting it; for the difficulties were, on the whole, practical rather than technical. But in many cases the limiting factor lay in the type or condition of the farm's capital equipment; and, before the farmer could use his tools to the best advantage, his factory had to be repaired or re-equipped, sometimes almost recreated. And this was a lengthy and expensive job, beyond the resources of the traditional estate-managers. There was only one authority, the State, sufficiently rich and powerful to see these things were done; and it worked, hurriedly and with much improvisation, through its local agents, mainly the War Agricultural Executive Committees. On these fell the burden of enforcing reasonable standards of husbandry and, therefore, of ensuring a farming framework in which this was possible.

But there was no attempt to replace the traditional system of estate-management. On the contrary, by grant and loan, services and technical advice, the Committees strove to revive and supplement it. Nevertheless, the war years saw a break with the old assumption that property, policy and practice were in the same hands; and the officials of the Committee differed greatly in character, though not in qualifications, from their older professional brethren, the landlord and the land-agent, who lived on the estates they administered and settled the endless and varied problems which arose with little outside help.

For these new officials neither owned, farmed nor managed any particular piece of land; they dealt instead with a particular type of work which they pursued by car from farm to farm, for the size of their organizations allowed a considerable degree of specialization. New conditions have produced new men, technical rather than professional in outlook, who do not themselves manage estates but by virtue of specialist knowledge assist others to do so.

◆ ◆ ◆

THIS professional development reflects and illustrates the improvised and piece-meal character of wartime estate-management. There was no thought of any general reconstruction; necessity created short-term policies, and the Committees tackled immediate and individual local problems with natural and successful emphasis on such improvements as land drainage and water supplies, which showed immediate returns. On the other hand, little could be done to modernize farmsteads, field-systems or farm-boundaries. By 1945, therefore, the farmer's factory leaked less, most of the taps and switches worked, and he could produce more with less effort. But it was still no more than an obsolete building hurriedly repaired and partially modernized. The improvement was welcome but insufficient, and today any professional man can name without difficulty a dozen farms whose productive capacity is limited by lack of water, drainage or electricity, by obsolete buildings or an awkward layout.

FURTHER, the last decade neither revived the old nor produced a new system of estate-management. It gave us a farming restored in pride and pocket, invaluable experience and a new class of technicians and administrators but it did little to replace the traditional estate-managers in their old position of leadership. The reasons for this are partly financial—rising costs far outstrip any increase in rents—and partly technical since, for instance, a central body with public powers is better equipped than the private owner to plan and execute large-scale drainage, water or electricity schemes. On the other hand, the achievement of the Committees, though considerable, was in the nature of a by-product, an essential but secondary part of their farming policy. For they were concerned primarily with crops and stock, the fields and their contents, and their physical resources allowed little more than first-aid to capital equipment.

Against this background we can regard the Agriculture Act of 1947 as a map for the future. In effect, the State, which has allotted farming an essential and not unprofitable place in the national economy, has consolidated and extended the responsibilities for ensuring good estate-management which it assumed so haphazardly in the war. It lays on all owners of agricultural land the obligation to secure management "reasonably adequate to enable an occupier of land reasonably skilled in husbandry to maintain efficient production" and creates official machinery to assess and enforce it. But we cannot expect sudden or spectacular benefits from this; the task is immense, the resources limited and it will inevitably be some years before results accumulate. Nevertheless, the Act gives us a policy, a purpose and, therefore, confidence.

Buckingham Palace Speaking

(NEW YORK TIMES)

THE British Throne is an institution most Americans find it hard to understand. It is full of contradictions. Its occupant is often as beloved as though he had been elected by an overwhelming vote, yet he is chosen by the accident of birth alone. The British national anthem is a prayer for his preservation, he is treated as though he were in fact a ruler, yet his Ministers tell him what to say. Tradition clothes him like a coronation robe, yet within the tradition he and his close relatives are the more popular if they behave like a typical British middle-class family. So long as the Commonwealth stands — the British Commonwealth, as King George explicitly called it in his Christmas radio broadcast—he is by the same token King of each member nation. But he is King by consent, obtained without personal election, for, as Ireland has just demonstrated, he can be deposed in his self-governing overseas territories.

On Christmas Day he referred touchingly to the family symbols—his silver wedding, his first grandchild, his own recent illness. All of them, as he said, brought demonstrations of "good-will and affection." The cynics will say that the race of man loves a lord, but the British seem also to love simplicity and goodness; and would rather have these qualities in their King than greatness. A great King would be, indeed, a fish out of water, unhappy because he would breathe an atmosphere in which a majestic intellect or an ambitious personality was not called for.

A King speaking of "widening the bounds of freedom" would have surprised our ancestors. Yet the British Throne is in many cases an agency of that purpose. The King could not say no if he wanted to, but it is clear that this modest man, thrown by historic accident into a job he did not apply for, would not want to. The decrees he signs, after the ancient manner, are those the common people of Britain have ordained. In a sense they are the King now, and he, good, conscientious man, is the Common People.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the word of the Lord came unto him, saying, Arise, get thee to Zarephath, which belongeth to Ziron, and dwell there: behold, I have commanded a widow woman there to sustain thee. So he arose and went to Zarephath. And when he came to the gate of the city, behold, the widow woman was there gathering of sticks: and he called to her, and said, Fetch me, I pray thee, a little water in a vessel, that I may drink.

And as she was going to fetch it, he called to her, and said, Bring me, I pray thee, a morsel of bread in thine hand. And she said, As the Lord thy God liveth, I have not a cake, but an handful of meal in a barrel, and a little oil in a cruse: and, behold, I am gathering two sticks, that I may go in and dress it for me and my son, that we may eat it, and die.

And Elijah said unto her, Fear not; go and do as thou hast said: but make me thereof a little cake first, and bring it unto me, and after make for thee and for thy son. For thus saith the Lord God of Israel, The barrel of meal shall not waste, neither shall the cruse of oil fail, until the day that the Lord sendeth rain upon the earth. And she went and did according to the saying of Elijah: and she, and he, and her house, did eat many days. (I Kings 17: 8-15.)

Ross Thompson Charged With Gathering RCAF Data For Permanent History

Exact nature of his work during five years overseas service with the RCAF was revealed by Wing Commander Ross Thompson Monday evening. He told University Women's Club members assembled in the YWCA

ROSS THOMPSON

Green Room that he was commissioned as a historical officer and charged with assembling data and records that would ensure a complete history of the Canadian Air Force for posterity.

"Three volumes of popular narrative on RCAF squadrons only have already been compiled and widely read. But the history originally planned is now being made up under direction of official historian Wing Commander Fred Hitchins who was appointed a year and a half ago," he said.

"Historical records of the RCAF are a product of World War II covering its formation in 1940 and growth until 1944. Thirty-four officers were scattered overseas, with necessary staff, to collect this information wherever the RCAF saw action. About 20,000 Canadians engaged in aerial warfare during the first war and records of their deeds were searched from the story of the RAF and from the army and navy stories of those who made transfers."

It was planned that the introductory volume would sketch development of the air force from 1909 and this also was available from RAF records only. Such information that officers were instructed to collect was mostly derived from records in the National Library of Wales which Mr. Thompson describes as a beautiful building, not quite finished, situated apart from the hubbub of war.

Basic record of the story on World War II is the daily diary every unit had to submit to headquarters. The RCAF expanded so rapidly that units sprang up almost daily and these books hold the very complete and accurate details Mr. Thompson said.

Personal log books of outstanding pilots contributed a great deal of information on raids and at the end of the war all pilots' logs were turned over to the historical section.

Reports of escaped prisoners and "evaders," those never captured, usually yielded much of interest. Complete reports were gathered from prisoners of war at their liberation. In addition the historians collected all material turned out by public relations officers, newspaper clippings and writers' narratives and as many souvenirs and relics as they could manage. These include V1 and V2 bombs and a Hurricane fighter that saw considerable action over Britain. Lack of strategical information caused posting of historians in each command area to gain the proper perspective in preparing their records. Preliminary narratives, weaving a running story of units in these commands were started and kept up to about three months of the date of happenings throughout the war.

Mr. Thompson highly commended the work of official war artists who were "charged with artistic portrayal of scenes and events in which the RCAF was involved." Greatest tribute to their work which he has heard was in the letter of a fighter pilot who said of a Canadian artist "He is making a record of our squadron that can't be got any other way, not even in photographs."

He displayed photographic copies of their work that was most interesting to club members. The speaker had selected them from his very large collection.

In his capacity of historical officer Mr. Thompson attended all official events the RCAF had part in. He spoke particularly of his enjoyment of visits to his unit by the late Duke of Kent. He attended several investitures at Buckingham Palace which were most interesting. "They even had the beef-eaters there," he said. Services on the anniversary of the Dieppe raid held in the cemetery and the town itself showed him beyond doubt that the French appreciated what had been done for them. The speaker was also on the victory parade to points of Europe where fighting had been keenest.

In conclusion Mr. Thompson said "It is difficult to predict the part of aerial warfare in a future war. An opinion might be based on statistics of the past which state the Allies dropped 2,700,000 bombs which killed 1,180,000 German civilians and rendered seven million homeless. More than one and a half million sorties were carried out as well as more than two million fighter missions."

President Dr Agnes K. Moffatt, introduced Mr. Thompson who was not a stranger to many members since he is a native of Peterborough, and his wife is secretary of the Club. Appreciation of his enlightening story was expressed by Miss M. Hicks.

Marine Group Backs Canal Construction

OTTAWA, Jan. 11 — (CP). — An official of the Dominion Marine Association said Monday the group is in agreement with Department of Transport plans for construction work on the Lachine Canal.

George Donovan, secretary of the association, said a delegation of shipping officials had met with the Department to discuss a proposal to build an automobile tunnel under the canal near St. Remy Street in Montreal.

"We were interested in whether it would affect navigation adversely," Mr. Donovan said. "We are satisfied that it won't."

Mr. Donovan said the group had come to Ottawa to get information on the project, but not to protest against it.

A report earlier Monday from Montreal said the delegation planned to protest construction of the canal because it would reduce by 100 feet the width of the navigation channel east of Cote St. Paul Bridge.

Lower Prices Predicted For U.S. Buyers

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 — (AP). —The rush of people attracted by post-Christmas sales has convinced many leading retailers that the United States is headed for a new era of lower prices.

They voice this conviction with certain reservations, of course, and in some cases with crossed fingers. Right now some 6,000 retailers are attending the 38th annual convention of the National Retail Dry Goods Association in New York, and their main objective is to increase sales, lower their costs and maintain profits.

The general picture these leaders outline is this: Christmas sales in the United States bogged down until they barely exceeded last year's figures, and the yar as a whole was only five per cent above 1947, But the response to sales at reduced prices indicate people will buy an increased volume of goods if price, style and value are balanced to fit the consumer pocketbook.

The experts don't look for a general price break, nor for a business recession, but they do look for a general selective downward price revision and a general increase in value and in style where prices are not reduced from present levels.

There was one strong note of caution. Several retailers said increased government spending or widespread wage increases could turn the tide and force retail prices up. Greater supply now is overbalancing demand, said one retailer, but an increase in spendable money could turn the tables and put demand on top with a consequent pressure for increased prices.

Contradictory Evidence Marks Warkworth Case

Nearly five hours of evidence was heard in police court Monday by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, who reserved judgment on a charge of receiving stolen goods against Henry H. Ketchum, Warkworth lumberman. The receiving charge involves a set of harness owned by Douglas Baker. A charge of retaining stolen goods the property of the Ideal Vacations Ltd., a large tarpaulin, also was heard and judgment reserved. A second retaining charge, involving two stolen truck tires and tubes, was remanded until judgment in the other charges, which was set for Jan. 17.

Evidence given was conflicting and involved. Principal crown witness was Aden Freeman, who has been charged with theft of the harness and tarpaulin. Statements signed by Freeman were given into court by Provincial Constable Arthur Kellogg of Hastings. In these, and orally to testifying police officers, Freeman admitted stealing the harness and taking it to Ketchum's lumber camp, where he was employed.

On the stand Monday, however, Freeman switched his story. He did not steal the harness, he said, but had been in a truck with Ketchum and another camp employee, Harry Goodel, when a set had been taken from a farmer's barn and put on the back of the truck.

He said that when the police car drove in the yard, Ketchum had seen it from a window and asked Freeman and Goodell: "Well, which of you is going to take the rap?" Freeman said Ketchum offered him $250 if he would "take the rap". That was why he had signed the statements and made the admissions to police, he said.

Goodell, who is also charged with the thefts, gave evidence for the defence. He said he was with Ketchum and Freeman on the trip on which the harness was alleged to have been stolen. He said that he knew nothing of the thefts and that, as he had been with Ketchum, the accused also had no knowledge of them. He said that Ketchum had asked the two when the police drove into the lumber camp if they knew the reason for the visit. At that time, said Goodell, Freeman admitted the theft and Ketchum had said that he (Freeman) had better explain his actions to the police. Goodell denied that Ketchum had made an offer to pay one of them to "take the rap."

In his own evidence, the accused corroborated Goodell's story, said that he did not know of the stolen harness on his property until Freeman admitted it to him.

The tarpaulin, according to the police evidence, was taken from a lumber pile beside No. 7 highway.

Freeman repeated his charge that he had agreed to admit the theft. Goodell was with him at the time he loaded the canvass on a truck, he said. Defence witness again, Goodell denied this, said he knew nothing of the theft.

Emmett F. Sheehy, defence counsel for Ketchum, objected before the hearing started, that the receiving and retaining charges against Ketchum be heard before the theft charges against Freeman and Goodell.

This, he said, was trying a man for having stolen goods before it had been established in court that the goods had been stolen.

Magistrate Philp commented that the order in which the cases were heard lies within the right of the Crown Attorney.

Drop Supplies To Sick Priest On Mercy Flight

WINNIPEG, Jan. 11 (CP). — The RCAF Monday reported that its mission to drop medical supplies to an ailing Roman Catholic priest at Igloolik, NWT, had been successful, and the Dakota aircraft used in "Operation Priest" was en route back to Winnipeg.

The plane, piloted by Flt. Lt. Terry Winslow of Sherbrooke, Que., left Sunday on its mission after word was received that Father Ostran, 26-year-old Italian-born missionary, had been bitten last Friday by an Eskimo dog at the lonely post 200 miles within the Arctic Circle, almost 1,500 miles north of Winnipeg.

After an overnight stop at Churchill, Man., the Dakota on Monday flew to Igloolik, a tiny pinpoint on the map in the north-western part of Foxe Basin. Vaccine and other medical supplies were dropped.

The return flight took the plane and its crew first to Coral Harbor on the south-western tip of Southampton Island. After refuelling there it continued on to Churchill. The final hop to Winnipeg is expected to be made to-day.

CANINE LAZARUS—The Biblical Lazarus came back from the dead and in Toronto here's a dog who seemingly duplicated this feat. This canine Lazarus is Skippy, four-and-a-half-month old puppy owned by Mrs. William Chapman. Last Thursday he ran into a car and was pronounced "dead" by passersby. A passing garbage truck was hailed and Skippy was tossed onto the ashes. The next morning Skippy returned home. He spent the night buried in ashes. As the load was being dumped into the incinerator Skippy scrambled to his feet while amazed workers looked on.

With last night's Meteors-Petes senior "B" contest called off owing to soft ice again, the OHA junior "B" joust was staged in Oshawa. Legionnaires, who drill at six tonight at the Sacred Heart rink, play the Meteors tomorrow p.m. in Lindsay. The Scugog juniors tangle with our Oddfellows at 8.30 Wednesday (that's tomorrow) night in Civic Arena, in what should be a fine fixture. Then, the IOOF-ers are off Friday to meet the North Toronto Lions in a return of their scrappy struggle here to open the season. At Civic Arena on Friday eve, Petes play the Legionnaires in a senior "B" affair. That's the OHA setup for the week for local clubs.

A letter comes from C. J. Lalonde of Campbellford as follows: "From 1930 when I started attending games till I left Peterborough in 1943, I watched some great hockey. There were players then and there will be more slated for big time hockey. Fellows like Eddie Starr, Ray Harding, McNabb, his stand-in at games I remember, Don Crowe—best defenceman in the city—later Ron Horton, Joe Rochetta, Ned Vitarelli, along with Drake Jopling, Bun Kingdon and many others. Did Peterborough give these boys a chance? Most certainly not. I left to move to Cornwall where they have artificial ice. I saw more and better hockey there in three years than in 13 in Peterborough. For the simple reason that they have artificial ice.

* * * * * *

"Better Brighten Up"

"When I read in the paper that a new rink was going up there I naturally thought it would have artificial ice, for the size of the city and the players there. Peterborough has two good teams but, if they ever figure on getting any place, they had better brighten up. A city that size and no better place to play than in Marmora or Hastings! They should be ashamed to let a project like that go through. I think Peterborough itself could stand $35,000 for the freezing plant. If it was a tossup between a game in Belleville or Peterborough, most of us would go to Belleville, especially on a soft night. Here's hoping for artificial ice in Peterborough next year." Second the motion.

Albert Watkins has been elected president of the Morrow Park Recreation Club, with Joseph Douglas vice-prexy, and Angus Bradley secretary-treasurer. Southend boys and their dads interested in this worthy club will meet in Confederation School assembly hall at 7.30 Wednesday evening. Sports movies will be shown and club plans outlined. The club will sponsor general sports and will be patterned pretty much after the Trojan Athletic Club. It should be a good thing for a flock of young chaps in that section of the city.

But They Have Ice

Oshawa blanked the IOOF-ers last eve and you could spot the main difference easily. A matter of ice. The Motor City puckists have a fine large sheet of artificial ice on which to practice and play games. We haven't. In fact we haven't had any ice around here for going on a week, so what can you expect in a tough grouping? On top of that, the Triple Links were shy several players—Windsor, O'Reilly, Fyrla and Crowley—though the Motor Citizens did look better on the night's play. They broke fast and early to run up a comfortable margin and the Oddfellows fought back the last half in a clean contest but couldn't crack the goose egg. They're a young team (most with three years of junior play yet) so they'll come okay.

Schedule convener Arnold Olmstead has drawn up the PMHA lists and we'll run 'em tomorrow. Tonight's tilts call for Kids bantams vs. Trojans in the arena with St. Peter's bantams playing Marines at Riverside; Trojans midgets meeting Clapper's at the arena, with Jaycees midgets mixing with St. Peter's over east; and Legion Trojans vs. Northend juves in the arena, as St. Peter's juveniles tackle East City at Riverside. Rest of the dope on the morrow. By the way, Jack Richardson won the overcoat in the PMHA draw with No. 64, as Doug Campney of 455 McKellar St. took the fishing rod with 708, and J. V. Anglesey of 220 Braidwood got the merchandise with 3148. The winners should call at Civic Arena for the spoils.

In OLA Senior "A"

Petes' lacrossers will definitely go senior "A" this year, a meeting decided last night. Big plans are afoot with committees appointed and the hunt on for six or seven ace senior "A" players to add to the present OLA senior "B" champions. Officers elected for 1949 are: President, Bob Pierson; vice-prexy, Clyde Cameron; secretary, Mick Magee; treasurer, Howard McLean; board of directors, Lou Vitarelli, Red Creighton, Ken Kingston, Walt Murphy, Harland Bradley, Paul Irwin, Harry Yudin, Dr. Herb Young and Pete King. So, followers of the gutted-stick game here and in the district can look for some bangup lacrosse next summer.

Earl McCready Meets Tough Opponent In Morgan At Brock Arena Tomorrow

Earl McCready takes on a tough customer in Big Ben Morgan in the main bout at the Brock Arena tomorrow night. This will be Earl's first match since his return from a successful campaign in Australia and New Zealand. The Aurora Farmer is said to be in superb condition, and he will have to be to gain a decision over the powerful Morgan, who is one of the meanest wrestlers in the game today. The fans can expect plenty of fireworks.

Bill Stack

Ben Morgan

The semi-final event is also attracting a good deal of attention, bringing together the Masked Marvel and Ben Sharpe. Ben is one grapplers who has more than an even chance of revealing the mystery man's identity. Big, fast and strong Sharpe should give the Mask a real tussle.

To open proceedings two favorites with mat fans here, Bill Stack and Jack Wentworth, will get things under way. It shapes us as a real card for the first show since the Christmas holidays.

Quakers Upset Artists In Men's Loop

Quakers provided the biggest upset in the YMCA Men's League when they blanked the league-leading Artists 6-0. The win shot the Quakers into a contending position in the league standing.

Canada Packers moved closer to the top rung defeating B'nai B'rith 4-2, while Jay Bees rolled into a third-place tie with Commercials by defeating Vic Sedgwick's outfit 4-2. In the other contest Aberdeens and Tip Tops split 3-3. It was the first time this year that teams have split points, being caused by a tie game in their third contest last night.

Quakers had high pinnage of 3141 and high single of 1167.

Eddie Dixon topped the individual efforts with a neat 726 and Mike Doris had 708. High single went to Nelson Routley with 294.

Wheat Kings In Lead

WINNIPEG, Jan. 11 — (CP)— Brandon Wheat Kings already have assured themselves of top spot and a playoff berth in the Manitoba Junior Hockey League, but the battle for the other two playoff positions between the remaining three clubs probably won't be decided until near the end of the schedule. Holding a comfortable 25-point margin over the second-place Winnipeg Canadiens, the Wheat Kings are considered, the 'team to beat" in Western Canada, and currently are riding on a 17-game winning streak.

PEEWEE PUP—Tiny Tom, month-old Pomeranian owned by Mrs. Charles Gower of Vancouver, just fits into a teacup. Weighing only an ounce and a half at birth, the dog is shown here being fed with an eye dropper. At night it is wrapped in an electric blanket to keep it warm. Mother dog is at the right.

Norwood Ties Hastings In TVL Game

NORWOOD, Jan. 11 (ENS) — Hastings and Norwood battled to a 2-2 TVL tie here last night in a speedy tussle run off on good ice before a sizeable gathering of fans. It was quite even over the route with Hastings counting in the first, Norwood next inning, and each scoring one in the third period. The teams:

Hastings—Goal, Mueller; defence, L. Petticrew and Tucker; centre, P. Petticrew; wings, Morrow and Crowley; alternates, R. West, Herrington, Ball, Brooks, D. West, Wilson, Lalonde, Oliver and Fairman.

Juniors Lose OHA Tilt In Motor City

Running up an early lead in the Motor City last night, Oshawa blanked the Oddfellows 12-0 in an OHA Junior "B" fixture before several hundred fans. The visitors, shy on practise due to lack of artificial ice, started slowly and they also found the big Oshawa arena tough to get used to for a time. The well-conditioned homesters cashed in on early lapses to run up a quick early margin.

They broke in there fast to count six markers in the initial inning, adding four next heat. Several of these were of the soft variety. The IOOF squad played better hockey in the second chukker and were going along on pretty even terms in the third. But the first frame was disastrous for them in a fairly fast and clean tussle. Peterborough drew but three of the 10 penalties. Trimm, Towns and Pankoski sparked the Oshawa attack, with Burnett smart on defence.

Started Early

Pankoski went off early for holding and Floyd followed for hooking. Brabin scored the first one from Myles and Welsh followed shortly, aided by DeGray and Weddup. Trimm made it 3-0 from Towns and Pankoski, with the latter scoring within a minute from Trimm. Wilson drew a finger for high-sticking and was back when Burnett got it for roughing. He returned and Pankoski batted in his own rebound, and then aided Trimm on another to make it 6-0.

Pankoski opened the middle stanza with one in close from Trimm, and then Morrison's long angle drive caught a corner. Peters let one go from the blue line and it flashed the light. Whitnell came close but Towns got one more from Trimm a bit later on a neat, fast rush. Pagett and Floyd tested Claus as the Triple Links fought back despite their deficit. Myles was gated for tripping near the finish of the frame.

Burnett tallied on a rebound from Myles to begin the last chapter. Wasson was waved over for cross-checking and Pagett got it or tripping. But they got back with no danger done and play was pretty even for a time. Walsh swooped around the net for a nice one to end the scoring. Burnett was chased for tripping and then Myles got the nod for slashing as the tempo quickened. But then returned with no scoring done. Whitnell got in for a close try and Trimm drew a penalty for slashing just before the finish.

The teams:

IOOF — Goal, Byers; defence, Berwick and Anderson; centre, Truss; wings, Wyatt and O'Heron; alternates, Pagett, Collins, Floyd, Wasson, Grainger, Miller, Whitnell, Birch and Douglas.

Oshawa—Goal, Claus; defence, Burnett and Peters; centre Towns; alternates, Etcher, Pankoski, Wilson, Myles, Brabin, Weddup, DeGray, Welsh and Maddock.

Chicago Pair Lead Field In Scoring Race

MONTREAL, Jan. 11.—(CP).—While dopesters around the National Hockey League circuit today are hastening to qualify preseason forecasts on the order of finish among the six teams in 1948-49, two Chicago snipers are galloping away with the individual scoring race.

Statistics released today show that the NHL flag derby continues to be as tight as a drum while veteran Doug Bentley and his linemate, Roy Conacher, have spurted into a nine-point lead on their closest pursuer in the scoring race.

In the points race, both Conacher and Bentley have identical scoring records—15 goals and 26 assists for 41 points. The assist total is the league's highest for the season.

Jim Conacher, another Chicago forward, holds down the runner-up spot with 32 points. Detroit's Syd Abel, climaxing a steady climb up the ladder the last two weeks, both took over third place from Boston's Grant (Nobby) Warwick. Abel has 31 points, Warwick 30.

Season-High

The Boston youngster's 17 goals is the season-high, in that department.

The Hawks' Bill Mosienko and Canadiens' Billy Reay are tied for fifth place with 28 points, and three players are deadlocked in sixth position with 27 points. They are Toronto's Harry Watson and Ted Kennedy and Montreal's Joe Carveth.

Big Bill Durnan has built up a commanding lead among the loop's goaltenders in the Vezina trophy race. In 31 games, he has allowed but 70 goals for an average of 2.26 compared with 2.62 for Detroit's Harry Lumley, the runner-up. Durnan and Turk Broda of Toronto also lead in shutouts with four each.

Fiery Ken Reardon of Montreal has also caught up with Toronto's wild Bill Ezinicki for the league's "bad man" honors. Ezinicki has spent 87 minutes in the penalty box compared with 85 for Reardon.

Toronto leads as the most penalized club with a total of 428 minutes. Their arch-rivals, Montreal, have 404.

Make Fashion History

TORONTO, Jan. 11 — (CP) — Fashion history was made in opening ceremonies of the assize court grand jury Monday when Ontario's high judiciary discarded their drab black gowns. Judges wore a purple gown with a blending red hood and pink cuffs. The gowns will be worn only during jury and non-jury high court sittings by the 15 high court judges.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

T. P. (Tommy) Gorman, president of the Ottawa Forum Company, charged Monday at Ottawa that the Seattle Hockey Club of the Pacific Coast League is attempting to induce several players away from Ottawa Senators of the Quebec Senior Hockey League.

Gorman said that despite the Nov. 15 deadline for professional clubs to take players from the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, the Seattle Club is attempting to lure Bill Robinson, Nils Tremblay, Eddie Dartnell, all forwards from the league-leading Senators, last year's Allan Cup finalists.

He added that he had been in touch Saturday with George Dudley, secretary-manager of the C. A.H.A., and had been assured that any player leaving the club would be suspended.

The 36th Canadian ladies' golf championship will be held this year at Capilano Golf and Country Club, Vancouver, Aug. 22-27, Miss Kaye Farrell, president of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union, announced Monday at Vancouver. The championship tourney will be preceded by inter-provincial team matches Aug. 19-20, also at Capilano.

Carl Liscombe of Providence Reds maintained his four-point scoring lead in the American Hockey League this week with 57 points, it was announced at New York Monday night. The veteran Perth winger is followed by Sid Smith of Pittsburgh Hornets with 53 points.

Murdo Mackay of Buffalo Bisons is in third place with 50 points, followed by Paul Gladu of St. Louis Fliers, Roger Bedard and John Chad, both of Providence, all with 49 points. Liscombe once again took over goal-scoring honors with 32, replacing Gladu, last week's leader. Bedard and rookie Phil Maloney of Hershey Bears led in assists, each with 34.

At Toronto, a Winnipeg rink skipped by Mrs. H. C. Pratt, sister of National Hockey League stars Doug and Max Bentley, went into an extra end before losing to a Toronto rink skipped by Mrs. T. C. Hudson in the first round of play for the William Robertson trophy. Trophy competition started Monday at the Toronto Granite Club, with 32 rinks from Toronto, Winnipeg, Hamilton, Haliburton, Ont., and Indian Hill, Ill.

Fabulous Distance Runner's Career Ends With Death Of Tom Longboat

BRANTFORD, Jan. 11 (CP).—Tom Longboat will be buried today after a funeral service in an ancient Onongada tribal longhouse. But the memory of the peerless Indian marathon runner who once outran a horse and buggy in a 12-mile race will live to thrill another generation.

Longboat, 62, died Sunday amid the peaceful surroundings of the Six Nations Indian Reservation at Ohsweken, near here. He spent his last days in a frame house that members of the Toronto Irish-Canadian Athletic Club bought for him in a drive in which they collected nickels, dimes and quarters from his admirers.

As a rawboned Indian lad who loved to run, Longboat first appeared on the Canadian sports horizon in 1906. That was when the Brantford area farm boy, as a 100-to-1 shot, won the famous 19-mile around-the-bay race at Hamilton.

The fleet legs of the natural runner carried him to victory in 1907 in the Boston marathon, long considered the world's long-distance running classic. The hero's reception he was given in Toronto after winning that race was always regarded by the "Big Chief" as the highlight of his fabulous career.

Has Sunstroke

He ran for Canada in the 1908 Olympics. He lost when he suffered a sunstroke after holding a long lead.

But he won many races after that, enough to earn him the title of "the greatest runner of them all." When he won the Montreal Star marathon in Montreal, 100,000 persons saw his triumph. His popularity reached such heights Toronto police commissioners stopped Longboat from taking part in exhibition races which finished in Toronto, as the crowds of spectators jammed traffic on the business section.

His loping, graceful strides carried him to fame beyond his wildest dreams. But the races most remembered were those in which he competed against Alfie Shrubb a little Englishman. He and Shrubb raced many times, at Hanlan's Point on the Toronto islands and in New York's Madison Square Garden and it is generally agreed that Longboat won the more often.

He once outdistanced a horse and buggy in a 12-mile race from Hagersville, Ont., to Caledonia. For the first two miles, the horse held the lead, but Longboat caught up and finished in front by about a mile.

Tom Longboat amassed $17,000 as a professional runner, accumulated more medals than he could keep track of, served two years in France as a brigade runner in the first world war and was a member of the Veterans' Guard stationed near Brantford in the second world war.

Poor Business Moves

He went into two unsuccessful business ventures. He worked for a while as a Toronto street cleaner. He mourned the death of an eight-year-old daughter, killed by an automobile as she dashed across a street to hear Longboat interviewed over the radio.

But when the twilight years approached, Longboat had little besides memories of his days of glory. His hair whitened, his bronzed face wrinkled like old parchment and he had a quiet smile for visiting dignitaries who sought him out for a chat at celebrations. He came to know that fame is fleeting but his easy-going philosophy carried no trace of bitterness.

"I've had my day," he told an interviewer, toward the last. "I have no regrets."

Officials Revise Rules For Gold Cup Race

NEW YORK, Jan 11 (AP) — The guiding fathers of American speedboat racing elected a new president and revised rules for the famous Gold Cup race at a meeting here Monday. C. King Brugman of Los Angeles was named president of the American Power Boat Association to succeed Leonard H. Thomson of Detroit. Guy Lombardo of New York, band leader from London, Ont., was named secretary.

The Association directors approved changes in the rules which would prevent the necessity of holding the Gold Cup races under such adverse conditions as prevailed last year at Detroit, when rough water damaged several craft.

INSPECTS ROYAL STABLES

At Newmarket, England, Princess Elizabeth inspected the Royal racing stable Monday. A keen race fan—she went to the Derby last June after announcing she was expecting Prince Charles — the Princess drove from Sandringham to Newmarket to see her father's horses. Princess Elizabeth was accompanied by the Duke of Edinburgh and Princess Margaret.

Mangrum Wins LosAngelesOpen

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11 —(CP) —Lloyd Mungrum, using all the old tricks and a new one—following the opposition by radio—is off to a flying start in golf's gold rush of '49.

"I was listening to the others on the radio," said the dapper Chicagoan at the finish Monday of the $15,000 Los Angeles open. "When I hear Dutch had 287, I knew I could coast in with pars."

That's just what he did, except for a birdie two on the short 16th. Mangrum finished three strokes ahead of E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock, Ark. Mangrum's 72-hole total of 284, scored under adverse weather conditions, just equalled par.

Eight strokes back was the defending and national open champion, Ben Hogan of Fort Worth.

Mangrum outsteadied three opponents who started even with him Monday and breezed in with a one-under-par 70 just before flakes of snow started to blow across Riviera's treacherous fairways. He took the $2,600 first prize.

Haskell Suffers Cut But Wins Over Defoe

TORONTO, Jan. 11 (CP) — Elmer Haskell suffered a cut over the eye that required four stitches to close but he still won a fifth-round technical knockout over Glen Defoe of Trenton in the first match of eight preliminary bouts here Monday night.

Referee Bobby Lawrence stopped the bout when Haskell suffered the injury and awarded the bout to him. The decision brought heated remarks from Defoe's trainer, Murray Swartz, but Lawrence said Defoe was "butting." "Not only that," said Lawrence, "Defoe was fouling all the way, hitting to the kidney with open gloves."

In the main bout, George Sinclair of Toronto gained a five-round decision over Fred Harding of Oshawa.

In the semi-final at 135 pounds Angelo Rizzo, Niagara Falls, Ont., won a split decision over Bud Henry, Oshawa, in five rounds.

SCOTS DEFEAT AMERICANS

A group of touring Scottish curlers Monday defeated an American team in the first international bonspiel at Brookline, Mass., since 1938. The Scots, who will play in several Canadian cities, defeated the Americans 7-5 in matches and 110-79 in points.

NINE-POINT MARGIN

Topping the circuit's scorers with 32 goals, Ray Powell of Kansas City Pla-Mors last week won a nine-point margin at the top of the list of United States Hockey League scoring leaders, it was announced today at Minneapolis. The runner-up was his teammate, Bert Olmstead. Wes Trainor, credited with 38 assists, held third position with 53 points.

Kroehlers Trip Generals In 5-4 Triumph

By The Canadian Press

The Ontario Hockey Association Junior A race tightened up a little more Monday night as Stratford Kroehlers moved to within striking distance of the top four clubs.

Leo Barbini's squad ran their point total to 37 as they downed the fourth-place Oshawa Generals 5-4.

Two clubs are deadlocked in first place with 41 points—Windsor Spitfires and St. Catharines Teepees. One point behind is Barrie Flyers, while the Generals have 38 points.

The Kroehlers withstood a desperate rally by the Generals in the last period of their tilt Monday night as they ran up their 17th win in 31 starts. Both teams battled to a 1-1 tie in the first period and Stratford outscored Oshawa 3-1 in the second.

Stratford marksmen were Jimmy French, Pierre Cadieux, McIntosh, Bibber O'Hearn and Dinny Flanagran with one each. Ted O'Connor counted two for the Generals. Other goals went to Dick Burton and Hall.

Three games are slated in OHA warfare tonight. In the senior loop, Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen clash with Owen Sound Mercurys, while in the junior division, St. Catharines Teepees play Windsor Spitfires, Stratford meets Oshawa and Guelph Biltmores play Barrie Flyers.

ATTEMPTED BRIBERY

Indictments growing out of an alleged attempt to bribe a University player to fix basketball games were returned in New York and Washington Monday. A New York county grand jury indicted all four of the men accused by David Shapiro, co-captain of the George Washington University squad, of offering him a $1,000 bribe in connection with a Madison Square Garden contest. The four are Jack Levy, 40, of Miami, Fla., and William Rivlin, 43, Joseph Aronowitz, 35, and Philip Klein, 34, all of New York.

Preakness Inflation Cut, Purse $75,000

BALTIMORE, Jan. 11 (AP)—Inflation is over as far as the Preakness is concerned.

For three years now Maryland's racing classic—second section of the turf's triple crown—has kept pace with the high cost of living with a nice round $100,000 purse.

But the Maryland Jockey Club, taking its cue from the recent drops in the cost-of-living index, decided Monday to cut the purse to $75,000. In so doing, the officials compromised the inflationary offering of the last three years with the pre-war and wartime figure of $50,000.

Say Imports From Canada Cut 60 Per Cent By Eire

By MICHAEL O'MARA

DUBLIN, Jan. 11—(CP)—Expansion of trade between the United Kingdom and Eire and sharp pruning of imports from hard-currency areas were twin features of recent statistics issued by the Department of Industry and Commerce. Imports from Canada, for example, were cut by 60 per cent.

Although Eire's trade balance remained adverse, the margin of deficit had fallen monthly since June, figures for the first 10 months of 1948 showed.

Biggest single contribution to expanding exports was in eggs. Eire sold more than £9,500,000 ($14,000,000) worth in the months in question, against £1,500,000 in the comparable 1947 months.

The United States lost the most business with Eire; imports from that country were down nearly £14,000,000. Canadian imports were trimmed from £4,951,945 to £1,998,698.

Imports from Great Britain rose by more than £19,000,000 and those from Northern Ireland remained about the same.

Cattle Exports

Meantime exporters of fat cattle to Britain complained to the Department of Agriculture that things were far from rosy in the farmyard.

One exporter said: "So long as bulk purchase under the British Food Ministry continues to be surrounded with so much regulation, in respect of grading, the revival of the Irish fat stock industry will be well-nigh impossible."

The industry complains many British regulations downgrade Irish cattle after slaughter to the disadvantage of Irish farmers. Exporters have asked that British authorities be requested to revise their regulations.

Princess Shows Baby To Fraser

TORONTO, Jan. 11—Britain's "Bonnie Prince Charlie" is, indeed, a very bonnie Prince Charlie in the opinion of Prime Minister Fraser, of New Zealand.

Mr. Fraser who spent the weekend in Toronto en route from Ottawa to Washington, said he had a good look at the Royal baby at Buckingham Palace late in December.

"I had gone to the palace to have tea with the King and Queen," said the affable New Zealand Government leader, "and while there Princess Elizabeth came in the door and asked if I would like to see the baby. Of course I wanted to see the baby. I like all babies."

"And was he a handsome baby?" Mr. Fraser was asked.

"An excellent baby, indeed. Very handsome," he said.

TWO PRIME MINISTERS—Prime Minister St. Laurent, extreme left, was on hand to greet Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand, extreme right, on his arrival at Ottawa's Union Station for a one-day visit on his way home from England. With the two prime ministers are Mrs. James Thorn, wife of the high commissioner for New Zealand and Mr. Thorn.

Mrs. J. Campbell Born 1844 Cooked With Outdoor Oven

HAVELOCK, Jan. 11.—(ENS).—The funeral took place in London, Ontario, on Monday of Mrs. James H. Campbell, 104, formerly of Havelock. Burial was in Memorial cemetery, London.

Born in 1844 on her parents' farm near Keene, Mrs. Campbell would have celebrated her 105th birthday on February 22.

Mrs. Campbell saw many changes in Canada and although she had never followed the journeying of her parents back to Scotland, she had seen many parts of the Dominion. She lived in Western Canada for two years where seh saw the first land boom at Portage la Prairie.

The greater part of her life spent in the neighborhood of Peterborough at Keene, Hastings, Roseneath, Alnwick Township and Havelock. She had known housekeeping with the outside brick oven and the crane in the fireplace. Her father bought the first cookstove in this district and her husband had the first top buggy in Havelock.

When her family first came here they lived in a log house where W. E. Griffith's house now stands. Her husband died in 1904.

Mrs. Campbell was a Presbyterian and a charter member of Knox Church, Havelock, which her husband helped to build.

She leaves three daughters, Mrs. Joseph Graham of Toronto; Mrs. Thomas Brady of London and Mrs. J. Lederer of Buffalo, N.Y.; a son, Norman Campbell of Edmonton, Alta. Mrs. L. Rowat of Havelock is a granddaughter.

Three-Year Drought Ends For Aussie Sheep Ranchers

By LESLIE BRODIE

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 11—(CP)—A three-year drought has ended and sheep-ranchers in Western Australia are trying to restock their properties. But with wool prices at an all-time high they are finding it difficult to get sheep at a price they can pay. Most ranches will be heavily mortgaged for restocking.

Christmas rain filled the rivers and creeks as well as the waterholes on the outback ranches. Grass is beginning to shoot already and thousands of sheep, moved to rented properties outside the drought areas before grass started to give out, have begun the long trail back home.

Only people who are sorry the drought has been broken are a small group of rabbit trappers in the Wilcannia district of Western New South Wales.

The trappers were earning up to $400 a week catching rabbits as they came in to the scattered waterholes in the evenings. The rabbits swarmed in in thousands every evening and appeared to watchers as a blurred mass.

3,000 A Night

One man is reported to have caught 9,000 in three nights by fencing in a small waterhole with a wire-mesh. An opening he left in the fence was quickly found by the invaders and they filed in, only to be trapped before they had time to get out again. The trapper killed them off as fast as he could skin them.

Children living in the district put aside their school books to take part in the big catch. Some boys of eight and ten years earned up to $60 a week skinning the "left-overs—the carcass the trappers could not find time to handle.

Army Eases Standard For Certain Units

OTTAWA, Jan. 11 — (CP) — The army made a new manpower bid on behalf of the thin ranks of its reserve force Monday by loosening the standards and qualifications for admission to certain units that would never see front line action in any war.

The revised physical and age standards will apply to such units as coastal and anti-aircraft artillery and signals. The announcement follows the recent statement that coastal defence units are being increased and their training stepped up.

Officers and other ranks now may continue to serve with these units provided they meet the minimum physical standards as outlined ny the new order and have not reached their 55th instead of 45th birthday. Personnel will not be enlisted or re-engaged after they have reached 52 years of age.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 11 — (AP)—A collapse of the vast Pacific Northwest Power Pool was averted Monday night but officials warned the situation is still serious and a new crisis would develop today. BORDERLINE ANEMIA* can steal away a woman's beauty!
BEAUTY fades when a woman's face grows pale—when her freshness is failing—her energy runs low. Yes, and these signs often come from a blood condition. If you have them, you may have a Borderline Anemia, a mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron.
The red cells in your blood may be too puny and faded. They may be weakened to the point where they can't transmit full energy to your body. Many people — women, men and children—drag through life with this Borderline Anemia.
How Ironized Yeast Tablets Build Up Your Blood and Vigor
So, if your color is poor—your energy low and this common blood condition's to blame—take Ironized Yeast Tablets. They are formulated to help build up faded red blood cells, and thus restore vigor. Early today there was a meeting of the County Roads Committee in the County Building. A final survey of road conditions and an examination of finances are believed to have been the chief topics on the agenda.

SOUNDS LIKE A HINT

"I hope we have more of them," was the remark of Mayor Swanston as the council last night passed a vote of thanks to Gordon C. Miller for his theatre night in the private quarters at Paramount Jan. 4.

PLANS TRIP SOUTH

Shell Huffman was presented with a bright bow tie by the Optimist Club members at their dinner in the Kawartha Room last night. He is heading in the near future for the sunny weather in Florida. Eleven or twelve boxes held the gift and a card with a verse was on top of each of the boxes.

LIGHT OUT

For the second time in a week the town clock has slipped. On Monday night the face of the clock on the southern side was dark. People in the south of the city wonder what they have done to deserve this punishment. The town clock is now two up on the Post Office clock in misbehaving.

TEMPERATURE SKIDDED

Monday the temperature moved up to a comfortable 38 degrees, six above the freezing point, but during the night it hit the toboggan and zoomed down to five above, a drop of 33 degrees in less than 12 hours. Early morning pedestrians found the sudden change nippy and a biting wind added to their discomfort.

EXPENSIVE THAW

Loss of money and time was the result to the city's rink system due to the early January thaw, which appears to be changing back to seasonal temperatures today. All surfaces had been flooded and ready for the business in the new year. The melting ice and snow reduced them all to bare ground again, necessitating re-flooding and rebuilding of the ice surfaces.

ASK SWING-SPAN TENDERS

Firms offering tenders for the dismantling of the steel swing span near St. Catharines, to be later re-erected at the east end of the Chemong Causeway, have until Jan. 15. Upon receipt of a bid accompanied by a $10 cheque, plans, specifications, labor conditions, etc., may be obtained from the Superintending Engineer of the Trent Canals. The Department of Transport asked for the tenders.

HORSE FANCIERS Freddie and Bobbie Boyce, 555 King St. W., spent nearly a week during the recent soft spell to model three life-size steeds on their front lawn. While they were at school on Monday, neighbor Peter Dorris coaxed their family pet 'Tony' to have a ride. Judging from the dog's bored expression, it was not his first experience. Optimists Plan To Visit Toronto

Seven hundred dollars and a pile of foodstuffs were reported as the result of the Sunday afternoon concert of Christmas music to the Optimist Club as their meeting in the Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel. The food hampers were distributed by Major Charles Watt and his Salvation Army helpers. Besides the two packets of foodstuffs, the price of admission to the concert, hampers were received from people who phoned in. The cast contributions phoned in were collected by the members of the Optimist Club assisted by the Boy Scouts.

International President C. Milt Morris of the Optimist Club is visiting the 15th District of the Optimist International a Toronto on January 20. All the clubs in the district are invited. The local club is planning to send a bus to this special occasion. District 15 is a large district as clubs as far east as Vermont are in the district.

Three new members were voted into the Optimist Club. The voted was handle by John Pierce. The new members are Richard Oulmet, Jeffrey Grindrod, and Anthony DeNoble.

Jack Dawson is the new sergeant-at-arms of the Optimist Club. He was kept on the go throughout the meeting fining members anywhere from a dime to a dollar for doing things against the wishes of the club. Mr. Dawson himself was fined for neglecting his duties. The Optimist treasury was fattened by the number of fines paid.

Peterborough Club has just completed renovations to Trafalgar House which they will use as a boys' work centre. The only thing required is good used furniture.

A sing-song was conducted by Frank Hamon who played the piano.

HEADS POLICE GROUP

PC Dennis Traynor was elected president of the Peterborough Police Benevolent Association at a meeting Monday night. He replaces retiring president PC Harold Mesley. Other officers elected were: Gordon Trennum, 1st vice-president; Ernest Beatty, 2nd vice-president; William Aggas, secretary-treasurer.

Jebson's Remark Annoys Council

J. A. Jebson's expression of annoyance at alleged delay by the council in providing a site for the Memorial Community Centre has apparently been flicking members of the council.

"I think the public is bewildered about this Centre matter," said Ald. Hurrell Dodds. "A lot of time has gone by since the fund was started for a Memorial Centre. People forget, and I think we ought to have the clerk prepare a report on the details of what has gone on."

"I agree that we are being blamed for the whole thing," said Mayor Swanston.

The chore of recollection was left to City Clerk Outram.

What's In A Name?

One prisoner in the police court box today had a finicky choice of words.

Asked where his home was and details of his work, he recited some places he had worked, and added: "I was in an institution in Toronto for a couple of weeks—nerves, you know."

"What institution was that?" Magistrate Philp wanted to know.

"I can't recall the name," said the prisoner, thoughtfully, scratching his head.

"It was somewhere they call the Don, I think," he said helpfully.

"That's the jail," said his worship.

"I called it an institution," was the reply with frosty dignity.

3-Ft. Setback On George St. Brings 2 New Protests

Ontario Municipal Board is being asked by City Council to come to Peterborough to hear the case of what may be called the three-foot setback on both sides of George St. south from King St.

Coca Cola Co. and Howard Outram Company on the east side of the street south of Dalhousie St. have joined in the objections which were made to the Board in Toronto by Schneider-Alexander interests at the northeast corner of Dalhousie and George Streets, National Grocers at the southeast corner and Wm. Addyman at Sherbrooke St.

After the hearing in Toronto, the Board notified the council that they would approve the by-law if it excluded those three properties. Publication of this statement has aroused the objections of Coca Cola and Outram Company. Presumably the Ackerman Company and possibly others are also interested.

The understanding of the council from correspondence with the Board was to the effect that, if opposition was submitted, the Board would hold a public hearing in Peterborough. That is what the motion last night by Mayor Swanston and Ald. Dick Raine is asking.

It was said that Cherney Bros. and the Haywood-Reilly Co., who have erected new buildings on the west side, south of King St., are protesting that their new values will be diminished if present projections are left permanently as they are.

New Buildings Only

"I don't think that we meant that setbacks should be on anything but new buildings," Ald. Doug Miller said.

"But, the bylaw says, 'If any structural changes are made in a building'," Ald. Gillespie quoted. "That could mean front or rear, not just alterations in the front of a building."

City Clerk Outram reminded the council that Coca Cola was planning to build a new plant at Lansdowne St. and Erskine Ave., west of May's School. They might expect to sell their George St. property. If a buyer thought of converting it for retail purposes, and altering its front to that end, it might be seriously handicapped if such alteration required a three-foot setback of the whole front in the ground floor and two upper stories.

City Solicitor Huycke: "I think you should have the Municipal Board come here, and let those who wish to do so air their views."

Mayor Swanston: "That is the only fair thing having in mind the value of the buildings and the protests we have tonight. The

City Had Only 3 Major Fires In 1948

Kresge Blaze Caused $200,000 Loss And Knocked Out 22 Fire-Fighters

There were three major fires in Peterborough during the past year — the Canadian Ventilating Shades Co. on Park kSt., Kresge's on George St., and the Windsor Hotel on Brock St.

The most damaging one of the three and also the hardest to battle, despite the fact it was confined to a small area, was the $200,000 Kresge fire.

Almost exactly a year ago—3 a.m. on New Year's morning while revellers were on their way home — the Ventilating Shades' fire broke out. Flames shooting from the roof of the building could be seen from the Club Aragon and they were also seen by Chief George Smith as he turned down Park St. to answer the call at 3.15 a.m.

The rambling one-storey premises housing dried lumber and a large quantity of sawdust and shaving was too well alight for the firemen to save it, and apart from the office at the northwest corner it was levelled.

A strong east wind was blowing and the temperature was far below zero which proved extra handicaps to the firefighters. Although the wind doomed the front part of the factory and the warehouse to destruction it is believed to have saved a nearby grocery store to the south and a row of houses on Brioux St. to the north.

The blaze started in the boiler room and was not discovered before it had eaten into the lumber and had broken through the walls and roof. Total damage was set at $72,659.

Firemen had to pull away the collapsed roofing to get at the smouldering embers below. Besides the difficulty of penetrating the structure they found there was no sprinkler system to assist in dousing the flames.

Also badly damaged was a truck which had to be pulled from the interior of the building the next day.

Loss $72,659

Original estimate of damage through fire, water and smoke was set at about $50,000, but this figure was raised to $72,659.

The worst fire of the year was on the night of August 17 when the basement and main floor of the Kresge building sustained damage roughly estimated at $200,000. This included the cost to upstairs offices where smoke was the chief offender.

Commenting on that fire, Chief Smith commented: "It was the hardest we've had around here in a long time. It was difficult for the men to cope with as there was only one way of getting at it."

This one means of getting a hoseline into the basement was through the parcel chute leading down from the sidewalk on Simcoe St. It was not until after 1 a.m. (nearly four hours after the alarm) that holes could be knocked in the main floor of the building allowing cellar and other swivel nozzles to be sunk.

A couple of hours later holes were knocked in the brickwork at the rear of the building between the store and Kingan's hardware, and here other lines were inserted.

Barrels of such inflammable substances as paint—50 gallons of it—and at least two barrels of lard added to the fury of the blaze which for several hours was contained in the basement. The fire was not spectacular, relatively speaking, but on the other hand it was difficult to combat.

As an indication of its intensity, however, it is only necessary to recount the fact that 22 firefighters—some of them volunteers—were overcome through the combined effects of smoke, gas, injuries and sheer exhaustion.

"It was 98 per cent in the basement," said Chief Smith, and it only burned through the floor in a couple of places."

Rapid Renovation

As soon as the water was pumped from the basement of the Kresge building and the charred remains of the stock removed, rebuilding operations began. The floor was ripped out and a new one put in; the store was completely redecorated and was open for business in record time.

The day after Christmas Peterborough had its third big fire of the year. At about 2 p.m. an alarm came into the Fire Hall that the Windsor Hotel was ablaze.

When the firemen arrived they could see smoke pouring from the cornices as the flames had a strong hold on the third and fourth storeys.

"There was lots of smoke, but it wasn't too difficult to fight" was the comment of Chief Smith after the blaze had been extinguished.

The upper portion of the building was accessible; there was a stairs at the rear of the hotel and from the front the aerial ladder, used for the first time, poured in a large volume of water at point blank range.

Although it was bitter cold weather and the firemen encountered trouble with frozen hydrants, the blaze was never out of control.

None of the 16 hotel rooms was occupied at the time of the outbreak and nobody was injured.

Aerial Ladder Used

Outstanding feature from the fire fighters' point of view was the effectiveness of the aerial ladder. The chief said that ordinarily it takes about eight men to place a ladder and a couple immobilized in holding it at the bottom.

With the new equipment one man can direct the stream of water from the nozzle as he stands at the top of the ladder and another man at the bottom is sufficient to manipulate the mechanically controlled aluminum ladder.

Originally the damage was set at $40,000, but a subsequent check cut that sum to $11,000.

While the Chief would have liked to see no major fires in his first year as head of the department he is pleased that there were no casualties. This year he is hoping to see the fire loss cut still more.

"Peterborough has as good a record as any city of its size in Ontario," he says proudly.

Labor Council Has No Status Organizer Says

A special meeting of Outboard Marine employees has been called for Thursday in the Knights of Columbus Hall to consider the invitation to the Independent Outboard Marine Workers Union to affiliate with the United Steelworkers of America, M. J. Fenwick announced today.

"We want Outboard employees to be thoroughly acquainted with our program and policy before they decide to join our union," he explained. "We think their place is with us as we already have relations with two divisions of the company in Milwaukee. A tie-up with employees there will benefit both groups."

He scoffed at charges made by UE spokesmen.

"The UE had no business entering the Outboard Marine picture in the first place," he emphasized. "The jurisdiction is ours and the UE knew it. Now it tries to make out that we are the offenders".

"As for Mr. Barber's statements, it is obvious that he is out of tune with the leaders of his Union. I have been assured by officers of the United Packinghouse Workers of America they are in full support of our drive in Outboard Marine, Western Clock and De Laval plants. It seems Mr. Barber prefers to play ball with the UE."

Since the Allied Labor Council has no official status and is not recognized either by the Canadian Congress of Labor or the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, any statements its officers make are strictly personal and do not reflect organized labor's official views, Fenwick said.

A DANGEROUS TRIP

The pull of home at Christmas time has brought wanderers from the ends of the earth, but here's a tale of a man who risked his life to be with his family. He is Jim Rosebush, Apsley, and perhaps because he is a veteran woodsman, he saw little danger in the jaunt, although few urban dwellers would attempt it. He was working at Indian Head Lodge, Chandos Lake, and wanted to be with his family directly across the lake. The day before Dec. 24, the lake had been open and Thursday night it froze over. He started across on skis, but skidded too much, so he returned got a toboggan, two garden forks from the tool shed. Kneeling on the toboggan and using the works like ski-poles he propelled himself across the lake without incident. During the trip he passed within ten feet of open patches of water, but never stopped and consequently didn't even get wet.—McG.

Production Of 'The Taming Of The Shrew' Complete Work Of Little Theatre's Workers

The Little Theatre's forthcoming production of "The Taming of the Shrew" is, so far as we can discover, the first complete production of a Shakespearean play to originate in Peterborough. Costumes, settings and everything which contributes to the physical appearance of the play have been designed and made by Little Theatre workers, and it is expected that play will be more elaborate in these respects than anything which has been seen in this city since the great days of the Opera House.

Over thirty people appear in the play as actors or musicians; at least thirty others have been concerned in the technical work which must be completed before the play goes on.

"The Taming of the Shrew" is a farce. Its structure is simple. A nobleman, returning from hunting, finds Christopher Sly, a tinker, lying drunk outside an inn. As a joke the nobleman has Sly taken to his home, where he and his servants convince the drunken man that he is himself a lord who has been out of his wits for some years. As part of the entertainment provided for Sly a travelling group of players perform a farce about a wealthy, bad-tempered girl who is turned into a wise and sweet-natured woman by a tempestuous wooer. This play within the play is the real story of "The Taming of the Shrew." The Little Theatre will act it as Shakespeare intended—as an uproarious farce.

In presenting a Shakespearean play the Peterborough Little Theatre attempts something which is uncommon among Little Theatres in Canada. They will also take their production to the Eastern Ontario Drama Festival, which will be held at Brockville in February, where it will be the first Shakespeare play to be presented in over fifteen years of festival work.

Encouraged by the warm support of their fellow citizens last January, the Little Theatre committee is presenting "The Taming of the Shrew" for three nights, January 27-29. The seat sale has been brisk, but seats for each performance may still be obtained at the Public Library.

Offer Hamilton Man Post Assessment Commissioner

Norman A. Wilkes of the assessment department of Hamilton is being offered the post of assessment commissioner in Peterborough at a salary of $3,500. The resolution by Ald. H. Dodds included the attracting proposal of Ald. Grant Miller that an immediate increase of $500 spread over two years at $250 each year be held out as a further inducement.

Ald. Hugh Waddell, chairman, reported that Mr. Wilkes had mentioned something around $4,000 on his recent interview here.

"He'd have an apprenticeship to put in here," said Ald. G. Miller. "He's got to learn local values, and prove himself satisfactory. I'm in favor of offering him $3,500 to come here."

Ald. Arthur Burrows: "Does the Council wish to make the appointment this year?"

Ald. Waddell: "I think it should be done right away."

Two recommending letters were received by the committee. One was from Dr. L. A. Clarke, MOH, who was head of Peterborough's health department several years, and James Berry, city clerk.

It was said that Mr. Wilkes was nominated by the assessment commissioner to be his deputy, but the board of control directed that seniority should be recognized. An assessor of longer experience got the job.

Mr. Wilkes is still a young man, although he has had 15 or 16 years' experience in Hamilton, and has been doing senior work.

"I can see that assessments and appeals may take a more prominent part in the municipal affairs than in recent years, with increasing tax rates," Ald. Waddell remarked. "That prospect warrants having a department second to none."

"Does this mean no local man can do the job?" Ald. Jas. Gillespie asked.

Ald. Waddell explained that two men of Peterborough's department have been employed a "relatively short time," and another young man has been taken on to learn the business.

"Our staff men lack the term experience that a good assessment commissioner should have," said Ald. Waddell.

Mayor Swanston quoted several comparative figures in a comment that Wm. J. Henry, retired commissioner, had been greatly underpaid.

Not Advertised

The information to Ald. Gillespie was that the commissioner vacancy had not been advertised. The names of several local men who might be possibilities were considered. Inquiries were made elsewhere, and through Max R. Sloan, former commissioner, now with the Ontario Department of Municipal Affairs.

Finally Mr. Wilkes was asked to come to Peterborough toward the end of December.

In Hamilton last week, Ald. Adam Sands said Mr. Wilkes was highly recommended to him by members of the realty board.

"If he comes to Peterborough he will be giving up 15 years on his pension in Hamilton," City Clerk Outram remarked.

Ald. Doug Miller: "Will the new salary affect other departments?"

Mayor Swanston: "Probably to some extent."

Ald. Dodds: "Should the position be advertised?"

Ald. Waddell: "With the inquiries we have made here and around the province, I don't think so."

The decision of the committee is a recommendation to the Council, but in the meantime it will be conveyed to Mr. Wilkes.

Hunted In Preserve Fined $20 And Costs

James C. Huggins, 211 Carlisle Ave., was fined $20 and $2.50 costs in court today when he pleaded guilty to hunting on the Peterborough Crown Game Preserve. The charge, for an offence some months ago, was laid by Robert H. Trotter, game and fisheries overseer of Apsley.

Henry Hum Sails For Native China

After two unsuccessful attempts to visit China, Henry Hum, formerly of the Paris Cafe, and a brother of Hum Hoy, left at midnight Monday on the first lap of his journey home. He will meet a friend in Boston and then travel to San Francisco. Mr. Hum will sail from there before the end of the month.

It will be a sad homecoming in a way, since he is going without Hum Hoy who was buried in Little Lake Cemetery a few weeks ago. But he is looking forward to it. He has not seen his family since 1933. His son, little more than a baby then, is about 17 years old now and has been attending the same school in Canton as Tommy Hum, formerly of Peterborough. Mr. Hum will also be welcome by his wife and his 80-year-old mother.

Loaded with presents for all his relatives, Henry Hum is returning a regular Santa Claus. He is not sure how long he will stay, but expects to spend at least a year.

For many years, "Henry's" cheerful face and good humour made him a favorite at the Paris Cafe. Since Hum Hoy sold the restaurant, he has been working at the DeLuxe, marking time until final arrangements could be made for his sailing.

Mr. Hum is looking forward to his visit in China, but he is also looking forward equally to returning to Peterborough, which has become home to him.

RCEME Recruits To Meet Tonight

Peterborough's second reserve force unit, 37th HAA Workshop RCEME, associated with the 50th HHA Regt. RCA, will hold its first organizational session tonight at the Peterborough Armoury, when recruiting and documentation will take place.

A goodly number have signified their intention of joining this technical unit which will service the local HAA regimental equipment. A sound schedule of training has been initiated, and equipment will be available soon to make this workshop one of the best in Canada.

Recruits are requested to attend this evening's session, commencing at 7.45 o'clock.

Want Appraisal Of 3 Sites For New Centre

"How much are we paying Bosley? We keep calling him down here as if he were making street car trips," said Ald. Doug Miller in an enquiry about Mr. W. H. Bosley, Toronto, expert realtor and appraiser.

"If he comes here he will charge for his services," Ald. Hugh Waddell, chairman, said at Monday night's finance committee meeting.

"Possibly it might be $100 a day," said Mayor Swanston. "I don't know what it is. We've never had a bill from him."

The reference to fee was a parenthesis in a discussion of site for the proposed Memorial Community Centre.

Ald. Herbert Young was reporting on the recent interview with the Memorial Centre committee and their rejection of the suggestion that they provide the money for an artificial ice plant a the Civic Arena.

Three Centre sites are to be evaluated. One is midblock group of four houses on the east side of Burnham St., opposite the Hunter St. bowl also the Children's Shelter and the Queen Mary Hospital.

One of the proposals is purchase of the Burnham St. location. Another is to trade the isolation hospital property for the Shelter, on George St. south. So, it happened that Dr. Young mentioned comparative values and Mr. Bosley.

"I thing it would be quicker if we asked the executive of our local real estate board if they would make the valuation," said Mayor Swanston. "We might get the answer sooner for the Centre committe."

Ald. Young seconded the Mayor's motion.

Presumably, Ald. Doug Miller's Bosley reference was to his appraisal and report on the market square properties and also on the proposed site for the new city hall.

Resort Owners, Sportsmen Meet

To discuss restocking of local lakes with fish, conservation and other matters relating to fish and game, a combined meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, the Fish and Game Association, and a group of resort owners will be held Wednesday night. It will be held in the Chamber of Commerce board room.

It was decided to include resort owners so they could discuss conservation matters affecting their business. About 25 have been invited and they are from one general area so that their problems will be as similar as possible.

Letters have been dispatched to operators on Stony Lake, Buckhorn, Clear, Katchewanooka and Love Sick lakes, and a large number of acceptance have already been received.

Many operators have been expressing concern over what they regard as the rapidly depleting stock of game fish in local lakes, and they hope to arrive at some constructive policy as a result of this meeting.

Campbell Rowatt, president of Fish and Game Association, and James Fraser, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, have been advocating such a meeting for some time.

Man Told Choose Woman For Brains, Not Beauty

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a man 27 years old and hold a very fine position with a well established firm. Two years ago my mother died, leaving me quite alone in the world, and my thoughts have turned to marriage. Will you please tell me whether I should pick out a wife for her beauty or her brains?

Dorothy Dix

EDWARD H. M.

ANSWER: Of course, no one will deny that beauty is a great charm in a woman. We all like to look at one who is balm to the eyes, and it is natural that any man would like to have a wife who is a decorative piece of furniture in his home. Also, it is true that sometimes beauty and brains and a sweet temper are all to be found in the same woman.

Heaven knows ugliness is no guarantee of virtue. A woman with a pug nose may be just as stupid and hard to get along with as one with a classic profile, and certainly the beautiful but dumb are easier to endure than the homely nit wits.

Beauty Fades

But beauty in itself, without intelligence, is a poor thing for a man to marry for, because he is bound to lose out in a few years. Beauty fades, and when that is gone, if the woman has no wit to supplement it, she is lost. She has no other attraction to offer the man she married. It is boredom that sets most husbands to roaming and swells the divorce statistics.

On the other hand, a wife who lacks beauty but has brains usually can keep her husband nailed to his own fireside by keeping him entertained and amused and being easy to live with. With an intelligent woman you can reason. She can look on both sides of a subject. She can broaden. If she marries a fine, strong, intelligent man, he can develop her into anything he wills. She can grow to his stature. But you can do nothing with a fool. There is nothing to work on. She is a fool to the end of the chapter.

So, if a man wants to be happy though married, let him pick out a girl with good, hard horseesense. A pretty face can catch him, but it will take brains to keep him happy and satisfied after marriage.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Won't you please write something that will make husbands take better care of their health? My husband, whom I love dearly, has been ailing for about a year; but he will not go to the doctor's for a checkup. Says he will get all right eventually, but I don't see how he can at the rate he is going. He seems to think that all men are mortal but himself. He can see that a friend has a nasty cough or pasty color, but is sure that if he neglects himself he will get along just fine.

A WORRIED WIFE.

ANSWER: Why intelligent men act this way, nobody knows. Whether they have a childish fear of the doctor and what he may tell them, or whether they don't want to take medicine or can't bear to think of having any of their personal affairs interfered with, goodness only knows.

And yet every man knows that there are many diseases that, taken in their incipiency, can be cured, but that are fatal if allowed to run on, and that the best way to preserve his body is just the same as it is with his house—keeping it repaired. Patching up the places that are giving away. Watching out for breaks. But men just won't see that they need medical attention until often it is too late to do them any good. That is why we have so many more widows than widowers.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I married when I was very young; but after several years of unhappiness I was forced to leave my husband, taking with me my little boy, who is a darling child. Now I am engaged to a fine man, but this is the rub: He is insanely jealous of my son and does not want him to live with us. I think it would just about kill me to be parted from my baby.

What shall I do—give up my child or give up my fiance?

MARY V. J.

ANSWER: If you are a real mother, you will stick to your child and let the man go. Your first duty is to the child you brought into the world, and you should consider that above your own happiness. Furthermore, you won't be happy if you give up your little boy. You will miss him every day and hour, and you will hear his cries of Mother even above the vows of devotion of your sweetheart.

Your are fortunate in this respect, that your fiance has told you before marriage how he feels toward the child, and that gives you the chance to avoid the mistake of marrying him.

Surprise An Ingredient Of Wit and Humor Mr. C. J. Davis Defines

"Surprise is the first essential ingredient of wit. Hence witticisms seldom bear repetition or if repeated they lose much of their sparkle" Mr. C. J. Davis of Lakefield told a large group of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority girls Monday evening. Three chapters, Alpha Theta, Exemplar and Nu Phi Mu joined to hear the address on "Wit and Humor" by this widely travelled and educated teacher who is now taking active interest in the community to which he has retired.

He further defined wit as the discovery of such an unexpected relation between ideas as will excite surprise, but no other higher emotion, like that excited by the sublime, the beautiful or the useful." There must be discolsed some unexpected relation between ideas and intellectual acuteness on the part of the discoverer."

"Observations such as the French saying 'that hyprocrisy is the homage vice renders to virtue' are not regarded as witty because it excites admiration for its truth and justness' he explained. An example showed two distinct and apparently contradictory ideas expressed in such terms that a relation between them does exist and this unexpected discovery constitutes wit.

"When the unexpected relation is not so much between ideas as between words, the witticism is called a pun," said Mr. Davis. "The pun is an inferior species of wit—some people say it is the lowest form of wit. If carried to excess it becomes tiresome and boring, yet sometimes puns are very effective."

Turning to "humor" Mr. Davis pointed out that it's object is to excite laughter and appeal to the sense of the ridiculous. "Laughter produced by humor comes from seeing things which are incongruous" he said. "This is another way of saying it unexpected, surprising, and therefore Surprise is an ingredient of humor also.

But surprise and incongruity alone do not provide humor if they excite a higher feeling such as pity, fear, reverence etc. "To laugh we must have a certain feeling of superiority over or a want of sympathy with the thing laughed at", he said. To be humorous, incongruities must be characteristic of the person in whom they are found, thus a humorous story of a Yankee in keeping with his character would cease to be humorous if told of a Frenchman.

"In genuine humor there is always a feeling of kindliness toward the persons who are ridiculed" Mr. Davis told the girls. "Humor in this respect differs wdely from wit for it is never bitter, never malignant, but perfectly consistent with the largest charity and has ben defined as a compound of wit and love."

The speaker pointed out that writers who have been most celebrated for their wit have usually been noted for their ill-temper, while humorists in the main have been persons of kind and amiable disposition.

Mr. Davis then delighted his audience by reading anecdotes of the great that illustrated his points regarding wit, puns and humor. He added original jokes and remarks to those which had already punctuated his address with interesting sidelights.

Mrs. B. Duder of Alpha Theta Chapter introduced the speaker and he was thanked by Mrs. J. Dougherty.

6—In Memoriams

GLAUM—In loving memory of John H. Glaum, who passed away on January 11, 1947.
In my heart your memory lingers,
Always tender, fond and true,
There's not a day dear father,
I do not think of you
O happy hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet their memory still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Ever remembered by wife and family.

LEAL—In loving memory of Walter E. J. Leal, who died January 11, 1945.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender fond and true,
There is not a day dear father,
That we do not think of you.
—Ever remembered by the family.

LEAL—In memory of my brother, Walter E. J. Leal, who passed away four years ago today, January 11, 1945.
If I could speak with him today,
Laugh with him in the same old way,
Hear his voice and see his smile
Life indeed would be worth while.
Too dearly loved to ever be forgotten.
—Sadly missed by his sister, Mrs. George Harvey.

MANNING—In loving memory of a dear husband and brother, B. W. Manning, who passed away January 12, 1948.
"He is gone but not forgotten
And as dawns another year
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er us,
Friends may think the wound is healed
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within our hearts concealed."
—Ever remembered by wife and sister.

WEBB—In loving memory of our dear father, William Webb, of Pontypool, Ont, who passed away one year ago, January 11, 1948.
One year has passed dear father,
Since you were called away,
How well do we remember
That sad and weary day;
You suffered much, you murmured not,
We watched you day by day,
We prayed that your dear life
Would not be taken away.
—Sadly missed by his loving wife May, and family, Lloyd, Herman, John and Elsie (Mrs. Roy Mullen).

News . . . in Brief . .

By The Canadian Press

CAMPBELLTON, NB — Fire gutted the Joseph Elias building, causing $35,000 damage. The blaze left 20 persons homeless and put a restaurant and a beauty parlor out of business.

FREDERICTON—An apparent case of murder was under investigation following discovery of a Fredericton taxi driver's body locked in the trunk of his car. The body of Norman P. (Sliver) Burgoyne was found in his car on the outskirts of Fredericton.

HALIFAX—The Halifax branch of Cable and Wireless Limited, one of the direct links in cable transmission from London to the Pacific and West Indies, helped to celebrate the centenary of the first cable message. The Halifax cablehead aided in circulating a congratulatory message, originating from London, around the world in 80 seconds over some 25,000 miles of cable.

QUEBEC—Mrs. Edward Graves Meredith, well-know Quebec sportswoman, died. She was 86. Mrs. Meredith, widow of the late E. G. Meredith, was a charter member of Stadacona Chapter of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, and had been active in the organization during both world wars.

THETFORD MINES, QUE. — Rolland Labbe, 24, plunged 300 feet to his death when a stone loosened by a landslide in the mine well where he was working cut his safety belt. The youth, employed by the Asbestos Corporation Ltd., was working against the wall of the open well at the time.

VICTORIA HARBOR—Turning out in numbers almost one third greater than in the municipal elections a week ago, residents of the village decisively rejected for the second time in eight years an attempt to introduce beverage rooms in this local opinion community. An application to obtain a dining licence to permit the sale of beer and wine, at a local hotel, was also soundly defeated.

FORMOSA, Ont.—Firemen of four departments, aided by some 200 persons from Formosa and nearby centres, halted a furious fire that destroyed a saw mill in the heart of this Bruce County hamlet and kept the damage down to an estimated $25,000.

OTTAWA—Prime Minister St. Laurent says in a letter to Archbishop Alexandre Vachon of Ottawa he is convinced "no people have greater repugnance than our people of Canada" over the "brutal persecutions" of Cardinal Mindszenty. Moreover, the government was consulting with other signatories to the Peace Treaty "with a view to taking all measures which can permit us to hope for an improvement in the Hungarian situation."

New Library.

NIAGARA FALLS— A new branch library will be opened here shortly, it was announced on Monday by Winnifred M. Stokes, re-elected chairman of the Public Library Board. Miss Stokes said the board might also begin a mobile library to serve the neighboring areas of Stamford Centre and Glenview.

ST. CATHARINES — Niagara district peach growers have been told they could expect no harm from the use of lead arsenate spray. Dr. P. D. Peterson, official of an American Chemical Company, told the annual convention of the Niagara Peninsula Growers' Association that one grower used lead arsenate five times on one yield without injury from the poison.

Derailment

PINE BLUFFS, WYO. — The Eastbound Union Pacific City of Los Angeles streamliner was derailed when it struck a bulldozer at this eastern Wyoming town. The 10 cars remained upright and the only injuries were bruises caused by falling baggage. The operator of the bulldozer was injured.

BUFFALO—Bernard Lembits, 47-year-old war veteran who was charged with murder in the shooting of two employees of the local veterans administration office last Oct. 14, was committed to a mental hospital. He admitted the slayings, saying he was dissatisfied with his disability rating.

WESTFIELD, NJ—William M. Kelly, 79, inventor of the Kelly Automatic Printing Press, died after a long illness. He retired 12 years ago. Shortly after the turn of the century he developed the high-speed Kelly press and later headed the Kelly division of the American Type Founders, Inc.

NEW YORK—A spokesman for New York's taxicab operators said all cab owners have been ordered to remove radios from their cars. Harold DeWolfe, managing director of the League of Mutual Taxi Owners, said the city's reason for the order—to cut down accidents—was not valid.

BUENOS AIRES—Sixty-seven-year-old Francisco Fourriel swam 38 miles in the Atlantic Ocean to "fulfill an old aspiration." The swim was a round-trip job between two ports, Ingeniero White and Villarino Viejo. It took 10 hours, 20 minutes.

Board should sit here and let the whole thing come out."

Ald. Gillespie's reference was to the pith of the proposed bylaw: "No building, or any part of such building shall hereafter be erected, enlarged or converted, or structurally altered, on either side of George St. from King St. to Lansdowne St., within the distance of three feet from the street line of George St."

"It should be made to apply to new buildings, and forget the buildings there at present," said Ald. Herbert Young.

But, on the other side of the question of fairness, it was recalled Cherney Bros. and Haywood-Reilly Co., had set their new buildings back three feet in compliance with the bylaw which the Municipal Board has not yet approved.

Objection has been raised by owners of old buildings that if they planned any enlargement, even at the rear, as stated in the bylaw, they could be required to change their front by setting it back three feet.

Mayor Outlines Duties Of Four Municipal Bodies

"Peterborough has one appointed body and three elected bodies in its municipal government," said Mayor M. Swanston, while addressing the Rotary Club on the municipal government of Peterborough at their weekly luncheon on Monday.

"The police commission, made up of the mayor, the judge and the magistrate, take office automatically by virtue of their position. They are in complete control of the police force and the police budget for the year."

"An important elected body is the Utilities Commission. There are three men elected to hold office in that department. It looks after the water, electricity and gas supplies for the city. This body is one of the most efficient in the set-up. They prepare their own budget and business for the year. Their monetary income is used by themselves. At all times this body has worked closely with the Council and did a splendid job during the recent power shortage."

"Education comes under the Board of Education, which is the second elected body. They look after the schools' maintenance, the problems of the teachers, school doctor and dentist. The Board cannot issue debentures. This must be done by the largest and most important elected municipal group, the mayor and the council."

"Their main duty is to secure funds to keep the city running on an even keel. They appoint such Boards as the City Trust, Public Library Board, and the Civic Hospital Board. These boards send their estimated budgets into the Council where they are added to the yearly municipal estimate."

City Trust Formed

"Nearly 100 years ago the City Trust was formed. At that time the city was finding it hard to finance its undertakings. In recent years this part of the municipal government is looking after the payments on debentures and the debentures themselves. Special tribute should be paid to the late E. A. Peck, the late W. R. Morris, G. A. Gillespie and Vincent Eastwood for their work on the City Trust," he said.

"Citizens of Peterborough should be proud of its very capable officers such as the city clerk, fire chief, police chief and others. There is excellent cooperation between the different municipal departments, thus the best possible service is received."

"Our most important problem is fixing the tax rate for 1949. People believe that we put a number of tax rates in a hat and pull one out. They call the mayor and his civic partners spendthrifts. But we arrive at the tax rate from the costs of last year and the cost of civic projects in the future."

"There are two opinions locally; first, Peterborough doesn't need to expand, and the second that it does need to expand. We believe that any town or city with sufficient houses to accommodate its inhabitants is going back behind the times. Peterborough is among the best in easing the housing shortage. If we are to meet our obligations Peterborough must grow in population and in industries. Our civic projects are costing plenty, being paid for over a long term. The only way to pay for them is through taxes. We must not have a high tax rate thus discouraging people and industries from coming to Peterborough. Therefore we must have more people in the city to help defray the cost of the taxes. We have to sell Peterborough to other people. So far this city's tax rate is comparable to any town or city of its size."

"There cannot be too many large projects going on at the same time. The people of Peterborough can rest assured that the Council will give preference to the most important first."

"The city's municipal government is criticized at various times. We welcome this as it helps us to determine what the people really desire. Suggestions are gratefully accepted also."

Mayor Swanston was introduced by Gordon Matthews and thanked by Ian McRae.

Guests of the Rotary Club were A. H. Lewis, R. O. Standish, Willian Godson, Q. Woods, O. L. Dalgleish, B. Thorne, Toronto, and G. L. VanKoughnett, Napanee.

Members of the club were led by Charlie Allen and the Glee Club in the singing of some merry tunes.

Acquit Farmer Of Rustling

CORNWALL, Jan. 11—(CP)—William Haines, 43-year-old Dundas county farmer, was found innocent Monday on a cattle rustling charge.

Haines had been charged with illegal possession of cattle owned by Earl Watkins, a neighboring farmer.

After a 5½-hour trial here, Judge D. E. Lewis of Brockville said there was no conclusive evidence to indicate that Haines was planning to sell the stray cattle found in his barn.

The charge was laid against Haines following police investigation into operations of an alleged ring of cattle rustlers in Eastern Ontario.

Given 15 Days For Theft Of Wallet

Detective William Clark testified that the wallet disappeared shortly after DeRoche had visited Mr. Harrison's home, where it had been on a table. When arrested, the accused admitted the theft but was unable to say where he had left the papers, which are still missing.

Reporter Finds Reds Kindly During Visit

(Editor's Note: Associated Press Correspondent Seymour Topping left Pengpu on the North-Central Chinese war front more than a week ago to get behind the lines of the Chinese Communists. Then he vanished. Here is his first dispatch since then, filed upon his return to Pengpu.)

By SEYMOUR TOPPING.

PENGPU, China, Jan. 11 (AP) —My assignment to enter and report from Red China ended here Monday. The Chinese Communists terminated a week-long stay behind their lines with an order for my prompt return to this Nationalist-held city.

The expulsion presumably came from a high Communist. It was delivered to me January 7 at a Red Army headquarters of undisclosed identity. This headquarters was reached two days previously under escort following a four-day trip through Nationalist lines and my initial contact with Red troops at a roadblock about 15 miles north of Pengpu.

Talk was common of a Communist occupation of Nanking by summer through encirclement instead of direct assault, south upon Pengpu, and on to the north bank of the Yangtze for a river crossing to the Shanghai-Nanking area.

The October 10 statement of Mao Tse Tung, leader of the Chinese Communists, that it would take one more year to defeat completely the Nationalist government is widely quoted by Red troops.

There was extreme courtesy and kindness for my personal comfort during my entire stay in Communist areas, although my arrival at Red Army headquarters was greeted with suspicion and distrust.

My baggage was searched and my typewriter and camera were taken away from me until my departure. During my stay, there were three Communist soldiers inconstant attendance at a peasant cottage, to the immediate vicinity of which I was restricted.

Maginot Line Proves Useful Bunkers Are Used As Homes

By FRANK DONGHI
NEA Staff Correspondent

BOULAY, France—(NEA)—The Englishman traditionally claims that his home is his castle but Paul Kodernia, a Frenchman of the Atomic Age, has taken a fortress as his home.

Paul solved his post-war housing problem by moving from his bombed-out farmhouse into a bunker of the Maginot Line.

"I thought I'd pick something solid this time," he said, with a gesture toward the massive concrete fortification behind him. It has walls six feet thick. It probably cost $100,000 when the French were studding their northern frontier with these vast, futile fortifications.

Kodernia's kids, geese and sheep seem to be thriving. The sheep graze contentedly among the bunkers and barbed wire.

Kodernia is one of a number of Frenchmen who have converted the abandoned line of forts into peacetime housing. The line is useless today, for Frenchmen realize better than any others how futile was their attempt to build a steel and concrete wall against modern invasion tactics.

Kids play among the bunkers. Cattle and sheep munch the lush grass which grows in fields once sewn thick with mines. Thrifty French farmers have made good use of much of the millions of feet of barbed wire.

The years of hard work, some 140,000,000,000 substantial pre-war francs, 21,800,000 man-days of work and 900,000 tons of materials became junk when the Germans broke through the line in 1940. All that failed to buy security for France but today it is providing a little shelter for hard-pressed Frenchmen.

SOPHIE ROLLE, "pin-up girl of the Maginot Line," also lives in a wartime bunker.

Ingrid Bergman To Make Film In Italy

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 11 (AP).—Ingrid Bergman leaves next month for Italy to make a film about women in displaced persons camps.

"I wish I did have something planned in Hollywood," said the Swede, who recently returned from making a film in England. "But good scripts are hard to find. I want to do something important." She said the Italian trip will be strictly for work and she won't take her family.

People And Things!

Humphrey Bogart is hepped up on his producing career, but would just as soon cut down on his acting. "Twenty years ago when I was 21, I liked acting," he said on the "Tokyo Joe" set. "Now it wouldn't appeal to me to stop working and sail awhile." (Note to Bogie: Weren't you 21, 27 years ago?).

Jane Wyman has no plans for the future. She has been announced for Alfred Hitchcock's "Man Running," but there's no script yet and the film won't be made until May. She says she won't do "Serenade." What she'd like to do is "The Glass Menagerie."

Greer Garson has a trophy she values almost as highly as her Oscar. It's a gold watch as a token of esteem from the acrobats she worked with in "Julia Misbehaves." The head of the group has said, "Give me four months of training with her, and I'd make her a great acrobat."

Veronica Lake says she has become "the grandma of the Paramount lot." She has been there longer than any other actress. She plays a dope fiend in "Slattery's Hurricane," but no mention of it can be made on the screen, for censorship reasons. She wonders if audiences will get the idea.

The secretary was instructed to send to Institute headquarters for 200 blotters. Every member present gave all the pennies in their purses and the sum of 80c was collected to help defray the cost.

Mrs. Frank Andrews gave a report on the convention area program, which was held in Toronto in November.

It was decided that no hospitalization fees will be accepted by the group leader, Mrs. L. H. Edmunds, unless members are active or have helped the Institute, throughout the year.

The next meeting will be held in the Library on the first Friday in February. Lunch conveners will be Mrs. Harry Rogers, Mrs. Fred Gardner, Miss M. A. Carter and Mrs. A. Gill.

Tea was served by Mrs. A. Duckworth, Mrs. A. Gill and Mrs. Roy Baker.

10 Tons Slabs Crush Plant Worker

Second Man Injured Condition Serious; Concrete Wall Falls

TORONTO, Jan. 12 — (UP) — One man was killed and another seriously injured today when 10 tons of prefabricated concrete fell on them at a waterfront plant.

Dead was Serge Borko, 45, father of four small children. Taken to hospital with possible spine fracture was John Hanza, 50, whose condition was reported "serious".

Hanza, pinned beneath the concrete slabs, was freed by fellow workmen. A post-mortem will be conducted today on Borko.

Coroner F. W. Tickett said the accident occurred as the two men were working as cement finishers on three side walls on a wooden rack.

"Two concrete walls were on one side of the rack and one on the other," he said. Under the rack is a vacuum lift capable of lifting 20 tons."

The lift was set in motion somehow and it toppled the wooden rack over, releasing the concrete wall, he said.

Company officials said the slabs were for a Hydro building being constructed at nearby Islington.

FOUR BORN IN 19 MONTHS—Some sort of record in population increase is being set by a young Montreal family. In the past 19 months of their three years of wedded life Rene Trudeau (22) and Mrs. Trudeau (23) have been blessed with four children. The twin girls Francine and Francoise, held by Mrs. Trudeau, arrived last Friday. Held by Trudeau father, Jacqueline (left) is nine months old and Jean (19 months). Mama and papa Trudeau are both doing well.

Young Criminals Given Attention

TORONTO, Jan. 12.—(CP). — Joseph McCulley, Deputy Commissioner of Penitentiaries, predicted Tuesday night development of two Federal penal institutions specially for the treatment of young convicts and reformable prisoners. He said special provisions for vocational training facilities also would be provided.

"Although the primary purpose of imprisonment is to protect the public, with an element of punishment inherent," he told alumni members of two colleges, "it is increasingly evident to protect society from the criminal, we must not only lock him up but must also do something about the situation that brought him behind bars."

He said the various types of offenders must be segregated and classified for special treatment and the modern penological program must begin with this.

Funeral Postponed Corpse May Be Living

CHARLEROI, Belgium, Jan. 12 —(Reuters)—The funeral of Jean Clobours, 61-year-old farmer of nearby Leuves, has been postponed until doctors decide whether he is dead or alive.

Clobours, taken ill with influenza last Wednesday, "passed away" early last Saturday. The family doctor issued a death certificate.

Friends and relatives who helped with the funeral arrangements Sunday and Monday noticed that the body was still warm and supple. They also saw that Clobours back was slightly moist presumably with perspiration.

One of the relatives remembered that Clobours' grandmother had fallen ill at one time and slept for a week. A distant cousin, it was recalled, had also been similarly stricken.

The local gendarmerie were called in and ordered the funeral postponed pending further examination.

3 Trade Officials Have Been Suspended

LONDON, Jan. 12 — (CP)— Three Board of Trade officials have been suspended on the basis of information received during the inquiry of a judicial tribunal into allegations of corruption against ministers and government officials, it was announced today.

A spokesman for the board said the junior officials concerned are one temporary assistant and two higher clerical officers. He added "the allegations are being investi-

State Dept. Man Arrested For Treason

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12—(AP) —The United States Justice Department today announced the arrest in Germany of a former state department employee, accused of treasonous wartime collaboration with the Nazis.

He is Herbert John Burgman, 52, a native of Hokah, Minn., who worked for 20 years in the United States embassy in Berlin as a clerk and economic statistician.

The justice department said that when the United States went to war with Germany in 1941, Burgman refused the opportunity to be repatriated and took a job with the German short-wave radio, broadcasting in English to American armed forces.

Department officials said that since the war, he has shifted from one job to another in post-war Germany. Under surveillance for some time while his case was being investigated, he now has been picked up by United States occupation forces. The department plans to fly him back later this month when a treason charge against him will be presented to a grand jury at his point of landing.

To date, 24 persons have been indicted for treason to the United States in the second world war—12 of them for enemy propaganda broadcasts.

Fire Out Of Control

CAMPBELLTON, N.B., Jan. 12 —(CP)—Fire, which destroyed an apartment building and a restaurant here early today, was burning out of control at noon and threatened nearby buildings. Four families have already been rendered homeless by the fire.

Dying War Veteran Asks Honorable Army Discharge

BUFFALO, NY, Jan. 12—(AP).—A plea that a 25-year-old Second World War veteran whose physician says he is dying be granted an honorable discharge from the army was expressed Tuesday in a "petition of right" directed to the "people of the United States."

The petition was issued by Jay T. Barndsdall, Jr., a lawyer, on behalf of James H. Schaffner, of suburban Cheektowaga.

Barnsdall said Schaffner was falsely arrested and tried by a United States Army court martial, imprisoned for three years at hard labor and because of misstatement contracted tuberculosis and now has only five months to live.

Schaffner's physician, Dr. A. H. Garvin, says his present life expectation is less than five months.

The petition which Barnsdall says never has been used before in the United States makes use of an ancient British legal custom in which appeals for justice could be directed to the King.

"In this country," said the lawyer, "every man is a king . . . the royal prerogative to use 'let right be done' rests finally and ultimately in the people."

Asks Redress

Barnsdall said Schaffner was arrested in London after he went absent without leave from the United States army air corps to visit his wife when their child was born prematurely. Months late he was court-martialled and sentenced to three years hard labor, to receive a dishonorable discharge at the expiration of the sentence.

The petition said Schaffner was imprisoned "amid filthy and loathsome surroundings" at a disciplinary training station near Paris and that his weight dropped from 175 to 120 pounds in less than six months. He was discharged May 7, 1947.

Craft Begins Murder Appeal

TORONTO, Jan. 12 (CP)—The appeal of Austin Craft from a conviction of murder in the prison-break shooting of Kingston Penitentiary messenger John D. Kennedy began here today.

At his trial Craft testified that he alone was responsible for Kennedy's death. Urquhart was acquitted of the murder charge.

C. L. Dubin, Craft's counsel, argued today that the trial judge erred in not directing the jury to consider Craft's ability to stand trial. Craft had been committed three times to mental hospitals. It was shown hat Craft had been insane and when he came to trial there was "a common law presumption" that he was still insane, Mr. Dubin said. The trial judge had not placed the defence of insanity to the jury as fully as he should have. He had erred also in directing the jury that the burden of proving Craft's insanity lay with the defence.

Mr. Dubin argued also that the trial judge had erred also in not leaving with the jury the alternative verdict of manslaughter. The hearing is continuing.

Norway And Denmark Likely At Conference

LONDON, Jan. 12—(Reuters)—Norway and Denmark are expected to accept invitations to attend an Atlantic union conference in Washington when the premiers of the three Scandinavian countries meet again in Copenhagen on, or soon after, Jan. 20, well-placed observers in London said today.

Sweden is expected to remain neutral.

The Copenhagen meeting will decide, in the light of the report of the defence experts of the three powers, what policy each will adopt to approaches from Washington to become members of the proposed North Atlantic alliance with Britain, the United States, Canada and the Western European countries.

Fine Durocher $500

CINCINNATI, Jan. 12 (AP) — Leo Durocher, manager of New York Giants, and Freddie Fitzsimmons, former Boston Braves coach, today were fined $500 each by Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler

The men were found guilty of negotiating a contract for 1949 while Fitzsimmons still was a member of the Braves. The New York Club was fined $2,000 for violating the tampering rule which prohibits any club from dealing for the services of a player or coach while he is under contract to another team.

Britain Determined To Keep Suez Canal Route Open

LONDON, Jan. 12 — (CP) — Traffic along the vital Mediterranean-Suez trade route flows uninterrupted despite the troubled situation in the Middle East and British policy is to see that it continues to do so.

Official sources said there seems to be no immediate danger to the Egyptian canal zone from which flew the five RAF fighters shot down Friday by the Israelis. Merchant vessels continue their peaceful journeys without interference.

Nevertheless Australia, New Zealand, and countries of the South-east Pacific are interested in steps to guarantee the safety of the canal, their main shipping link with the United Kingdom.

British troops and airmen now stand guard on Egyptian soil by virtue of the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian Treaty. They are part of the British defence system that stretches from Gibraltar down through the Red Sea via Malta, Cyprus and Egypt.

"We have nothing to indicate Israel or anyone else has considered invasion of Egyptian territory to the extent that international shipping would be endangered in the canal zone," a spokesman said.

As a precaution, however, 300 commandos have sailed from Malta to the canal, two destroyers, two frigates, and a submarine are standing by at Cyprus, and an aircraft carrier, a cruiser and a destroyer have been recalled to Malta from a cruise. There is speculation that jet fighters, faster than anything the Israelis have yet shown, may reinforce RAF Spitfires and Tempests in Egypt.

A small British task force has been sent to Trans-Jordan at the Red Sea port of Aqaba under treaty arrangemnts with this state.

The security of the Mediterranean route is a basic factor in the British defence policy. In October Commonwealth Prime Ministesr meeting in London were told defence adjustments have been made to compensate for the withdrawal of British forces from Palestine when the mandate ended last year.

Plan To Take Gold Miners Under Wing

Mine Union Gets Brush-Off; To Study Leadership

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.— (CP).— The Canadian Congress of Labor handed its left-wing affiliate, the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, another jolt today by announcing it was moving into that union's field among gold miners in the Timmins area.

The Congress, which has been engaged in a long running battle with the Smelters' Union over that body's claimed Red leadership, declared it was going to organize the 7,000 Timmins miners into a group directly affiliated to the CCL.

Last summer, the Congress suspended the Smelters Union for a time after its official publication made it an attack on CCI officers. It was reinstated following apologies.

An indication that further steps were being planned against the IUMSW's Canadian leadership was given in the Congress announcement today, which said that the "entire matter" of its organization in this country was to be discussed at a meeting in Pittsburgh later this month.

At the meeting will be spokesmen for the CCL, the parent Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO) and International President John Clark of the Smelters' Union.

Asked To Withdraw

Today's announcement said the Congress had asked both the Smelters' Union and the United Steel Workers of America to withdraw from the Timmins field to permit its organization drive.

The steel workers group, which went into that field at the suggestion of the CCL after it had become dissatisfied with the Smelters Union's progress there, has agreed to withdraw.

The attitude of the IUMMSW was not known.

Last year, it objected when the Congress offered to take over organization in that field, which normally could be considered within the jurisdiction of the Smelters Union. That offer was made at about the time Reid Robinson, then Canadian head of the union, was deported to the United States as a suspected Communist.

This time, without indicating the stand of the Smelters Union, the CCL announced it was moving in anyway.

Worst Conditions

A. R. Mosher, CCL president, said that "some of the worst wage conditions in Canada exist in the Timmins area."

"Previous organizational efforts," he declared, "have not produced the results to which these workers are entitled, and it now is the intention of the Congress to throw its full weight

Marriage Form Brings Protests

TORONTO, Jan. 12 (CP)—Ontario's new marriage registration form, a foot-long sheet of 29 questions, has drawn a double-barrelled protest from Toronto West Presbytery of the United Church of Canada.

Ministers told Tuesday's meeting that the form, in use since Jan. 1, is too complicated. If such a form must be filled out, then a civil servant should do it, the presbytery agreed in a resolution.

The presbytery also said it was impossible for any average minister to know whether information asked for in the form was correct "and yet it is required that the correctness be so declared."

Presbytery was told of Rev. Allan H. Ferry who married a couple whose grandparents were Canadians but who did not know where their great-grandparents came from. Consequently the form turned in left a question on "racial origin" blank. The form was turned back by the government as incomplete.

Quite An Epidemic

KINGSTON, Jan. 12 (CP). —Appendicitis is not generally thought to be contagious but employees of the local Canadian Pacific Telegraph Office are not quite sure. In the last two weeks three of the office's four messenger boys have come down with attacks of appendicitis. Operations on two of them have been required. Dec. 28, two boys suffered attacks almost simultaneously. During the New Year's Day greeting rush and New Year's Eve's bad weather the telegraph office struggled along with only half of its messenger staff. Then, Jan. 3, a third messenger became ill. Diagnosis?—Appendicitis.

Sault Canal Vital Point; Will Protect It

SAULT STE. MARIE, Jan. 12 (CP)—The Sault locks and canal —a "vital point" in case of emergency—is getting "active attention" of Canadian and American defence authorities to prevent sabotage.

Defence Minister Claxton disclosed this Tuesday night in a speech before a dinner given by the Sault Ste. Marie regiment. He said providing heavy anti-aircraft protection by reorganizing the reserve Sault infantry regiment was one step already taken to guard against "sabotage or other damage."

It was fortunate, he said, that Canada had not many "vital points" which might warrant the use of the "very few and very expensive atomic bombs an enemy might have."

But it was necessary that "effective steps are taken to ensure that everything possible and practicable is done to protect such points in the event of an emergency."

Defence Expenditure

He also forecast the expenditure of more than $30,000,000 in the 1948-49 fiscal year for defence construction and intimated that part of it may be used to start on armory construction for reserve unist.

He hoped the St. Lawrence waterway project would be started "as soon as possible and pressed to completion in the interests of national defence and international security."

If it was desirable in 1941, it was more desirable today, the defence minister said.

Plane Over Israeli Territory When Brought Down Surviving RAF Pilot Says

Bevin Wins Full British Cabinet Approval For His Get-Tough Policy; Will Be No Change In Palestine Attitude

TEL AVIV, Jan. 12—(Reuters).—One of the four RAF pilots shot down last Friday by Israeli forces told reporters here today that his Spitfire was over Israeli territory when it was set on fire by shots from Jewish ground troops. PO Frank Harvey Close of London, attached to RAF reconnaissance wing at the Suez Canal base, was interviewed with his consent in the Jewish military hospital near Tel Aviv. He is recovering from injuries to the face and head suffered in his parachute landing from a low altitude.

He said he knew his flight had crossed the border because he was familiar with the road land marks in the area. He could not say whether his flight leader knew they had flown over the Israeli side of the frontier.

"We had received information suggesting that Israel forces had crossed into Egypt," Close said.

"We were instructed to photograph their advance positions . . .

Crossed Frontier

"We arrived at the front without seeing any troops at all, whereupon we crossed the frontier. I know the area. Whether our flight leader had instructions about crossing the border I do not know.

"There I saw lots of troops," he said.

Close said that up to that time his flight had encountered neither anti-aircraft fire nor hostile planes.

In reply to questions Close said he and others had instructions to evade action if engaged by aircraft.

Close said that when he parachuted it was near some Jewish troops who gave him first aid, and sent him to Beersheba military hospital.

Wins Approval

LONDON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin apparently won from the full British cabinet today approval for his get-tough policy against Israel.

A high government source reported there would be no change in British Middle East policies. He said Bevin will give parliament an account of affairs there soon after it convenes Tuesday.

Bevin gave the cabinet a report on the Mid-East crisis, which the Foreign Office calls a grave threat to peace. The cabinet met

American Firm To Open Branch In Peterborough

A new industry "Luminous Processes Limited" is joining the family of Peterborough Industries, Alderman Richard Raine, chairman of the manufacturers committee, announced today. Arrangements were completed yesterday for the new company to acquire space in the Canadian Sealright building.

Luminous Processes Limited, with head office in New York, is associated with Radium Chemical Company also of New York, largest supplier of radium equipment in the United States. The former firm since 1918 has supplied the Western Clock Company with the luminous dials for their clocks and watches. E. A. Outram, city clerk, stated that for some time Mr. John H. Vernor, manager of the Western Clock Company, has been actively engaged in encouraging the company to establish a branch in Ontario to better serve the needs of the watch and clock industry and Mr. Vernor urged this industry to locate in Peterborough.

Joseph A. Kelly, of New York, president of Radium Chemical Company, and Rufus A. Fordyce, of Chicago, vice-president, have been in Peterborough for a few days at the invitation of Mr. Vernor. The purpose of the visit was to locate suitable premises for the new industry. After investigation it was found that the second floor of the building occupied as an office by Canadian Sealright ideally suited the original needs of the company. This space has been leased by Luminous Processes Limited from Canadian Sealright Company Limited and the new operation will commence this spring.

The city clerk said that at the commencement the operations of the new industry will be small but it is indicated that as the market for their products quickly grows in Canada the company is prepared to expand their facilities here.

Referee Clancy In Last Year

OTTAWA, Jan. 12 — (CP). — Frank (King) Clancy has served notice he is working his last year as a National Hockey League referee. "This is my last year as an official," he told a luncheon meeting yesterday held in honor of the visiting Chicago Black Hawks.

"It has been 11 years now for me as a referee, and I am going to be finished this year, thank God."

It was understood that President Clarence Campbell of the NHL plans to place Clancy in charge of referees after this season.

RUSHING SEASON.— Ontario's first barefoot boy for 1949 could not resist the mild weather Southern Ontario and most of Canada enjoyed during the past week. Fred Caughy, 10, of Blenheim, refused to wait until spring to remove his shoes and go barefoot. His younger brother Edwin (right) was more cautious. He kept his shoes on. However, we rather believe Fred would not take his shoes off to-day.

Miners Work 15 Hours To Save Slide Victim

CAIRNBROOK, Pa., Jan. 12—(AP).—A band of miners worked more than 15 hours in one-man relays to rescue a fellow-worker early today, but he died shortly afterward in hospital.

William Wallace, 27, was crushed under a 20-ton rock slide yesterday in the Cairnbrook mine of the Loyalhanna Coal Company. He was unconscious when freed.

Say Tientsin Surrenders To Red Army

Ask To Be Evacuated From Tangku Port; Shelling Continues

NANKING, Jan. 12—(Reuters). — Rank - and - file Kuomintang (Government) party members are becoming increasingly impatient with the so-called ineffective moves of the Cabinet to obtain a negotiated peace with the advancing Communists, political observers said today.

These observers said the increasingly popular desire of the war-weary masses for peace explained Tuesday's call for an immediate cease-fire by the Control Yuan — the country's highest supervisory body.

The Control Yuan, popularly elected, possesses no executive or legislative authority and has the power only to impeach. However, it has taken the initiative to further peace moves.

Political observers expect the Cabinet soon will consider the Control Yuan's appeal for a cease-fire.

It has been reported by radio, that the Tientsin National garrison had agreed to the surrender of that north China city to the Reds.

The reports said the National force of 60,000 troops had agreed to give up the city of 3,000,000 if they were permitted to be evacuated "with light terms" through the port of Tangku, 27 miles from Tientsin.

Some 16 ships were reported waiting off Tangku anticipating the removal of National troops if the Reds accept the proposal.

The radio added that the Communists originally offered to accept the surrender on these terms: that Nationalists lay down their arms within the city; all military supplies and equipment be protected for handing over to the Communists, and the lives of all National soldiers who obey these terms will be protected.

The exact situation in Tientsin was still confused here but it appeared the eventual surrender was being arranged under the pressure of the peoples' demands.

Other reports here said the Reds shelled the city Tuesday night, after the surrender ultimatum was given, and "quite a few casualties" resulted. No estimate was given on the number.

The shelling suggested to observers at Peiping, 90 miles northwest of Tientsin, that the Communists found the Nationalists' reaction to their demand unsatisfactory.

It was presumed that the Tientsin council delegates on a reported second trip into Communist territory tried to bargain instead of agreeing to outright surrender of the city, swollen by war refugees to 3,000,000 persons.

Fire Attracts Crowd At Noon

A flooded oil burner at the Duffus service station, Water St., at noon today, caused lots of smoke and drew a large crowd of spectators. Damage was limited to some burned out wiring on the blower.

One of the mechanics first noticed black smoke pouring from a vent in a grease pit sunk in the floor above the furnace. Another workman ran into the basement and turned the stove off but it continued to belch smoke and the fire department was called.

A 30-second burst with a booster pump was sufficient to extinguish all traces of fire. Smoke was so thick that firemen were barely able to see what they were doing, and they emerged from the basement red-eyed, coughing and smeared with oil soot.

"Lucky it wasn't a real fire," said one of the bystanders, there's 8,000 gallons of gasoline stored down there."

behind an organizational campaign in the interests of these gold miners."

The Congress, it was understood, plans to affiliate new Timmins members to itself directly, rather than to any individual union, for the time being. Later, they would be assigned to a union—probably the Steel Workers group, which has received the tacit blessings of the CCL in picking up members from reddish CCL unions. The Steel Union is one of the strongest right-wing bodies in the Congress.

Will Withdraw

At Toronto, C. H. Millard issued a statement saying that the United Steelworkers would withdraw from the Timmins field in view of the CCL announcement and he hoped the Smelter would take similar action.

Canadian director of the Steelworkers, Mr. Millard said that recently more than 1,200 Timmins miners asked that either his union or the United Auto Workers (CIO) establish a mine organization. Although the Steel Union had organized workers in iron ore mines it had no charter under which to organize other metal miners. However, some organization work had been started.

R. H. Carlin, director of the Smelters' Union, said in Toronto he expected to comment later.

for four hours at 10 Downing Street, Prime Minister Attlee's residence.

The report included the reasons behind the decisions to establish RAF patrols along the Egyptian-Palestine border. It was near there that five RAF planes were shot down by Israel last Friday The Foreign Office and Air Ministry have called the attacks "unprovoked."

Text of the foreign office statement which describes Israel's actions as a grave threat to peace, follow:

"Recent events constitute a grave threat to the stability and peace of the whole Middle East. His Majesty's Government take an extremely serious view of the dangers of the situation and feel that a supreme effort must be made to achieve peace and a settlement in accordance with the resolutions of the Security Council.

"They are fully reserving their position and their future action, but meanwhile are exercising great restraint and are avoiding any action which might jeopardize the hopes for successful negotiations at Rhodes under the auspices of the acting mediator."

OutCome of Aggression

"The reports of the acting mediator have no room for doubt that the present crisis is the outcome of Jewish aggression. Since the beginning of October the Jews have launched three military operations in violation of the truce—in the Negeb, beginning on Oct. 15; in Northern Galilee, beginning later in October, and the Negeb beginning on Dec. 22. They have so far failed to comply with the Security Council resolutions of Nov. 4 and Dec. 29. These have been accepted by the Arabs. The Jews have made incursion into Egyptian territory and are still occupying Lebanese territory."

"The British government had anticipated these attacks would take place and they did in fact take place. The possibility can not be excluded of further Jewish attacks in violation of the truce in Jerusalem or elsewhere against the forces of Trans-Jordan or Iraq."

"His Majesty's Government feel that the honest thing for both sides to do is to accept the Security Council's decisions. From that point with the Conciliation Commission let them negotiate a peace settlement. The British Government has never taken any step to prevent a negotiated settlement. The United Nations records show that we continually reiterated that we thought the final settlement would have to be something reasonably acceptable to the Jews and the Arabs."

E. Rosborough Will Head Ayrshire Club

Earl Rosborough of Smith township was elected president of the Peterborough-Durham Ayrshire Breeders Club at their annual dinner meeting Tuesday at the Empress Hotel. He succeeded Clarence Allen of Newcastle, president for the last two years, who strongly advised that "the office be passed around."

Vice-president is Clarence Coons of Lakefield; secretary-treasurer, Clarence Mann of Smith, beginning his fifth year in that position.

Peterborough directors are: William Brealey and Richard Elmhirst of Indian River and Stuart Mieklejohn of Smith.

Durham directors: Arthur Breckenridge, Baillieboro; Stuart Morton, Bowmanville; and Alex McMaster.

Victoria: Harry Jackson, also auditor.

Joseph Lanthier of Leithcheroft Farm, Gormley, discussed the effects of the work of Andrew Jordan, fieldman for the Ontario Ayrshire Breeders Association, of which Mr. Lanthier is president, during the two years since his appointment. The cost of this undertaking was $500 a month of about $6,000 a year.

"That sounds like a lot," Mr. Lanthier said, "but we have approximately 1,000 breeders in the province, so the cost to each of us averages about $6 for our fieldman. Who will say that the results are not worth it? If there was some way of assessing just one project, our all-Ontario Ayrshire sale at Oakwood last October, it alone would probably repay our members. It was of greatest benefit to those consigned cattle to that sale, but it was also an indirect help to all of us in the setting standards of value of our breed and also of increasing the value of cattle entering into private sale."

"There is nothing better than a bang-up sale. It adds prestige to our breed, it keeps the public interested and it gradually tends to attract others to Ayrshire cattle.

The average amount received for the cattle at the sale was $500. It appears to me that this project was of great help to our breeders. It was a high calibre sale. I checked over the details of 47 sales in the United States and Canada last year. They brought out something like 3,000 cattle, realizing $75,000. Our Ontario sale at Oakville with its average of $500 stood fourth in that list for average prices received by breeders. I feel like saying further that it compares favorably with the figures for any other breed sale."

Interest Keen

Mr. Lanthier said that Ayrshire breeders in Ontario were to be congratulated on the progress they have been making with their herds.

"Previously to the last two years there was no personal work in the province for about 20 years. Interest has been quickened during those two years in sales, shows and records, and in our breed as a whole."

Mr. Lanthier said he was surprised by the records made last year by Ayrshire breeders as recorded in the Ayrshire Journal.

"I was first attracted to the records in Alberta, but in making up a page advertisement for ourselves I was really surprised at the range of our records. I think we should all be proud of them. Most of us stress our twice-a-day milking and with a steady production of 15,000 or 16,000 pounds of milk a day we don't have to go behind the door for anybody.

I could not help but think where we might be today if we had had our field work maintained as some other breeds have done. I think it is a tribute to our breed that we have come such a long way without the benefit of active field work."

Field work should be tied up with publicity, Mr. Lanthier said. "We have been handicapped by lack of funds and organization behind us. I think we should look for more financial support from our parent organization. They are getting the most of the money our members pay for registration fees and transfers. I feel like paying a tribute to Andrew Jordan. He has had to chart his own work. It has been difficult for him to make all the calls we would have liked him to make."

Mr. Lanthier advocated the planning of projects such as the Oakville sale, Red and White Days, barn meetings, artificial insemination and other activities that could be undertaken. "But, we have been lacking in funds to do some of things we have in mind."

Expect Unrest In Egypt When Defeat Announced

LONDON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Popular unrest is likely in Egypt when the people learn how badly their army has been defeated in the Palestine war.

Shut off from the news by censorship, the Egyptian people never have been told how badly things went for them in the fighting with Israel.

Now, on the eve of scheduled Egyptian-Israeli armistice talks on the Island of Rhodes, the Cairo government must tell some of the withheld facts to a zealously anti-Zionist population.

Egypt has vowed many times it would not negotiate with the Jews.

King Farouk's recent plea for unity apparently was intended to spread responsibility for any settlement as widely as possible among the country's political leaders.

Diplomatic informants believe this explains Egypt's move for an all-party coalition government.

The Nationalist Wafdist Party, replying to the unity call, announced last night it was willing to join a coalition regime under an independent premier. Prime Minister Hadi Pasha today said that this conditional acceptance amounted to rejection.

Strongly Nationalist, but less anti-British than most other Egyptian parties, the Wafdists are rated as the strongest single party in Egypt.

Should Hadi Pasha and the Wafdists come to terms, Arab and British diplomats here believe the Jews would find it harder to reach a favorable armistice agreement.

Danger Of War Has Lessened Pearson Says

WINNIPEG, Jan. 12 (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said here Tuesday night that war between Soviet Russia and the western democracies is less likely now than six months ago.

Mr. Pearson, addressing the closing dinner meeting of the annual Manitoba Liberal Progressive Association convention, said that Canadians nevertheless have "every reason to be mortally afraid" of the long-run effects of east-west differences.

"I think that it (conflict) is less likely now than it was six months ago and that the mobilization of opinion in the recent United Nations assembly at Paris against Communist policies is one reason why the situation has eased somewhat," said Mr. Pearson. "There is, I believe, a lessening of tension in Europe at the moment."

Another speaker at the annual convention was Justice Minister Garson, former Manitoba premier and expert for the Dominion government on Dominion-provincial relations. He defended the agreements signed by seven provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—with the Federal government on taxation.

Mr. Pearson said that the success of the Berlin airlift had tended to stabilize the situation there even though it is as potentially explosive as ever. A contributory factor to the easing of the strain was that the Berlin situation now is before the United Nations Security Council.

He said that the proposed North Atlantic defensive union is "our strongest insurance against war."

Golds Dipping Down First Time This Week

TORONTO, Jan. 12 (CP) — Golds dipped downwards for the first time this week in moderate trading here today. Industrials showed signs of firmness and Base Metals held steady at Tuesday's gains.

Golds faltered in their upward swing as profit-taking cut into recent strong gains that pulled the price level up into mid-March. Activity slowed as prices began to slip. A few seniors dipped fractions and junior producers showed declines ranging to 25 cents.

Montreal Locomotive was a feature in a firming industrial board, adding a point. A handful of other steels also tightened and liquors were brighter. Utilities slipped fractionally and refining oils were easier.

Merchant Sailors Given Training

OTTAWA, Jan. 12 — (CP). — Certain of Canada's merchant seamen soon will be taking vocational training on the same basis as the members of Canada's armed forces, Veterans Affairs Minister Gregg and Transport Minister Chevrier today announced in a joint statement.

Those eligible for the training are merchant seamen under 30, who served in Canadian ships and received the special bonus payable to those in the merchant navy prior to April 1, 1944, or the war service bonus which was payable subsequent to that date.

Only those who have left the sea, or who obtain permission of the Transport Department to take up shore occupations will be eligible for the training. Application for it must be made prior to July 1 of this year.

The training will be administered by the two departments. The Transport Department will decide eligibility, and the Veterans Department will arrange the training and payment of allowances.

The allowances will be the same as those provided for members of the armed forces. Sixty dollars a month will be given trainees without dependents, and $90 for trainee and wife, plus allowances for any children or dependent parent.

Fuel Drivers' Strike Tentatively Settled

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—A threatened strike of 2,500 New York fuel truck drivers has been settled tentatively and city mediators, working against a midnight deadline, held out hope today of averting a walkout of 3,500 harbor craft crew members.

Strikes by both the drivers and harbor men had been set for midnight tonight.

A tentative wage agreement will be submitted to the drivers tonight, and mediators expected approval.

The tentative truck agreement provides daily pay increases of $1.75 for coal truck drivers and $2.25 for fuel oil truck drivers, raising both groups to $14 for an eight-hour day. Other benefits also were granted. The union sought a flat $16 daily wage.

AA Battery Officer Tells Uses Of Radar

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 12—(ENS)—Some of Britain's defence secrest before and during the early part of the war were described by Captain P.W.R. Sergeant, Administrative and training officer of the 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Battery, when he addressed Lakefield Lions club on Monday.

Captain Sergeant said that radar stations were built along the coast of Britain as early as 1936 and by the time the Luftwaffe attacked in 1940, it was possible to detect the movement of aircraft 150 miles away and warning of air raids would be given half an hour in advance. It was because the Germans knew that Britain's equipment could not, at that time, detect low flying aircraft, that there were many surprise attacks.

There were also a number of peacetime ties for radar, particularly in the field of medicine, Captain Sergeant said. He hoped, however, that the Western powers were allowing development of radar to keep pace with new offensive weapons.

"The balance sheet at the end of the year will count not so much in dollars as in the moral life of the Council," he stated, "and they are accountable to the power over all."

He told the Norwood Council that individual righteousness is not enough; it is leaders that make a community.

1824 Price Of Milk Said To Be 4 Cents

BETHANY, Jan. 12—(ENS)—The days when beef and mutton sold for 5 cents a pound, potatoes at 18 cents a bushel, butter at 16 cents a pound and milk at 4 cents a quart in Cobourg were recalled by Mrs. Clarence Page who reviewed the history of Cobourg at a meeting of the Women's Institute at Mrs. William Phillips' home.

Mrs. Page, who is the branch's convener of historical research, said the settlement, begun in 1793, was first known as Hamilton, receiving the name Cobourg in 1819 in honor of the marriage of Princess Charlotte to Prince Leopold of Saxe Cobourg, Germany. The name was selected by the Rev. Wm. McCauley, who was the first Church of England clergyman there.

Mention was also made of Dr. John Gilchrist, who was the first doctor in the province to be given a license by the Upper Canada Medical Board. In 1824 there were 350 inhabitants. Now the population is 7,500.

After discussing how to raise funds for the branch, it was decided to hold a series of euchre parties in Orange Hall.

A letter was read from the adopted Institute "Bewcastle Bailey" in England, thanking members for a parcel sent to them recently.

A program, arranged by Mrs. J. C. Cummiskey and Mrs. H. Bristow, included old time songs accompanied by Mrs. Jennings with her guitar and Mrs. Clarke Pomeroy gave a reading.

A fruit and vegetable contest was won by Mrs. Harold Sanderson. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. K. Hamilton, Mrs. C. Page, Mrs. H. Bristow, Mrs. J. C. Cummiskey and Mrs. R. Palmer.

The next meeting is in charge of group 3, with Mrs F. W. Reynolds and Mrs. T. S. Gault as joint conveners.

The Cost Of International Power

The U.S.A. has become the most powerful nation on earth. Its citizens are now learning what Britons learned in the last century, that such power is costly to maintain and brings burdensome responsibility. Half of the immense $41,858,000,000 budget submitted by President Truman on Monday is for discharging the responsibilities of power and for maintaining it. In other words, more than twenty billion dollars will be spent on international finance, economic support of Europe — that is, "enlightened self-interest" — and on the "cold war". The defence estimate alone is $14,300,000,000. The fourteen billion dollars mean that $100 will be spent for every man, woman and child in the U.S.A. Canada is currently spending $27 per capita.

* * *

The price of power will be realized by every American taxpayer. There will be no tax reductions. Instead, there will be increases. The tax increases proposed will not balance the budget, so next year the tax load may be even greater. Further, there is no end in sight of the financial demands for international and defence expenditures.

* * *

For all this the Americans have some rewards. Spending on such a scale helps to keep industry and agriculture flourishing. E.R.P. is "enlightened self-interest" because it is like bread cast upon the waters: it may return in later years when Europe can pay its way and provide cash markets for American produce. The Americans can boast of this, the biggest budget any nation has ever had in peace-time, because so much of it is directed towards re-establishing the comity of western nations and defending it against an eastern way of life which is anathema to millions of our people.

Inflation?

People may think that Canada is now experiencing a period of inflation. That word is a relative term. Our economy is inflated by 1933 standards. It is, by post-war (1920 and 1948) measures, fairly stable. The cost-of-living index last published showed a slight decline. In comparison with the U.S.A. our economy is under average pressure. In comparison with present-day China, or post-Great War France and Germany, we do not know what inflation means.

Nevertheless, there are small indications that we have not entirely avoided disruptive, dangerous and destructive inflation. The price of milk, a basic food, rose the other day. Freight rates, which influence the price of almost everything we consume or use, may increase. The Canadian Congress of Labour announced yesterday that it considered general wage increases for Canadian workers justified by present conditions. Whether or not wage increases are justified, it does not take much pressure from any one direction (labour, management, capital) to put the precariously balanced wheels in motion again and set the economy off on a whirr beyond the control of gears and brakes, which would not let up until the axle broke.

On the negative side of the economic situation are tendencies of citizens of all classes to shut their eyes to long-range consequences, to have their cake and eat it. Some perhaps hope to stuff enough into their maws to be able to sit out a depression and remain sleek. In fact, some woolly-headed folk think that another depression would right matters, bring prices down (with a bang, of course), teach others a lesson about saving up for a rainy day, and put labour into a supplicating rather than aggressive mood. They smugly think that they themselves would not be seriously affected by a depression. People who think like that are not thinking. History does not repeat itself in exactly the same degree and ways. Another depression could be much more shocking than that of the early 'thirties, and the social and political repercussions would be terrible, if not devastating.

The majority of people do not look too far beyond their noses. They grumble about high taxes (who does not?) They expect big tax reductions this year (we think that they will be disappointed). They think cyclical budgeting a pack of nonsense, which is now taking money out of their pockets. Even people who have vivid, sorrowful memories of the last depression do not seem to want any governmental attempt made to avoid another. Therefore, they are frustrating ths efforts of economists and financial experts at Ottawa, who are trying to pay debts while the national income is high, and to make possible good tax reductions when the national income is low. If these efforts fail, if people will not look beyond their noses, if the price-wage cycle begins anew, inflation may result—serious inflation.

Ice For Peterborough Skates

The hockey enthusiasts now have a covered rink, and much credit is due the people who laid the plans, collected the money and doggedly stuck to the job when the summer sun was hot and there was a discouraging lack of generous support or belief that the project would ever be completed. The walls are now up, the roof on, the seats in. The hockey enthusiasts of this and last year have atoned in some measure for the neglect by alleged enthusiasts of a few years ago who allowed the Brock Street rink to be sold over their heads without a whimper, without making any financial attempt to save it from dancers.

Peterborough has its Civic Arena, but the arena has been almost bare of ice. Even people who do not play hockey or go to games sympathize with the thawthwarted hockey folk and realize the benefits, even the need, of having artificial ice. Can artificial ice be installed? How?

The good-willed proposal that money in the Memorial Centre Funds be lent for an indefinite period has been rejected. Whatever the merits of that proposal, it could not be acted on for moral and legal reasons. The money was contributed by individuals and firms for a Memorial Centre (which is not to be merely an ice palace), and if fifteen or twenty thousand dollars is nibbled from it, even as a temporary measure, for an ice-making plant, what is to prevent other nibbles being made by baseball people, folk-dancing folk, debating societies and Tiny Tot tootlers? Should the Council put up the money? We suspect that to equip the rink for artificial ice would require not fifteen but forty thousand dollars. Has the Council a right to spend that much money for the benefit of one type of sport?

Is it not possible to find in this city a handful of business men who are also ardent sportsmen who will put up the required money as a sound commercial venture? The Maple Leaf Gardens was not built by public Toronto money. Cannot a modest rink like the new Arena be made at least self-supporting (like Lacrosse), particularly when the building is debt-free, and the chief cost would be installing and maintaining artificial ice? At this stage of the game, we are inclined to think that hockey in Peterborough should not require a forty-thousand dollar hand-out. What is needed is men who have faith in Peterborough's hockey future, and money to wager on it.

Smoking At Filling Stations

The Royal Automobile Club of Montreal has suggested that service station and garage operators enforce a no-smoking rule on their patrons. The regulation already exists but is not enforced. It is a sensible suggestion, for glowing cigarettes and cigarette ash are highly dangerous in air impregnated with gasoline fumes. Even if the cigarette is in the mouth of the driver and he is is inside the car, danger exists.

We in this city have no rule against a customer smoking at service stations while his or her car is being filled with gasoline. The authorities are not unaware of the danger from gasoline fumes. A couple of years ago canopies over gasoline pumps were barred by provincial regulations, so that fumes would not be contained by the roof. The nozzles of the service station hoses are now made of metals which will not strike sparks should they accidentally be banged against the hood of a warm engine. There is a carefully enforced regulation that men must not smoke when they are filling a gasoline tank. But the patrons can smoke at will, although a service station operator, for his own safety, will warn a customer off from the pump if he comes to it with a lighted cigarette or pipe.

It seems to be due more to good luck than to careful customers that there have been few fires or explosions at filling stations in recent years. Even gasoline pump attendants and men working in garages are almost criminally careless at times. The no-smoking rules in most garages are more honoured in the breach than in the observance. Probably it will require a first-class explosion to bang us into a realization of our dangerous habits around garages and filling stations.

CANADIAN CAUSERIE

First Snow

By GEOFFREY VIVIEN

OUTSIDE the inn the horse stands, head down. It is evening and the first slow flakes of a heavy snowfall are fluttering to the ground. The farmer, whose empty cart suggests a good day of selling in the market, has thrown a cloth over the animal's back. It stands quite still and might be a statue if man were in the habit of commemorating the unheroic. As the snowfall continues, the road turns from dark brown to grey and from grey to white. Mysteriously, there are patches upon which the snow refuses to settle; they gleam wetly under the yellow street lights. In the park over the way the bare trees have disposed themselves to four month's solitude. The benches from which lovers watched the moon disentangle itself from the leafage are piled high in the Gothic shelter, which has the mournful and swept air of a cafe after closing time. With the snow a great quiet falls. A car going by makes no more noise than the whisper of a gramophone needle; when its vivid cerise tail-light is lost to sight the street is still and there is a momentous hush. Winter has come.

◆ ◆ ◆

THE Canadian character owes a good deal to the hard northern winter: patience, very close at times to resignation; and quietness, which unkind people simply call somnolence. These are the things in which we differ most from our neighbours to the south, and it is interesting to speculate what would have happened to the American character if Fate had given them the whole continent. A winter on an Ontario or a Maritime farm is a wonderful education for a man who cannot sit still or endure silence. Perhaps the American character would have lost some of its dynamism; there might even have been no General Patton, and the winning of the war would certainly have taken longer. But the world might have been the gainer in the long run; for Americans would probably have been temperamentally more suited to winning the peace.

◆ ◆ ◆

GENERALISATIONS about national character are of course not worth very much. They come on the step below opinion polls for scientific validity, and a little above them in potential danger. The mildest person will be enraged if you apply to his nation the things you tell him freely about himself. Hence the pained noises that greeted a recent book by an English anthropologist, Geoffrey Gorer, who set himself to study the American people with the same scientific detachment as he had previously devoted to a primitive tribe in the Pacific. "America" he discovered among other things, "more than any other country is actually built on words —on the words of the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence; and behind them the Word of God." Is there anything to object to in that? Yet at least one reviewer threw large-sized chunks of America's foundations back at him.

◆ ◆ ◆

OBVIOUSLY it is impossible to find any deep truths that are valid for all of 130 millions souls. Even for Canada with our modest 13 million there is very little that you can say which characterizes us all. If we in the East claim that our long, hard winters give us depth of feeling and inner strength (a claim that can well be echoed by the dwellers on the immense and lonely prairie) shall we deny these qualities to the British Columbians who enjoy a comparatively mild winter and have only the rain to discipline their souls? The answer is in the individual. No doubt there are Eskimos with shallow souls; and quite as certainly there are South Sea Islanders who have the making of saints.

◆ ◆ ◆

WHEN we turn to the poets it is surprising how different are the emotions evoked by rain and its slightly colder sister snow. The poetry of rain is full of movement, sound and light. Anne Marriott sees a woodyard in the rain up-country in Ontario and notes how:

....with a last fierce gesture rain smallpocks the oil-green water with a hurled ten million wire nails....

And Sidney Keyes, perhaps the greatest loss to English poetry that the war cost us, hears

....rain slanting
Among our orchards, printing its coded
But peaceful messages across our pavements.

But the thoughts that snow gives to the poet are much graver. These lines of Frederic Prokosch may stand for many that are full of the same brooding sadness:

We waited but saw nothing: waited but no
Sound broke the huge stillness; and slowly turning
Saw only stars like snow on the endless prairie
And a sea of snow.

◆ ◆ ◆

IT is snowing heavily now. A truck which has been standing out all the while starts up, and the snow from its roof swirls out behind it like a nun's veils in a high wind. The light from the window of the inn has an outline, and the flakes that are caught in it are bright golden. They seem to have shaken off the laws of gravity and to dance in the light as long as they will. And the horse still stands, head down. It is quite covered with snow. Its brown eyes, in which the window makes a tiny orange reflection, are sad, like the eyes of all big animals. There is much to endure. Above all, the winter.

Fast-Growing Industry

Kitchener-Waterloo Record: The plastics industry in Canada is continuing to grow by leaps and bounds. The magazine Canadian Plastics points out that the investment in that industry had reached about $43,000,000 at the end of 1948, representing an increase of $12,000,000 during the year, and a rise of nearly $40,000,000 in the past 10 years.

The number of employees has increased from 12,000 to 15,000 within the last 12 months.

Raw materials purchased by producers of plastics last year were valued at $24,000,000, about 66 per cent. of those materials being Canadian. During 1949, those purchases are estimated to total about $31,000,000, about 71 per cent. being Canadian.

HMMM! WHAT WAS THAT?

Letters To The Editor

TAXES ON WARTIME HOUSES

Sir: I see by this evening Examiner that the city is going to hire an Assessment Commissioner and that now would be a good time to revise the city assessment. I heartily agree with this and particularly the assessments on the Wartime Houses which have been sold to the tenants.

I think that the assessments on these houses are far out of line with the rest of the city. For instance the taxes on a middle-sized house are over $85 at the present mill rate. This seems very heavy taxes for a frame, four-room house with no cellar, garage or back kitchen, no sidewalks, no paved roads and no bus service past the door and only a forty-foot lot. The roads and sewers in this district have already been paid for by the Wartime Housing when the houses were built so why are we so heavily taxed? To pay for what?

I'm sure no one buying a wartime house now will attempt any improvements and consequent raise in taxes and so the city will have the slum area which was predicted for these houses, whereas I know if these people were treated fairly in the matter of taxes, this area would become a real credit to the city.

Thank you for this space in your paper.

A TENANT BUYER.

PETERBOROUGH FORGETS HER OWN

Sir: With your kind permission I write this letter upon the receipt of which, there will be many a sarcastic and irate citizen and it will no doubt be followed by a tirade of outraged replies. However it is said that releasing the dam of pent up emotions is good for the soul; and I shall have had my say.

Probably some will say it is an unjust attack, but is it wrong for a family to wish to live as one, instead of a couple merely subsisting in a meagre room, while their child, little more than an infant, is forced to remain with grandparents more than 200 miles away, because home-seekers are turned away with "no children allowed." Is it wrong for one to expect the rights bestowed on them, by their heritage as Canadian citizens?

I believe in charity and the giving of charity. I also believe that charity begins at home. However, Peterborough appears to do service to the stranger and the alien at her gate with no attempt to render service to her own more unfortunate citizen. Our friends from across the way have done and forfeited much during the past crucial years and more power to them for attempting to better themselves in our Dominion but why give them all just for the asking? Friends of mine alhough not veterans have done much in aid of the war effort. But can they find four walls to call their own? No! They may have given up a gentleman's position and sweated many a long and weary night in the making of munitions to feed our war machine but no veteran, no house. Are they not just as worthy as possibly the desk sergeant who never got beyond Ottawa?

When is Peterborough going to wake up and give needed aid to her own?

A CITIZEN.

BARBER SHOP RULES

Sir: Possibly the secretary of the local Barbers' Union, which dictates the policy of city barbers re hours of work, and price setting could answer this question for me:

What are the hours when school children can get their hair cut?

Maybe I am wrong, but my understanding is as follows: that providing the child is in the barber shop before 5 p.m., he is entitled to get his hair cut at the established price of 35 cents; if he wishes to go after 5 p.m. then he must pay adult charges.

What I am complaining about is that three times in the last few months my nine-year-old son has come home from school, which he leaves at 4 p.m. and received money to visit the same barber shop, which place he has arrived between 4.30 and 4.45. The first time he was allowed to sit in the shop from 4.30 until 4.50 and was then told that he was too late. Today, the same procedure! He arrives at the barbers at 4.45 p.m., and is told he is too late.

I have gone into the hairdresser at 5.55 p.m. when I have been delayed through business, but have I been refused—No. It seems youngsters, in the hour which they leave school and run to the barber could and should be afforded the same treatment.

Possibly the excuse will be that the boy arrived after 5 p.m., but his grandmother lives only a stone's throw from the barber shop, and each time he has phoned home and told his mother, before 5 o'clock that he has been refused.

I believe that like everybody else, the barber should have regular hours, but if they have a set of rules, let them lives up to it. We, the public, have to get our hair cut, and if the Barbers' Union set the price at $1.00, we still have to go.

I trust, Mr. Editor, that you will see fit to publish this letter, because I feel that possibly my family is not the only ones who receive this same treatment.

Thanking you,

"A CITIZEN."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And it came to pass after these things, that the son of the woman, the mistress of the house, fell sick; and his sickness was so sore, that there was no breath left in him. And she said unto Elijah, What have I to do with thee, O thou man of God? art thou come unto me to call my sin to remembrance, and to slay my son?

And he said unto her, Give me thy son. And he took him out of her bosom, and carried him up into a loft, where he abode, and laid him upon his own bed....And the Lord heard the voice of Elijah; and the soul of the child came into him again, and he revived.

And Elijah took the child, and brought him down out of the chamber into the house, and delivered him unto his mother: and Elijah said, See, thy son liveth. And the woman said to Elijah, Now by this I know that thou art a man of God, and that the word of the Lord in thy mouth is truth. (I Kings 17: 17-19, 22-24.)

◆ ◆ ◆

And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people. (Matt. 4: 23.)

◆ ◆ ◆

And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him: and he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying....

Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil. (Matt. 5: 1, 2, 17.)

◆ ◆ ◆

And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward. But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly. (Matt. 6: 5, 6.)

Robinson Says Painting Good For Nerves

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12.—(AP). —Don't just sit there worrying yourself into ulcers—grab a palette and start painting.

This prescription comes from "Doc" Edward G. Robinson, owner of Hollywood's most noted art collection and an amateur Rembrandt himself.

"It's the greatest thing in the world," he enthused. "You forget all your troubles and everything else. You can get so wrapped up you can drool all over yourself and not notice it. You can paint until dawn and not even know where the time went."

Anybody can do it, said the little tough guy.

"The less you know about painting, the better. Choose your own colors and don't conform. When you start conforming to other painters, you lose all your imagination."

The cold snap has press agents working overtime. Worst item: Barbara Bel Geddes finding an icicle on her bicycle.

I caught "The Red Shoes" a bit tardily. It's a film that shouldn't be missed. The ballet is beautiful, but the story and acting are better. The question is: Why can't Hollywood make pictures as polished as this English effort? You tell me.

Beaverbrook Denies Leaving Conservatives

LONDON, Jan. 12 — (CP). — To-day's News Chronicle quotes Lord Beaverbrook as saying he has not left the Conservative Party.

Friday, one of the Canadian-born publisher's own newspapers, the Evening Standard, quoted the central office of the Conservative Party as saying Lord Beaverbrook is "no longer a Tory." He would not renew the party donation he made for many years, the Standard said.

A. J. Cummings, columnist for the News Chronicle, to-day quoted Lord Beaverbrook as saying: "My politics are what they have always been."

Lord Beaverbrook said in this interview with Cummings that it was true he had ceased to contribute to the Epsom Conservative Association. He said he had given £100 ($400) annually as long as Sir Archibald Southby was Epsom's member of Parliament.

Sir Archibald retired in 1947, and Lord Beaverbrook is quoted as saying he does not intend to contribute to the fund of a new candidate unless his policy conforms to his own.

When asked by Cummings if he intends to support Winston Churchill and the Conservative Party at the next general election in 1950, Lord Beaverbrook replied:

"That will depend upon the policy developed by Mr. Churchill and the Conservative Party. If it is an Empire policy, then I am with them. If they fail, I will oppose them."

Saturday the 70-year-old peer told the Canadian Press that "the central office of the Conservative Party is more anxious to get rid of me than I am to get rid of the Tory Party." He added: "There is one good member of the Tory Party and that is Mr. Churchill."

Causes Riot On Train Passenger Fined $75

WHITBY, Jan. 12—Sequel to a miniature riot on the Toronto-Ottawa train early Christmas morning, Joseph H. Campbell, of Toronto, was convicted of a charge of assault and one of obstructing a railway officer by Magistrate F. S. Ebbs, in police court Tuesday and fined a total of $75. On the assault charge he was given the option of one month in jail and on the obstruction charge an option of one week.

Witnesses told how Campbell went berserk on the train, assaulting Clifford Wolfe of Toronto, and interfering with the duties of Frank Mattingly, the trainman. After throwing punches at passengers and making a general nuisance of himself Campbell was finally overpowered by members of the train crew and passengers on the train. He was turned over to Oshawa police on the train's arrival there.

"My first impression was to sentence you to jail but as you have already served a week and because you have adequately compensated those you injured, I will be content with imposing a fine," Magistrate Ebbs said.

A further charge of being intoxicated was withdrawn last week by the Crown.

THIS WAS ONE of the most recent pictures of the famed Canadian marathon runner Tom Longboat, who died Sunday at his beloved Oshweken Reservation, near Brantford. Known as the "greatest runner of them all," he was 62.

Nick In Coffin Enables Spirit Of Longboat To Join Ancestors

BRANTFORD, Jan. 12—(CP)—Marathon runner Tom Longboat, an Onondaga of the Six Nations Indians, lies buried in a white man's coffin but his spirit can rise to join his forefathers. A fellow member of his tribe saw to that.

Canada's greatest marathoner, who won international fame in races of nearly 40 years ago, Longboat died Sunday at 62. He was given a chief's funeral Tuesday with tribal services the Onondagas have followed for centuries.

Longboat worshipped the Great Spirit venerated by his ancestors long before the white men came. And it was in the tradition of the Onondagas that he was prepared for his long journey to the Happy Hunting Ground of his forebears.

On the feet of the big Indian whose earthly race was run were placed new buckskin mocassins, fringed and beaded.

From head to foot he was clothed in new cotton and woollen garments handstitched by the women of his family and of his tribe. The garments bore not a button or pin or anything else alien to the cloth.

Care For Spirit

Across the valley from the Six Nations long house in which the lengthy funeral rites were chanted, two sons and four other Indians carried the flag-draped coffin to the burial ground of the Onondagas. There a wooden marker two feet high, with "T. G. Longboat" handcarved across the top with a jacknife, was ready to be placed atop the grave.

Before the great athlete was placed in the white man's coffin, a member of the tribe took his whittling knife and cut a "V" nick at the coffin's head. That was to enable the spirit of old Tom to get out to go to his ancestors.

AT THE BROCK TONIGHT—The Masked Marvel, shown above, who meets Ben Sharpe in the semi-final bout of tonight's mat card at the Brock Arena. The main event brings together Earl McCready and Big Ben Morgan, and the fans are assured of a real tussle. Both men are powerful wrestlers with McCready holding the edge in science and ability. Morgan, on the other hand, is rough and tough. It should be a great go. Bill Stack tangles with Jack Wentworth to open the show.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

The physical fitness convention in Ottawa has come and gone. What its results will be remain to be seen—perhaps even some good will come of this one. It is noted that the definition of an amateur was skirted adroitly by all concerned. Not so, however, with the editorial writer of the Ottawa Journal, who dealt at some length with the question. Incidentally, we notice he started a para and sentence with the word "and", a habit we have. Told that it is not good English, we've always disagreed, and are pleased to see that the erudite editor of the Journal feels likewise. Of course, that is by the way and has nothing to do with the making or unmaking of an amateur.

* * * * * *

He quoted Lord Alexander as suggesting an amateur might be "a man who played for pure enjoyment" and he continues: "And surely there is no doubt at all that the existing line between amateur games and professional games is too blurred, the borderland is too dim, with its dimness likely harmful to the integrity of our youth. We have nothing at all against professional sport; it too, can be played for enjoyment, played to give enjoyment, and played manfully. What is objectionable, and probably harmful, is professional sport masquerading as amateur sport, with players playing games as amateurs when they are really professionals—taking money on the sly."

* * * * * *

But Not "Induced"

And he adds in conclusion: "The long and short of it, it seems to us, is that if players in any game are paid for playing it, the public has a right to know it, and the players themselves have a right to know that the public knows it, and not feel ashamed of it. Otherwise, with young men asked to play in games labelled 'amateur' and induced to take money 'under the table', something is done to integrity, with responsibility for what is done to it on the shoulders of those who set themselves up as governors of our games. A more honest way ought to be possible." We agree, though we've never yet seen an athlete "induced" to take money—they simply never have any qualms on the subject.

* * * * * *

This no doubt is a bit unseasonable, but Manager Eddie Murphy of the Petes, COBL champions, tells us he has suggested to loop officials that an early meeting be called. On account of there is talk of Napanee, Belleville and a second Kingston team coming in this year. With Oshawa also a possibility, two sections might be run in the league this year, or maybap an interlocking schedule of two sections. The OBA annual meeting will be held here this spring so there's lots of groundwork to be done. The Petes are planning on building a much stronger baseball squad for this coming season on the switched-around diamond at Riverside Park.

Lindsay And IOOF

But getting into the big sport of the season, hockey returns to Civic Arena tonight at 8.30 with an OHA junior "B" fixture betwixt Lindsay and the local Oddfellows. The latter turned in a rough joust last start here 'gainst Toronto but have settled down now to play hockey, and this should be a real lively dish between well-matched, young, hustling teams. Coach Archie Weir expects to have his team at practically full strength for this one and the boys are hungry for a victory. The Scugog squad is reported pretty classy, so it shapes up as a real game on fast ice. Likely another big crowd on deck at the new rink.

* * * * * *

Ontario Minor Hockey Association had a recent meeting at which a number of points were cleared up. One pins the responsibility for rough playing right on the coach of the offending player or team—and he is liable to be suspended. Here's another: "In a further attempt to eliminate interference from fans getting on the ice and joining in player mixups, the OMHA has ordered rinks to post warning signs, and fans who leap over the boards will be liable to prosecution." Yes, that's a good idea as fans should stay in their seats. Yell all you like but don't get out on the ice. And don't throw things on the ice as it only slows up the action.

Smacking The Pins

In the Girls' Bowling League this week, Towne Togs continued to dominate scoring as they rolled a neat team total of 3264, as well as high single of 1215. A. Anderson's 335 single was the best effort for individuals, while J. Alexander had high cross of 723. Blind score of 521 was taken by E. Rae. They keep rolling up good marks in this lasses' league and there was but one sweep as competition tightened up. Not only is the bowling okay but the girls have a lot of fun each week, and the exercise doesn't hurt, either.

Curling Notes

By HERB MARTIN

Last evening we were talking to Tommy Doughty, chairman of the open bonspiel committee, and he said there is plenty of room for entries for the big three-day open bonspiel, commencing next Monday morning. It needs a lot of co-operation on the part of our curlers to put over this big bonspiel. Get a rink together, and make your entry to-night.

The Neill Trophy bonspiel is getting well on, but it will be towards the end of the week before we will see daylight. Seventy-two rinks is some crowd to handle. It takes a lot of time to reach the finals.

Ray Best and Dr. R. Clark are skipping rinks in the Lindsay bonspiel to-day.

Regarding the ladies' vice-skips bonspiel, it is expected that they will reach the finals by Friday.

Spitfires Edge High-Flying Teepees 8-7

By The Canadian Press

When the playoffs roll around the Ontario Hockey Association's Junior A title won't be a push-over for any club.

Tuesday night Windsor Spitfires demonstrated they could handle the high-flying St. Catharines Teepees—for a while at least. The Spitfires drove from behind a 4-0 count in the first period and edged the Teepees 8-7 to take over the leadership.

Art Jackson's Teepees dropped into second place with 41 points, two behind the Spitfires. But still in the picture is Happ Emms' Barrie Flyers, idle for the last week. Barrie has 40 points—four points ahead of Oshawa Generals.

In another Junior game Tuesday night, Galt Rockets drove Toronto St. Michael's College Majors into last place by defeating them 7-2 at Galt. The win moved the Rockets into eighth place in the nine-team loop.

In the only Senior A game, the Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen edged Owen Sound Mercurys 2-1.

Remove Netminder

Netminder Porky Douglas was taken from his chores in the dying moments of the game as the Teepees sent six forwards into the battle in an unsuccessful effort to get the equalizer.

Windsor knotted the score 6-6 in the second period and outscored St. Catharines 2-1 in the last frame. Johnny Wilson and Marcel Pronovost paced Windsor marksmen with three goals apiece Larry Wilson and Doug McGinn each got one. Gerry Toppazzini got two for the losers, while Jack McIntyre, Bob Knowles, Frank Sullivan, Fred Hildebrand and Bob Telford netted one apiece.

The Rockets moved into a 3-0 lead in the first period, split two goals in the second and outscored the Irish 2-0 in the third.

Bronco Horvath and Gord Kilbey got two each for Galt. Pete Tkachuk, Ron Bell and Norm Green followed with singletons. Don Rope and Gord Hannigan scored for Toronto.

Kitchener drove to a 2-0 lead in the first period and then withstood a desperate Owen Sound bid in the last period. The Mercurys picked up their lone counter in the second period when Mike Shabaga beat netminder Marcel Pelletier.

Lanky Tom McGrattan in the Owen Sound nets stopped 37 shots, 18 of them in the last period. Pelletier blocked 22. Bill Curick and Art Hurst scored for Kitchener.

Ready For Round-Robin

NIPAWIN, Sask., Jan. 12—(CP)—Eyes fixed on four new automobiles, 12 of the 104 original rinks entered in Nipawin's third annual bonspiel will go into action today in the two-group round-robin series leading to the best-of-three final for the cars. Last four rinks to qualify were decided Tuesday night when play got down to the fours in No. 3 event. They are skipped by Walt Palmer of Aylsham, Sask., Dave Moir of Nipawin, Pete Hume of Flin Flon, Man. and Dave Carr of Love, Sask.

1,500 Hockey Fans Jammed New Rink Which Opened On Brock St. 46 Years Ago

Forty-six years ago this week 1500 hundred people jammed the Brock St. Arena to see the opening ceremonies of the rink. The occasion was celebrated by an exhibition game between the Toronto Varsity seven and the Ontario 1902 Intermediate champions, Peterborough, who won a 10 to 8 verdict.

Waiting rooms and the stairway to the balcony were not completed for the opening game and even facilities for proper exit were not finished.

An account in the Examiner at that time said:

"On Saturday night the doors were not thrown open to the public until 7.30. Long before that hour many people swarmed around the corner of Brock and George Streets and a solid mass of humanity waited impatiently for admission. When they were allowed in, there was a general rush."

People of the city thought highly of their new rink. In fact, it was generally admitted it was the finest rink in Canada with the exception of the "Arena" in Montreal. The reporter gives much of the credit to Mr. W. Langford and the Rink Directors.

An amusing incident in the game occurred when Evans of the Varsity team was forced to leave the game because his foot went to sleep. He had laced his skates too tight.

Some of the Peterborough players were: goal, Crough; point, Glover; cover point, H. Armstrong; forwards, W. Cavanah, Roy Armstrong, Morgan and Whitcroft.

Calgary Wins Everything But Bank Credit

CALGARY, Jan. 12 — (CP)—The swashbuckling Calgary Football Stampeders won just about everything but a bank account in 1948.

A report on the club's activities last season presented at the annual meeting of the organization by President Tom Brook Tuesday night said it cost close to $75,000 to bring the Grey Cup to Calgary for the first time in the history of this foothills city.

The report also said:

1. At least three of last year's four imports will be back with Stamps in the 1949 season.

2. Coach Les Lear is prepared to sign a four-year contract as mentor of the Dominion grid champions.

3. Stampeders lost money on their trip east to win the Grey Cup.

Although no financial statement was released, club officials said the 1948 operations resulted in a loss of less than $1,000.

Mr. Brook, unanimously re-elected president of the club, branded financial arrangements for the Gray Cup final as "ridiculous."

"We would have shown a substantial surplus except for the tremendous expense of taking the team east for the Grey Cup final," he said. The allowance given us for that trip and our rereipts from the game far from covered the actual cost."

Mr. Brook said the low price of $2 tops charged for the Grey Cup final was "ridiculous" when other eastern playoffs got as much as $3. He also criticized payment of $6,200 rental to the University of Toronto for use of Varsity stadium and the distribution of about 200 complimentary tickets to officials of the Canadian Rugby Union and the University of Toronto.

Hawks Romp To Easy Win Dump Ottawa Team 11-7

By PIERRE DUBOIS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A long, hard grind starts for Dick Irvin's patched up Canadiens tonight when they clash with the rugged Bruins in Boston while Lynn Patrick's New York Rangers play hosts to the Detroit Red Wings, leaders of the National Hockey League.

The Chi-Hawks were the only NHL club to get into action Tuesday night. In an exhibition game in Ottawa before 4,000 customers, the Hawks romped to an easy 11-7 victory over Ottawa Senatosr of the Quebec Senior Hockey League.

Roy Conacher, now tied with veteran Doug Bentley for the lead in the NHL's scoring race, rapped in four goals as the Hawks built up a 9-3 lead in the first two periods. Bentley, Bep Guidolin, Adam Brown, Ernie Dickens, Bill Gadsby, Red Hamill and Doug McCaig got the others.

George Green scored two for Ottawa whose other goals were potted by Eddie Emberg, Lude Check, Eddie Dartnell, Bill Robinson and Nils Tremblay.

Lots of Injuries

For Les Habitants, plagued by an injury list as long as your arm, the game marks a stretch during which they'll see action 14 times in 28 days. They return here Saturday for a tussle with Chicago Black Hawks and from then on will get little in the way of rest until Feb. 9.

Coach Dick Irvin dug again into the minors for tonight's game after it became known defenceman Doug Harvey would not be able to play. Roger Leger was recalled from Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League. Already up from the minors are Tod Campeau and Leo Gravelle.

Bud McPherson, borrowed from Edmonton Flyers of the Western Canada League as a replacement for Harvey, left for home by plane Tuesday night after completing a three-game engagement under the big top. That's all he is allowed under pro-amateur lend-lease agreement.

The Canadiens also left forward Rip Riopelle at home on their Boston jaunt. He is nursing a knee injury. Still sidelined, but out for light skating workouts Tuesday's, were the team's big guns, defenceman Butch Bouchard and Elmer Lach. Bouchard is not expected back in uniform for another two weeks while Lach will be out until Feb. 1 at least.

FRIENDS IN NEED—Elmer Blower (left) golf professional at the Weston Club and father of four small children, who entered East General Hospital yesterday to undergo a serious operation, poses with five of the six Toronto pros who have volunteered to operate his golf school for the rest of the winter. From the left: Willie Lamb, Lambton; Gordon DeLaat, Pine Point; Bob Cunningham, St. George's; Jack Littler, Oakdale, and Bill McWilliams, St. Andrew's. Bob Gray, Scarboro, is the sixth volunteer.

The Hawks' captain suffered concussion when struck in the temple by a lifted puck during the Chicago Black Hawks-Toronto Maple Leafs game.

Hospital authorities said he won't be able to play for a couple of weeks at least.

Ottawa's Board of Control Tuesday toyed with the idea of turning the picturesque Rideau canal, into the biggest skating rink in Canada—six miles long. Controller C. E. Pickering said the venture would give Ottawa "the longest out-of-doors skating rink in Canada."

The idea, after being battered about by the other controllers, was finally referred to the city's playgrounds experts for report.

The United States Amateur Hockey Association team sailed Tuesday night on a three-month tour of Europe. While on that continent the team will participate in the world championships at Stockholm, Feb. 12-20.

At Pomona, Calif., Robert Brennan, 26, of Hamilton, groom for wealthy turfman Robert S. Both horses won their races and an estimated $500,000 was won by bettors.

At New York, four men indicted on charges growing out of an alleged attempt to "fix" a college basketball game pleaded innocent Tuesday. The four, Joseph Aronowitz, Philip Klein, William Rivlin and Jack Levy, were indicted after David Shapiro, co-captain of the George Washington University cage team, accused them of offering him $1,000 to throw a game.

Win Bike Race

CLEVELAND, Jan. 12 (AP)— A pair of sprint specialists, Cecil Yates of Chicago and Charlie Bergna of Paterson, NJ, closed with a rush Tuesday night to win Cleveland's six-day bike race. It was the same team which placed second the last time the whirl was held here, about a year ago. Yates, 34, has competed in more than 100 races, and this was the 20th time he was on the winning pair. Bergna, 30, had two firsts and several seconds when he entered here. The duo gained two laps in the final hour and won the final sprint.

Art Critics Wax Sarcastic At Chantrey Bequest Show

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, Jan. 12—(CP).—Art critics are being sarcastic but sentimentalists are having a field day at the first complete showing of the famous Chantrey bequest. This is a collection of 437 paintings and pieces of sculpture bought during the last 70 years with funds left for that purpose by Sir Francis Chantrey, an artist of some repute himself in the early 19th century.

Critics are inclined to be scathing about early purchases, mostly canvases either out-and-out sentimental or purporting to describe historical scenes. Up to £2,000 ($8,000) apiece was paid for these massive works in the '70s and '80s.

Worthless?

How much would these and similar works fetch today?" moaned a writer in the Yorkshire Post. "Who would buy them? Who would be willing to pay cartage for their removal?"

There is John Collier's "Last Voyage of Henry Hudson" with famous explorer adrift among icebergs in an open boat. There is also "Love Locked Out" with Cupid at a closed door, and Millet's "Between Two Fires."

Most artists of the period who now are recognized as outstanding have been ignored. This is an old complaint and one which has led to the selective methods of Chantrey trustees being revised from time to time

Still Critical

In recent years more "moderns" have been included but selectors are still criticized as too conservative.

One object in having the present exhibition is to create public interest with a view to establishing a centre where the works can be housed permanently. But most critics think it will be back to dusty store rooms for all but a few gems which could hold their own in any show.

Refuse To Enter Skaters In Championship

By JACK SULLIVAN

TORONTO, Jan. 12.—(CP). — The Canadian Figure-Skating Association has supplied an answer to the question, "what is wrong with amateur sport in the Dominion" by refusing to sponsor Canadian entries in the world championships at Paris Feb. 11-14. Boiled down, it's lack of encouragement to athletes, sports officials here said.

The Association through President Norman V. S. Gregory of Montreal, turned a thumbs-down on any Canadian competing and the reason advanced: "we have no person whom we think is of championship calibre."

Gregory, announcing the decision last week, added if young skaters developed far enough before next season, Canada undoubtedly would have prospective entries for 1950.

Team Broken Up

Lack of cash in the CFSA treasury may have prompted the decision, which a reliable source said here Tuesday resulted in the split of Canada's top-ranking pair —Suzanne Morrow of Toronto and Wally Distelmeyer of Kitchener.

"The couple approached the CFSA last August and asked if the Association would sponsor their entry in the world tournament," the source said. "They were told 'no.'"

"They asked if sponsorship would be granted if they raised the necessary funds to get to Paris and back and the Association said a decision on the entry would be made at the CFSA annual meeting in a few months. They weren't convinced the decision would be in the affirmative and Wally turned professional and now is teaching at Regina."

Breaking up of the team is a big loss to the amateur game in the Dominion.

Susie and Wally, Canadian pair champions, pitted their skill against the cream of the world in the Olympic and world championships in Switzerland last February and finished third in both.

Louis Gives Exhibition

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 12 (AP)— Heavyweight champion Joe Louis boxed a four-round exhibition against Orland Ott of Chicago Tuesday night before 3,800 spectators. The champ barely developed a sweat as Ott bored in. Louis laced Ott a few times, but he smiled and patted the Chicagoan on the back after each round.

Can't Enter Campaigns

TORONTO, Jan. 12.— (CP).— All branches of the Ontario Red Cross have been forbidden to enter community service campaigns, it was announced Tuesday at an executive meeting. A resolution passed at the meeting stated that the nine branches in Ontario already in community service fund-raising campaigns would be required to withdraw from the campaigns or forfeit their chapters.

Plow Uncovering Water Pipes Continues To Vex Villagers

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 12.—(ENS).—Village council met taxpayers Tuesday night to determine what should be done about snow plowing Water St.

Residents near the lake maintained that it is not necessary to grade the snow off the road as closely as the grader has been dodoing. They pointed out that when the snow is removed their pipe lines freeze.

Reeve W. C. Grant said he felt that the rights of the villagers as a whole should come before the rights of an individual, but he would like to do anything that could be done to ease the existing conditions.

Fire Chief Allan Clark said the fire trucks must have access to the river in case of fire and the road must be kept snow-plowed

Sam Charlton said his pipes froze for the first time in 18 years, four years ago when the grader made an opening to get the fire truck to the river directly over his pipe line, Gordon Scriver, who was then reeve, was told about this. The opening was moved further up the river and Mr. Charlton had had no trouble since.

Reeve Grant said it was only in the last few years that the streets have been snow-plowed extensively, and most of the snow-plowing is done with the grader, which is always available and costs less to operate.

Councillor William Whetung expressed the opinion that the snow plough could be used instead of the grader and the wing left higher.

Charles Hunter approved of Councillor Whetung's suggestion. After the last storm Mr. Hunter said he had banked his pipe line to the river with snow to prevent freezing and shortly afterward the snow was plowed off. He said he had been a member of the fire brigade for 20 years and the firemen had always been able to get to the river, even when the old-fashioned horse-drawn snow plough was used.

Chief Garnet Samis said there is only one solution. If the village was going to plow, it had to plow clean. If they started leaving four or five inches of snow there would be ruts which would cause an accident for which the village might be liable.

Chief Samis said that the operators of the plow had been having interference from people on Water St., mainly Mr. James Simpson, and this interference must stop.

"Mr. Simpson at present," said the Chief, "has a mound of earth across the road covering his pipe line which might easily cause an accident, and if it did Mr. Simpson could be held responsible."

Reeve Grant suggested that if anyone had a complaint to make it to the council, Chief Samis or himself, and not to operators of the snow plowers or graders.

Walter Walker asked if a by-law exists which definitely states water pipes must be down at east five feet.

Councillor Roy Brown admitted such a bylaw did not exist, but when a street is to be dug up the council has the authority to grant permission and say how work should be done and to inspect the work.

A motion was made by Charles Hunter and seconded by Sam Charlton that the council, road committee and fire chief plan the snow plowing of Water St. so that it be plowed as narrowly as possible, leaving four inches of snow on the street and lay out sites for openings to the river at intervals for the fire truck that would not uncover pipe lines.

Walter Yale, a resident of Chippewa St., aimed his complaint that the grader uncovered his drain pipe and it froze for the first time in 23 years. He asked that the road be only 10 feet wide.

Councillor Roy Brown suggested that if Mr. Yale presented a petition to that effect from all people in that block the council would agree.

Lakefield Girl Seen In Film Shown Parents

The president, Mrs. Harold Deeth, presided at the meeting, opening with a sing-song with Mrs. E. Rath at the piano.

Mrs. Deeth announced that the next meeting would be held on February 14, which would be observed as Founders Day.

Gives Girl Drink Jailed Month

WHITBY, Jan. 12—Morris Jeppeson, 22, who admitted giving a 15-year-old girl a drink of whisky Christmas Eve, was Tuesday sentenced to one month in the county gail by Magistrate F. S. Ebbs. Pleading guilty to supplying a minor with liquor, Jeppeson told the court "she asked me for a drink. That's all I can say."

Jeppeson was not represented by counsel. The girl, who cried in court, stated in barely audible tones that she "did not ask for a drink" and had only one. Police Sergeant Ronald Love said he observed her being assisted out of a local restaurant by two other girls.

"They took her around behind the cenotaph where I found her lying on the ground. They said they were trying to help her and didn't want to take her home," the officer testified. He said he picked her up, put her in the cruiser, and drove her home. "She was very intoxicated and also became sick," he stated.

Magistrate Ebbs told Jeppeson "There's altogether too many cases of young men giving liquor to minors with serious results. It's a tragic thing that this girl should have been wandering around intoxicated. You are 22 and should have known better."

Parents Ask Ban On Crime Comics

WINNIPEG, Jan. 12.—(CP). — The Parent Education Association of Winnipeg has condemned crime comic books.

The Association passed a resolution at a meeting Tuesday night suggesting that the sale of such books be banned. Chairman Mrs. B. M. Davis said object of the resolution is not to ban comics entirely but to stamp out the distribution of the lurid type.

"Fifty of these have already been banned in New York State and 35 in the city of Detroit," she said.

Mrs. S. H. Sutherland, another member, said that it "is time we took action to protect our children against the unscrupulous work" of the publishers of such books.

The resolution, adopted unanimously and to be forwarded to Justice Minister Garson, called for prevention of sale throughout Canada "because crime comics provide a pattern of anti-social behaviour in maladjusted children."

Mrs. Sutherland, maintaining that two-thirds of all comics are devoted to crime, said that the pattern was to mix violence with sex and to have "the women deliberately sexy and curvy."

Fireman Visits Wife, Baby Killed Next Day At Fire

DETROIT, Jan. 12 (AP) — A 21-year-old mother had a visitor Monday night at the maternity ward of Henry Ford Hospital, where she gave birth to her second child three days ago.

It was her husband, fireman James A. Daggett, 21, wearing the first uniform he had been able to afford since he joined the department 14 months ago.

His wife, Barbara, told him how fine he looked in it. In turn, he admired the new baby and encouraged his wife to get well quickly. It was the second time he had seen the child.

As he left, he told her he would be back today.

Instead, Mrs. Daggett had another visitor today. Rev. John O'Connor, a fire department chaplain, walked sottly, grimly to her side.

He took her hand and, as gently as he could, he told Mrs. Daggett her husband wouldn't be back to see her. He died Tuesday, one of two firemen killed in fighting a $200,000 west-side blaze.

The wide-eyed young mother looked up from her bed in disbelief.

"You can't mean my Jimmie," she said calmly.

Then, as his words took hold, she began to sob:

"Why, he was here Monday night to see me and the baby. You can't mean Jimmie. You must be wrong."

But Father O'Connor wasn't wrong.

CARPENTER APPRENTICE: "Where in Toronto can my son be apprenticed for a course in carpentry?"

All technical schools give courses in carpentry. Both day and night classes are available. An apprenticeship is available through the Board of Education. Modern Building Enterprises advises the course in carpentry or cabinet making in one of the technical schools, then joining a building firm.

INTERIOR DECORATING: "I am in my fourth year at high school and would like to decide on my course for the coming year. Is there a course available in Toronto for interior decorating? If so, what is the amount of education required, the length of the course and so on?"

University Extension, University of Toronto, has a night class in interior decorating. Class extends 10 weeks before Christmas and 10 weeks after. One class weekly, last 1½ hours. Fee is $16 for entire course. Interior decorators suggest you take a course at School of Design, Ontario College of Art. This is a three or four year course, gives you designing, draperies, furniture and color.

CHANGE OF NAME: "Can I change my name both Christian and Surname? I used both freely Canadian. How do I go about it? What does it cost?"

Here, according to the county judge, is your procedure. Find a lawyer and select your name. Have your lawyer draw up the papers requesting the change of name. He (your lawyer) will make an appointment with the county judge for a public hearing of your case. The notice of your intention to change your name must be published in the Ontario Gazette for three consecutive weeks, and also in a weekly and daily paper three consecutive times a week apart. The judge then hears your application. If it is unopposed, or if the judge finds it is not against the public interest to have you adopt the name selected, your application is granted. Cost is approximately $100.

Technical Men Joining New RCEME Unit

Peterborough's Reserve Force Army got away to a flying start Tuesday on the winter training schedule with a full attendance at the Armoury. Feature of the evening was the commencement of recruiting for the 37 HAA Workshop RCEME, a newly-formed city unit, which is associated with the 50th HAA Regt. RCA as its repair and maintenance division.

Workshop interviewed a number of applicants and at least 15 are in various stages of enrolment. Indications are that this unit will draw many recruits from technical men about town, since its work includes repair and maintenance of vehicles, machines, electrical and electronic equipment and other special army material.

The 50th gunners got down to full-scale training on their winter schedule as well as preparing for the winter DCRA shooting competitions and sports.

Regimental gunners will take part this week in two functions. The annual all-ranks dance will be held Friday at the Armoury and early Saturday morning a number of ranks will assist the Peterborough Fish and Game Association in "Operation Fox", a fox and wolf hunt in a specially designated area. Plans for this latter operation are well in hand and will feature wireless co-operation and flare direction in the "battle scheme."

Regiment and workshop parade again Thursday evening.

Milburn Voices Agreement With New Milk Act Terms

Above the varying rhythms of the Peterborough Plowmen's dance at the Canadian Legion Hall Tuesday night, Vivian S. Milburn discussed the new milk awards and quota affairs to members of the local Milk Producers' Association.

The dance was on the main floor, and the dairy farmers were above them getting persistent and invasion benefit from the orchestra Alex Huston and Howard Quinn had hired for the night. The dinner-dance of the Plowmen comes later this month.

"It is our hope that the Act as it now stands can be administered satisfactorily by the new Milk Control Board whose personnel should be announced in the near future," Mr. Milburn said.

"With a new Act, new regulations and a new Board we are hoping for results that will be generally satisfactory. The Act has a number of weaknesses, particularly in some matters of interpretation, but Premier Kennedy, who is also Minister of Agriculture, has promised us that it will be amended. The main things we are hoping for our members are that they will get the right kind of agreements and also that they will be paid."

Norman Moncrief was appointed fourth member of the general quota committee which is meeting four representatives of the distributors this afternoon.

The milk producers are proposing as the basic quota period the months of November-January, instead of three months, October-December, which were proposed at preliminary negotiations Monday night.

Producers frankly wish to avoid October because the flow of milk was unusually low, following the dry summer and early fall.

How Quota is Set

A dairy farmer's fluid milk quota is the quantity which he regularly supplies to the dairy with which he is doing business. It is determined by the average daily quantity which he provides to the factory over a three month period. That is the customary method of establishing a quota, which the farmer is obliged to maintain. This milk has been entirely for the city of Peterborough whole milk trade, distributed by the dairies of the city. The dairies have to arrange for a regular supply of milk as assurance of meeting the demands for their customers. For that reason, definite quotas are arranged between the dairies and the producers.

Quota milk now includes not only the whole milk for the bottle trade, but also for milk chocolate, buttermilk and the retail sale of skim milk. The standard whole milk must register 3.4 p.c. butter fat.

Dairy farmers in the 42 markets that went to recent arbitration in obtaining awards of settlement with the distributors have thereby gained an enlarged quota category, and the price of that milk advanced $1.10 per 100 pounds.

It is all classified as milk for dairy requirements. The increase in the top bracket milk for city consumption was from $3.90 to $4 per cwt., an advantage to the producer of only 10 cents, but a substantial improvement was allowed in the other milk which was raised from 2.95 to $4 per cwt.

Mr. Milburn told the 65 dairy farmers, with Eddie Butler chairman, that the 42 markets including Peterborough, which had asked for arbitration were greatly satisfied with the award. Producers supplying the Toronto market, who had decided on individual action, were now "kicking themselves" that they did not avail themselves of settlement by arbitration.

"I don't mind expressing my own opinion that the results of our negotiations are reasonably fair to our members," Mr. Milburn said. "The award is full of technicalities, and some amending is required, but I think we can work in harmony with the distributors."

Mr. Milburn said many of the clauses of the award were generally a continuation of provisions which had previously governed the trade.

DECEMBER ROSES

Ald. Dick Raine received from his sister in England a letter Tuesday mentioning that on December 26 she had picked five roses in bloom from her garden. Her husband is Dr. R. A. Campbell, and their home is at Moreton, near Chester. They were here on a visit last summer.

Plan Network Of Clubs Throughout City

Nucleous of what may become a city-wide network of Neighborhood Community Councils may be formed Monday night at Dixon House. With a view of creating such an organization in that North Park Street section of the city, a meeting of all persons and organizations interested in the formation of such a voluntary citizens' group has been called by the Peterborough Recreation Commission. The initial step has been taken by the Commission following suggestions made to it by various groups and individuals that such an organization would be welcomed and supported.

Made up largely of the new housing area in that section of the city, the Dixon House area is felt to be a natural geographic division for such a neighborhood group. An invitation to attend the meeting to discuss formation is being given to all groups now using Dixon House for their functions, to other kindred groups and to individuals who may wish to take part.

"It is felt by a number of citizens that the development of such an organization would greatly improve neighborhood relations, assist materially in the prevention of juvenile delinquency and serve a useful purpose in the conducting of leisure time activities," said Jack Dane, Director of Recreation, who has arranged the meeting.

The functions of such a Council, said Mr. Dane, could grow and change as the needs and recommendations of the neighborhood residents warranted. Social gatherings of all types, lecture series of films, general entertainment programs, workshop groups, courses of instruction in various hobbies or occupations; all these have been suggested as possible subjects for the proposed body.

Sponsors of the plan point out that the city automatically divides itself into a number of natural "neighborhoods" and that, if the Dixon House project is satisfactory, a similar plan can be adopted elsewhere. This winter's start in the north-west section, as a "test case" of the proposal could expand to the whole of Peterborough.

Sentinel-Star Claims Publication Record

COBOURG, Jan. 12 (CP) — Publisher F. M. Russell said today that his Cobourg Sentinel-Star is Canada's oldest weekly independent of daily newspaper affiliation.

This was his reply to a claim Tuesday that the weekly Brockville Recorder got its start nine years before the Weekly Star, forerunner of the Sentinel-Star, was first issued in this town some 60 miles east of Toronto on Jan. 11, 1831. The Sentinel-Star began its 119th year of continuous publication Tuesday.

Distinctive Gown Seen Here For First Time Copies Traditional Garb Of British Judges

Bright colors on the robes of a Justice of the Supreme court of Ontario were seen in Peterborough on Tuesday, the first appearance of the historic judicial garb in modern time. Mr. Justice J. C. Gerest wore the new robes here at the opening of the non-jury Supreme Court. The blue gown has black shoulder bands, a wide black sash about the waist, a bright red sash across the chest. There are large pink silk cuffs on the gown.

The new garb was decided on for the provincial court recently, and the opening of Supreme Court in Toronto on Monday was marked with special reference by the Chief Justice to the historical connections of the attire. Mr. Justice Genest commented on it here

Terming it a "new step in the legal history of Ontario," he said the decision to change the robes was taken to give "some formal recognition to the great heritage of British justice and its historical significance which has come down to our courts." The gowns are the same as those formerly worn by the Justices of the King's Bench in Upper Canada. It is similiar to those worn "for centuries" in British courts by judges.

"It should remind us always that we have a legal heritage of honor and justice which has been won at great cost," said His Lordship.

Senior member of the bar in this district, F. D. Kerr, replied for the members of the bar present to hear the brief address. He commented that "that tradition has much to do with the true principals of democracy."

LAST YEAR'S three executive members were re-elected at a Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors' meeting on Tuesday night. Wilson M. Gemmell, shown Right, manager of the Royal Bank, is starting his second year as president of the Chamber. He is also treasurer of the VON and treasurer of the Community Concert Association. J. E. Girven, Left, assistant works manager of the CGE, was returned as vice-president, and J. Blake Bell, assistant secretary-treasurer of the Quaker Oats Co., was re-elected treasurer.

Award Two Men Damages Totalling $3,531

Two city men were today awarded court damages totalling $3,531.03 for injuries received when their motorcycle was struck by a hit-and-run driver in September, 1947. Mr. Justice J. C. Senest assessed damages of $2,933.03 in favor of 25-year-old postal clerk Kenneth Hotston, 299 King George St., and $598 for Charles Cutmore, 23, cost clerk of 272 Burnham St., plus court costs in each case. Payment will be made from the provincial Unsatisfied Judgments Fund. This is the second award of damages from the fund allowed in this city since the system was started in 1947.

His Lordship found that the unknown driver of the car which struck Cutmore's motorcycle on the Chemong Road on Sept. 19, 1947, was 100 per cent to blame for the collision and he ruled that there was no negligence shown on the part of Cutmore or Hotston, a passenger on the two-man motorcycle. He did not agree with the suggestion of J. H. Hilton of Toronto, counsel for the defendant, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, that Cutmore may have been travelling too fast. He said the driver "did all that he could to avoid the collision."

Evidence of the collision was given by the two plaintiffs and George Hutt, bus driver who witnessed the accident and was first to reach the two injured men.

Hotston said he and Cutmore had left a dance at Chemong Park and were returning to Peterborough when the collision happened. They were coming over the crest of a hill when they saw the lights of the bus driven by Hutt. As the two neared, a car suddenly shot from behind the bus, knocked the machine and the two into the ditch. Hutt stopped his bus and ran to the side of the road and the injured pair. Flagging a passing motorist, he had the two taken to hospital.

Hotston was in hospital for nine weeks, had his back in a cast for three weeks. His foot was badly smashed, requiring two operations and total costs of more than $1,000. Cutmore was not as seriously hurt, had a cut over his eye, a cut knee and a broken toe.

Details of the assessed damages given by his lordship were: to Hotston, actual costs of $1,123.03; lost wages, $360; pain and suffering, $250; general damages, $1,200; to Cutmore, actual costs of $98; pain and suffering, $100; general damages, $400.

The case was the first heard at this sitting of Supreme Court non-jury. Seven divorce actions, an alimony action and a civil damages action are on the list.

Ask Council To Approve Giving Eastwood Nurses' Residence Contract

A recommendation that the Eastwood Construction Co. be given the contract for constructing the Nurses' Residence at the new Civic Hospital will be presented to the City Council on Monday night. This was the opinion of a joint committee of the Building Committee, Civic Hospital and the Hospital Committee, City Council, which met on Tuesday afternoon.

On a motion of Alderman Hurrell Dodds and Melville Johnston the following passed unanimously: that the construction of the Nurses' Residence be given to the Eastwood Construction Co. as part of the present contract, and that this should be proceeded with without delay.

John R. Marshall, chairman of the board of governors, preceded the motion by saying: "The board of governors are unanimously of the opinion that time and money would be saved if authority were given to Mr. Eastwood to continue to figure the building of the residence in his present plans."

(In the original contract, Mr. Eastwood agreed that he would work on additional buildings at 60 per cent of the original fee, calculated on a cubic foot basis.)

"The Council never had any doubt about Mr. Eastwood's ability or the work he has done," said Mayor Swanston.

Discuss Architects

The other motion dealt with the work of the present architects, Blackwell and Craig.

Said Mayor Swanston: "We recommend to Council that a contract be entered into with the present architects on the understanding that they complete plans for the Nurses' Residence by May 15."

Purpose of the joint meeting was to ascertain different views on plans for the Nurses' Residence, and review the work being done by the architects and contractors. Alderman Dick Raines was chairman.

Mr. Marshall was of the opinion that a change of architects would not be advisable.

"The main consideration is to get the job done at the earliest possible moment and at the minimum cost," he said.

He also stated that he understood steel companies had warned contractors not to take new contracts in 1949 as their allocation of the metal for the year had already been made.

"Under these conditions every consideration should be given to the present contractor in order to get steel;" he said. "But," he added, "we would like a firm contract."

"When does Mr. Eastwood expect to be finished with the hospital," asked the Mayor.

"He doesn't know," replied Mr. Marshall. He stated, however, that work was progressing on the two wings so that plastering should begin by April. Completion of the east wing depends on how soon reinforcing steel can be obtained.

"The Board feel that we would get the hospital a whole lot sooner if the present architects were engaged for the Nurses' Residence," said Mr. Marshall.

In reply to a question from one of the other members of the committee, Mr. Marshall said that before the old Civic Hospital could be abandoned the first two wings of the new hospital would have to be taken over and "at least the 5th floor of the east wing."

22 New Homes Being Built In Monaghan

Building permits were taken out in North Monaghan last year for 22 new homes Bruce Johnston clerk and treasurer reported today. While these 22 new homes fall to compare with the large growth made in the township during the past few years recent annexations have taken in much of the land where there was expansion. However in all parts of the township last year there was steady growth.

Residents continue to sell their city dwellings and move out into the township where they are building a splendid type of home usually surrounded by ten or more acres of land.

Total value of the building permits was $140,290 with the houses ranging in value from $3,000 to $10,000.

Some of the better permits were taken out by Fred Stenson who is building a new home on Highway 28 west of the city, A. E. DeNure who purchased the Patton farm, and H. A. Craig who purchased a part of the old Thomas Young farm from Don Wilson.

Other permits were taken out by Harold Ball at Scott's Corners to build a house, implement shed and repair shop and by the Armstrong Lumber Co. to build a shop where sashes are made.

Want Recreation Area

A full turnout of the Board of Directors, Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, on Tuesday night endorsed a proposal that certain Crown Lands in the County be set aside as public recreation centres.

The original proposal came from Fred Marshall of the Kawartha Conservation Association, who wrote a letter to the Hon. Harold Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, requesting that part of the Crown Lands be set aside. Several other local organizations have endorsed the proposal.

Peterborough citizens were thanked for their co-operation in cutting down on domestic lighting during the recent hydro shortage. The directors asked that they continue this conservation of hydro so that blackouts would be unnecessary.

Several members stated that porch lights were still being burned needlessly at many residences.

Formosans Prefer Their Freedom To Rule Under Chinese Officials

By JAMES D. WHITE

TAIPEI, Formosa, Jan. 12—(AP).—The Formosans, who may be hosts to China's government should it be forced from Nanking, prefer freedom to Chinese rule. That is the view of Formosan revolutionaries with whom I have talked. They don't consider themselves Chinese but a separate race.

Ever since the Chinese took over Formosa after the Japanese were driven out in 1947 they have been telling the Formosans they were Chinese.

Not so, reply the revolutionaries. They say Formosans are a separate race compounded of aboriginal tribes and their parade of conquerors—Dutch, Spanish, Portuguese and Chinese.

There are 6,000,000 of these Formosans, or Taiwanese as they call themselves, on this strategic island off the Communist-threatened Chinese mainland.

No Better Than Japs

The revolutionaries say Chinese monopolies are no better than the Japanese.

"Often they are worse because less efficient," one revolutionary says.

His group advocates freedom from Chinese rule, but admits there is no practical way to achieve it now.

Failing that, he is plugging for a United Nations trusteeship to be administered by the United States. The eagerness with which Taiwanese are studying English indicates the idea is not unpopular.

There are about 10 revolutionary groups, which exist mostly on paper. There are some pro-Japanese elements in Formosa. There are, for instance, about 10,000 young Taiwanese who were trained in the Japanese Army. Like all Taiwanese, they are unarmed.

Communist influences are beginning to penetrate the island. The party line is not yet clearly established, but it is likely to advocate independence.

May Change Fire Laws

TORONTO, Jan. 12 — (CP)— Investigation into the fire death Tuesday of Robert Davies, 77, may result in changes in fire prevention services and possibly will lead to inspection and licensing of every boardinghouse and roominghouse in Toronto. Davies was suffocated in a fire in a roominghouse. Just before Christmas, four persons died when flames gutted another roominghouse. Fire Marshal Sam Hill blamed the blaze on a faulty chimney and said lack of adequate fire escapes contributed to Davies' death.

Huron Chieftain Snubs Court

QUEBEC, Jan. 12—(CP)—Trial of Jules Sioui, Huron chieftain charged with seditious conspiracy by inciting Indians to rebellion, resumes here today after he had again snubbed a Canadian court Tuesday.

The 44-year-old Huron, who does not speak a word of any Indian dialect, bluntly told the crown prosecutor he would not recognize the court's jurisdiction.

His refusal to exercise his right to challenge men on the jury panel saw his French-speaking jury sworn in in the record time of 12 minutes. Sioui is conducting his own defence.

The crown had a carload of exhibits wheeled into the courtroom, which at one stage re-echoed with the babble of three languages—English, French and Indian.

Exhibits included a document proclaiming the formation of the national government of North American Indians and an ultimatum to Viscount Alexander, Governor-General of Canada, which was never dispatched. They also included charts and stacks of membership cards in the government, all seized from Sioui's home in nearby Huron village.

Sioui also is charged with fraud for allegedly having sold memberships in his government at $1.74 a card.

Plan Swim Clinic Here Feb. 5, 6 US Taking Part

An International Swimming Clinic, featuring Canadian Ornamental and American sychronized swimming is being sponsored by the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club. The two-day clinic will open February 5 at the Peterborough Public Library with pool demonstrations at the YWCA and YMCA with final discussions on the 6th.

This meeting of American and Canadian swimmers and officials is staged to promote better and clearer understanding of the fundamentals of this type of swimming. Rules of competitions in US and Canada will be clarified.

An invitation to hold the meeting here was asked because Peterborough girls are the only Canadian who have entered US synchronized competition. The move was sanctioned by Montreal officials of the CASA, hoping it will interest more swimmers to cross the line for competitive purposes.

Sessions carried out in the water are to help swimmers learn new figures which they can teach on return. Eight girls of the Peterborough Club are expected to take part. Six American swimmers of special note are coming including senior synchronized swimming champions. A number of United States officials will be present, and a co-founder of synchronized swimming, Mrs. Ellen Murphy-Whales of Chicago who is chief judge of this type of swimming in her country.

Mrs. C. R. Seller of Montreal will be in full charge of the Clinic with Mrs. Jessie Powell, supervisor of swimming at the Peterborough YWCA, taking an offcial part.

Swimmers in the city may have information from Mrs. N. C. Munro, Clinic Director, or Mrs. Powell, YWCA, any member of the Ornamental Club or their coach Mrs. Pansy Forbes.

"CONCERTINA" SKIRTS, as crisply pleated as the bellows of a music box, strike a gay fashion note for spring. Circular-cut skirts for both dresses and suits of Adele Simpson's design are slim when static, full-flared when mobile. They owe this elasticity to pleats, stitched for control—a control which will see these dresses and suits safely through dry-cleaning. Typical of the distinctive fabrics used for these fashions are the silks shown in julep-green shantung and brown coffee-bean print. The silk print (right) makes a suit with a pleated skirt topped by a trim button-up jacket with three-quarter sleeves, a rolling collar and flapped hip pockets. The dress of silk shantung (left) has cuffed pocket set into its "concertina" skirt and a short-sleeved tailored bodice which is cinched in at the waistline with a matching belt.

DOROTHY DIX

Husbands and Children Make Conflicting Demands

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have two babies, my husband and my 6-months-old son. When they make conflicting demands on my time and attention, I don't know which to give preference to. What is your advice? MRS. H. T.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER—Well, if I were you, I think I would give preference to my big baby. You can find plenty of reliable women to whom you can trust your 6-months-old son, but you can't find any reliable woman with whom it is safe to leave your husband. Furthermore, it is a lot more important to keep your husband amused and pacified than it is your little son, for an infant in the crib stays put, but a neglected husband steps out.

Dorothy Dix

Many women never perceive this. Their first baby looms so big on their horizon that it blots out the rest of the world, and they lose sight of their husbands completely and never see them again except as the baby's father. And it is when a man finds out that his wife has no time for him, and that his nose has been put permanently out of joint by the little stranger—who is absorbing her every thought—that he begins straying away from his own hearthstone in search of diversion.

Eternal Small Boy

You see, the thing that wives forget is the eternal small boy who lives down in the depths of every man's soul to the day of his death. A man never really grows up. No matter how old he is, he wants to be babied and petted and coddled. He wants his wife to be interested in everything he does and to jolly him and make a fuss over him.

So, Mrs. H. T., if you want to keep your husband happy, make just as much over him as you did before the advent of his deadly rival. Treat him as your big baby and let him have first call on your time and attention, and all will be well.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have been married for two years and have a fine husband and a baby girl. I am 20 years old. The trouble is, that I spend my time wishing I were single again. I keep thinking of all the things I could do and the pleasure I could have if I were not married, and I am filled with misery and discontent.

I keep telling myself that I have no right to feel this way and that I should be ashamed of myself, but I just can't help it. Can you help me to find a more cheerful outlook on life?

DISCONTENTED.

ANSWER — Probably 50 per cent of married couples go through this phase of regretting their marriage and wishing they were single again, and if marriage licenses had return coupons attached to them, many a young couple would turn back before even the honeymoon were over.

Fortunate, however, this mood passes. The prisoners of love find that their bars are golden and their jailers kind, and they accustom themselves to a more sedate gait than they used to travel. Also, they find that there are compensations for all they have lost, and so they settle down into happy husbands and wives.

And for your comfort, poor, little, discontented wife, reflect that no lot in life is ever perfect. There is always a fly in the ointment. You are unhappy now because you pine for your girlhood freedom, for your good times, for pretty clothes; but if you could wish yourself back where you were before you married, you would be equally miserable because you would be longing for love, for marriage, for the feel of little arms about your neck, for the safety of a home and a good man to stand between you and the world.

The only way to happiness is to learn to be contented with what we have and make the best of it.

DEAR MISS DIX—Do you believe in acting just as you feel like acting? GEORGE H.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER—Heavens, no, it has taken centuries of civilization to keep us from being absolutely ourselves and teaching us to put a restraint upon our actions. We work when we feel like loafing. We put on a smile when we feel grouchy and gloomy. We force ourselves to speak pleasantly when we would like to howl and swear. We throw out our chests and put on a brave front when inside we are quaking with terror.

In a word, we control ourselves—our appetites, our passions, our tongues—and try to act as we should and not as we feel like acting. That is why our fellow creatures can endure us and we have a few friends.

To End Annoying Cough, Mix This Recipe, at Home

Here is the well known old recipe which thousands of housewives have found to be a dependable means of breaking up winter coughs. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs very little, but it does give quick relief.

From any druggist, get a 2½ ounce bottle of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 ounce bottle and fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made with 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's easy. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) Thus you make 16 ounces of a very efficient medicine, and you get four times as much cough syrup for your money. It never spoils and children love its taste.

This home mixture soothes the irritated throat membranes with surprising ease. It loosens the phlegm and eases the soreness very promptly.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a well known and reliable soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if it does not please you in every way.

1948 Best Year In History George St. WMS

Mrs. R. Parnall presided for business of the Women's Missionary Society meeting held in the George St. school auditorium on Tuesday afternoon.

Treasurer Mrs. J. Fanning reported the best year in the history of the society; more money was sent to the Presbyterial treasurer than in any previous year.

Mrs. R. Parnall thanked Rev. James Semple and every member and officer of the society for their co-operation. She paid particular tribute to the efficient work of the treasurer Mrs. J. Fanning who has held that office for nine years and only missed two meetings.

To show her personal appreciation of Mrs. Fanning's help, Mrs. Parnall pinned a lovely corsage of spring flowers on her shoulder.

Dr. Semple took charge of the installation of the officers after which he addressed the gathering giving words of encouragement to the new president and urging all officers and members to rally with prayer and works for the coming year.

Mrs. E. H. Brown the new president took the chair and carried on with business. She announced the Presbyterial Rally which will be held in Trinity United Church on January 26.

A lovely promotion ceremony took place under Mrs. W. H. Morton's direction, Mrs. R. S. Hutton of the Baby Band Auxiliary came on the platform with children of the Band who have reached the age of six years; Mary Hucks, Carolyn McKee, Kathleen Hutton, Donna Leonard, Ann Thorburn, Joan Rowe, Carol Anne Parnall, Freddie Willison, Warren Sargent, Ralph Gatfield. These children went through a short program of singing and prayers.

Mrs. A. W. Townsend, leader of the Mission Band and members, Joan Weir, Evamary Redout, Nora McKinney, Beverley Bacon, Dorothy Kingston, Joyce Youngs, Marilyn McKim formed a guard of honour and sang a welcome to new members.

The social committee with Mrs. Geo. Benton, Miss J. Schaffer, Mrs. Alec Rosborough and Mrs. W. Leonard as hostesses, served a cup of tea and cookies during a pleasant half hour.

Ladies of District No. 8 under Mrs. Hurl's leadership will be in charge of February meting.

Lowly Rabbits May Get Some Protection

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 12 (CP)—The much-maligned jackrabbit, once the object of wholesale slaughter by hunters' drives, is decreasing in such numbers in Western Ontario that sportsmen now are appealing for its protection.

Several resolutions aimed to lighten casualties on "jacks" were passed at Tuesday's final session of the first annual meeting of Huron and Erie zone, Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters.

The delegates dealt mainly with closed seasons, prohibition of sale, and limits on rabbit drives.

Legislation also was asked to forbid anyone under 18 years carrying a gun for hunting unless accompanied by a person over 21.

In discussion of minors handling firearms, J. J. Girling of Hamilton called the .22 calibre rifle "the greatest menace we have in the province today."

Proposed standardization of game laws and issuing of hunting licences by the Department of Lands and Forests instead of by individual townships was laid over for a year's study.

Expect 1,000 Evictions

TORONTO, Jan. 12.—(CP). — There will be about 1,000 evictions in Toronto in the near future, H. S. Rupert, Commissioner of Public Welfare, said at a meeting here Tuesday. The evictions results from landlords recovering possession of dwellings for their own use and from court orders issued due to non-payment of rent.

California Has 4 Days Of Snow

CHICAGO, Jan. 12 (AP)—Winter continued to play favorites in the United States today. It slapped the far west, the Pacific northwest, west Texas and the Pan-Handle with chilling snows, sleet and cold. And it caressed the south with balmy breezes that brought flowers into bloom.

Snow—the fourth straight day of it—was predicted for one-time sunny southern California. However, the forecast was that it wouldn't continue cold in the orange- and lemon-growing belt—a minimum of 26 in comparison with the frosty 19 of early Monday.

Sheets of ice and sleet gripped much of west Texas and the Panhandle and large sections of eastern New Mexico also were coated. The ice—inches thick—felled telephone lines and closed all roads in the Amarillo area.

Schools were shut down and bus schedules cancelled. Power and telephone lines by the hundred were downed in west Texas and two deaths attributed to the weather were reported there.

Trucks loaded with supplies crashed through to the snow-bound town of Gordon in western Nebraska Tuesday but the little town still was in danger. A critical shortage of fuel oil grew worse and the only routes that oil could be brought in were blocked by huge snow drifts.

Can't Remain In A Town If Atomic Rain Falls

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, Jan. 12—(AP).—You can't live there if an atomic rain falls on your town. There are two kinds of atomic rain. One is from an underwater bomb. The other is from clouds that the aerial atomic bomb gathers. When atomic rain falls on you, you can live without harm, if you know what to do. If you don't you may perish. Let's take a case of what would happen if an underwater bomb exploded in New York harbor.

First, there are three pleasant surprises. There will be no flash of searing heat. There will be no killing X-ray flash. There will be no tidal wave.

The top of the water spout may have exploded, as at Bikini. This concussion will damage the water front. Storm waves will roll high enough to damage shipping on the docks.

This spout will form a cloud, explosively expanding, several miles wide, two or three miles high. Its bottom will be about a half-mile up. It soon will look like any other cloud, and rain exactly the same. If the wind is right, it will move north over Manhattan and expand as it goes.

This atomic storm will blanket the financial district with a heavy deluge. Rain will be fairly heavy in midtown. Northward over Westchester's suburbs, the cloud will spread to embrace everything between the Hudson River and Connecticut line. The rain will be lighter and the showers spotty.

Rain Emits Rays

The rain and moisture will emit gamma, or X-rays, that travel far in air and pierce thin walls. The drops also will carry atoms emitting other rays, that travel only shot distances.

You will not be able to see, smell, hear or feel these rays.

But nowhere in rain or fog will the rays be so strong that you drop dead. They will be so strong that you cannot face them long.

If you are outdoors, your first move will be a dive for the nearest doorway. Then strip naked if your cloths have picked up any moisture. Atomic rain and fog can't follow you indoors, except as your clothes carry them.

On roofs, walls and pavements, the radioactive atoms will settle in a sheet, incredibly thin, but incredibly powerful.

Inside you may be safe in basements. But watch for leaks. You may be safe in one part of a room but not in another part.

Acquit White Farmer

LYONS, Ga., Jan. 12 (AP). — An all-white jury on Tuesday quickly acquitted a white farmer accused of murdering a negro after two of the jurors testified they would not believe the negro's widow under oath. The jurors were called as character witnesses for William L. (Spud) Howell, 32, one of two white farmers charged with the ambush slaying of Robert Mallard November 20.

No Trouble Reported

TORONTO, Jan. 12 — (CP) — Mrs. George W. Conduit, daughter-in-law of the 66-year-old engraver chained for five days in a Vancouver basement by a gang of counterfeiters, said her relatives here received a letter from the engraver's wife Monday in which no trouble was mentioned. The letter, signed by Mrs. Ernest W. Conduit, was postmarked in Vancouver Friday, two days after her husband was reported missing from his job.

Brawl Among Indians Brings Fatal Wounding

WINDSOR, Jan. 12 (CP)—The Crown is expected to complete its case today in the murder trial of Thomas Andrews, 27, accused of the beer-bottle slaying last Sept. 25 of his cousin, Ernest Antone, 28.

Witnesses said Tuesday that the fatal wounding of Antone climaxed a brawl among Indian tomato pickers at nearby Leamington.

John Paul Vallee, 18, testified in French that he saw the fight near the bunkhouse the night Antone was injured. He said that from a distance of 20 feet he watched two men arguing near a bunkhouse and saw "something" in the hand of one of the men.

"I saw one raise his arm and strike the other with what he had in his hand and I heard a clacking sound," said Vallee. "They grappled with one another and fell to the ground."

Vallee said he was "almost certain" that he could identify the man who swung the bottle as Andrews.

Fascists Boo Clement Attlee

LONDON, Jan. 12.—(Reuters).—Shouts of "we want Mosley" greeted Prime Minister Attlee Tuesday night when he made his first speech in the East London constituency of West Walthamstow which he will contest at the next election.

Toward the end of the meeting there was a scuffle in the hall and the chairman shouted: "There are a few Fascists here. We have had a war to stop your kind." Sir Oswald Mosley, again active politically, was pre-war British Fascist leader.

Two of Attlee's supporting speakers, Arthur Bromley, secretary of overseas trade, and Mrs. Leah Manning, at times could not be heard because of the uproar.

Council Votes $70 Salary For Members

HAVELOCK, Jan. 12—(ENS)—Belmont and Methuen Council, comprising Reeve Ross Barrons, Councillors George Newton, Robert Wrightly, Norris Whitney and Donald Anderson met for the first time since the election on Monday.

After having taken the oath of office earlier in the day, Council decided that every member would receive the sum of $70 for services during 1949.

The following scale of wages was set: Team and man $1 an hour, men 60c an hour, trucks (3 yards. $1.75 an hour, trucks (4 yards) $2 an hour, superintendent 60c an hour, and 15c an hour for conveyance, tractors $1.50 an hour.

James Toms, Robert McFaul and James Barrons were appointed sheep valuators at 60c an hour and 13c a mile one way with $1 as the fee for short trips.

The printing contract was given to the Havelock Standard for $175.

Everett Toms was re-appointed a member of the Board of Health and William Smith was re-appointed sanitary inspector.

Councillors Anderson and Whitney asked to have the road from Chandos township south to Ted Kennedy's corner snowplowed and Robert Marshall was instructed to have this done. The reeve and clerk were authorized to sign the statement of road expenditures for 1948 and to submit it to the Department of Highways for subsidy.

On the recommendation of Councillors Whitney and Newton, the clerk was authorized to ask W. T. Harper, district engineer, to meet the council at the next meeting on February 5, to advise on estimates for machinery before the drawing up the necessary by-law.

The clerk was authorized to order eight suscriptions to The Municipal World.

Scale Down Demand

OTTAWA, Jan. 12 — (CP) — The railways today scaled down their demand for an "interim" freight-rate increase from 15 to 10 per cent. However, the railways still contended they needed more money than the 10 per cent would yield.

Keys In Thousands, Every Shape And Size Gather Dust At Police Station; Pile Grows

If you have lost any keys lately, there may be some consolation in knowing that hundreds of others must have had similar losses. Chances are that the City Police Department either has your lost key —or dozens like it. Keys appear to be the most popular item in the lost-and-found section at the station. There, they are measured by the pound.

A year's-end cleanup last week has resulted in the 1948 "crop" being moved to the basement, still available for public inspection. The year's load of unclaimed keys half fills a good-sized carton. Literally thousands of keys which have lain unclaimed for years are also rusting patiently awaiting return to their owners.

Every imaginable type of lock-opener is in the collection. There are some lovely little golden keys, one even complete to a nice neat little bow of blue cloth. There are, on the other side of the size scale, some pieces meant for use with both hands — big iron keys.

There are square keys with round holes, round keys with square holes, keys with weird and wonderful patterns on the locking section, keys with cimple one- and two-prong devices. Some have been made for locks which must be triumphs of the contortionist's art —it is hard to imagine the counterparts of some of the queer items in the handsfull of keys.

Many are brought in by officers on duty, noticed on the street. Many are brought in by residents who have come across them.

There are hundreds of separate keys and dozens of sets, ranging from simple doubles to chains of 30 and 40 keys each. There are a number of fine leather key containers, novelty chains. Can openers form a large part of the collection.

The number of finders is about three times that of losers, the police report. People are always wandering into the station, dangling keys which they have found. Few comparatively try the same place when they are looking for keys. The drawer for small lost-and-found items is already accumulating a new supply, with few claimants.

Taken all together, the station's treasure chest of keys would make a lock-picker's eyes sparkle.

Fascist Supporters Interrupt Attlee

LONDON, Jan. 12.—(Reuters).—The Empire Press Union said Tuesday it will seek legal advice on behalf of Joseph James Scorey, editor and publisher of the English-language Malta newspaper, the Bulletin, convicted there of having "insulted" the Governor.

The Council of the Union said it questioned the validity of the press ordinance, under section six of which a magistrate's court convicted Scorey of having "insulted, reviled and sought to bring into hatred or contempt the person of His Excellency Sir Francis Joseph Campbell Ross, Governor of Malta."

Sir Francis, who was born at Wakopa, Man., and spent the first 10 years of his life in Canada, was described by the Bulletin as having "violently and repeatedly" thumped the table during a meeting of the Malta University Council.

Monday Justice William Harding, after hearing Scorey's appeal, revoked the Lower Court's imposition of eight days imprisonment, reduced the £40 ($160) fine to £12 and ordered that the Bulletin's suspension of publication be reduced from two months to four days.

A statement from Empire Press Union Headquarters said the Council had heard "with much concern" of the prosecution and conviction "in circumstances which appeared to be contrary to accepted principles of press freedom."

Shipping Heads Protest Lake Restrictions

DETROIT, Jan. 12 — (AP). — A Great Lakes shipping official Tuesday attacked an Air Force plan to bar ships from two aerial gunnery ranges in Lake Huron as "unwarranted interference" with lake commerce.

Protesting the plan at a public hearing, Vice-President Linden Spencer of the Lake Carriers Association of Cleveland termed it "fraught with danger."

The Air Force has asked that areas in the lake off Oscoda and Lexington, Mich., be designated "danger areas" and that all water traffic be barred by law.

Claiming Lake Huron to be "one of the most congested waters in the world," the Cleveland shipping official said:

"It would be extremely difficult to find any area that would be more inconvenient to traffic on the Great Lakes. Barring ships from these strips would be an unwarranted interference with commerce."

A decision will be handed down later by the United States Army's chief engineer in Washington following a recommendation by the Detroit district engineer, Col. Louis J. Rumaggi.

British Views On Palestine Given To Truman By Washington Ambassador

US Concerned About Movement Of Troops In Holy Land Area; England Regards Jews As Aggressors

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—(AP).—President Truman received today from Sir Oliver Franks, the British Ambassador, an outline of Britain's views on the Palestine situation. Truman and the Ambasasador conferred for nearly a half-hour at the White House. Sir Oliver said afterwards that he submitted "the views of my government on the Palestine situation."

He told reporters these were the same he had expressed Wednesday at the State Department to Undersecretary Robert Lovett.

Lovett disclosed to a press conference Wednesday that the United States had expressed concern to the British Government over troop movements in the Palestine area.

Presumably, Sir Oliver's visit was a follow-up to this earlier exchange with the British Government. The Ambassador told reporters he delivered no note but "quite literally talked with the President."

A reporter asked whether he gave Truman assurances that Britain would take no action in its dispute with Israel over the shooting down of five British planes, which might interfere with the truce negotiations.

No Comment

Sir Oliver replied that any comment on what took place would have to come from the President.

A London source said Sir Oliver had received instructions to make it clear to Truman that:

1. Britain regards the Jews as the aggressors in the present phase of the Palestine war.

2. Britain feels that unless Jews and Arabs get a settlement the "security, tranquility, peace" of the Middle East will remain upset, with results that can only benefit Communism.

3. Britain will regard a Jewish attack on the Red Sea port of Aqaba, or on any other part of Trans-Jordan, as an attack on itself now that King Abdullah has invoked the British-Trans-Jordan mutual defence treaty.

4. Britain does not intend to suspend the precautionary measures it has taken in the conflict area.

RAF Flights Had Approval Of U.S. Leaders

LONDON, Jan. 13 (Reuters)—RAF reconnaissance flights over the Sinai Peninsula district of Egypt were undertaken with the approval of the United States, it was learned today from a reliable diplomatic source.

In the course of such flights, five RAF planes were shot down by Israeli forces last Friday.

The diplomatic source indicated that the United States had full knowledge of the flights before they were made and had given approval.

An official statement issued this afternoon from the Foreign Office said:

"The British authorities undertook the air reconnaissance on their own responsibilitty.

"In consultations on the situation which took place in the (United States) State Department at the end of last year, however, the urgent need for precise information as to the fact and extent of the Israeli incursion into Egypt was clear to both sides.

"As such information was unobtainable from United Nations sources, owing to the exclusion of United Nations observers by the Israeli authorities, the British authorities had recourse to the only other means available of obtaining such information, namely air reconnaissance."

RAF reconnaissance flights over the Egyptian frontier district started simultaneously with these Anglo-American talks in the State Department between the British Ambassador in Washington, Sir Oliver Franks, and Robert A. Lovett, acting Secretary of State, it was learned authoritatively.

Finally Decide Corpse Dead

CHARLEROI, Belgium, Jan. 13.—(Reuters.)—A panel of medical experts confirmed Wednesday that 61-year-old Jean Clobours, a farmer of Lesves, near Charleroi, is dead and should be buried.

The funeral of Clobours, who died from influenza last Saturday morning, had been postponed because his relatives and friends believed he was alive.

Friends and relatives helping with funeral arrangements Sunday and Monday noticed that the body was still warm and supple.

One of them recalled that Clobours' grandmother had fallen ill at one time and slept for a week. A distant cousin, it was also recalled, had been similarly stricken.

Baby Dies In Fire

HULL, Que., Jan. 13 — (CP). — Eight-months-old Georges Monette was burned to death today when defective lighting in a Christmas tree three feet away from his crib set off a $10,000 fire. The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eusebbe Monette, suffered burns about the face and body as they made frantic efforts to save the child from the fire which destroyed the two-storey farm house on Hull's St. Hyacinthe Street. The fire left 22 persons homeless and sent the child's parents to hospital where authorities reported their condition serious but not critical.

Police, Addict Fall 50 Ft. In Struggle

HAMILTON, Jan. 13—(CP)—As part of a well organized drive to rid the city of dope peddlers and narcotic addicts, RCMP and city detectives have arrested one alleged peddler and after raiding a MacNab street north home, arrested an alleged dope addict.

While affecting the arrest of one of the men listed as a key distributor in the dope peddling racket in the city, Constable L. G. Stuart, an RCMP officer and the accused man after a scuffle fell over the side of the mountain just west of Queen street.

They toppled a distance of from 40 to 50 feet. The officer escaped with a severe shaking up and a few bruises while his prisoner was so badly cut that he was removed to the General hospital. Later after receiving treatment he was removed to police station.

Harry Chrysler, 35, and George Skelly, 39, were charged today with a breach of the Opium and Narcotic Act and remanded until Jan. 20. Bail was fixed at $5,000 cash each or two sureties of $5,000 for each man.

Chrysler is alleged to have had narcotics in his possession when arrested.

Delay Deadline In Harbor Strike

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP). — Negotiations seeking to avert a crippling harbor strike were broken off early to-day by an AFL union after it had extended its walkout deadline until midnight to-night.

Joseph E. O'Grady, director of the city's Labor Relations Division, said the union, representing 3,500 harbor-craft crew members, declared "negotiations terminated" in order to comply with a Taft-Hartley law provision that no strike can start during negotiations.

Postponement of the deadline came within half an hour after Mayor William O'Dwyer told employer representatives that the city would go into the fuel business to avert a crisis if a strike was called.

Hirohito Escaped War Trial On US Staff Chiefs' Orders

TOKYO, Jan. 13 (AP) — Emperor Hirohito escaped prosecution as a war criminal on orders of the United States Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Copies of the order are available here. The order, a part of the directive to Gen. MacArthur to set up the International Tribunal which convicted Hideki Tojo and 24 other Japanese war leaders, was issued in January, 1946.

At first it was classed as top secret. Later it was graded down to allow defence counsel for the 25 major Japanese war criminals to use it in their appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Specifically it prohibited prosecution of the Emperor "pending receipt of a further directive." Reliable sources said no further directive ever was received by MacArthur.

These sources said the decision not to prosecute Hirohito, who was commander-in-chief of Japan's armed forces, came from a United States "governmental level," which was not further identified. The chiefs of staffs then issued the order. At that time the Far Eastern Commission had not been formed as an advisory body of policy for the occupation.

The International Tribunal president, Sir William Webb of Australia, noted many trails of evidence leading to Hirohito which were never followed up by the prosecution.

Sir William pointedly called chief prosecutor Joseph B. Keenan's attention to the fact that command responsibility rested with the Emperor. Keenan answered that it was the prosecution's theory that the Emperor had been held in the power of "gangsters." Sir William remained dissatisfied and since his return to Australia has stated publicly that he thought Hirohito should have been prosecuted as a war criminal.

Order Chiang Removed From Office

Demand Constitution Must Be Scrapped; Examine War Criminals

By SPENCER MOOSA

PEIPING, Jan. 13.— (AP).—Chinese Communists have laid down specific conditions for the beginning of National peace talks, a source here said today.

He listed them as:

1. Removal of Chiang Kai-Shek and Vice-President Li Tsung-Jen from office.

2. Scrapping of the Chinese constitution.

3. A mutual cease-fire order with both sides holding their present positions.

4. Examination and punishment of "war criminals." Chiang heads the Communist's list.

5. Establishment of a coalition government with a five-three-four ratio—five Communist members, three Kuomintang and four representing all other Chinese political parties.

The Communists, according to this source, apparently did not specify whether the Kuomintang referred to was the present party of the "Kuomintang Revolutionaries" as the Reds classify Marshal Li Chi-Sen and other Kuomintang dissidents. This naturally would be an important point for Nanking.

Expect Resignation

This same source predicted Chiang would issue another statement in which he would resign the presidency and go to Formosa. He said this statement might be issued tomorrow.

Observers say that Nanking's efforts against localized agreements with the Reds obviously are aimed at giving the Government better bargaining power. A localized peace here, another there, could strip the government of almost all of its remaining authority.

Meanwhile fighting continues here and at Tientsin, 90 miles to the southeast.

Headquarters of Gen Fu Tso-Yi, National commander here, admitted that 600 Communists attacked Tehshengmen (Gate of Victorious Peace) yesterday and got within 300 yards of it before they were beaten back. The gate controls one of the important entrances to this ancient city of culture and beauty.

Says Engraver Mental Wreck

VANCOUVER, Jan. 13—(CP)—A doctor's order today barred the way for reporters attempting to reach Ernest Conduit for a first-hand account of how he found himself caught in a plot involving counterfeiting and kidnapping.

Dr. F. A. Olacke said last night that the 66-year-old engraver, who told police a story of how he was chained in a house for five days at the mercy of hooded counterfeiters, is a "mental wreck." He said that newspaper men would not be permitted to question Conduit.

The physicians said Conduit had suffered intense shock, that it was an experience that might drive from his mind many of the things that had happened. He said it was possible Conduit might even be unable to identify the one unmasked man he had seen.

"If you were 66 years old and had lived a quiet, normal life all the time, how much would you remember of an experience like that?" he asked.

The physician said an additional strain had been imposed on Conduit by the three interrogations he had undergone with police.

Some of the East's fastest pacers and trotters died in the fire. Among them were Silverspur, owned by the Dunn Brothers of Albany; Heart of Gold and Captain Stipes, owned by Dr. L. M Parmenter; Corinth; Senator Stone and Earl's Spencer Volo, owned by Al Braim, Saratoga.

Evatt Denies Word British To Be Dropped

PERTH, Australia, Jan. 13. — (Reuters).—Dr. Herbert Evatt today said that the meeting of commonwealth ministers in London last October did not decide to drop the word "British" from the title of the commonwealth.

The Australian external affairs minister, just home from the United Nations meeting in Paris, was speaking to a summer school assembly. He said the confusion arose because the word was omitted from a communique issued during the conference.

"No decision to drop the word 'British' was ever made, and its use is essential for a host of reasons," he said.

"It is wrong to suppose that Australia attaches no importance to ties with Britain."

Members of the commonwealth were associated through the Crown and through the right of nationality, but he preferred the word "King" to Crown, he said.

"A crown is a chattel which is stowed in the Tower of London, except on ceremonious occasions, but the King is the head and pivot of the British Commonwealth of Nations. The King's powers are the continuing guarantee of the freedom and unity of the commonwealth."

Evatt added that "one of the most important decisions" of the October meeting has not yet been announced. He said many defence matters were discussed, but some of them were not disclosed immediately.

Church Against Envoy Attached To Vatican

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—(CP). — The United Church of Canada opposed appointment of a Canadian representative to the Vatican, in a resolution passed by the executive of its Department of Evangelism and Social Service.

The meeting yesterday decided to remind Prime Minister St. Laurent that in 1946 the General Council of the Church disapproved the sending of envoys to the Pope.

The executive also will ask the Attorney-General not to proceed with his amendment to divorce laws which would reduce the waiting period for divorced persons from six to three months before remarrying. Representatives were told that while the Canadian divorce rate has dropped, the number of Ontario divorces has increased. In 1945 there were 1,940 compared with 3,503 in 1948.

Questioned In Slaying

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13 (AP) —Jeff Conners, San Francisco free-lance writer, was held for questioning today concerning the slaying two years ago of Elizabeth Short, known as the Black Dahlia. Arrested near San Francisco Tuesday night and held for questioning on a technical "en route" booking, Conners denied he ever knew Miss Short, much less being involved in the brutal killing.

Hermit Discovered In Shack Doesn't Want Civilization

KIRKLAND LAKE, Jan. 13—(CP).—His home may be a rude lean-to tent, and his diet restricted to oatmeal and potatoes, but the hermit of Savard township likes it. Percy Leggitts, 57, and white-bearded, suddenly became centre of attention Wednesday after the Montreal police department said they had word of his Spartan existence and had communicated with relatives in Montreal.

Leggitts, interviewed while trotting along the highway pulling a little sleigh, said he had no intention of going back to civilization. He's going to stay on his 80-acre lot near Charlton because there he is independent and close to the soil.

"I don't want to go back to civilization because the world is going to be destroyed on account of the way people are living," he said.

No One Worried

He said he has written to his mother and sister in Montreal at various times, and they are not particularly concerned about his mode of life. He also has a brother in Lachute, Que.

"I could go down to North Bay and get a place in the old people's home," he said. "But I want to have my own place to live away from the crowds."

His "own place" just now is a tiny lean-to, with a small stove, but he's been building a log cabin. He has the framework erected and his main ambition is to get it finished.

"I don't mind living in this lean-to and my health is good, but I want to be independent in a house of my own. I'm building it single-handed."

Leggitts is a familiar figure along the highway, where he has refused offers of a lift by hundreds of motorists. He also refuses offers of meat from neighboring farmers. "I won't ride in cars because they are a product of the world that is going to be destroyed," he said.

Just A Few Clothes

Spotted in the cold last evening, he was clad only in overalls, cap and rubbers. "I don't believe in cluttering myself up with too many clothes," he said. "When it gets too cold I lie down and go to sleep.

2 Killed, 15 Hurt By Cairo Blast

CAIRO, Jan. 13 (AP)—One or two persons were killed and at least 15 were injured by the explosion of a bomb in a Cairo square today. Police announced at least 10 of the injured were policemen.

Officers said the bomb was in a bag taken to the square for official scrutiny after it was dropped in a corridor leading to the National Court of Appeal. The man who dropped it, identified as Shafik Ibrahim Anass, an employee of the ministry of agriculture, was arrested.

Offices of the public prosecutor, in the national court building, are investigating the assassination of Premier Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashy Pasha Dec. 28 and the Court of Assizes there is trying a number of youths for blasts set off in Cairo in 1946.

Seamen Violate Law

MONTREAL, Jan. 13 (CP) — Capt. J. E. Matheson, marine superintendent for the Shipping Federation of Canada, said today that a token strike by seamen on 10 Canadian ships in British ports is a "clear and flagrant violation of Canadian Law."

May Have To Divert Steel For Defence Purposes

OTTAWA, Jan. 13—(CP). — In one important and possibly prophetic sentence, the Cabinet underlined this week one of the central problems of a period which will shortly bind Canada to a North Atlantic security pact.

At Sault Ste. Marie, Defence Minister Claxton termed the St. Lawrence seaway an immediate necessity for purposes of defence. In another sentence which got far less attention, he said too:

"At a time of very high production, such as we have today, any considerable production of war materials can only be made by diversion of steel from civilian to military uses."

He added: "Even with our increased production while we could go a long way towards meeting wartime needs, it may be desirable for peacetime purposes, as well as to meet an emergency, to increase productive capacity and the Government has been for some time considering this with representatives of the industry."

Informed opinion here sees three courses, all of which might be taken if an arms program of any large size develops in the next two years:

1. Diversion of steel from civilian requirements, hitting a wide range of things from washing machines to capital equipment.

2. To ask the US for more steel on the theory that Canada's arms production would be in the American interest.

3. Enlarged domestic production with Federal help for private firms.

Fear Man 68 May Be Dead; Searchers Out

Missing Since Sunday; Say Exposure May Have Killed Him

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—(CP). — Search for John Macpherson spread over two Ontario counties today and it was feared the 68-year-old former Montreal resident may have died from exposure and exhaustion.

Missing from his son's Ontario county home at Whitevale since Sunday, Mr. Macpherson suffered from loss of memory since his retirement two years ago and spent some time in a nursing home.

Police said reports from Unionville, York county, indicated that he wandered into that vicinity. A former member of Montreal's Harbor Board, Mr. Macpherson is the father of Rev. J. Macpherson, lecturer in Oriental languages at University of Toronto.

Following his retirement he lived with another son at Ottawa and came to Whitevale last November. It was believed Mr. Macpherson suffered from the delusion that he still lived in Ottawa and was wandering about from house to house looking for his home.

Police said that at Unionville an unidentified man was seen walking aimlessly about the town and footprints were found in a park Monday.

"The footprints led up to each cottage as if the person had knocked on each door. Then, on Tuesday, he was seen knocking on a door in Unionville," a constable said.

A police-led posse of some 50 men is continuing the search.

Conroy Denies Union Rumors

OTTAWA, Jan. 13 — (CP). — Pat Conroy, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said today in a statement that speculation to the effect that a new union, to be formed for gold miners in the Timmins area, will be turned over to the United Steelworkers of America is "entirely unjustified."

"Actually, the United Steelworkers have been asked to vacate the field," Mr. Conroy said. "It is the intention of the Congress to organize the miners in a CCL union. When these workers are organized the executive council of the Congress will decide their jurisdictional position."

Wednesday it was announced that the Congress had asked both the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, its left-wing affiliate, and the USW A, one of the strongest right-wing bodies in the Congress to vacate the Timmins field to permit the CCL's organization drive.

The Canadian Press speculated that the field, after organization, would eventually be turned over to the Steelworkers group.

$100,000 Fire Sweeps Halifax Building

HALIFAX, Jan. 13 —(CP)— Guard ropes today enclosed the fire-scarred front of the Canada Permanent Trust and Mortgage Corp. building, gutted by an early-morning $100,000 blaze that raged out of control for two hours. The building stands at Halifax's main intersection, Barrington and Sackville streets.

How the fire started was not immediately known but it was believed to have had its origin in the basement of the building.

Although no one was injured, Fire Chief Fred MacGillivray said: "We dragged several firemen out by the feet." They had been temporarily overcome by dense clouds of black smoke that periodically obscured the three-storey brick structure from view.

Chief MacGillivray said his department had received a report from the Sea Horse Tavern, at the rear of the block on Argyle street, that smoke was noticeable in the building. He said persons in the tavern told of smelling smoke "since before supper."

Bevin Policy Confused Eden Charges

US-Attlee Government Must Share Blame For Weak Policy

LONDON, Jan. 13.— (AP).— Conservative spokesman Anthony Eden expressing fear of a British-American break over Palestine, terms Foreign Secretary Bevin's handling of Middle Eastern Affairs confused.

Eden declared in a political talk at Warwick Wednesday night that the Labor government and the United States State Department must share the blame "for failure either to declare a firm policy or takes a firm line."

"I have long been anxious lest these Palestinian events should imperil Anglo-American friendship," said Eden, who was wartime foreign secretary under Winston Churchill and is second only to Churchill in the Conservative party's leadership. "Surely the time has now come when a supreme effort must be made to agree on an Anglo-American policy and carry it out."

Aggressive Act

Eden said the destruction of five British planes by Israeli forces during a battle between Jew and Arabs on the Palestine-Egyptian border last Friday was "an unwarranted and aggressive act."

But he added:

"Why were our aircraft sent to carry out a reconnaissance over battle areas in such conditions?

"What useful British purpose could the flight be held to serve?"

Those were a sample of the questions expected to be asked Bevin by both Conservative and Labor critics when parliament meets again next week. It resumes sessions Tuesday.

Aside from defence, a primary interest is access to Middle Eastern oil. This asset was emphasized in the prediction of Egyptian government officials in Cairo Wednesday that the Sinai desert area east of the Suez canal will become one of the richest oil-producing regions in the world.

Police Hold Trio In Cabbie's Murder

FREDERICTON, Jan. 13 (CP) —Police today were holding three men, all negroes, for questioning in the slaying of 34-year-old cabbie Norman P. Burgoyne whose blood-spattered body was found Monday jammed into the trunk of his taxi. His head had been beaten in.

R.C.M.P. Superintendent D. L. McGibbon said Fredericton police were holding the trio "for questioning and investigation regarding the murder."

He said two of the men—police withheld their names — were charged with criminal offences not connected with the murder. He did not say what the offences were but added they were not merely holding charges.

The men were arrested more than 48 hours after Burgoyne's body was discovered. His watch and $200 he had been carrying were missing.

A joint statement by R.C.M.P. and city police said: "Investigations to date have established that the murder of Burgoyne was committed on the Richibucto Road, outside the Fredericton city limits."

Plant 30,500 Acres Of 'Food For Britain'

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 13 — (CP)—Batteries of modern farm machinery swung into action early today for the first planting on 30,500 acres of a "food for Britain" grain farm in central Queensland.

The planting will be carried out as a round-the-clock operation in an effort to get the grain sown to allow early germination before the hot Queensland sun dries the ground, recently soaked by heavy rains.

The Queensland-British Food Corporation, which operates the farm, will sow sorghum to feed pigs which are expected to provide an additional 10,000,000 pounds of pork annually for British tables.

The farm, at Peak Downs, represents the biggest single project attempted in Australia to bolster Britain's meagre meat ration. Today's sowing is the culmination of months of ploughing in a race against time to get the work completed before the coming of the rains.

Vancouver Plans To Fight Code Changes

VANCOUVER, Jan. 13 (CP) — City solicitor Arthur Lord suggested today recent criminal code amendments were buying crutches for smalltown magistrates with revenues taken from the larger cities.

He said the code changes, which allow persons charged with certain minor offences to elect trial by jury, were enacted for the benefit of magistrates not formally trained in the law. The revised sections, he said, made it easier for the uncertain magistrate to determine whether or not he had the power to try the case.

Formerly most of the minor offences mentioned—theft over $25, gambling, keeping a bawdy house—came before the police magistrate, and the revenue from the fines poured into the city coffers.

In large cities such as Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver, he said, the magistrates were lawyers, and had no difficulty deciding jurisdiction.

Would Limit Amendments

He suggested that the amendments should have been extended only to centres under a certain population, and that larger cities should be allowed to keep their present system, and their revenues.

The City of Vancouver joined the British Columbia Attorney-General's department in its fight against the code changes. Attorney-General Gordon Wismer has expressed the hope that the matter can be fought on the floor of the Commons before the revision takes effect later this year.

City Prosecutor Gordon Scott estimates that 25-30 per cent of accused persons affected will elect jury trial, re-routing the flow of fines into the provincial treasury.

Ian Cameron, defence counsel for hundreds of Chinese who appear in police court on gambling charges (affected by the amendments) estimates the revenue from this source has been $82,000 yearly for 30 years.

Court Denies Craft Appeal

TORONTO, Jan. 13 (CP)—With the dismissal of his appeal against a conviction of murder, 47-year-old Austin Craft can now look only to executive clemency to escape being hanged Jan. 24.

The dismissal — a unanimous verdict Wednesday by five Ontario Supreme Court judges—blocked Craft's chance of carrying any appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada. The Brantford bank robber was convicted in Kingston for the prison-break slaying of prison messenger John Kennedy April 26.

The verdict Wednesday found that Craft had been given a "fair trial," and the convict's counsel, C. L. Dubin, said he would advise Craft to appeal to the solicitor-general of Canada for executive clemency on the grounds of insanity. Craft is now in the death cell at Frontenac County jail in Kingston.

Mr. Dubin, appointed by the Crown to conduct Craft's appeal, argued during the hearing that the trial judge (Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay) erred in not directing the jury to consider the prisoner's ability to stand trial.

Craft, three times committed to mental institutions, conducted his own defence at the Kingston trial with only the advice of a Kingston lawyer.

Two Mining Stocks In Exchange Limelight

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—(CP).—A couple of mining stocks were in the limelight on the Toronto stock exchange today, moving briskly in the busiest session since Nov. 18, 1947.

Waite Amulet and Wiltsey-Coghlan rolled briskly to chalk up about half of the some 2,000,000 shares traded in the first three hours. The two stocks advanced strongly late in Wednesday's session following news from the Waite property in the Rouyn district, Northern Quebec, that a drill hole had cut 17 feet of ore at 1,500 feet. This hole is about 1,500 feet from the adjoining Wiltsey property.

Profit-taking cut into Wiltsey-Coghlan at today's opening, but within 15 minutes the stock boomed ahead in very heavy trading to touch a new high at 37 cents. Action slackened towards noon and the price dipped to 29 cents but still more than triple Wednesday's opening price.

Waite also rolled strongly in early dealings and tended to slacken as volume slowed towards noon. The stock touched a new high at $12.62 in the morning and then sagged to $11.25 in quieter trading.

Other base metal stocks, like Noranda, Lake Dufault and Quemont tended to ease as the session progressed. Illustrating the extent of the first hour boom, is the volume of some 1,102,000 shares turning over while third hour volume showed the slackening off at a turnover of 1,980,000 shares.

Hermit Discovered

"I just sort of hibernate."

Leggitts came from England to Montreal in 1912 and for some years was a fireman and spare engineer with the old Grand Trunk Railway.

As the interview ended he was putting a few sticks in the stove in preparation for his evening meal—boiled potatoes and a few oatmeal cookies he accepted from a district housewife.

Earlier, Provincial Police Constable B. Sodoka, who investigated, reported Leggitts' shack was "definitely unfit for human habitation."

The hermit's ragged clothing was inadequate for winter weather and "his only possessions are a few pieces of antiquated furniture."

The public welfare department at Kirkland Lake gave Leggitts "temporary relief" and he was told a medical certificate as to his condition would be necessary before regular aid could be given.

Condition Good

TORONTO, Jan. 13—(CP). — Condition of John Haneza, 50-year-old workman crushed Wednesday under 7½ tons of concrete slabs, is "fairly good," hospital officials said today. A fellow-workman, Serge Borko, 40, of Montreal, was killed in the accident. Coroner F. W. Tickett said the accident occurred when a vacuum lift, raising a wooden rack filled with the slabs, toppled over.

OSHAWA, Jan. 13—(CP).—The Oshawa Independent, a weekly newspaper, in today's issue announced cessation of publication for economic reasons. The publishers, Independent Publishers, Ltd., will continue in the job printing business.

Charge Toronto Blocking Fire Inspectors

TORONTO, Jan. 13 — (CP)— Whether civic departmental routine has spoiled the efficiency of fire inspection and protection services in Toronto became a leading topic today.

In a rooming house fire on McGill Street four persons died Christmas week; last Tuesday an aged pensioner was burned to death in a rooming house fire on Jarvis Street. Both localities are on the fringe of the downtown area.

Ontario Fire Marshal William Scott, in a letter to Toronto Fire Chief Peter Herd, charged that Toronto fire prevention inspectors are not doing the job done by inspectors in other cities. The provincial official said Toronto inspectors were not trained in up-to-date methods. He called Toronto inspectors little more than "garbage and rubbish inspectors" because of limitations placed on their work by departmental rules.

Scott charged that work of the Toronto inspectors was hampered by "fear they might infringe on the prestige and jurisdiction of the city building department."

Deny Charges

Both the Toronto fire chief and the civic building commissioner denied the charges.

Fire Chief Herd said he had replied to the Ontario marshal denying there was any "divided authority" between his department and the city building department. The chief, veteran of 40 years of firefighting, said "My inspectors recommend enlarging of doors and other things and follow right through until the work is done. The building owner goes to the building department to get a permit to carry out the work only. That is the only connection."

Building Commissioner K. S. Gillies told the Board of Control Wednesday "all this talk about divided authority between my department and fire department officials is the bunk. There has never been greater co-operation between the two than exists right today."

The civic board of control was deeply concerned. Two days ago the board was told by another civic official, Fire Marshal Sam Hill, that dissension had disrupted fire inspection and prevention services to such an extent that any feeling of security in Toronto amounts to "living in a fool's paradise."

Study Made Of Marriage

Remits from the General Assembly were the topics of discussion at the special meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery held on Wednesday in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. Rev. E. W. McKay, BA, of Cobourg, the moderator, occupied the chair.

One of the questions dealt with had to do with Christian Marriage. This at the present is receiving serious consideration in the Presbyterian Church. There also enters the problems of relationship of sex and divorce. Rev. L. H. Fowler, clerk of the Presbytery, has made a lengthy study of the question and presented a report to the Assembly. The Presbytery decided that a special committee should make a study of the question and report at the March meeting.

The nation's sin of drunkenness was the subject of an overture sent by the Synod of Toronto and Kingston and after a lengthy study of the report accompanying it the Presbytery came to the decision that it was prepared to admit that the church had been at fault and that its membership had failed to take their responsibilities as citizens in the handling the liquor traffic.

Clarification of the articles of faith and a definite pronouncement of the faith of the Presbyterian Church was left for further study.

Kitchener Council Rejects Radio Plan

Kitchener council declined this week to "put its meetings on the air". "We can't expect to compete with Jack Benny," said Ald. Clarence Seibert. "We don't know ahead of time what business will be going on any particular time," was the comment of Ald. Henry Sturm.

A new radio station proposed broadcasting alternate meetings from 8.15 to 9 p.m.

"I listened to the Hamilton council broadcasts," said Ald. Sturm. "If ours didn't sound any better than theirs, I wouldn't want to put them on the air."

HOLD OUTBOARD MARINE MEETING

A special meeting of the Outboard Marine employees has been called for tonight at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 8 p.m. There will be a discussion of the United Steelworkers of America invitation for the Independent Union to affiliate.

Quaker Provides Insurance Plan

Adding to its already long list of employee benefits, The Quaker Oats Company of Canada announced today a new low-cost group life insurance plan for all approved employees.

This plan enables employees to buy life insurance equal to the amount of their annual pay at a cost of 50c per month per $1,000 of insurance. The balance of the cost of the program will be paid for by the company.

This plan presents another opportunity for Quaker employees to build greater security for themselves and their families with the assistance of the company.

In addition to this new plan, the company already has in effect a pension plan, a guaranteed work plan, and a profit sharing plan which has been in effect for a number of years.

In addition, a few months ago the company announced a sickness and accident plan for hourly workers, which pays a substantial part of their regular pay when they are absent due to personal illness or accident.

She had been confined to hospital since Dec. 30 after she jumped 15 feet from the window of her burning apartment when flames cut off her escaped by the stairs. Her husband, Ernest Carr, 30, a brakeman with the Canadian National Railways, had returned from work to find his son dead, his wife severely burned and his home destroyed. George Drew Protests Cardinal's Arrest

WINNIPEG, Jan. 13 —(CP)— The government of Canada and the government of every other free country in the world should protest in the strongest possible terms the arrest of Cardinal Mindszenty's arrest was the most recent incident in world events to illustrate the nature of the Communists' campaign.

"The incident in Hungary symbolizes in broad outline the frame-work of Communist activity all over the world. It represents part of an organized effort by Communism in every country to suppress religious teachings. It is for the people of all faiths in Canada and all other countries to realize that religious teachings are in themselves the most effective bulwark against Communism."

Eastern Ontario Liberals Want Ottawa House

OTTAWA Jan. 13 — (CP). — Establishment in Ottawa of a "Home for Liberalism" was asked by the Eastern Ontario Liberal Federation meeting here Wednesday.

More than 75 party members attended the session, presided over by Donald MacDonald of Alexandria, and Mrs. W. T. O'Regan of Ottawa, Dominion vice-president of the National Federation of Liberal Women of Canada.

In moving the resolution asking for establishment of a House for the Liberal Party, T. C. Cossitt of Brockville, said the Party members needed a place where they could hold meetings.

"We think there should be some place in Ottawa where a Home for Liberalism can be established," Mr. Cossitt, president of the Eastern Ontario Young Liberals Federation.

The resolution was approved unanimously and will be forwarded to the Advisory Committee of the National Federation, which meets here January 24-26, inclusive.

Pension Age

Another resolution urged that the Government, at the forthcoming session of Parliament, bring in legislation lowering the age for old-age pensions from 70 to 65 years. It also asked that pensions be given without a means test and on a contributory basis.

Reporting on women's Liberal groups, Mrs. O'Regan said that two groups organized recently in Cornwall and Leeds were progressing favorably.

Delegates suported a resolution of Mrs. O'Regan that a Liberal Women's Federation of Eastern Ontario be formed "with the least possible delay."

Governor's Decree Suspends Sentence

VALLETTA, Malta., Jan. 13.—(Reuters).—For the first time in Malta's history, an appeal court sentence Wednesday was suspended by a fiat (decree) of the governor, Sir Francis Douglas.

Sir Francis granted a two-month stay of execution of the sentence of James Scorey, convicted of libel against the governor in the Malta Bulletin, which Scorey owns.

Originally Scorey was sentenced to eight days' imprisonment and ordered to pay £40 ($160).

The appeal in court Monday upheld the conviction, but reduced the sentence to a suspension of the newspaper for four days and an order for the payment of £12 ($49).

Malta's attorney-generad Tuesday opposed Scorey's request for a stay of execution to appeal to the Privy Council in London. The Appeal Court ruled it was unable to deal with the application because there is no law in Malta under which it could do so.

Scorey then filed an application to the governor, which was granted.

Timidity In Toronto

The Mayor of Toronto, Mr. Hiram McCallum, thinks that some of the apathy which Torontonians have shown to municipal elections is attributable to the fact that the voting is done on New Year's Day; he has therefore hit upon the timid idea that the Provincial Government should establish another day as election day, and that this law should be effective in all municipalities. Toronto has, on one or two occasions, tried to get the voters' consent to a change in the date of the municipal elections, and has failed; a provincial law would do the job for the Toronto officials without involving them in any further appeals to the electors.

* * *

Frankly, we do not see any good reason why the rest of Ontario should be involved in the task of arousing the electors of Toronto to the importance of municipal politics. Several Ontario cities already hold their elections early in December, having learned by experience that New Year's Day is a bad day for voting. But the choice of an election day is a municipal matter, and if Toronto cannot arrange its own affairs satisfactorily, it must suffer the consequences.

* * *

We do not wish to reflect upon Mayor McCallum personally, but it appears to us that the city of Toronto assumes, quite without justification, that its affairs are of the keenest concern to other Ontario municipalities, and that the other municipal governments in the Province are, in some unexplained way, subsidiary to its own. Within their limits, municipalities are self-governing, and we are disturbed by the trend in Ontario at present to geld municipal governments of authority and responsibility, and to make them agents of the provincial government at Queen's Park. Provincial governments are themselves resentful of the growing centralization of government at Ottawa; can the government of Ontario not understand that the municipalities are also resentful of the centralization of government at Toronto? Mayor McCallum's suggestion, with its implication that the affairs of his city take precedence over the wishes of the other Ontario municipalities, is an unwelcome and presumptuous one, and if the provincial government is wise, it will not touch it with a ten-foot pole.

Breeding Reindeer For Meat Export

The high cost of domestic meat and the needs of Europe have turned some people's minds to the possibility of breeding reindeer in commercial quantities in our northland. Venison is excellent when well prepared. In Canada it is a rare delicacy, for it is the spoil of sportsmen and not of butchers. In Britain during the war venison became something of a commonplace in clubs and hotels, for fresh beefsteak and pork were rationed and difficult to get, and deer from Scottish estates were shipped south in large quantities. If Canada could produce venison for export there would be a good market for it.

Can deer be bred in commercial, profitable quantities? An official of the Department of Resources has denied knowledge of plans to turn part of the great Ungava area into a reindeer breeding ground. Such a plan was mooted by a member of the Montreal Zoological Society recently, who discussed a suggestion put forward by Fred A. Meid in London (England) that reindeer be developed in northern Canada for British tables.

There are difficulties in the way. One is the cost of shipping reindeer meat to London, which would be heavy. Another is that Government attempts to develop two large herds at the mouth of the Mackenzie River did not succeed, not because the deer were not healthy, but because men could not be found to look after them properly.

There have been varied attempts to adapt our wild animals to domestic use. A notable effort was made a generation ago by the late Mossom Boyd of Bobcaygeon to cross-breed buffalo and cows. He believed that if the hardiness and hulk of the buffalo and the meat and milk of cows could be combined, Canada would have a valuable domestic animal which could prosper out-of-doors even in winter. He succeeded in producing cross-bred offspring, but these offspring could not be bred. Later attempts at this kind of cross-breeding have produced third generation hybrids, but they are scrawny, good neither as buffalo nor as cows. We suspect that the breeding of large herds of reindeer for commercial purposes will remain a pipe-dream, unless the price of cows jumps over the moon.

We Foresaw This

For some time we have foreseen that a day would come when there was no more room for special "weeks" and "days" in the calendar, and that time has now arrived. The U.S. Department of Commerce has issued a bulletin listing the "weeks" and "days" for 1949, and the number is so great that some of them have to be doubled up. Thus we are quite likely to have to celebrate Grandmother Day in the middle of "Honour Horses and Mules Week"—a situation which is liable to the gravest misinterpretation by the ribald and the simple-minded.

Every week this year is a "week" of some sort, in the States. There is to be a Coin Machine Week, and a Fig Week and a Frozen Food Week, as well as National Sweater Week and Education Week. And contained within these weeks there will be all sorts of "days". If anyone pays any attention to such things—and we suppose that someone does so—he must lead a remarkably varied and confusing life.

Exactly this sort of situation arose several hundred years ago in the matter of saints. There were several thousand saints, and as each one had a "day" there were often as many as five saints who had to be honoured within twenty-four hours—a great strain on devotion. Often a really great saint would have his day cluttered up with bush-league saints; St. Augustine, for instance, had to share his day with a small saint called Moyses the Ethiopian, which was obviously annoying and unfair. Therefore the wisdom of the Church had to be exercised to expell some saints from popular veneration, and to demote others, so that the really great saints received their due, and so that the calendar was not over-loaded.

The same thing will have to be done with "days" and "weeks". A solemn congregation of Chambers of Commerce should be able to separate the sheep from the goats, and bring some order out of the present chaos.

The Robes Of Justice

The new robes of a Justice of the Supreme Court of Ontario are being worn by Mr. Justice Genest at the present sittings of the court in Peterborough. They are handsome and colourful, and of considerable historic interest, as they are copied from the robes which used to be worn by the Justices of the King's Bench in Upper Canada. As Mr. Justice Genest said, they are a constant reminder of the legal heritage which we enjoy as a part of the British Commonwealth.

We paid a brief visit to the court on Wednesday morning to see the judge in his new splendour, and to refresh our acquaintance with court ceremonial. As we looked at Mr. Justice Genest upon the bench, and at the uniformed Sheriff below him, and at the lawyers in their robes of varied cut who appeared before the court we reflected, as we have done many times before, upon the wisdom of Canada in retaining these ceremonial dresses, which have been abandoned in the U.S.A. A court is supposed to be the domain of reason — a place where emotional appeals and the delights of the eye are out of place. But men take their eyes and ears to court with them, and if they find the officers of the court distinctively and handsomely dressed, and if they hear ceremonial terms in constant use, they are bound to be more impressed than if these things were absent. The judicious use of symbols has never done harm to any great cause, and the robes of the men who carry on the business of our courts are symbols of the long continuance of our system of justice, of its dignity, and of that essence of justice which will still flourish when all the judges now living are dust, and all the lawyers now living silent forever. To abandon such reminders of the continuity of justice would be folly indeed.

The Saint John Telegraph-Journal says that "No one knows how many men die in New Brunswick every Winter because they throw themselves too wholeheartedly into shovelling away the miniature mountains of snow on their sidewalks". We guard against this sort of thing in Ontario by throwing ourselves into such work only half-heartedly.

From The Critic's Notebook

THE HICKORY STICK by Virgil Scott (McClelland & Stewart). This is the most powerfully written American novel that this reviewer has seen since Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath". Mr. Scott has not attained Steinbeck's unity, his material is not as well integrated as was Steinbeck's at his best, but his writing is powerful, tense and electrically alive. Since he deals with the real teachers versus the phony "educators" and the corrupt politicians involved in the Ohio State Educational System, his characters are more complicated and therefore more interesting.

This book is a terrible indictment of the College of Education charlatans in action, of the corrupt school boards in a country where political graft reaches into every sphere of community activity, and of the ill-paid victims who knuckle under, cynically or cringingly, because they dare not inflict physical hardship on their wives and children.

You may become impatient with the main character, Doug Harris, the young English teacher who wants at first to fight the accumulated dirt, and then, having tasted it, becomes hardened and outsmarts the corrupt supervisor and the board members at their own game. In the process he almost loses his soul, his sanity, his wife and his decent friends. But it is an exciting battle, and the best men win, even when they lose their jobs rather than sell their souls.

The hero of this book is a great hater, but if the school system of any state is as black as this writer paints it, it will take a lot of righteous wrath to straighten things out. Since the writer and his family have been a part of the system for two generations, he must know whereof he speaks. Since he speaks out, unafraid, though obviously courting libel if he be wrong, he carries conviction. His picture of the lower middle class adolescents in a small industrial town, poor white, down-trodden black, and the generally unwashed during the depression years, is depressing, if not terrifying in its implications for democracy, with which, as he says, the levelling process is confused. This process has thrown up most of the weak links among the staff members, who having worked their way from broken down homes to high school jobs, still can't speak English, and understand only gangster principles in their dealings with others.

This is a complex novel, a sociological cross-section of Ohio school society. The writer uses the flashback method to explain the personalities of the people who come within the orbit of young Harris's experience, in a series of highly condensed, but graphic biographies. By means of this technique we get the important clues to character, after the person has become significant in the plot, instead of before, as in the traditional novel, where the details seem irrevelant at first. Scott owes a lot to Dos Passos, and is best in his objective sequences, as in the description of Vin Anderson's tragic accident. Here he gains speed and tension in a masterful way. With the stream of consciousness interludes he is not so successful, and the T. S. Eliot episode seems like mere display. The "tougns" are very graphic, but the "petty academics" (if I may coin a description) tend to fall too patly into types. These are minor criticisms, and this is a writer to watch.

Graduates reading "The Hickory Stick" will realize that even if Canada isn't heaven, there are things besides salaries to be considered before stepping lightly across the border. H.T.K.

◇ ◇ ◇

YONDER SHINING LIGHT by Marion Keith (McClelland & Stewart). This writer's last book, "As A Watered Garden" was a charming, if light weight, idyll of Ontario rural life. "Yonder Shining Light" is a little too charming. The heroine is sweet and sacrificing, and entirely uncomplicated by any really human tendencies. She doesn't miss them of course, since life in her father's pastorate on the shores of Georgian Bay is just one long sweet Sunday School session. On the jacket, it is described quite erroneously as a love story. Strictly for sweet young maidens and dear old ladies. H.T.K.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE MOON IS MINE by Arthemise Geortz (McGraw-Hill). Pat Reagan is a New York office girl, with an exaggerated sense of responsibility for her not-much-good family. She cannot decide between a career of gold-digging and the love of the boy next door. Miss Goertz keeps her from making up what mind she has for three hundred pages of completely flavourless tripe. Sample sentence: "Eddie had gotten up at daybreak to clear the sidewalk before he went to work."

This is the sort of thing that makes one weep for the wasted pulp forests of northern Ontario.

THE FIRE BALLOON by Ruth Moore (McClelland & Stewart). A novel about a Maine family and their village neighbours, with special emphasis on the development of their daughter from childhood to young womanhood. There are good descriptions of the work of the fishermen, and one or two salty old characters much like those one finds in the isolated sections of Ontario. The "fire balloon" is a kind of fireworks, symbolizing the girl's bright dreams of her future, a future threatened by a tragedy in which she plays a leading role.

This book is a good average novel of its type. Passably written, but not ambitious artistically. H.T.K.

The High Cost of Dying

The "Star of West Africa", a lively journal published at Cape Coast in Gold Coast Colony, has been giving some interesting facts about "the economics of elaborate funerals" in that part of the world. The "Star" is against these "antiquated and oppressive rituals," and well it might be, in view of the details which it gives of the expenditure thought proper by a respectable family. Two heavy items catch the eye at once:

	£	s	d
Food and rum to mourners.....	50	0	0
Travelling expenses of friends and relatives	50	0	0

"Music makers, £5," seems a modest allowance, and at four shillings "grave-digging dues to town council" are a bargain—a strong point for municipal trading. A brass silk-lined coffin costs from £25 to £75, and from £12 to £30 may be spent on "uniform cloth for thanksgiving service" — presumably to provide the mourners with raiment suitable to the occasion. Altogether a respectable family may spend £200 to bury one of its members, and a wealthy family may spend 75 per cent. more, although as the "Star of West Africa" points out "the flesh profiteth nothing." In a country in which the standard of living is still meagre—a skilled artisan gets about six shilling a day—the cost of dying certainly seems unreasonably high, and the "Star's" campaign deserves all support.

Letters To The Editor

FAVOURS LONGER HOSPITAL PAYMENT

Sir: I was very much impressed with G. N. Gordon's letter in your paper of Jan. 10, 1949, and it appears to me a very practical way to ease the proposed burden on Peterborough's taxpayers.

A further favouring influence to Mr. Gordon's suggestion (which is a question in my own mind): is the present alloted appropriation definitely known to be sufficient to cover the new hospital expense or will the taxpayers be asked within the next few years to vote a further large sum to complete the project?

BETTER EDUCATION FOR POLICEMEN

Sir: During the past fourteen and a half years I have learned about the amount and type of training given the policemen for the various departments and on various occasions have expressed the idea that the policeman's work involves vital responsibilities, adventures, incessant risks involving moral character, physical strength, patience and perserverance. Yet, consider the thousands of men who go into that profession with so little knowledge of what they will encounter or be expected to know on account of their meager training.

On January 4th came the announcement that the first step in a province-wide plan for a police academy for instruction of all police officers will be taken when an Ontario Municipal Police School will be opened at the University of Western Ontario; later other similar schools for training will be opened elsewhere. The London school opens on Jan. 17 and 24 subjects will be taught and the cost will be supposed to be paid by the municipality sending the men for training. That last is the great catch and the ridiculous part in my estimation, making one wonder what this present setup of officials will do next to get money out of the little fellow, the taxpayer.

A policeman should have a broad education and many types of knowledge, to assure ability, to adjust tactfully his efforts according to the situation encountered. But why should such an extensive education not be for every policeman and that be paid for, as any student would have to prepare himself for any other type of education?

It is my impression that every taxpayer should take a wider awake interest in knowing how their tax money is being spent and when it comes to police protection for every deserving person, all should be done to see that our county is up to the standard, as far as education, properly selected officials and enforcement are concerned. But I cannot see why this county should use the taxpayer's money to educate a policeman for his occupation when a teacher or any other professional person pays for their own education.

FARMERS DENY FREEDOM

Sir: Reading the account of the 12th annual meeting of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture held in Toronto recently I see where they protested against non-taxable farmers having to file income tax returns.

To quote the president, "The forcing of thousands of farmers who are not taxable to make returns just to justify the prejudiced thinking of some other groups, seems to me to be a denial of freedom—and a reflection on the honesty of farm people".

Now who are they to be complaining about a "denial of freedom"? They didn't register any complaints about the people of Canada being denied the freedom of buying and using margarine for more than sixty years.

All who handle butter, claim to make a small margin of profit on it—but rest assured the farmer makes his share. Why all the howling? In time margarine won't make any inroads on the sale of butter, but if it should, then the farmers will have no one to blame but themselves.

Countless resolutions have been passed by the above Federation about the colour of margarine and demanding heavy sales taxes on the product. No, they don't want to pay income taxes themselves, but are ever ready to create a new tax for others.

Thousands of Canadian farmers in the army during the last war ate margarine in England for years and didn't put up a howl about it—why didn't they demand that Canadian butter be served? Because—it wasn't affecting their pocketbooks.

Let them scream—colour margarine black, jack it up in price to equal butter, and I'd still buy it. Not because it's better than butter, but simply because the farmers have seen fit to deny a freedom to the rest of the country for so long.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And it came to pass, when the Lord would take up Elijah into heaven by a whirlwind, that Elijah went with Elisha from Gilgal. And Elijah said unto Elisha, Tarry here, I pray thee; for the Lord hath sent me to Bethel. And Elisha said unto him, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they went down to Bethe-el....

And Elijah said unto Elisha, Tarry here, I pray thee; for the Lord hath sent me to Jericho. And he said, As the Lord liveth, and thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. So they came to Jericho... And Elijah said unto him, Tarry, I pray thee, here: for the Lord hath sent me to Jordan. And he said, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. And they two went on....

And Elijah took his mantle, and wrapped it together, and smote the waters, and they were divided hither and thither, so that they two went over on dry ground. And it came to pass, when they were gone over, that Elijah said unto Elisha, Ask what I shall do for thee, before I be taken away from thee. And Elisha said, I pray thee, let a double portion of thy spirit be upon me. And he said, Thou hast asked a hard thing: nevertheless, if thou see me when I am taken from thee, it shall be so unto thee; but if not, it shall not be so.

And it came to pass, as they still went on, and talked, that, behold, here appeared a chariot of fire, and horses of fire, and parted them both asunder; and Elijah went up by a whirlwind into heaven. And Elisha saw it, and he cried, My father, my father, the chariot of Israel, and the horsemen thereof. And he saw him no more....

Mona Freeman Gives Advice To Teen-Agers

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 13 (CP)—Teen-age girls, probably the most advised of all human beings, get some sympathy from Mona Freeman. Also some advice.

Despite being the mother of a 14-month-old, Mona received some kind of an award for her role as the bobby-socked fixer in "Dear Ruth." She's at it again in "Dear Wife." So I sounded her out on the American female species, young. First off, she decried the professional advisers.

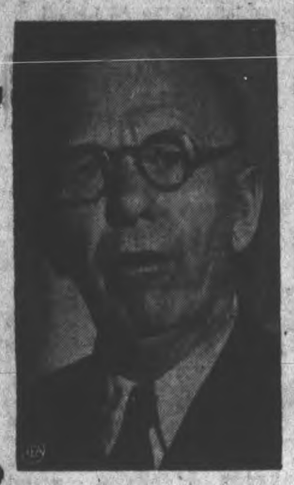
"Everybody is giving advice to teen-agers," said Mona, who is now an ancient 22. "Maybe they don't need it. People don't realize that a lot of young girls are doing part-time work, taking care of babies and otherwise standing on their own feet. They can think for themselves."

Gives Some Tips

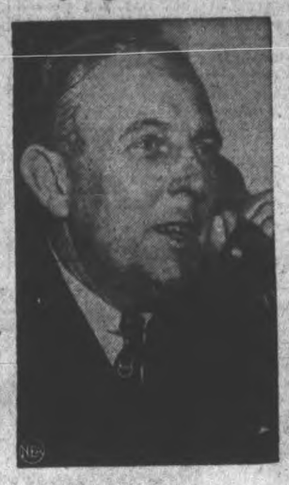
After that preamble, I prodded Mona into doling out some tips to bobby-soxers and their bewildered parents:

1. There's not much you can do to stop girls from smoking when they're mature enough to do it.
2. Girls should be allowed to wear what the other girls are wearing, no matter how sloppy it may look to their parents. However, cleanliness is another matter, and that should be stressed by parents.
3. Don't be a study bug. It's just as bad to study too much and avoid social life, as it is to not study at all.
4. There's nothing wrong with necking if it isn't carried to an extreme.
5. Don't drink and don't date boys who do.
6. Around 15 or 16, sit down and decide what kind of a life you want to build for yourself.

Chinese Look For Scapegoat; Will Chiang Be It?



Marshall: Army commanders says his mediation mission gave Reds time to prepare.



Hoffman: Nationalists blast him for implying the ECA might aid successor regime.

Chiang: Was he talking through his hat when he talked reform?

NANKING, (NEA)— Since VJ Day the United States has been regarded in China as a generous Uncle Sam or a dreadful imperialist power, depending on who was voicing the opinion. In recent weeks, however, the U.S. has rapidly lost the friendship of those who formerly applauded.

Communists—and a sizable body of moderates—for a long time have lashed the U.S. for supporting what they call the "reactionary" Chiang Kai-shek regime. Now the diminishing group of Chinese with faith in Chiang's government has taken to lambasting the U.S. for failure to come to their aid.

This includes editors of most newspapers in non-Communist China, since the press on this side, as in the Communist areas, is rigidly controlled.

Many declare with unqualified fervor that the U.S. is entirely to blame for China's present straits.

They are just as decisive in their opinion as was a Nationalist army group commander with whom I recently rode in an armored train.

He said that General George C. Marshall was "responsible for our being besieged like this." General Marshall's mediation mission, he declared, gave the Chinese Red Army time to prepare for subsequent attacks. He failed to mention that the mission—as the Communists emphasize—also permitted the Nationalists to prepare.

The State Department's failure to enunciate a policy of firmer support for the generalissimo, his wife's failure in Washington to win more men, money and material and the declaration of Paul G. Hoffman, Economic Cooperation Administration director, that the ECA might contribute aid to a successor regime all have bitterly antagonized the old guard.

The generalissimo's recent appeal to President Truman was reported here to have embodied a statement that the U.S. was obliged to rescue China because of President Roosevelt's alleged errors at Yalta. The Chinese press has joined in refrain.

Editors fail to note, however, that China ratified the Yalta results on its own initiative at Moscow, and that the Nationalists possessed no force capable of keeping the Russians out of Manchuria.

Editors are also hammering at Madame Chiang's radio broadcast theme that "If China falls, all of Asia goes" in an attempt to influence American policy.

In heaping blame on the U.S. editors carefully avoid citing repeated declarations by Mr. Truman, General Marshall and other American leaders that reform was essential in China. It was emphasized in Washington that increased aid depended on the government's pushing reforms.

But what has happened in China?

To increase Nationalist strength the generalissimo could have:

1. Reformed the taxation system to collect more from the wealthy and decrease the load on the peasantry.
2. Reorganized the army to eliminate padded payrolls and produce more effective fighting units.
3. Enforced austerity which would have eliminated 24-course dinner and other luxuries.
4. Assisted rather than neglected farmers toward the end of increasing food-producing and exports.
5. Shaken up the civil service by increasing pay and cutting out dead wood.

In all these respects many neutral observers believe the government has deteriorated rather than improved. Even President Truman felt called upon to state recently that China had failed to comply fully with the ECA agreement.

Many Americans declare that anti-Americanism is increasing among their pro-Chiang Chinese friends. This probably is partially a result of the newspaper "blame" campaign.

One extreme instance of anti-Americanism occurred recently in Shanghai. An American businessman was roughed up by a gang of laborers on a downtown street while police looked on and passersby shouted: "Give it to the foreigner."

There is another side to this whole story, however. The new enemies the U.S. is making as a result of the increasingly hands-off policy are probably balanced by new friends—moderates who have believed all along that American aid was only prolonging the people's suffering by prolonging the civil war.

If it were not for American support, these Chinese believe, Chiang would have had to step down long ago. They feel that since the Nationalists could not defeat the Communists the next best step was to attempt a coalition, however unsuccessful this has been in Poland, Czechoslovakia and elsewhere in the world. They believe that in this respect, as in many others, China is "different."

Legionnaires Beat Meteors By a 9-3 Count In Lindsay

Toronto Meteors bowed to the Peterborough Legion to the tune of 9 to 3 in an OHA Senior "B" tussle in Lindsay on Wednesday night. Besides tempers flying high, sticks were buzzing continually above opponents' heads. For the first period the hockey was the "shoot the puck into the other zone and then fight for it" variety, Meteors having the greater part of the play. The teams settled down in the second frame to play fairly evenly but penalties for the Meteors helped pave the way for the Legion victory. It was all Legion in the third period with the Meteors soundly beaten. The work of the Meteor defence and goalie Crough prevented a larger score for this period.

No sooner had the game commenced than Rochetta was given the gate for tripping Sadler. A few seconds later, Vitarelli joined him in the sin bin. Only the sparkling play of Parnell and Godfrey held the Meteors from flashing the light. With time still left in Vitarelli's penalty Godfrey was chased for boarding. This time Ross Nicholls showed his stuff by making some fine saves. Coombs sat in the penalty bench for boarding. The Meteors really put on the pressure but the Legion succeeded in wading through the penalty by icing the puck. Bob Parks worked hard around the net but wasn't rewarded. After a narrow escape for the Meteors they worked the puck up the ice into the Legion zone where Delaat passed to Veigel who banged it home. The period ended Toronto 1, Legion 0.

Bob Scored

Immediately after the faceoff of the second period from a scramble in front of the Meteor net, Bob Greenlaw scored. Valliere got a penalty for tripping and was followed by Thoms who received a tripping penalty, Legion cashed in on this when H. Greenlaw fired a shot past Crough on a pass from Godfrey. Marzlik tied things up on a passing play from Bell and Robertson. They went one up on a goal by Viegel. Then the game broke. Greenlaw scored from Parnell after a corner faceoff. Coombs assisted by Hill scored from a scramble. Campbell of the Meteors received a penalty for charging. He grabbed the referee. Players milled around as tempers rose but the outcome of the affair was a misconduct for Campbell. Bob Greenlaw scored with the help of Rochetta and Crowley. Seconds later Crowley scored from Rochetta and R. Greenlaw.

Slow hockey was played the first few minutes of the third period. Meteors seemed to be all played out. There was no effort at all on their part to make the game interesting. The play went slowly from one end to the other. Finally Parnell planted the puck into the twine after getting two of his own rebounds. While Bell was serving a penalty for slicing Hamulka on the head, H. Greenlaw scored from Parnell. Burns got a penalty for charging. This gave Delaat a chance to do some of his fine stickhandling. But there wasn't any help from his teammates. The last of the scoring was done by Parnell from Vitarelli and H. Greenlaw.

Many arguments were caused by the referee not blowing the whistle loud enough to be heard. A goal scored by the Meteors wasn't allowed. The referee said he blew the whistle on an offside at the centre red line. Even the players didn't hear the whistle blow.

Parnell and the Greenlaws were the standouts for the Legion with their checking and scoring. Delaat, Parks and Veigel were the pick of the Meteors. The line of Hill, tSewart and Coombs kept the Meteors on the go all through the game.

100F Juniors Take Win Over Lindsay

Archie Weir's Triple Link juniors skated out on the ice looking like a new team last night at Civic Arena and handed Lindsay Mustangs a 5-1 defeat in a regular OHA Junior 'B' hockey contest.

Links showed a complete reversal of form last night to rack up their first win of the season, after a bad start. They played hard, clean hockey, checked well and finished up their plays well. Goalie Poole was glad to hear the final gong as the locals peppered him from all angles with hard shots. But Poole made many fine saves, too, to prove one of Lindsay's best. Peterborough outskated the visitors by a considerable margin and had an edge in territorial play, though the teams fought on fairly even terms two-thirds of the way. The locals led 2-1 at the end of the first by virtue of two fine goals by Pagett and Collins.

Fought Back

Lindsay fought furiously in the second period, but despite fine efforts by De Bois, McPhee, Parker and the Corley brothers, had to be content with a scoreless session as the men of Weir gave tit for tat in a great period. Referee Charlie Heard handed out 12 penalties in all during the contest, all for minor offences as both teams stuck to clean, effective hockey.

Byers in goal turned in a neat effort, as the defense combination of Berwick and Anderson stood up very well, combined with some great fore and back-checking by Pagett, Floyd, Collins, Birch, Crowley, Truss, et al.

Byers was robbed of a shutout by a rather flukey goal in the first as Lewis attempted to pass out from a point behind the local's net, and the puck caromed off a player's skate to angle back between the Ling goalie's legs between the pipes for a cheap tally.

"Cack" Pagett snared two for Peterborough, one a long hard drive from just inside the centre line at the nine minute mark in the third that evaded Poole, though he partially stopped it. Collins scored the other two goals in the third on passes from Floyd and Pagett to share scoring honors with the latter, each with two goals and one assist. Floyd got the other counter and assisted on Collins' first goal in the third, a neat, fast angle drive from left wing 10 feet out. The junior razzle-dazzle trio of Pagett, Floyd and Collins played a whale of a game both ways and avoided the penalty box, except for a minor to Floyd in the third for roughing. The entire team worked hard, with Crowley, Borch, Truss, Wyatt, Douglas, Grainger and Miller all doing their share. For Reg Bett's team, Parker, De Bois, Lewis, the Corleys, McPhee, Dysart, Green and Poole looked most effective.

Referee, Charlie Heard, Whitby; linesman, Dick Ouimet.

Much basketball action here this week-end in male and female circles. At the YW tomorrow evening, CGE colleens play Normals at 8.15, followed by Neill's against Nurses. Start of the second half of their schedule, and two good games are likely. Junior Executives of Toronto Eaton's play PCVS juvenile boys at eight Friday p.m. at the Collegiate, followed by Marines "A" cagers in an exhibition with PCVS seniors. Saturday aft, the senior PCI-ers are off to Pickering, but Saturday night at 8.15 in the Collegiate OAC hoopsters of Guelph tackle Marines "A" in an exhibition tilt. George Gray (a former PCVS star) is with Guelph, and so is Kevin Kennedy, Batawa baseballer. Probably an intermediate "B" game before that.

Intercounty Baseball League plans to advise the OBA that it will not have a winner next season till Oct. 1, and the OBA can like it or lump it. Eight teams have a 42-game schedulue with the new St. Thomas entry having to kick in with the $500 franchise fee. Loop officials say the tax department is catching up with them and have started biting into their profits. "Produce your books when asked," one officer says, "or they'll estimate it and estimate it high." Galt may be a farm club for New York Yankees this year, but the rumor that Mickey Owen will manage it is likely without truth as Owen is still on the suspended list for jumping to the Mexican League.

Just Gobs Of Games

PMHA and Industrialist League hockey is slated for tonight at Civic Arena. Marines bantams play St. Peter's at six, followed by St. Peter's midgets vs. Jaycees, and then East City juves vs. St. Peters. Over east, Trojan bantams play northend Kids, then Clapper's midgets vs. Trojans, and northend juveniles vs. Legion. In the industrial setup tonight, Ventilating plays CGE at nine, and then Quakers take on De Laval. Tomorrow e'en at Millbrook, Canoe Co. tackles Bell Telephone, as Lock Co. meets Millbrook. Any schedule changes should be reported to us as we go by the printed lists.

The hockey match most fans have been waiting for is tomorrow night at 8.30 in Civic Arena. Petes play Legion an OHA senior "B" fixture, and Dick Ouimet tell us the official opening of the rink will be held at this time. The old city rivals will be in there battling bitterly as they'd sooner beat each other than get a raise in pay—though that sounds almost incredible! Anyway, no love is lost between them and this game is for keeps. Promises to be a speedy, scrappy struggle on good ice, and before the biggest hockey crowd since the new rink opened.

Legion In Top Spot

Legionnaires seem to have the Indian sign on Toronto Meteors and the latter don't like it a bit. Last night on Lindsay ice, the local senior "B" puckists racked up a 9-3 victory to take over sole possession of top spot in their OHA group. Meteors made it a real battle for two frames but faded in the third as the speedy Legion forwards skated away from them. A game full of arguments with the Toronto referee not too popular, particularly with the Meteors. Bob Parnell and the Greenlaw brothers turned in a good all-around game for Ned Vitarelli's pack, but then the whole team clicked well in this number.

* * * * * *

Archie Weir's Oddfellows broke into the victory column at Civic Arena last gloaming with a 5-1 verdict o'er Lindsay on good ice. The Triple Links settled down to play much improved hockey over their last two tilts. Play was fast and clean, the penalties all being for minor offences. IOOF-ers had a 2-1 margin the first heat, held off a determined drive by Lindsay in the scoreless second stanza, and blasted three into the Scugog hemp the last shukker. The line of Pagett, Collins and Floyd stood out, former two each having two goals and an assist, with Floyd notching one and aiding on another. Team played well throughout in all departments to slip Lindsay their third loss, Toronto Royals recently taking 'em 7-3. Local junior "B" players meet Toronto Lions tomorrow night in Richmond Hill.

Rolled Him Around

Earl McCready is a powerful grappler and he had to be last eve at the Brock to toss 320-pound Ben Morgan (looking like a fallen Judas with his beard and all) around in his "rolling cradle split" hold. A fine bout and Fred Atkins, Aussie champ, has challenged the winner to a bout so they may meet here next week. Ben Sharpe, who draws plenty of bobby-soxers to his bouts, went to a semi-final draw with the Masked Marvel. We got a big kick out of seeing an elderly gent cuff the Mask when both grapplers were out of the ring. This gent didn't like being disrupted from his seat and we don't blame him. If hockey fans shouldn't go over the boards onto the ice in a fight, neither should puckists come in on top of the fans. Same thing applies to wrestlers. Stack and Wentworth met in a tame prelim with Stack winning.

And once again the old Curling Rink was filled to capacity on Wednesday evening from 7 p.m. until 11:30. It was the Neill Trophy competition—and it is a long way off from the finals in either the main event or the consolation. The double-headers this evening and Friday will help, but it looks as if it will be carried over until after the big open 'spiel of next week. And speaking about the open bonspiel of next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the committee would appreciate more local entries.

It has been many a day since our ladies' club has not been represented at the Robertson Trophy bonspiel, held at the Toronto Granite Club this week.

We believe the ladies have already received several entries from Toronto for thir open bonspiel in February.

McCready Flattens Morgan In Main Bout of Mat Card

Earl McCready, 241-pound grappler, managed to tangle up big Ben Morgan, the bearded 320-pounder, in his famous "rolling cradle split" last night at the Brock Arena to take the deciding fall of the main mat bout. A good-sized crowd cheered heartily and the huge Tennessean mumbled in surprise at the finish, not expecting to be rolled around by a lighter opponent.

Earl won the deciding fall in 7.05 minutes after Ben had missed him with a top spread after several slams. McCready took the second and equalizing fall in 10 and a half minutes with a flying scissors. He crossed big Ben up after flopping against Morgan's powerful physique on a flying tackle. He faked another and Ben stood there braced for it but the flying scissors caught him by surprise. Before that Ben had applied a hard bear-hug to bother Earl and Referee Bert Maxwell had trouble at times, too, in the scrappy going. It was a popular fall with the fans.

Took the First

The bearded one won the opening fall in 11 minutes with a body slam and spread after softening the "Aurora farmer" up with illegal choke holds, and hanging him in the ropes. The crowd was peeved at this, but Ben proved pretty powerful, with McCready also a ploughing-in type and strong, when he had a chance at straight wrestling. There was some hair-pulling and Ben did not pay much attention to rules in this tussle Fred Atkins, the Australian champion, issues a challenge to the winner of this bout.

Ben Sharpe, at 237, and the 250-pound Masked Marvel went to a time limit semi-final draw, with Ben popular with the crowd. They mixed briefly after the last bell and Ben had much the better of it. The Marvel as usual played it rough and was plenty strong. But Ben was big and husky also, and held his own all the way. They mixed once in the crowd and an elderly fan conked the Mask for trying to unseat him. "Foreign" substances were used and lots of action was dished up in a fine fray with the bobby-soxers making a lot of noise in favor of handsome Ben. Many thought he should have had the referee's decision.

Bill Stack, weighing 224, and Jack Wentworth, going 210, opened it up in a fair prelim that went the 30 minutes, with Stack getting the referee's decision. It wasn't too lively till near the end when they got racing around outside the ring after Bill came across under the ring after being kicked out, and he had Wentworth ready to run for the dressing-room. They showed a variety of holds with Stack having a slight edge and being more popular, but it was not an outstanding bout by any means.

Wings Humble Rangers 4-1 Canadiens Bounce Bruins

By BILL GRAHAM
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Detroit Red Wings continued their free-wheeling ways Wednesday night as they stretched their lead in the National Hockey League to five points, humbling New York Rangers 4-1. In Wednesday night's other encounter, the injury-riddled Montreal Canadiens pounded out a 5-3 victory over Boston Bruins to take over undisputed possession of fourth place.

The game in Boston featured two "firsts." Veteran Bruin defenceman Jack Crawford was thumbed to the penalty box for the first time this season and fiery Kenny Reardon, Canadien rearguard, bagged his first goal of the present campaign—on a penalty shot with two seconds remaining in the game.

Rookie Stars

Lanky Max McNab, rookie Red Wing forward, touted as the most promising newcomer of the year in pre-season predictions, was the star of the night. He fired two goals to help with the rout of the cellar-dwelling Rangers.

McNab opened the scoring for Detroit at the mid-way mark in the first period. Early in the second stanza McNab punched home the second of his tallies and then Red Kelly and Leo Reise fired home two more to give Detroit a 4-0 lead.

With only 54 seconds remaining, Frankie Eddolls took a pass from Nick Mickoski to rap home Ranger's sole tally. It was Eddolls' first goal of the season.

First 2 Shots Score

At Boston, Bruins scored with the first two shots of the game on goalie Bill Durnan. Little Kenny Smith and Paul Ronty were the Boston snipers. After Roger Leger's tally, Ronty fired his second marker of the night to send Bruins into a 3-1 lead. Billy Ready made it 3-2 and Murph Chamberlain tied it up for Canadiens at the 17.54 mark.

Joe Carveth put Canadiens into the lead early in the final frame. With 23 seconds remaining, Frankie Brimsek was yanked from the Boston cage and Kenny Mosdell stormed down on the empty Bruin citdael. Before he could get a shot away, he was tripped by Egan. Brimsek was recalled and Reardon beat him on the penalty shot with a 12-foot slapper.

The win put Canadiens in sole possession of fourth place, one point behind the idle Chicago Black Hawks and one point ahead of Toronto Maple Leafs.

Hockey's Big Seven

By The Canadian Press

Montreal Canadiens' leading scorers, linemates Billy Reay and Joe Carveth, gained ground in the National Hockey League's scoring race Wednesday night while Chicago's big guns were idle. Each picked up a goal and an assist. Carveth's two points moved him back into the charmed circle. Reay meanwhile moved into a tie for fifth place with Boston's Grant Warwick. None of the other leaders in action Wednesday night was able to better his position.

Oshawa Rink Takes Top Spot

MIDLAND, Jan. 13 — (CP)—A. J. Parkhill's Oshawa rink on Wednesday took top honors in the Midland Curling Club's three-day annual bonspiel, nosing out Charlie Russell's Midland rink 11-10 to win the Imperial Oil Trophy.

Nels Findlay, veteran Thornhill curler, won the Goodyear Trophy by defeating Ted Guardhouse's Owen Sound rink 12-8. The Gooderham & Worts Trophy went to Capt. Dait Hudson and his three boys—Dave, Doug and Peter—who play in the schoolboy 'spiel in Guelph next month. Capt. Hudson's rink defeated Fred Ritchie of Elmvale 12-9.

Fourth event, the Old Chum, went to Stan Sargent and his Orillia rink. They disposed of Midland's Milt Irwin 11-4. Grand Aggregate Prize, for the rink winning the most games but failing to win any of the major prizes, went to the Beaverton rink skipped by C. R. Dobson.

Hornets Nose Out Hershey Bears 2-1

By The Canadian Press.

The Western Division of the American Hockey League which has been a close race all season, tightened up even more Wednesday night after two teams of that section chalked up victories over their Eastern Division opponents. Only eight points separate the first and last place teams.

Pittsburg Hornets, putting on a determined drive for top-spot, nosed out Hershey Bears 2-1 to cut the idle pace-setting St. Louis Flyers' lead to three points.

The cellar-dwelling Buffalo Bisons moved to within one point of idle Indianapolis Capitals after turning back Providence Reds Eastern Division leaders, 3-2.

Dukes Trounce Tigers 8-4; Gens Win 6-5

By The Canadian Press.

The youthful Toronto Marlboros may have had something when they accused two rival clubs of "being in cahoots" to steer them away from the Senior A Ontario Hockey Association title.

Wednesday night the bolstered Kitchener - Waterloo Flying Dutchmen—who sent $5,000 and four players to the last-place Stratford Indians in return for high-scorers Billy Flick and Mickey Roth in mid-December—downed Owen Sound Mercurys 5-3 for the second time in as many nights. The win left the Dutchmen in second place, one point behind Toronto.

But the Dukes apparently are not too perturbed about the situation as they roll along atop the league. Wednesday night they hung up their 19th victory in 29 starts by defeating the veteran Hamilton Tigers 8-4 in Toronto.

In the Junior A loop, Windsor Spitfires overpowered St. Catharines Teepees 9-2, Barrie Flyers bested Guelph Biltmores 100-2, and Oshawa Generals edged the Stratford Kroehlers 6-5.

3 Players Hurt

Three players—one Kitchener and two Owen Sound—were injured during the game as the Dutchmen scored twice in the first period, went through scoreless second period, and split three goals in the last frame.

Kitchener netminder Marcel Pellietier was gashed over the nose in the third-period warm-up and was taken to hospital. Bun White and Harry Kazarin were victims of boarding in the third period and were carried from the ice.

Mike Szuira scored twice for the winners, with Flick and Bob and Don Bauer netting one apiece. Tommy Burlington counted two goals for the Mercurys and Freddie Smith got the other.

Marlies led 1-0 at the end of the first period, held a 3-1 edge at the end of the second and outscored the Tigers 5-3 in the third period.

Ray Hannigan, Al Buchanan and Johnny McCormack each scored twice for Toronto. Singletons went to Scotty Mair and Chuck Blair. Hamilton marksmen were Tom Smelle, Clare Shillington, Johnny Conick and Ken Naylor.

Cutting loose with a five-goal splurge in the second period and adding two more in the third, the Spitfires maintained first-place in the junior race. It was St. Catharines' second defeat in as many nights at the hands of Windsor.

Bruce Giesebrecht led Windsor scorers with three goals, followed by Johnny Wilson with two. Marcel Pronovost, Bob Rawlyk, Francis O'Grady and Jim Maxwell each got one. Ron Telford and Ellard O'Brien were the Teepees marksmen.

NOTHING SACRED — Girls' hockey teams are becoming more and more popular across Canada, with Winnipeg latest city to report a league. Here are four standouts taken following a recent game. Left to right: Joan Brickell and Pat Britton of Weston Wolverines, Ruth Middleton and Marg (Mugs) Emslie of Carruthers Ruff-Riders. Pat scored for Weston and Marg rapped home a pair for the Ruffies.

Betty Castle rolled high three of 739 and high single of 261.

New pins bothered a number of the bowlers, accounting for the low scores.

WOMEN PAY BIG PRICE FOR POOR "BLOOD MAKE UP"

You women who feel and look "washed out"—limp and droopy—may be paying the price of hemoglobin shortage in the blood.

Nature's regular monthly demands on a woman's system often tend to bring about this shortage of the vital red coloring matter in the red blood cells. Try Dr. Williams Pink Pills.

They help increase hemoglobin where there is a shortage of it due to iron deficiency and help chase away that "leaden" feeling of tiredness so often due to this condition. Start your course of Dr. Williams Pink Pills today. Ask your druggist.

New York Fans Can Take Hint In Hockey Tilt

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (CP) — New York hockey fans can take a hint.

Three weeks ago, Ranger Manager Frank Boucher complained that Gotham fans, unlike those of other National Hockey League cities, didn't complain when the home team was penalized.

Boucher, who retired the first Lady Byng trophy for gentlemanly NHL play, said New Yorkers were too polite. He said referees are sensative to crowds' wishes and the Rangers were at a disadvantage because of quiet home fans.

Then came the deluge. Besides raising the roof with referee-terrifying howls whenever a Blueshirt was banished, the fans littered the ice with paper, pennies, rotten eggs and a few bottles.

That happened in the three games following Boucher's statement, which was widely featured in the New York press.

Wednesday night a crowd of 13,834 fans watched Rangers take a 4-1 beating from Detroit Red Wings. The crowd was almost as soft-spoken as Boucher.

The reason was a pre-game announcement warning that fans who tossed anything on the ice would be ejected.

The announcement over the public address system was greeted by a chorus of boos—even before it was completed. But a scattering of applause indicated that some had been annoyed at the delay caused in previous games by litter on the rink.

At the game here last Sunday Referee Frank (King) Clancy was struck in the eye by a piece of hard candy tossed by a fan. Clancy was blinded temporarily and would have fallen if not caught by players.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

The Cook-Boucher-Cook combination, one of hockey's greatest forward lines, was broken up 13 years ago tonight when New York Rangers moved right wing Bill Cook back to defence. The trio—Bill and Bun Cook and Frankie Boucher — had teamed up for 10 years and created an all-time scoring mark of more than 1,100 points.

Included on the committee, besides Lewis and McIlwraith, are George Campbell, Oshawa, R. Stewart, St. Catharines, Roy Bruch, Sarnia, Ernest Simpson, Kingston.

Due to the lack of practice because of the lack of natural ice in many places in Ontario the Ontario Minor Hockey Association Wednesday night announced that the last date for signing players for group play has been extended from Jan. 15 to Jan. 22. A similar extension has been made in the final date for entry of clubs seeking a bye to playdowns.

Detroit Wayne University Tartars roared from behind Wednesday night to edge Windsor Assumption College Purple Raiders, 43-29, in an exhibition basketball game at Windsor.

Fred W. (Cyclone) Taylor, one of Canada's all-time hockey stars, Wednesday received the Order of the British Empire from Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks at a Victoria investiture. Taylor, a member of hockey's hall of fame, received the award for his work as Commissioner of Immigration at Vancouver. He was invested with the King's Medal a few years ago for similar service.

Jockey Eddie Arcaro Wednesday was suspended for 10 days at Santa Anita by stewards who said he caused interference in Tuesday's sixth race.

Dr. Max Euwe of Holland, former world chess champion, played his largest simultaneous match in many years Wednesday night—61 boards at Hart House, University of Toronto. Euwe won 48, drew seven, lost six. One of the six who beat Dr. Euwe was 21-year-old Frank Anderson of Toronto, the Ontario champion. Euwe resigned on the 28th move.

Six rinks of touring Scotsmen scored 115-78 over Utica and Schenectady curlers in 10 matches at Ntica, NY, Wednesday. They won only two of five matches with the Uticans, for an edge of 45-41, but they had taken four of five Schenectady rinks, 70-37. The Scots left for Hamilton, Ont., for further competition.

Texans Slap Oilers

By the Associated Press.

Dallas Texans have become a genuine challenge to Tulsa Oilers for first place in the Southern Division of the United States Hockey League. The Texans slapped down the Oilers at Dallas on Wednesday night 3-0. The victory was the third straight that Dallas has won over Tulsa and trimmed the Oilers' first-place lead to five points.

Louis Nominates Next Opponent In June Meet

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP) — Joe Louis wants to defend his heavyweight boxing championship next June against the winner of a fight between Ezzard Charles and Lee Savold.

This was disclosed Wednesday night by Col. Edward Eagan, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, who said the Brown Bomber had assured him he will fight one more time.

Eagan injected this semi-official announcement of the champion's plans into the after-dinner informalities of the New York Boxing Writers' annual function.

The writers gathered for the principal purpose of honoring Ike Williams, busy lightweight champion from Trenton, NJ, and Dan Morgan, 75-year-old veteran fight manager.

Williams received the Edward J. Neil memorial award as the man who did the most for boxing in 1948.

Morgan was given the James J. Walker award for long and meritorious service to the sport.

Skiing Conditions Said Improving

Reports from the Peterborough Ski Club say that about 25 took advantage of skiing at Bethany on Saturday afternoon and about 100 on Sunday. A bus took the skiers to the hut at Bethany and will continue to do so as long as there is skiing this year. The ski tow will also be running every week-end. The bus leaves the Depot at 10 a.m., returning at 5 p.m.

Bob Currie represented the Peterborough club at the Midland ski jumping contests which were held recently. An offer to instruct anyone interested in ski jumping any week-end has been made by Harale Baake.

Night skiing at Kempt's Slope was fair last week considering the mild weather. Snow conditions made the skiing impossible early this week but if more snow falls there will be skiing this week-end. Up to Thursday there was every indication of improved conditions.

Britain Gold Reserves Increase 80 Million

LONDON, Jan. 13.—(Reuters).—Britain's gold and dollar reserves increased by £20,000,000 ($80,000,000) during the last quarter of 1948, after having fallen from £552,000,000 at the end of March to £477,000,000 at the end of last month.

In the last quarter of 1948 the net gold and dollar deficit of the sterling area, before allowing for receipts of United States European aid, was £93,000,000 against £76,000,000 in the third, £107,000,000 in the second and £147,000,000 in the first quarter.

Of the deficit £6,000,000 was covered by India's drawings on International Monetary Fund — paid into control reserves held in London—leaving £87,000,000 to be met from the reserves or from ERP aid.

Wilson (left), both of Ingersoll, Ont., who have been challenged for the Harmsworth Trophy, world speedboat classic, are shown in this Trans-Canada Airlines photo as they arrived from England at Dorval Airport, Montreal, late Tuesday. The trip was made to purchase a power plant for the new boat now being built at Gravenhurst. The son plans to drive the entry, owned by the father.

Millbrook Churches Unite In Prayer Week

MILLBROOK, Jan. 13—(ENS)—The three churches of Millbrook united for the annual Week of Prayer services, following a custom of several years standing.

Ministers took charge of services at their own churches, the Rev. C. M. MacLean, rector of St. Thomas' Anglican church, giving the address on Prayer and Social Service in Grace Presbyterian church on Tuesday. On Wednesday, in St. Thomas' the Rev. G. McQuade spoke on Prayer in Relation to the World Political Situation, and on Thursday, in St. Andrew's United church, the Rev. Walter Patterson's theme was Prayer and Evangelism. Organists were Miss M. L. Collins and Miss E. L. Hetherington, and the three choirs led a service of song.

Solicitor Checks Council's Program

COBOURG, Jan 13 —(ENS)—Cobourg town council is in receipt of a letter from the town solicitor, setting out the major items on the 1949 agenda. The solicitor, A. R. Willmott, K. C. draws attention to the fact that, while the debentures for the trunk sewer have been let, before the utilities commission can proceed with its $85,000 debenture issue, covering water main extension, it will have to have the approval of the town council.

In regard to the recreational centre, he points out that a member of the 1949 council is entitled to sit on the recreational centre committee.

The 1948 housing program was successful, Mr. Willmott said. Fifty rental houses under wartime housing are occupied and 25 for sale houses under integrated housing were built. Any capital expenditure in the coming year must first have approval of the Municipal Board. Mr. Willmott also drew attention to the re-assessment situation and said that council could set up a broad to function in connection with planning and development.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker Sell Millbrook Site

MILLBROOK, Jan. 13—(ENS)—Gordon Baker, who came here less than two years ago from Toronto, has sold his grocery and meat store to C. R. Graham, of Elmvale, the new owner to take possession within the next two weeks. Much regret is felt at losing the Bakers from the community, where they have played an active part in church and social life.

Mr. Baker, as vice president, has done a good deal of constructive work for the Lions Club. He has also been leader of the Citizens' Band, is an accomplished musician, and has played the chimes of St. Andrew's Church on Sunday morning. Mrs. Baker has been soloist in St. Andrew's choir.

The home adjoining the store has been sold to Mr. Graham, as well as the business, and the Bakers expect to return to Toronto to live, Mr. Baker taking his former position as an accountant in that city.

Dutch Publish Orders Given By 'Rebels'

BATVIA, Java, Jan. 13—(AP)—The Indonesian Republican leaders' program for a continued struggle against the Netherlands, written just before they were captured, was made public here Wednesday.

It called on all Indonesians to:

1. Obstruct and sabotage efforts to consolidate the Netherlands government through non-co-operation of civil servants.
2. Prevent economic consolidation by hindering the production of goods the Netherlands needs for foreign exchange.
3. Prevent the formation of a "puppet regime" through non-co-operation politically.

The STORE THAT MAKES A HOUSE A HOME

IF THEY HADN'T BUILT A DAM to the outlet of Kosh Lake at North River, members of the Kashabog Conservation Association would not have enjoyed fishing in future. The above photo of the $3,000 structure, constructed by unskilled labor, had already raised Kosh Lake level one and one-half feet by freeze-up. At spring freshet time, the level will be raised to four feet. —John Pierce Photo

Kosh Lake Dam Finished; Lake Level Up

North River dam at the outlet of Kashabog Lake was completed by members of the Kashabog Lake Conservation Association by the end of October at the cost $3,000. A third of this cost was born by members of the Association and a contribution by the Havelock Fish and Game Association; the balance is assured from other sources.

On the last inspection of the structure in mid-November by engineer John Pierce, it was found the Lake level had been raised one and one-half feet. Inspection engineer James MacKintosh of the Ontario Hydro Commission and Mr. Grier of the Department of Lands and Forests, accompanied him. They praised the project and took samples of building materials away with them for laboratory tests. Fred Hull of Jack's Creek has been appointed caretaker.

At an early meeting of the Association, restocking requirements will be mapped out and the improvement of approaching roads will be discussed.

All members regret the loss the late Dr. Joseph Holdcroft of Havelock who was a pioneer cottager at Kosh Lake and an ardent supporter of the newly-formed Conservation Association.

"CHUCK" ASHWELL (left) mink rancher of suburban Thistletown, who is going to spend next summer supervising a whale fishery at Trinity Bay, Newfoundland, sees a useful source of coarse meat for fur breeders in his new venture. Horse meat is getting scarce in Ontario. Chief source of meat for feeding mink, fox and other fur-bearers will be the blackfish or pot-head shown (right) hauled up on dock ramp. Whale fishing at Trinity Bay is carried on by small motor vessel.

California Pastor Faces Misconduct Charges

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13 (AP)—Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, 46, pastor of the Glendale, Calif. First Baptist Church, faces charges of misconduct with women members of his congregation.

The complaint was filed Tuesday by Mrs. Sadie Williams and Fletcher Edgar Maxwell, who said they were suing for members of the church.

The suit alleged that Mrs. Williams and Maxwell sought to bring to the attention of the church membership evidence of "fantastic conduct" and "incredible peccadillos" of the pastor, but that Dr. Brougher removed deacons who favored presenting the charges.

The action contends further that Dr. Brougher, who has been pastor of the church for 21 years, "boasted" of his associations with 40 women church members.

Dr. Brougher declined to comment on the action "until I have an opportunity to see what the charges are in detail.

Parachute Practice

BERLIN, Jan. 13—(AP)—The Russians posted warnings today that they plan parachute-jumping practice over Brandenburg, in a corridor used by the Allied air lift to Berlin. Meanwhile the blockade-busting air lift, marred by the crash of an American C-54 Skymaster during the night, speeded up with supply planes arriving and departing at five-minute intervals.

Conservatives Hope '48th Time Lucky'

LONDON, Jan. 13 (CP)—British Conservatives hope it will be "48th time lucky."

In the 48th by-election since 1945 they will fight Labor in South Hammersmith constituency where the government candidate's majority in the last general election was less than 5,000.

In previous by-elections which they contested unsuccessfully, the majorities of the Labor candidates in the 1945 election had stood much much higher than 5,000.

W. T. Adams, Labor stalwart who died recently at the age of 64, won the seat in London district with a majority of 3,458. In 1935 the Conservatives won with a majority of 6,068 and in 1931 they had a 19,628 majority.

Conservatives are eager for a clear-cut victory to buttress their argument that Labor has lost its popularity with middle-class voters who suppored it in the last general election.

At just the right moment a provincial police car turned into the driveway to turn around; the officers saw what was going on, and took over.

CANADIAN CUSTOMS OFFICERS on the Quebec-US border recently have confiscated more than 65,000 American cigarets and then worked off duty to deliver the smokes to 1,740 war veterans in Montreal area hospitals. Here two veterans, Frank Cooper of Verdun (left) and Harvey Thurston, Innisfail, Alta., enjoy the cigarets in hospital. In the past US cigarets were destroyed after confiscation by customs men.

'Four Years Longer!' British Wonder If They'll Still Have Teeth By 1953

Editor's Note: Family budget problems speak a universal language these days. NEA's Rosette Hargrove told the story earlier this winter in terms of an average middle-class family. Now she goes across the channel to tell what the new "four-years-longer" austerity program means to the middle-class people of England. This is the first of two dispatches.

BY ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

LONDON,— (NEA)— Mr. and Mrs. John Bull are getting more than a litle discouraged, as they look into the future and wonder whether they'll still have teeth by the time they get enough to eat.

The four-year plan published officially just before Christmas holds out hope that, maybe, by 1953 the British people will get more food and a better choice of manufactured goods. To the middle-aged, especially, four more years seem a long, long time. They wonder whether by then they will be too old and too tired to enjoy the improvement, provided it actually arrives.

The problem of feeding a family is as acute in Britain today as it was at the height of the submarine blockade in 1942. True, there are more luxuries on the store shelves—but they are priced beyond reach of all but the really wealthy.

There are chickens for those able to pay $8. There is fresh salmon at $2 a pound. There are hothouse grapes, Brazil nuts, stuffed olives, foie gras, caviar—but they're just something to talk about, even for the once substantial middle classes.

Electric Supplies

Before Christmas the stores were offering electric household appliances, radios, furniture, upholstery fabrics, glassware, things long absent from their shelves, but prices were so high that there was no rush of buyers, though for years now British householders have been dreaming of the day they could have them.

Clothes still are stringently rationed and very expensive, and quality is indifferent. A "utility" dress ranges from $20 to $25, and other dresses cost from $60 up, which would make even a deeper dent in a British income than in and American's.

Gloves and shoes have been taken off the ration list, but a stenographer is hard put to raise from $10 to $12 for a pair of shoes of passable quality.

Even in the better restaurants meals are nothing to look forward to, and in the cheaper chain eating houses patrons stand in line as much as half an hour and then learn that what they would have preferred is all gone.

"Same old routine for the New Year, I see—less bacon and more soft soap."

Workers in offices that have no canteens ordinarily bring a snack from home for lunch. But here again rationing comes in.

Men who used to drop into the pub for a drink at noon or after work either have cut it out or content themselves with beer. A bottle of gin costs $6.50, a bottle of Alsatian wine $4.20, a reasonably good sherry around $6. If you can get whiskey at controlled price it is $7, but that is hard because most whisky is exported, and on the black market it costs $12 to $16.

Attempt failed

The attempt to cut down tobacco imports by charging 80 cents a pack for ordinary cigarette blends seems to have failed. Britons are going without other things to smoke as much as usual.

As in other countries, the manual and agricultural laborer fares better than the white collar class. He has no appearance to keep up, his rent is lower, the income tax hits him less hard. A married man with one child, earning $25 a week, pays only $24, but the $40-a-week man without children pays $440 a year.

The lower-income groups do get a break in the new "Free Health For All" program. Every contributor is entitled to any kind of apparatus from crutches to wheel chair, hearing aids for the deaf, spectacles, free dental care and false teeth.

Recently it was announced that the free items included wigs. Applications for toupees and "transformations" have been pouring in at the rate of 10,000 a week, and the 28 wigmakers are snowed under with work.

Wealthier taxpayers—those earning from $400 a year up—prefer calling in private physicians rather than tackling the red tape and form-filling required by the free system. These consider the health plan a discrimination that in effect adds to their already heavy income tax.

"All this spells the disappearance of the middle classes," remarked a man who before the war lived comfortably on a $3,500 salary.

"If I were convinced that these sacrifices would put England back on her feet I wouldn't mind. Unfortunately, people like me feel that all we are doing is losing the freedom we fought to preserve."

CAPT. BILL ODOM, record-breaking aviator, is attempting to smash another mark, is trying a non-stop flight from Honolulu to New York, 5010 miles, in a 185-horsepower, single-engined Beechcraft Bonanza plane. If successful, he'll more than double the existing distance record for light airplanes, now held by two Russian aviators who flew 2061.703 miles in 1937.

Odom Attempts To Set New Plane Record

HONOLULU, Jan. 13 (AP) — William P. (Bill) Odom, jocular and confident at the outset, flew his single - engined "Waikiki Beach" eastward today in quest of a 5,285-mile flight record for small planes.

Powered by a 185-horsepower engine, the gleaming, silver, 1,-500-pound Beechcraft Bonanza lifted smoothly from Honolulu airport Wednesday night at 6.32 p.m. (11.52 p.m. EST) into the Hawaiian moonlight.

"My destination is Teterboro airport, just outside New York," Odom said before squeezing his lanky frame into the tiny compartment of the heavily-laden plane. He was wearing a freshly-pressed Scotch plaid "good luck" suit.

An escorting United States navy plane radioed that flying was smooth when both planes were 380 miles out. The navy plane was to turn back after 900 miles.

"I should take 32 hours to New York," Odom said before the takeoff. "This is the day I've been waiting for. The winds are good. When I knew I was going, I slept a couple of hours and then lay in the sun for a while."

Odom had waited since Dec. 31 for a break in the weather all along the flight route.

Take $2300 For Shooting

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—(CP). — Mr. and Mrs. Allan Robertson have accepted from the city a $2,300 out-of-court settlement for damages resulting from the shooting of their 15-year-old son, Donald, by a Toronto policeman in August, 1946, it was learned Wednesday. The couple originally sued the city and were awarded $4,250. In an appeal, damages were reduced.

WHITBY, Jan. 13—(CP)—Dominion and Ontario health ministers Wednesday conferred with officials of the provincial mental hospital here on matters relating to expansion of the mental health program. LONDON, Jan. 13.—(AP). — Rev. Launcelotte Davies, 46-year-old Church of England vicar, was ordered held for trial Wednesday on charges he collected from bridegrooms for marriage licenses he never provided. Prosecutor M. D. Hutchinson also accused Mr. Davies of marrying divorced couples in violation of the laws of the Church of England.

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE
QUICKLY RELIEVED

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from any druggist and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money.

Teachers List Salary Schedule

TORONTO, Jan. 13 — (CP).— The Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Association in a letter to Ontario school boards made public Wednesday presents a salary schedule it considers "a reasonable scale for Ontario secondary schools."

The following are suggested as maximum annual salaries for the non-specialist teachers:

Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa, Windsor, London, $4,800; other centres employing 20 teachers and over, $4,500; centres employing 11-19 teachers, $4,200; centres employing 5-10 teachers, $3,800; 4 or less teachers, $3,500.

The Federation suggests an additional $200 annually for teachers with a specialist's qualification, a minimum salary of $2,000 and an annual increase of $200.

J. W. Morris, publicity director of the Federation, said the average annual salary paid secondary school teachers in Ontario as of December 31 was $2,880.

Weary Greek Boy, 15 Finds Haven In Canada

TORONTO, Jan. 13 — (CP). — A tired, nervous 15-year-old Greek boy climbed out of a plane at Malton Airport Wednesday after a flight from Greece and his first question was "Are there any Communists in Canada?"

George Iliopulos was met by his father, Denny Iliopulos, a Canadian-born cabinetmaker, who escaped from Greece guerrilla-occupied territory four months ago. George told his father that his 17-year-old brother Jimmy had been arrested in Athens just before the plane took off for England. The boy's mother and another brother still are in Southern Greece.

George said their tiny home was raided every other day by Communist guerrillas who took all the food and clothing they could find. He charged guerrillas with destroying a village near his home when 900 men and boys were killed.

Clerk Breaks Tie

WHITBY, Jan. 13 — (CP) — Brock Township clerk M. C. McLean Wednesday cast the deciding vote which resolved a two-way tie and elected Clarence Fair to the township council. Fair and Ray Williamson each polled 310 votes in the Jan. 3 township election and tied for the third seat on the three-man township council. "A recount of votes Wednesday failed to break the deadlock and the clerk cast the deciding vote.

VOL. XCVIII, No. 10 THURSDAY, JANUARY 13, 1949

Cap. Virg Carr Recommended For Promotion

Captain Virgil Carr is being recommended for a new position at the fire department of second assistant Chief by the fire and light committee.

The recommendation was made by the fire and light committee, meeting Tuesday night at the fire hall. His appointment, if confirmed by the council, would reduce the number of captains from five to four. Capt. Carr is the senior of those five officers.

The members of the committee attending were: Ald. Doug Miller, chairman, Alderman Gillespie, Raine, Burrows and Mayor Swanston.

The committee passed a resolution commending the members of the department on their housekeeping. Conditions throughout the fire hall appealed to the committee as being worthy of a special compliment.

The proposed new agreement with the firemen, as revised by the executive committee of the council following conferences with representatives of the Fire Fighters' Union, was reviewed and is regarded as ready for the council's final consideration.

The proposed appointment of Capt. Carr, providing a second assistant, Stewart Foster, to have one day off in seven. The general arrangement of responsibility required Chief Smith to be on duty in the day time, and Assistant Chief Foster at night.

The committee recommends that Capt. Carr's promotion take effect Feb. 1, on three months' probation, then to be confirmed by bylaw. The detail of salary was referred to the executive committee.

To supply additional space for the motor equipment, the committee is also recommending to the council that the watch room on the ground floor be converted into an apparatus room, leaving a small door of entrance for the men. The watch room will be moved to the present sitting room upstairs, and the lunch room will become the sitting room. The lunch room will be transferred to the third floor where new quarters will be opened, provided with two new dormer windows.

OFF TO JOIN THE MOUNTIES are the two youthful adventurers shown above. Both are 18 years old and ex-PCVS students. Shown (left) is Jack Forbes, King St., and (right) Jim Wood, Charlotte St. Both of these chums have had a long-standing desire to join the RCMP. Their first stop is Regina Barracks where they will receive basic training.

Two 18-Year-Old Youths Enlist With Mounted Police

Two husky Peterborough youths have left the city to join the RCMP at the Regina Barracks. They are Jack Forbes, 18, of 304 King St. and his chum Jim Wood, also 18, of 564 Charlotte St.

Both said good-bye to their families earlier this week and started for the Basic Depot at Regina where they will receive their initial training for six months. When they have successfully passed the exacting examinations at the end of that time they will be transferred to the advanced training depot at Ottawa.

At Ottawa the finishing touches will be given to their training, and before graduating they will find other stern tests confronting them before they can become full-fledged members of "Canada's Finest."

Jack Forbes, son Mrs. George Gimblett, passed his entrance at Central School acquired a reputation while attending PCVS as an excellent student and an unusually proficient athlete. He played hockey, rugby, soccer and basketball well but was an expert swimmer.

He was a member of the YWCA Swimming Club for four years and took an active part in the various competitions. Several years ago he received a trophy for winning the 15-mile 'Y marathon and came third last year.

As a token of their esteem his clubmates, together with YMCA officials and other friends, presented him with a pen and pencil set before he started on his westward journey. And the girls from the Ornamental Swimming Club gave him a writing portfolio.

Jim Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Wood, went down to the recruiting centre at Cobourg on Oct. 2, his 18th birthday. Both youths had thought seriously of joining the Mounties before, but it was decided that they would wait till Jim's 18th birthday and then apply together. It is believed he is the youngest member of the force.

Jim received his primary education at Prince of Wales Public School and then went on the Collegiate where he took the academic course and then industrial arts. He was in his last year when he left to join the RCMP.

Always fond of rifle shooting, Jim is an excellent shot and was one of four marksmen who represented PCVS at the Long Branch shoot.

His favorite hobby is hunting but he has more than ordinary mechanical aptitude. Friends say that he has a penchant for electrical gadgets.

Traffic was held up on Charlotte St. about 7:15 on Wednesday night for 12 minutes while a freight was across the street. Angry drivers honked their horns in vain. The bus schedule was knocked off time, making customers on the rest of the runs wait longer.

Trappers or hunters had to midnight Jan. 10, to dispose of the pelts, but can retain them a bit longer by getting a holding permit.

ELDERLY LADY BREAKS HIP

Mrs. William Bonney of the village of Warkworth, who will be 92 in February, fell and broke her hip in her home early Wednesday morning. Passing neighbor, John Greenly, heard her calling and located Mrs. Bonney, who lives alone in her village home. Dr. Joliffe of Warkworth was called and her step-daughter, Mrs. William Warner, and her husband drove Mrs. Bonney to Peterborough hospital where she received treatment. Officials say that she is progressing favorably.

Twenty Plus Club Presents Three Comedies

By T. J. ALLIN

A new theatre group, an outcropping from the YMCA "Twenty Plus Club," played three one-act comedies on Wednesday night before an interested and pleased audience at the YWCA. The whole enterprise must be commended—from the transformation of the YWCA hall into a fair replica of a theatre, to the enthusiasm of the actors and the competence of the direction. The presentations had flaws and obvious weaknesses—not unexpected in a newly-formed group, most of whom had never appeared on a stage before—but they contained promise of better things, not only for the next two nights when the plays will be repeated, but for other years.

It can be hoped that such productions will put an end to the lack-lustre of amateur plays which have bedevilled many church halls in Peterborough for twenty years. There have been productions in these church halls which have been individually more finished than the three plays of the Twenty Plus Theatre Group, but none have come off with better promise for the future. Now that local amateur actors have had in the last year or two a glimmering of standards in dramatic work, church-sponsored plays may delight rather than embarass friendly audiences.

The first play, "The Man In The Bowler Hat", is a farcical whimsy by A. A. Milne. The farce and whimsy perhaps need the Lunts for successful presentation. It was the most difficult of the three plays. Harry Trasker and Vera Trasker as Hero and Heroine acted well. Sonia Bissett an Denis Crowhurst were the domestic couple to whom nothing exciting ever happens. Ralph Greenhill was convincingly portentous as the Chief Villain. The Man in the Bowler Hat was Robert Rolwagon; the Bad Man was William Wright. Insecure timing interfered with the mood of the play.

Donald McLeod did the best job in the second play "Orange Blossoms"— a dramatic comedy by Philip Johnson. The pace was slow, and many of the actors seemed uncertain of their cues. The players were: Marjorie Stephenson (Mrs. Duckworth); James Record (Mr. Duckworth); Kay Cameron (Auntie Lola); Eleanor Cameron (Auntie Lottie); Margaret Rutherford (Glad Duckworth), Elda Bulmer (Amy Foster) and Donald McLeod (Fred Ashford). This play introduces one word which seems to startle in the way that another word in Shaw's "Pygmalion" startled British audiences.

The third play was the hit of the evening. This domestic farce, "Not What They Seem" by Vernon Sylvaine, roused the audience's sentiment and spontaneous applause. It was good fun and the audience could not but go home with lightness and brightness of heart. Edward Stephenson was quietly effective and at ease as Henry the butler. Lindy McIntosh as Mrs. Raeburn whose husband seemed to have deserted her, was real and appealing. Denis Brockman who played Mr. Raeburn, showed that he was not a newcomer to the amateur stage. The Bishop (Gordon Lupton) was not as old or as ecclesiastical as more conventional bishops might be. The play went with a good pace and had a liveliness and polish which commended it to the audience.

The three plays were directed by Peter McCombe. It is apparent that in him Peterborough has acquired a useful and experienced director of amateur theatrical productions. The plays are being repeated Thursday and Friday evenings.

126 BOUNTIES COLLECTED

William Barr, clerk and treasurer for the counties of Northumberland and Durham reports that 126 fox pelts have been turned in for bounty since Dec. 1. The bounty in that area is $2, one dollar less than in Peterborough county. Most of the pelts were taken in Hamilton, Hope and Haldimand townships south of Rice lake, and a great many other foxes shot in remote parts of the counties have not been reported as yet because of the distance to Cobourg.

1,642 Babies Born In City Hospitals In '48 More Boys Than Girls At Both Institutions

There were 1,642 babies born in the Civic and St. Joseph's Hospitals during 1948, an increase of 79 over the year before. Boys take the lead, there being 76 more boys than girls. Boys seem to prefer entering the world at St. Joseph's, where there were 63 more boys than girls and at the Civic the figures were closer; 389 boys and 376 girls.

At the Civic Hospital 765 babies were born, 13 more than in 1947 and 68 more than the year before. The increase does not necessarily indicate a higher birth rate but is the result of an attempt to provide hospital accommodation for more mothers. Mothers and babies usually return home the eighth day after the birth, which makes room for a greater number of mothers.

At St. Joseph's there was an increase in 1948 of 11 babies, compared with the previous year. The total was 877.

Stamp Out Musky Poaching Plea of 27 Resort Owners

Musky poaching is going to be stamped out in the Kawartha Lakes district. That is the effect of a motion passed Wednesday night at a combined meeting of 27 resort operator-owners and the Fish and Game Association executive body.

Issues were also discussed regarding the posting of signs at areas closed for fishing by the Department of Lands and Forests, co-operation between fish hatchery officials and resort operators, and the use of creel census cards to show fishing trends and a "paper inventory" of existing stocks.

Jim Fraser, Chamber of Commerce manager, was chairman of the meeting held in the Chamber directors' room.

Cam Rowatt, Fish and Game Association president, addressed the combined group on the advantages of having members of the resort-operator group in the Association "to promote co-operation between sportsmen and tourist operators." The meeting was then open for discussion of problems facing the operators.

Report Dynamiting

Provision for protection of closed areas was raised by Paul Harding, Trail's End. "I have never seen a game warden and fish are being illegally taken every day in the week". It was suggested that individual resort owners had a duty to protect the fish and that fishing guides in the various localities could be educated to take a greater interest in the protection of fish. Mr. Harding said that during the fishing season resort owners were actively engaged in resort management. Reference was made by Mr. Harding to the violation of dynamiting fish in South Bay, Stony Lake, in the past three years.

Charles Weir, Department biologist, said "that law enforcement is the basis of good conservation," but that game wardens are ineffective without the greatest degree of co-operation from the public."

"Conservation is talked about—but what is done about it," said Charles Kingan. Let every fellow figure what he can do. If he can stop a man from taking an illegal fish he will be doing something for conservation, he said.

It was suggested that a percentage of the annual musky spawn taken by the Department was released in other provincial waters. Mr. Weir said that 95 per cent of the musky spawn is returned to Kawartha District waters.

In an effort to stop musky poaching in the Kawarthas, it was moved by T. J. Lawlor, seconded by Bill Ianson that the Peterborough Fish and Game Association and the Chamber of Commerce conduct an educational program in the Spring to reach the general public asking them not to buy illegal fish and request restaurant operators not to buy illegal fish from poachers. The motion carried.

Bob McCabe asked if the Fish and Game executive present had authority to make a motion of that type.

Mr. Ianson said that the Stony Lake operators had not decided on the different parts of the lake that they wished to have set aside as "closed areas". Following a discussion on fishing conditions in the lower Kawarthas it was decided to have the operators meet following the combined sitting and draft their recommendations to the Fish and Game executive.

Lack of knowledge on the part of anglers, said Mrs. Mary Mann, is an important factor in illegal fishing by American sportsmen. Mrs. Mann suggested that colored pictures of the fish should be exhibited to anglers indicating legal limits and other facts.

Charges that "fish spawn is being dumped into lakes in milk cans" was denied by members of the Association executive. Sid Black, Association member, said "They don't dump them in. They are not in any hurry. The men are propely equipped for the work. Water temperatures are taken. Dumping fish is a lot of bunk."

Mr. Weir said that a system is being built up in the district for the release of fish spawn at various points, "but other operators are disturbed about it because they feel the spawn are going into the other end of their lake." If greater co-operation could be maintained between the resort operators and the hatcherymen, he said, there would be a great improvement.

Resort operators at the meeting included Mrs. R. Cameron, Kawartha Lodge; Mrs. Mary Mann, Isle O'Mann; Bill Ianson, Viamede; Ross Irwin, Irwin Inn; T. J. Lawlor, South Beach Hotel; Fred Young, Red Cedar Lodge; C. Cherry, Wantassa Inn; C. Lewis, Davis Island Manor; W. A. McWilliams, Gail Park; James D. Duffus, Theona Lodge; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harding, Trail's End; George H. Jefferey, Glenwood Lodge; Peter Fyffe, Park Hotel, and Walter Killoran, Lakefield Hotel.

Executive members of the Fish and Game Association were G. Dunsford, H. Tighe, D. MacPhail, Jim Rodgers, E. Guppy, Bill Joiner, George Howden, D. Wood, W. Bradley, A. Pink, Fred Goodfellow, Charles Kingan and Cam Rowatt, president.

Use 26 Buses On Wednesday

Twenty-six buses were rolling in the extended rush hour service Wednesday, as a sample of the increased accommodation that is now being provided by Peterborough Bus Lines.

There were 12 buses in the regular service and 14 specials. Three others were being tuned up. It is understood there are now 29 buses in the local fleet. The specials are distributed to the factory areas, Peterborough-Brinton Carpet, Johnson Motors, Dominion Woollens and Worsteds, Western Clock Company, indicating the industrial circumference, with Canadian General Electric, De Laval and others in the south centre.

Additional men have been taken on the staff which is now about 50, including the maintenance men, for painting, body mending, engine work and replacement with new engines.

Rambling Reporter

OH, MR. ABBOTT!!

Beer waiters in a large Canadian metropolis, it is reported, have not been paying income tax on tips earned.

Fishing guides in the district have their own "dodge." They work independently. But since the institution of creel census cards by the Department of Lands and Forests guides have been asked to fill in the catch of their party. Some guides are particular about filling in the cards; others don't bother, and some are prone to make the record: they feel that it would be a check on employment . . . and income tax return.—DV.

Tips Not Too Numerous Beverage Room Waiters Say

Peterborough beer waiters are taking the Revenue Department's attack on their tips for Income Tax lightly. They say they don't make enough on tips to be worried too much about the government taking a large portion.

Some of the Peterborough waiters have received letters from the Revenue Department asking for answers to these four questions: (1) Were you employed the full year? If not, state what months you were employed. (2) If part time employed, state the days of the week and the hours, daytime or night. (3) What was the rate of pay hourly, weekly, monthly? (4) What amount of tips did you receive in the year 1947. All the questions pertain to 1947.

"Take a look in here," said one waiter. "There's only three people and that's the first since noon and here it is 3.30. We do our business at night and on Saturdays. When the tips are averaged out they're mighty slim pickings."

Another waiter said, "I've had two drafts myself and bought a package of matches and I'm 11c in the hole as far as tips are concerned."

They agreed that a popular waiter may average a dollar a day or a little better. They say even then he has to work pretty hard to do that.

Mayor Says Gordon Letter On Hospital Has Merit; Similar Requests Rejected

"The opinion of the Ontario Municipal Board is that if a municipality cannot finance a building in 20 years, then they shouldn't have it at all," said Mayor Swanston in a discussion Monday night of a suggestion by Ald. Grant Miller. Ald. Miller referred to a letter by G. N. Gordon, KC, proposing that the term of the debentures for the new Civic Hospital should be extended to 40 years instead of 20 years.

"There seems to be merit in it, and if it can be done, it seems a reasonable idea," Ald. G. Miller said.

"Even Ottawa hospital tried to get 30 years for their debentures," said Mayor Swanston. "And that's where the Hon. George Dunbar, Minister of Municipal Affairs, comes from. The Municipal Board simply turned them down, told them they could have only 20 years."

His Worship said he agreed entirely with the proposition that the Civic Hospital was being built for a century of use, and therefore, future generations should be left to bear part of the cost of financing. "That is reasonable, and I certainly agree with Ald. Miller and Mr. Gordon to that point, but the Municipal Board frowns on long term borrowing. Most debentures today are issued for 15 years. We have been into this matter. City Treasurer Couper has drawn up a plan for 30-year borrowing on the hospital. We have seen the Hon. Harold Scott about it, but I don't think we have a chance of getting it. I think we'll end up with 20 years."

The longer term reduces the amount of annual payments, but it also extends the term during which interest must be paid, and in the long run the community pays more money than by the shorter term bonds.

"If there is any implication in Mr. Gordon's letter that the Council has been asleep in this matter, it is just not true," said Mayor Swanston. "We began considering the debenture term last year. We can put 40 years in a private bill, but the practice of the private bills committee of the Legislature is to be guided by the Ontario Municipal Board."

City Solicitor Huycke: "The policy of the Board for the last ten years has been against long-term borrowing."

Taught a Lesson

The explanation from this conversation of the Gordon letter in the Examiner was to the effect that the depression years and municipal bankruptcies had taught Ontario a lesson in fiscal management.

"There might be one slump in 15 or 20 years, and if that was the case then there is likelihood of two of them in 30 or 40 years," said Mayor Swanston. "We would like to have another generation take some of the cost of the hospital borrowing, but that same generation would very likely want to do so some borrowing on its own account. So, liabilities can quickly mount up, and that is exactly what the Ontario Municipal Board is determined to prevent.

Belmont Ski Club Invites Visitors

A new ski club being operated this year as non-commercial venture has been started at Belmont lake, north of Havelock by Jim Cumming, owner of Trentonia Summer resort. A mining engineer, Mr. Cumming lives at the lake the year round, and has cleared several runs, and built a commodious log chalet.

The chalet is furnished in pioneer style with a barbecue and a huge fireplace. A tow will be built next winter. Mr. Cumming says the road from Havelock to his resort on the lake, near John Roger's place is plowed, and from that point a jeep will be used for taxi service for those who do not wish to ski to the slope and chalet. The jeep will also be used for ski-joring on the snow-covered lake.

With the exception of Northumberland club at Cobourg, this will be the only ski club between Peterborough and Kingston. A great many skiers are expected this week-end, and free coffee will be served in the chalet.

Timber Wolf Shot Near Crowe's Landing

Garfield Puffer, two miles east of Crowe's Landing on Stony lake, shot a timber wolf one-half mile from his barn late Wednesday afternoon. He was accompanied by Ernest Ivey and Edwin Miles. Roy Whetung, Jr., reported seeing the tracks on Monday in Mr. Puffer's swamp by the lakeshore. The carcass was estimated to weigh about 65 pounds and was about one and one-half years old.

On Sunday night Mr. Puffer heard two packs flushing deer, one of them was operating near the mouth of Eel's Creek and the other east along the shore from his farm.

Newspapermen Applying For Scholarship

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—(CP).—Applications for the third Kemsley Scholarship awarded in Canada were invited from Canadian newspaper men in a circular distrjbuted Wednesday by W. A. Craick, honorary secretary of the Canadian section, Empire Press Union.

The scholarship gives the man selected a year's training and experience at offices of Kemsley newspapers in the United Kingdom. Women are not eligible. The first scholarship offered in Canada, in 1947, was won by Ray Gardner of the Vancouver Sun. Last year's winner was R. R. Duffy of the Montreal Standard.

The annual award is given in Australia, New Zealand and South Africa as well as Canada. Its object is to encourage an exchange of ideas and experience between British and Commonwealth newspapermen and to strengthen the ties among members of the commonwealth.

Viscount Kemsley comments: "The arrangements constitute something like a year's post-graduate study and research. One or two of the scholarship men imagined they were going to spend a year engaged in ordinary journalistic work and writing articles for their newspapers. It is rather a year to be taken out of a normal journalistic career, devoted to a general broadening of their horizon."

The successive Canadian candidate for 1949-50 will be selected by a committee headed by Senator W. Rupert Davies, publisher of the Kingston Whig-Standard and chairman of the Canadian section, E.P.U. Applications will be received until Feb. 7, 1949, and the successful candidate will go to Britain in mid-April.

Candidates must be on the permanent staff of a Canadian newspaper, be under 30, have five years' experience (a lesser period will be considered in the case of war veterans) and must undertake to return to their newspaper for at least two years following their year in Britain.

Former Chief Elects Trial By Jury

PORT HOPE, Jan. 13 (ENS)—Ernest G. Purdy, former Chief of Police was committed for trial by a higher court on a fourth charge when a preliminary hearing at Port Hope was completed before Magistrate E. A. Gee of Lindsay on Tuesday.

Instead of proceeding with nine other charges against Purdy, Crown Attorney Harry R. Deyman laid the new charge which alleged that Purdy stole the sum of $8 from the town of Port Hope between March 31 and April 23, 1948, which was in his possession by virtue of his employment by the town. Purdy elected trial by jury.

Court Quashes Suit Against Two Asylums

REGINA, Jan. 13—(CP)—An 83-year-old former inmate of two Saskatchewan mental hospitals Wednesday had his suit against the Saskatchewan Government for unstated damages quashed by court ruling.

John Henry McDonald alleged he never was insane, and was wrongfully incarcerated in 1920 in North Battleford mental hospital where he remained 26 years, including a stay at Weyburn. Alleged also was maladministration of his estate.

There was no indication the court of King's Bench judgment, reserved since the 10-day non-jury trial concluded in December, would be appealed.

Throughout the hearing, the former farmer maintained his contention that he was wrongly incarcerated on grounds he suffered delusions of persecution to a dangerous degree.

He was declared sane in 1945 at Weyburn institution, and released in 1946.

Toronto Man Planning To Sell Whale Meat

TORONTO, Jan. 13 — (CP) — Suggestions that whale meat, long eaten in Newfoundland, may be marketed in the rest of Canada are heartily approved by C. O. Ashwell of Thistledown, near here. Ashwell in fact hopes to sell whale meat himself, for use particularly in feeding mink on fur farms.

Ashwell uses horse meat to feed his mink but says the meat supply for fur breeding is getting scarcer and he sees an opportunity of selling whale meat to fur breeders. With several Ontario backers and a group in Newfoundland he expects to go into operation this coming summer on Trinity Bay, Nfld.

The choice meat caught by his two captains, Irov Ivorsen and Henry Mahle, he explained Wednesday night, would be shipped by Central Canada for human consumption, but the major part would be offered to fur farms. He hopes to put whale steak on the market in Toronto next August.

Cobourg Frames Building Bylaw

COBOURG, Jan. 13 (ENS)—Town planning and development can best be proceeded with after the building code by-law has been passed Mayor Joe Smith states. For over six months the by-law has been in preparation and when completed will be the longest and most detailed by-law every passed in the town of Cobourg. It will cover every phase of building in the municipality and will give the council the power to regulate building along the lines laid down in the by-law.

It is pointed out that the town has been long without the necessary authority to regulate building and a number have been erected of undesirable construction but the municipality has been practically powerless to do anything about it. The building by-law is expected to be ready by the end of March.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—(Reuters).—Gems estimated to be worth £500,000 ($2,000,000) were seized by British customs authorities Wednesday in a London safe deposit registered under the name "Enzo Colombo." Deep-Plowing In Britain Turns Up Buried Treasures

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Jan. 13—(CP).—Power-driven plows bite deeper into Britain's soil—and coroners have treasure trove for the Crown. Historians and museum authorities said that deep-plowing everywhere is bringing to light treasures buried long ago. It is the duty of the finder, or indeed of anyone who acquires knowledge of a find, to report to the local coroner who must hold an inquest to decide whether the articles are treasure trove and liable to seizure by the Crown.

Concealment of treasure trove is a punishable offence, and Whitehall authorities delight in discoveries which add to the national store of treasures without cost.

Latest contributor to national possessions is Raymond Williamson, a Snettisham, Norfolk, plowman. His plow brought to the surface a mud-smeared piece of metal he did not at once recognize as a necklace. He rubbed it and it became brighter. Thinking it was gold, he showed it to his farm foreman and farm manager. They thought it worthless and it was left lying on the field.

Two other hoards later were turned up in the same field and historians became interested.

L. H. Allwood, the coroner, finally had to hear evidence on a collection of five necklets made of gold filled with a core of iron, 70 iron age coins minted between 85 and 75 B. C., rings bracelets and necklets made of bronze, brass, electrum and other alloys.

The coroner told the jury that only gold and silver were treasure—not base metals—and became treasure trove and property of the crown only if it had been intentionally hidden and not lost or abandoned.

And so, between the king and the plowman, the jury decided the King should have the gold necklets and the plowman all the rest. The jurors hoped arrangements could be made to keep the hoards together.

DUCK SANCTUARY — Hundreds of ducks have been feeding daily for the last seven winters at this Little River feeding area near Riverside, Ont., on Lake St. Clair. Mrs Stanley Robinson, who feeds the birds, estimates more than 300 wild ducks made it a daily habit arriving at the same time each afternoon.

Teachers Decide To Strike In Montreal

MONTREAL, Jan. 13 (CP) — The long-drawn wage dispute between Montreal's Roman Catholic School Commission and its French speaking teachers is at the showdown stage today after a strike move taken by the teachers Wednesday night affecting 100,000 students.

In a secret ballot, members of L'Alliance Des Professeurs Catholiques voted not to report for work next Monday in a last-ditch effort to enforce demands for top salaries of $3,500 a year for men and $2,500 for women. Minimum salaries asked are $1,700 for men and $1,300 for women.

The move followed approval of strike action taken at a meeting Dec. 22, result of which was not made public until Wednesday night. Premier Duplessis of Quebec on Dec. 23 termed the strike vote "illegal, irresponsible," and "exceedingly unfortunate and regrettable."

Last night's secret ballot was cast on three proposals: (1) Not to report for work next Monday; (2) Not to go on strike at all; and (3) to wait until a draft bill prepared by the commission for the Quebec Legislature was examined by the union executive.

The vote result showed 314 in favor of striking Monday; 19 not in favor of strike action and 237 willing to wait until the Commission's Bill had been studied.

The English-speaking counterpart of L'Alliance, the Federation of English-speaking Teachers Inc., has deferred decision on strike until next month. However 235 of its members also are members of the French-speaking Union and presumably will be affected by the strike.

Liberals Want Cabinet Honor Woman Who Sheltered Gouzenko

OTTAWA, Jan. 13—(CP).—If Eastern Ontario Liberals have their way, Prime Minister St. Laurent and his Cabinet will be asked to give official recognition to the woman who sheltered Igor Gouzenko and his family at a critical moment three years ago. She is 54-year-old Mrs. Doris Elliott, desperately ill in an Ottawa hospital since mid-December. Medical authorities say her condition worsened when she became embroiled in the crushing of the Soviet-led spy ring in 1945.

Wife an an Unemployment Insurance Commission official, she opened the doors of her home to the former Soviet Embassy cipher clerk and his family on the eve of his startling disclosures to the RCMP. Gouzenko said then he had "fears of being killed" by Soviet secret police.

To seek official government tribute for her daring, the Eastern Ontario Liberal Federation Wednesday adopted a resolution "that a request be forwarded to the Prime Minister and his cabinet" so "that some recognition" might be given her.

Helped Uncover Spies

The resolution said that "through her protection of the Russian, Igor Gouzenko, and his family," she undoubtedly "was a great help to the Canadian government in discovering the Russian spies."

The advisory committee of the National Federation of Liberals will deal with the resolution at a meeting Jan. 24-26. From there the resolution may reach the cabinet.

What has not been made known, Mrs. Elliott's physician said Wednesday night, was that her persistence to "do her duty" by attending spy trials and giving evidence whenever she was called upon had a detrimental affect on her worsening health condition.

Gouzenko himself acknowledged the part Mrs. Elliott played by devoting three pages of his book, "This Was My Choice" to the episode in which he and his family were given shelter in the Elliott apartment across from his own.

NATIVE TONGUE BARRED

At the beginning of the 15th century an English law provided that anyone who read the Bible in English should: "Forfeit land, catel, lif and goods from their heyers for ever."

JIMMY YBARBO, six-year-old son of Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo, convicted of the slaying of her husband in Germany, is held in the arms of his uncle, Charles W. Bailey, Jr. He knows nothing about his parents' tragedy, and thinks his mother is in the hospital.

Discount Report

TRENTON, Jan. 13.—(CP). — The RCAF Wednesday discounted a truck driver's report that a "ball of flame," which he believed to be an aircraft, had crashed at Sharbot Lake, north east of here. The air force said two planes and a nine-man ground party had scoured the wooded area without finding any trace of a plane after the driver made his report. No aircraft are reported missing.

Co-operation With Provinces Necessary-Drew

WINNIPEG, Jan. 13 (CP). — A system of co-operation between Federal and Provincial Governments was urged by George Drew in opening his first tour of Western Canada since assuming the national leadership of the Progressive Conservative Party.

He told a public meeting here Wednesday night, attended by a capacity audience of 5,000, that the "strength of this country depends on the extent to which we pool our resources for the welfare of all the people."

Regular Dominion - Provincial meetings were advocated, as were adequate taxing powers for provinces. At the same time Mr. Drew denied that he had been instrumental in "scuttling" the 1945 Dominion-Provincial conference on health and public welfare, saying that on the contrary Ontario had been a strong supporter of the conference.

Mr. Drew said that on his current tour, which is taking him to Regina, Calgary, and Vancouver, he did not propose to discuss policy matters. They would come up in Parliament after its opening later this month.

Unnecessary Taxes

He criticized the Liberal administration, however, for on the one hand expressing concern over high prices and on the other hand levying $600,000,000 or more in "unnecessary taxes" this year.

"You have seen what the government has already done with the taxing powers it possesses. I do not apologize for refusing (as Premier of Ontario) to hand over wide-open taxing powers to the present Dominion Government."

Substitution of subsidies for ordinary taxing methods he described as "a vicious circle that should be fought."

At the same time he took issue with the Liberal Government for allowing pacts to be made and changed without Parliament being consulted. The wheat agreement with the United Kingdom was given as an example.

Contracts were made for sale of wheat on a long-term basis under the prevailing world price on the understanding they could give farmers an advantage in the long run, he said.

"But now it would appear the contracts only give farmers a low price without any compensating advantages."

Truman Will Receive British Ambassador

It was believed here that Foreign Secretary Bevin has instructed the ambassador to give the fullest possible explanation of British Palestine policy in relation to the wider problem of stability and security in the whole Middle East.

Wants Pool Room Checked By Police For Truants

HAVELOCK, Jan. 13—(ENS).—R. B. Sayers was appointed chairman for 1949 at the inaugural meeting of the Board of Education on Monday. The trustees drew numbers to determine those who would serve for the one and two-year terms which resulted as follows:

1-Year term—H. W. Smith, R. B. Sayer and F. McKenzie.

2-Year term—J. J. Calnan, P. D. Chevalier and B. C. Marten.

Principal R. D. Buchanan of the Public School reported as follows:

He had subscribed for a farm paper for the Public School Miss Hunter, he said, requested four records recommended in the course of study. Also that books recommended for retarded pupils were required. Fourteen pupils tested, he said, suggested no demotions but extra reading was being provided in school and at home. The purchase of both of the above items were authorized by the Board.

Mrs. Buchanan said four pupils were advanced from grade 6 to grade 7 and some from grade 7 to grade 8.

Inspector K. O. Birkin's report started that interest and application mark the efforts of the pupils throughout the school and in most cases satisfactory progress is being made.

Truant officer J. Diaper reported the school open 16 days in December, total enrollment 172, average attendance 160.47, actual aggregate 2567½, perfect aggregate 2733 percentage 93.94 unlawful absentee days 21. Mrs. Diaper believes that the local rooms for children of school age. He explained that non-attendance at school, other than for illness could stop the family allowance for such pupils.

On motion by Trustees McKenzie and Smith it was decided to keep the boiler room locked, a key to be given to the caretaker and Public School principal.

The following committees were appointed.

Finance—F. McKenzie; J. J. Calnan; Property—P. D. Chevalier, H. W. Smith and B. C. Marten.

On motion by Trustees Marten and Calnan, the salary for the Truant Officer was set at $80 per year.

Find Shortage Of Fish Alarming U.S. Calls Conference Jan. 26

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—(CP).—Countries whose fishermen operate in the northwest Atlantic are getting together to do something about the shortage of fish. The United States, citing "serious depletion" of some important species, has called a conference here starting Jan. 26. Countries to be represented are Canada, Denmark, France, Iceland, Italy, Norway, Portugal, Spain and the United Kingdom. Newfoundland's fishery problems will be studied closely by the Canadian delegation.

The conference will discuss conservation and the possibility of formal international co-operation to discover reasons for the fish depletion.

The United States acknowledges its primary interest will be in northwest Atlantic areas fished by Americans. The State Department notes, however, that offshore banks are fished also by men from many other countries.

Species with which the conference will be chiefly concerned are cod, halibut, rosefish, redfish, hake, pollock and cusk.

The supply of haddock of market size, for instance, now is at "an all-time low," the State Department says. To satisfy domestic demand, New England fishermen have had to land immature and baby fish. This is considered dangerous to future production.

Halibut and cod catches are so insignificant off New England that the Nova Scotian banks are the closest productive area for American fishermen.

The United States has prepared a draft convention for use at the conference. It includes these suggestions as a basis for discusion:

1. Formation of an international commission for the Northwest Atlantic fisheries, a three-man body selected by parties to the proposed agreement.

2. Studies of the Northwest Atlantic supply situation and compilation of statistics.

3. Establishment of sub-areas for which the commission could set open and closed seasons, specify catch and size limits and regulate fishing gear.

U.S. Receives Message From Chiang

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The United States was reported today consulting with Britain and France on a Chinese government move aimed at opening the way to mediation by outside powers in China's civil war.

State Undersecretary Lovett told a press conference Wednesday that a communication had been received from Chiang Kai-Shek's government but declined to say what it was about.

However, press dispatches from Nanking have reported that China has been raising the question of possible action by one or more of the big four—Britain, France, the United States and Russia—to try to end the long conflict between Chinese government and Communist forces.

These reports are in line with information from diplomatic sources here. The Chinese evidently have not directly suggested mediation but have opened the way either to suggest it or to have some country or group of countries volunteer "good offices," by inquiring as to the attitude of each of the Big Four on the possibilities of a peaceful settlement in China.

Careful Inquiry

Some answer may be sent to Nanking by the State Department in a few days, but indications are that no step will be taken by Washington without the careful checking with London and Paris.

Diplomats consider it a speculative possibility that Moscow's opinion on the China situation is also being sought by the United States and possibly by the other western powers.

It seems likely that none of the western powers would want to make a move in China which would bring it in direct conflict with any pending Soviet move there.

American policy in recent months has been "hands off" and officials here insist that neither in Washington nor Nanking have American authorities urged any particular course of action upon Chiang.

Peterborough Native Dies In Wisconsin Patterson Street Named After Her Father

Mrs. Mary Patterson Lane, a daughter of the Peterborough man after whom Patterson St. was named, died Tuesday morning in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

She was a daughter of Walter Patterson and his wife, Euphemia Menzies, and widow of William I. Lane. The funeral will be in Milwaukee, Thursday.

Walter Patterson was the proprietor of a tannery on the the west side Jackson Park Creek, north of Hunter St., and it is understood that it was established previously by his father. He lived in a rought cast house near the creek, which was dismantled a few years ago.

It is also recalled that Mr. Patterson subsequently carried on a retail shoe business in a two-story rough cast store at the corner of Simcoe and Water Streets, present site of the Bank of Montreal. This entrance to the store was from Simcoe St.

Present elders of the city were boys accompanying their parents to the Patterson store for what was to them, an important matter of buying, especially when winter was coming on, copper-toed shoes. That was many years ago.

Walter Patterson has been described as one of the finest citizens of his time in Peterborough, friendly, kind and considerate, a man whose personality has remained warm and appreciated in the memories of the few people who can recall him. His daughter, Mrs. Lane, was a visitor to Peterborough last summer at the time of the re-opening of St. Paul's Church, after its redecoration. On that occasion she met quite a number of the friends of her youth.

The Patterson family were members of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. News of the death was received Tuesday by W. G. Menzies, 335 Reid St., her first cousin.

So-Ed Courses Start Jan. 26 Building, Entertaining Included In Group Subjects

The sixth annual SO-ED program will be held this year from Jan. 26 until March 2. This method of adult education, sponsored jointly by the YMCA and the YWCA, has grown in popularity since its introduction to Peterborough; last year 225 adults decided to take the course.

Six interesting lecturers will bring a variety of subjects to the platform.

R. H. Hall of the Bell Telephone Co. has chosen as his topic, "The Impossible Takes A Little Longer." He will speak on telephone equipment, and he is expected to complement this with a demonstration.

One of the highlights of the course is expected to be an address by Dr. Robert McClure who has recently returned from China where he practised medicine for many years. "China Now," the subject of his address, will be a first-hand account of conditions in that war-wrecked country.

Another traveller who will tell the SO-ED audience of his experiences is Dr. W. J. Gallagher, secretary of the Canadian Council of Churches who has just completed a three-months tour through France, Holland and Germany. He will relate a story of conditions in Europe today as he found them.

Those who are interested in modern education will have an opportunity of hearing one of Canada's foremost authorities on the subject. Dr. R. C. Wallace, Principal of Queen's University, has chosen as his theme "Educational Problems of Today."

"Northern Canada and the Eskimo," will be the topic of the Ven. Archdeacon D. B. Marsh of All Saints' Cathederal, Aklavik. His knowledge is a compound of 22 years in the Arctic where he served under the Right Rev. Archibald L. Fleming, Bishop of the Artic.

The sixth speaker was to have been the Hon. Lionel Cheyrier, former Minister of Transport in the Liberal cabinet, but a parliamentry session ruled out this engagement. Officials managing SO-ED have not yet decided on a new speaker.

Apart from the speaker there will be eight Interest Groups to choose from and a number of Recreation Periods. On the final night of the course there will be a party.

Included in the Interest Groups are: interior decorating; home building; a "fixit" course which shows householders how to repair everything from the electric ironing cord to broken chairs; a hostess course—hints will be given to entertain; great issues forum where a wide variety of topics will be discussed — inflation, deflation, housing, How Much World Government?, US-Russian relations, civil rights, and problems of labor and management; a Civics Course explaining municipal administration—James Dutton on Town planning, City Clerk E. A. Outram on an overall picture of the administration, Jack Dane on Recreation, Mrs. F. W. K. Harris on work of the Board of Education, Ex-Mayor Ovens on "Our Responsibilities as Citizens, and Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, on health.

The two last subjects of the Interest Group are Bridge and Social Recreation Leadership.

In the Recreation Periods there will be three leaders;

Miss Louise Colley, Director of Recreation for Simcoe County, will teach folk and square dancing.

Social and folk dancing will also be taught by Miss Nellie Lewis, Rec-Sec'y of the OREC.

Jack Dane, local Director of Recreation, will manage a series of progressive games.

SO-ED will begin on Jan. 26 and continue every Wednesday night until March 2.

Crusaders For Health Need Informed Public Opinion

Like all great crusades, the quest for health for everyone requires the support of an informed public opinion. The intelligent and earnest participation of the people is essential if medical science is to achieve its goal—the defeat of disease.

Somebody or someone must give the lead to the people — some organization must create the public opinion required to inspire health legislation which will benefit the people as a whole—somebody or someone must make the people realize that medical science cannot achieve wonders unless the people themselves make use of the proven disease preventives which have resulted from medical research.

And, in Canada, there is such an organization — the Health League of Canada, a voluntary organization which since 1919 has been devoted to a program of health education, particularly in the field of disease prevention, and to the support of the official departments of health.

One of the means used by the Health League to awaken the public to a realization of the value of health and the appalling costs of sickness, much of which is preventable, and untimely death, is sponsorship of National Health Week. The 1949—fifth annual—observance of this major health education project is scheduled for January 30 to February 5.

In broad the aims of the Health League—which works through a system of voluntary committee whose recommendations are translated into action by a small paid personnel—are to prevent illness, conserve health, and prolong life; to encourage public support for all wise health legislation; to enlist the cooperation of the public in official and professional efforts to control communicable disease and to improve public sanitation and health; and to conduct a broad and continuing educational campaign to promote personal, family and community hygiene throughout Canada.

The Health League of Canada is strong in the belief that it is just as worthwhile, perhaps more so, to prevent suffering as it is to alleviate it.

Nary a Bump Mars Line Of Spring Suit

NEW YORK, Dec. 12—(AP).—Smooth as butter, soft as silk, subtly molded to the natural lines of the body — that's the spring suit picture as presented by that master tailor, Philip Mangone.

There's nary a bump nor a bulge to mar the fluid line of the silhouette.

In the Mangone collection of tailleurs, slated for the vanguard of the Easter parade, smooth, silky worsteds, faultless tailoring, conservative lines are the order of the season. Skirts have a slim effect, although many are slightly flared for ease in walking, others are knife-pleated all the way round.

Highlight of the Mangone collection is the use of wide silk braid in trimming on Svelte dressmaker suits, on one grey worsted suit, simple in line, six-inch bands of matching silk braid are used in panels down the front and to outline the bottom of the jacket. The effect is a new elegance, and a feminine softness on a suit otherwise severely simple.

Fabrics take the play throughout almost all of the current spring collections, with many new and handsome materials taking their places alongside fine prewar fabrics missing for many years. Among these are silk serge, silk-and-wool worsteds, feather-weight flannels and doeskins, handsome sturdy tweeds.

The cape silhouette is accented by Capri, also showing today. It is shown in brief cape-back bolero jackets shown with suits and dresses, the former accompanied by matching spats. Capri names its bolero "air flight."

Suits Surrender to Frills

THE SUIT'S SURRENDER to subtle frills makes news this spring. Besides yielding to curves — flared peplums, wide-wing cuffs, outflung revers—suit jackets advertise their femininity in other ways. One is the team-up with bright silk prints. These make companion blouses for suits and matching linings for jackets. Print-lined revers are frequently opened up wide—cases in point are suits shown—to make a bold announcement of the match between blouses and jackets. The suit (right) of caramel-colored sheer wool crepe has lapels and cuffs faced with more of the same print silk which lines the jacket and makes a matching blouse. The suit (left) which combines a jacket of terra-cotta wool with a navy skirt, is given a similar contrast treatment with silk print. Here, a matching silk print handkerchief dangles from a pocket which is edged, as are lapels and cuffs, with navy trim.

Anglican Clergy Lukewarm About Publicity

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Jan. 13—(CP)—The Church of England remains divided on the issue of whether it should have a "ministry of information."

At its autumn session the Church Assembly adhered by 228 votes to 201 to its summer resolution establishing a church information board superseding present machinery and in particular the press and publications board. But in view of the narrow majority it is considered unlikely that any real change in methods of church publicity will result.

"Such a change would require the fullest co-operation throughout the Church of England," an official said. "That would not be possible while opinion is so much divided."

When the assembly voted in favor of the board last summer it was felt that they were temporarily under the spell of an eloquent speech by the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, who is wholeheartedly in favor of modernizing church publicity.

The argument was therefore reopened at the autumn session. Speaking against the board, Canon J. McGill of Durham declared religion could not be "advertised like boots and clothing."

He said the term "information" brought unhappy memories of the government's ministry of information which he charged was as much engaged in suppressing as in disseminating.

Boosting Unnecessary

"Real news does not need boosting," he said amid applause, adding: "A ministry of information which was partly propaganda would be suspect by the church people themselves."

For the board, the Bishop of London, Dr. J. C. W. Wand, said: "All we want to do is to put a microphone in front of the church." Everyone ws taught of the genius shown by St. Paul in using the most up-to-date publicity methods known in his day. Why then should they avoid modern methods in preaching the gospel?

Most of the clergy supported Canon McGill, while the laity opposed him.

The assembly also discussed the report of the church's commission on atomic power. The dean of Winchester, Dr. E. G. Selwyn, said the commission saw danger in the overgrowth of scientific knowledge "beyond what the wisdom of man could support."

The Archdeacon of Stoke-on-Trent, Ven. P. Hrthill, who is also chairman of the Anglican Pacifist Fellowship, complained that the report — approving use of atom bombs for defence purposes — showed a "total abdication from the church's duty to give moral guidance."

He asked clergy to put themselves in the position of an airman about to drop an atom bomb. Could he or could he not pray 'Oh God, bless this act to Thy glory'? If he could not then the church should tell him he must not drop it at all.

70 Women From 18 Points Attend Presbyterian Meeting

WMS workers of the Presbyterian Church in Peterborough Presbyterial received inspiration and guidance from Synodical president, Mrs. Glenn Thompson of Stouffville who spoke at their meeting Wednesday in St. Paul's Church. Representative of 18 Societies, 70 ladies attended the meeting which opened at ten a. m. when the executive met to appoint committees.

As guest speaker of the afternoon Mrs. Thompson gave full and interest-packed report of the Foreign Missions Assembly of North America held in Columbus, Ohio. She was a member of this Protestant interdenominational gathering, largest in 23 years. Sixty two denominations of United States and Canada doing 95 per cent of overseas mission work were represented.

With the thought in mind of working toward world peace the theme "One world in Christ" was chosen. The purpose was to turn the attention to ways and means by which missionary work could be greatly enlarged.

Prominent speakers who follow various religions were heard, all stressing the great need and importance of overseas mission work. With regard to China it was pointed out the mission work is the key to peace and will decide the future of all Asia. They said "If Russian domination cannot be prevented, we must work in it," and Mrs. Thompson added that she has heard an unofficial report that christian workers who have remained at their posts are finding the communists somewhat more tolerant of them recently. "Missionaries must rise to the situation today or be left on the sidelines" she said.

A Zulu Christian man addressing the Assembly said "Unless Christianity enters Africa now, it never will." She said he had appealed for African leadership, both clergy and lay. Another speaker was a woman Doctor from India who showed what influence her work has already had when hundreds of non-Christians are coming for help saying "We want you to perform our operations because you pray for guidance to do it well."

A learned man who spoke on secularism and communism thought that even more dangerous than the former type of practical materialism is somnabulism, the sleep-walking of Christians today. "It is they who have allowed the holy day to become a holiday," he said. "Christianity can meet Communism only by projecting Sunday actions throughout the week. Communism is promising to give the oppressed, starving and homeless people what they seek and in this way is gaining followers." So it was shown that increased mission work will be a block to the growth of communism.

President Mrs. R. N. McCulloch of Camobellford, president for the meeting and in her address to members said "There is a challenge to all of us to do whatever we can to relieve suffering in the world today. Starting a new year is a good time to try again to live up to those obligations we took too lightly or perhaps not at all. Where we fail someone must suffer so let us in future take allegiance to our Society more seriously."

The Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Church came to the meeting with words of welcome to all, a pledge of full support and prayer from the Presbytery and the assurance that the mission work is not in vain. Calling each of the Presbyterial officers for 1949 to the front he asked each to pledge herself to fulfilment of her duties to the best of her ability.

The officers are: honorary president, Mrs. David Ewart, Cobourg; past president, Mrs. Harold Tate, Millbrook; President, Mrs. R. N. McCulloch, Campbellford; first vice-president, Mrs. L. T. McLaughlin, Bowmanville; second vice-president, Mrs. H. G. McKenzie, Peterborough; third vice-president, Mrs. A. Strictly Feminine, No Exaggerations In Spring Clothes

NEW YORK, Jan. 13—(AP)—Women should bloom like flowers this spring, says designer Pauline Trigere, with petals unfolding softly above the waist in the form of brief flaring capelets, soft sleeves, and drapery about the bust. The skirt is the stem of the flower.

Such is the theme of her 1949 collection, shown to some 125 visiting fashion editors from leading newspapers all over the continent. Interest is for the most part strictly above the belt. Skirts are pencil-slim or slightly flared and lines are softly, subtly rounded.

There is no hint of the exaggeration of two seasons ago, when women were faced with the frightening "new look" and wondered if they really would have to pad their hips to be in fashion. The clothes this spring are slim, graceful and functional, yet manager to be strictly feminine in detail and silhouette.

One of the highlights of Trigere's collection is the "Mantelet," another version of the brief cape-back jacket which is seen in almost every collection. She shows it in various ways, one of the most effective being in smooth white doeskin over a navy faille dress.

The "renaissance sleeve" is another important note in the Trigere collection. This is a sleeve with soft draper from deep armhold to elbow, tightly fitted from elbow to wrist. It give the softness above the belt that is a theme of the spring showing.

Black silk braid trim is seen on a number of suits and coats in white or natural tones, also accented by black bone buttons.

Suits for the Easter parade as shown by Trigere have tight, slim skirts, slit and buttoned at the side.

DOROTHY DIX

Good Time Girl Expects Husband To Welcome Her

Dorothy Dix

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am 17 and am married to a boy of 19. A month ago I ran away from him because I wanted to have a good time and now all I can do is to cry, and if I go on this way I think I shall die. I love my husband and he loves me, but he won't take me back. He isn't working. He is just running around and drinking. Every time I see him I burst into tears and tell him what a fool I have been. I didn't mean to do any harm. All I wanted was to go out with other boys and have fun. Please tell me what to do. I love him and don't want a divorce.

DORA.

ANSWER: No greater warning against the folly and the tragedy of too young marriages could be given than is contained in this letter, because it tells the pitiful story of a girl who drove her boy husband to drink and messed up her own life just because she wanted to have some fun.

She was a good girl. She had been carefully reared and hadn't the slightest idea of stepping over the line. But she was only 17. She hadn't had any playtime and wasn't ready to settle down into the humdrum of married life. She wanted to have dates and dance and go places and flirt with boys who made love to her, and when her husband objected to her little affairs, which were really innocent enough, she left him so that she might be free to do as she pleased.

High Price of Freedom

And when she found out that freedom is the highest-priced thing in the world she was appalled, and she spoke the truth when she said, "I just wanted a little fun." And that is the heartbreaking explanation of why so many young marriages go on the rocks. Youth will be served. The glamour fades out of adolescent marriages. Boys and girls who married before they had any playtime take it after marriage, when it ends only too often in the divorce courts.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 22 years of age, a private secretary to an official. My father has been against the use of lipstick ever since I started using it at the age of 17. He ridicules me every time I go into a room where he is and makes me wipe the lipstick off before he will even speak to me. You can't imagine what an important and disagreeable issue this has become in our household. But at last my father has agreed never to say another word about it if someone, who really knows makeup and its proper use in public, would say it was all right to use lipstick—even if it went a little past the lip line.

Will you please settle the question for us?

JEAN.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: It is a curious thing that a small tube of red grease should arouse so much controversy and precipitate so many family squabbles, but it does. Fathers especially are allergic to it, and every little bobby-soxer has to fight her way to the possession of a lipstick, though goodness knows Papa would send for the doctor if Mary Jane appeared with pale, liverish lips instead of red Cupid bows.

Also, there is no denying that lipstick is first aid to divorce, for the first suspicion that many a wife has of there being Another Woman is when she finds lipstick on her husband's shirts. No man ever has been able to concoct a convincing alibi for that.

My own feeling toward lipstick is that it is both a blessing and a curse. It is a blessing if it is used in moderation and put on with skill, but it is a curse if it is daubed on, apparently in the dark, so that it makes a woman's lips look like a raw cut of beef.

The real test of lipstick is whether it makes a woman kissable or not.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am married to a man who works steadily, gives me his pay check to do as I see fit, who is clean and kind, provides me with a nice home and plenty of cash. His only fault is that he drinks, but he never shows it. He never neglects me or leaves the house without kissing me, and the only quarrels we ever have is when I nag him about drinking.

What should I do? Give up the ship or stay with it? I am not unhappy, but it worries me.

B.B.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Perhaps the Alcoholics Anonymous could help you solve your problem, for a man like your husband must be amenable to reason. Maybe if you would quit nagging your husband about drinking, you would have a better chance of curing him of the vice, for you know that the favorite alibi of drunkards is that their wives drove them to drink.

Try Other Folks' Recipes By Share the Recipes

By MARY MOORE.

Some of my friends have the pleasant habit of giving character to their Christmas greeting cards by their enclosures.

Sometimes it is a long letter on the inside fold—or a short note assuring me they are still living —or a "slip" from their favorite new plant—or a picture of their rapidly growing children— or a new and magical recipe.

This week I have collected the shared recipe which I have had time to try and am printing them for I feel that we should resolve to give our cooking habits a boost by trying other folks' recipes.

Mrs. Duddy's Jelly Roll

(Lemon Filling included).

Put 1 scant cup sugar with 4 eggs and put the mixing bowl in a saucepan with gently boiling water. Beat with whatever kind of beater you have until really thick and holding together. Remove from heat and gently but thoroughly fold in 1 cup cake flour, sifted with 1 teaspoon of baking powder and a little salt. Add vanilla if liked. Line pan with wax paper and bake in oven of 40 degrees Fahr. or a little less for about 10 minutes. Turn out on to damp teacloth and cover with other half of damp teacloth for a moment or two. The wax paper will come off like magic. Spread with jam (or lemon filling) and roll up, covered with damp cloth until cool. This makes a truly enormous jelly roll. The secret is the beating over hot water and the cake flour. I always give the pan a good bang before I put it in the oven to break the biggest bubbles —Margaret Duddy.

Lemon Filling

(For Small Pie or Tarts or Cake)

In top of double boiler mix ¾ cup sugar with 2½ tablespoons cornstarch and 3 tablespoons of flour; then add 1 cup boiling water, and stir over direct heat until thick and smooth. Cook over bottom of double boiler with boiling water for 20 minutes. Then add from 1 to 3 teaspoons butter, 2 beaten eggs mixed with grated rind 1 large lemon. Cool somewhat then add 3 or 4 tablespoons lemon juice, mixing well.

Olive Dempsey's Mother's Cookies

(Quick, cheap and good).

One cup drippings (almost any kind will do, but if you use bacon fat use only half of it and half lard or crisco or margarine), ¾ cup white sugar, 1 egg, 1 cup of flour, 1 teaspoon each soda and baking powder and salt, 2½ cups rolled oats. Mix in order given. Form into balls between buttered palms. Place on buttered cookie sheets, and press down with tines of floured fork. Bake at 400 degrees Fahr. for about 10 minutes, watching carefully not to overdo them — they are better taken out of oven a minute too soon than to take a chance on scorching them. — Olive Dempsey.

Maria Giffen's Banana Cream Cake

Lightly oil sides of two 8-inch layer cake tins and use plain brown paper cut in shape of pans to line bottom. Cream ½ cup of shortening with 1 cup sugar until very light and fluffy. Beat in 2 well-beaten eggs and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Sift flour and measure 2¼ cups, and sift this with 2½ teaspoons baking powder, and 1 taspoon salt. Add this dry mix alternately with ¾ cup milk — starting and finishing with flour. Stir sparingly. Spread batter evenly in 2 oiled pans and bake at 375 degrees Fahr. for about 30 minutes or until cake springs back to shape when touched. Turn out on wire rack to cool and peel off paper. Put together with jam or lemon filling with sliced bananas over filling, and on top of the cake which has been generously sprinkled with powdered sugar. Garnish bottom border of cake with more banana slices dipped in lemon juice, to keep their color.—M. Giffen.

Floral Prints Return

Stylized Motifs Splash Silk Dinner Gowns

Handsome silk floral print dresses are ready for spring parties. Black daisies bloom on white dress (right). Multi-colored prisms printed over desert blossoms add style appeal to peg-topped gown (left).

FLORAL PRINTS are back in style, but showing no signs of seed-catalog influence on their designs. They are used extensively for a new category of dresses—the little print that goes to dinner —proving themselves worthy to the last petal of the handsome silks over which they splash. Pure white silk crepe is background for one handsome floral motif of bold black daisies. This makes a dinner dress of Mildred O'Quinn's design which plays second fiddle to a prima donna fabric. The simple styling of the dress—snug bodice stemming from a full ankle-length skirt—helps to make the most of a fine silk print. A new peg-topped dinner dress with a cuffed off-shoulder neckline owes much of its style appeal to a selective print, dubbed "limited edition." Created especially for designer Ceil Chapman, the Robaix-designed silk used for the dress is splashed with black desert blossoms overprinted with prisms of brilliant color.

Fleming Believes War Not Close

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—(CP). — Western Europe is recovering, although the degree of economic and political recovery varies greatly among different countries, says Donald Fleming, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Toronto Eglinton, just back from a two-months visit to Europe.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the Empire Club today Mr. Fleming said that British, American and French officials whom he questioned in Berlin had no firm opinion on the question whether the "cold war" in Berlin would develop into a shooting war.

"My own conclusion is that there will be no war at present. The Russian people certainly would not want war. For the present, the Communists in keeping with their scheme of world revolution plan to do everything in their power to weaken the western nations.

"In no way can we do so much to prevent war as by strengthening ourselves militarily and economically."

J. E. Weir, 379 Downie St., was fined $2 and $1 costs for illegal parking.

Fire Damages Cheese Factory

WARKWORTH, Jan. 13. — (ENS).—Fire broke out in the curing room chimney of the Burnley Cheese Factory today at 8:30 a.m. The cheesemaker's wife, Mrs. Sexsmith, smelled smoke and called her husband, who was near by at L. Call For Drive To Back Project

ALBANY, N.Y., Jan. 13.—(AP). —Republican leaders called on minority Democrats in the New York State Legislature today to back Governor Dewey's drive for a $480,000,000 St. Lawrence River power project.

They said if the Democratic party was "sincere in supporting its publicly announced program," it would "join with the Republican majority in memorializing the president of the United States to withdraw his opposition to the project."

They charged that the state's plans to build, with the province of Ontario, the 2,200,000-horsepower development near Massena "has bogged down under Washington red tape and politics."

Dewey said last month that the Truman administration had been "selfish' and "narrowly political" in rejecting New York's application to build the project.

The governor ordered the state power authority last April 30 to file applications with the Federal Power Commission and the International Joint Commission.

The application to the International Commission was sent to the United States State Oepartment for transmittal to the commission. President Truman, however, ordered the department to hold it up.

The president then called for development of a St. Lawrence seaway in his message to Congress. That would include development of a joint power and navigation project.

Dewey wants the seaway, too, but he says he is convinced opposition to the navigation phase will stymie its approval.

Every American president since Woodrow Wilson has favored the seaway. Congress always has turned it down.

The parking meters of the city —nearly 500 of them—are getting an individual overhaul job. A small work shop for the purpose has been set up in the station basement. PC Ernest Beatty, who took a training course in repair work on the meters, is in charge of the operations to put all the tickers in shape.

The "shop" is putting 14 meters at a time through the process. There are no "free parking posts during that time, though . . . for a spare set of works is used to replace the units being overhauled.

Lord Nelson Back

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 13 (CP)— "Lord Nelson" was back on his ship here today after being A.W.L. four days. The tawny, one-eyed cat which is the mascot of the H.M.C.S. Prevost gave himself up Wednesday night when he walked smack into a group of Sea Cadets at a snack bar on the west side.

Hold 3 Brothers In Girl's Death

GUAM, Jan. 13 —(AP)—Three United States Air Force (negro) men were charged today with raping pretty Ruth Farnsworth and leaving her unconscious in tery.

The American governor of Guam identified the accused as Pte. Calvin Dennis, 26; Pte. Herman Dennis, 20, and Staff Sgt. Robert W. Burns, 32.

Calvin and Herman are brothers. The three are accused of kidnapping, rape and murder.

Miss Farnsworth, 27, of San Francisco, was seized last Dec. 11 in a jade shop where she was working part time so she could buy a trousseau for her marriage next April. She was knocked unconscious, carried out to a jungle the jungle to die.

A lie detector and a recovered smock broke the month-old mys- and raped. A searching party found her and she died Dec. 13 without recovering consciousness.

Lt.-Cmdr. James T. Hackett, assistant chief of Guam police, said the brothers confessed their part in the crime after a lie detector trapped Herman.

PLAY MORE THAN ONE

Peterborough Legion and Toronto Meteors were playing a game like "Button, button, who has the button?" called "Puck, puck, who has the puck?" at Wednesday's game in Lindsay. Midway in the third period the puck disappeared after the whistle was blown for icing the puck. Finally the Toronto team produced another puck from their supply, but where the first one went is a mystery.

IGNITE OIL SLICK—Smoke billows over the Windsor horizon as oil-polluted Turkey Creek and the surrounding marshes at nearby LaSalle are burned. The fire was started in an effort to rid the waters of lubricant which took a heavy toll of wildlife in the last few weeks. An accident in a gas company plant was blamed for the oil.

Delay In Passing Zoning Bylaw Irks Alderman

"One of these days some one is going to contest our zoning plan, and will make us look like saps."

That remark by Ald. Adams Sands at the meeting of the finance committee of the council preceded a motion by Mayor Swanston and Ald. H. Dodds informing E. C. Ferguson of Ferguson Cleaners "that the council cannot grant his request for permission to carry on a dry cleaning and pressing plant" on Hunter St., east.

"We've been waiting 2½ years for a zoning bylaw," said Ald. Sands. "The zoning committee has done a good job keeping everyone in line, but nothing is legally zoned."

"We just have zoning proposals," City Clerk Outram explained. "The bylaw has been ready for 2½ years," said City Solicitor Huycke, "but it has been held up by the requirement that every ratepayer must be supplied with a copy of the bylaw. That would involve a great deal of expense in printing."

Ald. Doug Miller: "The zoning committee was to hold a number of meetings around the city."

Mr. Huycks: "They were to be only educational meetings to explain the bylaw to the public. They would not remove the necessity of giving every one a copy of the bylaw. That is the only reason is has been held up."

Ald. Miller said there were no restrictions on the property, on the north side of Hunter St., east of the C. N. R siding, when Fergusons bought it.

Zoning bylaw would permit the council to issue a permit for a store at that location, but not for a dry cleaning plant.

"It is that detail which put him out of that area," said Mayor Swanston.

This question of the Ferguson application has been before the council at various times during the last two years.

Menuhin Defending Conductor's Record

ROME, Jan. 13—(AP)—Jewish violinist Yehudi Menuhin spoke up yesterday in defence of German conductor Wilhelm Furtwaengler's record under the Nazis.

Several top-flight American musicians have announced they will refuse to appear under Furtwaengler if the Chicago Symphony hires him as a conductor.

Right after the war, Menuhin—as much at home in Europe as in the United States by virtue of concert engagements that began in 1927—looked into Furtwaengler's record during the Hitler years. He said he convinced himself that Furtwaengler behaved well, said so publicly and played under the German's baton.

Nervous, Couldn't Sleep; Got Sick Headaches and Dizzy Spells. Tells How Syntona Helped Him

To men and women who suffer from stomach disorders, constipation, nervous irritability, tired, rundown feeling and rheumatic aches and pains throughout the body, this message will be of special interest. It is typical of many persons who have found prompt relief by taking a short treatment of Syntona Herbal Compound and comes from Mr. James Markle, well known and highly respected resident of 105 Queen Street North, Hamilton, Ont.

"For a number of years I was a constant sufferer of rheumatic pains and my entire system was rundown. The pains were all over my body; in the joints and muscles of my arms and legs and I had a dull aching pain across my back. My nerves were all on edge. I couldn't get any sound sleep at night and I was subject to sick headaches and dizzy spells. I felt tired and had no energy.

"Of all the many things that I tried, Syntona is actually the only medicine that has ever really helped me. Since I've been taking this medicine the pain has cleared up, the stiffness and soreness is gone out of my joints and muscles and my back feels fine. At the same time I have gained back my lost strength and energy, I am not nervous as I used to be so I am getting more sound, restful sleep at night and I am not troubled with headache and dizzy spells as I was before."

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store. (Advt.)

See Nazi Faith Behind Strasser

LONDON, Jan. 13 (CP) —The Times said yesterday in editorial that it detects "the ghost of the Nazi faith" behind the German policies advocated by the exiled Otto Strasser.

It says the Anglo-American authorities are wise to insist that Strasser's so-called League for German Revival is "altogether too potent a brew," and adds that Strasser now is more safely employed in Canada than in the western zones of Germany.

Strasser, who has been living on a farm at Bridgetown, NS, for five years, said this week he wants to return to his Homeland to lead a "rally of German Democratic forces."

The Times comments Strasser is a skilful writer and propagandist.

"Yet study of his books gives no reason to think he is fitted to be the leader of a new peaceful Germany. Behind his rather muddled vision of Socialism which would not be socialist but nationalist it is only too easy to see the ghost of the Nazi faith."

Senate Group Approves Dean Acheson

Denies Russ Appeaser State Secretary Given a Clean Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14—(AP).—Dean Acheson won unanimous approval of the Senate Foreign Relations committee today to be United State Secretary of State.

Quick confirmation is expected in the Senate. Chairman Tom Connally (Dem. Tex.) of the Foreign Relations committee, has announced that the nomination will come up there next week.

Acheson—who denied he ever was an "appeaser" of Russia got a clean bill after a secret session with the committee his morning in which he discussed in detail his views on foreign affairs.

Members had said before the vote that they expected to know just where Acheson stands on continuing the cold war with Russia. They were sworn to secrecy.

The nominee skirted that question in public testimony Thursday, except to remind senators that Truman had said there will be no change in the Administration's foreign policies.

Acheson made it clear that the President will have the final decisions, but he cast himself in the role of a strong secretary—unafraid to argue with the President over policy matters but unswerving in carrying out final decisions.

Acheson's vigorous defence of his views and his associations produced signs that senate opposition to his apointment is near collase.

Acheson's expected confirmation will mark the first change in Truman's cabinet since the November election.

Truman told his press conference Thursday that there won't be any more changes in advance of his inauguration Jan. 20.

Jailed 2 Months For Negligence

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 14 (CP) — Thomas Reynolds, 26, of Cannifton, former mechanic at Trudeau's garage, was given two months in the county jail when he appeared for sentence for causing through negligence the fire Dec. 20 which resulted in $150,000 damage at Trudeau's. Magistrate Wills stated he had considered the accused's splendid record and had also borne in mind the fact there was no apparent disregard for smoking in the garage.

"I am not particularly concerned over the value of property destroyed" said the magistrate "but in view of the value of the property the necessity for care should have been more emphasized."

Find Germans Uniting Against Allied Orders

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (CP). — The New York Times said to-day in a Frankfurt dispatch that there are "concrete indications" the Western Allies are approaching "one of the most critical periods" in attempts to create a West German government

The Times quoted "authoritative reports" that the German politicians "are uniting to present a common front of opposition to any severe occupation statute while the Western Allies are threatened with further delays in their attempt to complete the statute itself.

France, said the dispatch, has demanded that discussions of the proposed trizonal military government organization and the principles of the Western German constitution be included in the meeting in London next week on disputed points of the occupation statute.

Fears had been expressed by a Western Allied official that should the French succeed in broadening the agenda of the meeting it would mean a serious delay in the project of a West German government.

Priceless Silver Is Loaned By Indians

Gift Of Queen To Six Nations' People To Be Displayed In Museum

BRANTFORD, Jan. 14—(CP)—A priceless service of Queen Anne Communion Plate, a gift of the Queen to the Six Nations Indians for fighting for Britain in the American revolution, left here today to be displayed at the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto.

Under guard of an RCMP constable the service was removed from the Mohawk Institute here and taken to Toronto by Lt.-Col. E. P. Randle, superintendent of the Six Nations and Mississaugas of the Credit reservations, and William Powless, secretary of the Six Nations Council.

Only once before has the silver, sacred to the Six Nations, been on public display in a museum. That was in 1936 when it was taken to Buffalo for the Centennial celebrations of the Episcopal Diocese of Western New York. A Queen Anne Bible remains at the Institute here.

Gerrard Bret, director of the Museum said it had been established the plate was made in London in 1711 or 1712 by Francis Gathorne, member of a famous family of silver smiths.

The service was given to the Six Nations by Queen Anne when the Indians lived in the Mohawk valley in what now is New York State. At the time of the Revolutionary War, the Mohawks joined the Loyalists and fought for Britain. The service was buried in the Mohaw valley. When some of the Mohawks under warrior leader Joseph Brant decided to come to Upper Canada the set was divided. Part was kept by the Mohawk Valley group and part came to Canada with Joseph Brant. Later some of the pieces went to the Deseronto Reserve.

2,000 African Natives Riot

DURBAN, South Africa, Jan. 14—(Reuters).—Two thousand African natives swarmed the market in an Indian area of Durban at mid-day today attacking Indians and damaging and looting Indian shops. The new riot came the morning after fighting broke out at a bus stop between the two factions. Fifty-eight Indians and four Africans were taken to hospital after the evening riot but most were allowed to go home after treatment.

Fresh trouble broke out again today, and special reserves of police rushed to the area were unable to cope with Africans armed with heavy sticks and iron spikes.

Loot Shops

Frightened Indians crowded into the quarters behind their shops while Africans destroyed the shopfronts and stole quantities of goods. Police using batons were outnumbered and could not deal with all the crowds. Each time they moved on, the Africans returned to break into and loot the shops.

During Thursday night's troubles buses wildly drove through a hail of stones. One of them hit a telegraph pole, spun around and careened up the road at high speed.

Boy, 14, Halts Runaway Bus After Wild Ride In Streets

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 14 — (CP). — Fourteen-year-old Donald Usenik received unstinted praise today for his cool handling of a runaway autobus which he manoeuvred through traffic while women passengers screeched in fright. Police, transportation company officials and the passengers involved said that the youngster displayed unusual coolness in bringing the bus to a safe stop Thursday after it broke away downhill while the driver was off.

The driver parked the bus when he discovered that the hand brake was not functioning properly and went to telephone company repair men about the trouble. Some passengers took leave of the bus but about eight remained. One passenger attempted to shut the door and it was while he fingered the various controls that the bus began to roll away.

Donald said later he had been standing beside the driver's seat. He waited for one of the older male passengers to do something about stopping the vehicle but took over when no one moved. By that time bus was in full motion.

At various stages of the hectic journey, embracing all the thrills of a "movie ride," Donald managed to avoid a car, a loaded trolley bus (barely grazed) and a string of parked cars. One of his other anxious moments came when the bus shot towards a shoe store window with Donald negotiating a street turn safely at the last moment.

The youngster, who had done part of the steering from a standing position behind the driver's seat, finally decided that he had the situation well enough under control to take a turn onto a street with an up-slope. This helped to bring the bus to a stop with Donald parking the machine sidewise to keep it from rolling again.

When it was all over Donald remarked that he had only been bothered by the screams of the women passengers.

Port Arthur's public utilities commission will recognize the quick thinking of Usenik. His presence of mind was praised at a commission meeting last night, and it is expected he will be called before it to receive an award. The form the award will take has not yet been decided upon.

32 In Hospital Quarantined

CHAPLEAU, Jan. 14 (CP) — All 32 patients in crowded Lady Minto Hospital in this railway town, as well as all members of the nursing and office staffs, have been placed under rigid quarantine following the deaths of two children in the hospital from diphtheria. The quarantine will reportedly remain in effect until results of throat specimen swabs from all of them are returned from North Bay.

Meanwhile, all three of the town's medical practicioners are making a concerted drive to immunize all children of both school and pre-school ages, in an effort to head off any epidemic of the disease.

Dr. G. E. Young, medical officer of health, was not available for comment this morning. However, it was learned that the quarantine was placed in effect Thursday morning, after two children of Mr. and Mrs. C. O'Hearn had died from diphtheria.

The first child, Byron, 7, died of what was at first believed to be an ordinary throat infection.

The first death occurred Jan. 7, a day or two after the child had been taken to hospital. The second child, Timothy, 1½, became ill shortly after his brother's death, and was taken to hospital last week-end. He died Wednesday morning.

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—(CP). — Fifty-nine officers have been selected to attend the 1949 course of the Canadian Army Staff College which opens in Kingston next Monday, Defence Minister Claxton announced today.

In addition to 55 officers of the Canadian army from stations all over the Dominion, two have been chosen from the RCAF and two from the British army.

The course, designed to qualify officers for second grade staff appointments in all branches of the army, has been divided into theoretical and practical phases, the first emphasizing tactics and the second concentrating on preparation of training guides and tactical exercises with and without troops.

Included in the course will be two weeks of joint study with students of the RCAF Staff College from Toronto. There will also be three weeks of amphibious and combined operations study, a trip to the Canadian Joint Air School at Rivers, Man., and visits to inndustrial plants in Ottawa and Montreal.

Tactical exercises in the field will be carried out in areas around the Eastern Ontario centres of Napanee, Smiths Falls and Gananoque.

Lt.-Gen. Guy Simons is taking over command of the Army Staff College and the National Defence College after two years as chief army instructor at Britain's Imperial Defence College at Camberley.

Of the officers selected for the new course, 27 are from Ontario units, nine from British Columbia, five from Quebec, three each from Alberta, Manitoba and Nova Scotia, two from Saskatchewan, one each from New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and the Yukon, in addition to the two RCAF officers.

From the British army are Captains R. G. Tooth and D. A. H. Toler.

Remove Pencil From Boy's Heart

DENVER, Jan. 14 (AP)—Surgeons successfully removed an automatic pencil from the lining of 13-year-old Robert Bradshaw's heart Thursday night.

The doctors said a fraction of an inch was the difference between life and death for the youth. He fell on the pencil Thursday while running on a school playground. The point caused a minute scratch on his heart but there was no damage to it.

The pencil palpitated in his chest with every heart beat until it was removed in a lengthy operation.

Police Narrow Hunt To Two Kidnappers

VANCOUVER, Jan. 14—(CP).—The hunt for a "ring" of hooded counterfeiters who kidnapped a 66-year-old engraver and kept him shackled in a rented house for five days has been narrowed to two "positively identified" men, it was learned from a police source today.

The police source, who did not wish to be identified, said the wanted men in Vancouver's biggest mystery case had been trimmed to two following lengthy interrogation Thursday of the elderly engraver, still suffering from shock after his ordeal unique in police annals.

"It's definitely not a phoney," said the police source. "We've got the United States police—and possibly by now the FBI—Provincial Police and the RCMP working with us."

2 Mechanics Burned In Car Explosion

BRANTFORD, Jan. 14 (CP)—Two Brantford men were seriously burned this morning in an explosion while they were dismantling an automobile with an acetylene torch at MacNamara Auto Parts here.

In hospital are 23-year-old Chester Stoklosa, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stoklosa, and Orest Ruptash, 18, both severely burned about the body.

Firemen said the car's gasoline tank exploded, setting fire to the men's clothing.

22 Homeless After Four Places Razed

6 Children Escape From Second Storey In Toronto Blazes

By The Canadian Press

Flames which swept four homes in Ontario and Quebec left two dead, two believed dead, and 22 homeless.

An aged invalid couple at Alexandria is missing and believed dead following an early-morning fire which destroyed the farm home of Roddie McPhee, a few miles east of this Eastern Ontario town.

Presumably lost in the blaze are John Archibald MacKinnon, 92, and his 89-year-old wife, both partially crippled and confined to their beds most of the time.

Mr. and Mrs. McPhee and their three children escaped from the 2½-storey frame dwelling, destroyed before aid could reach the semi-isolated farm. A bucket-brigade of neighbors arrived shortly after the family had escaped but could only look on helplessly.

Badly Burned

Mrs. McPhee received severe burns to her face, hands and arms and was given medical care at the home of a neighbor. After rousing the family when she smelled smoke about 4.30 a.m., she ran to the bed of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. MacKinnon, to help them escape. She found their bed empty, assumed they had left the building and was able to make her own escape only with difficulty.

Tracks in the freshly-fallen snow outside the building, however, indicated the aged couple had been trapped in the fire. None could be found for the MacKinnons.

Cause of the fire was not immediately determined. The damage, covered by insurance, was tentatively estimated at $10,000.

Two of the children, Mary Jane McPhee and Donald McPhee, are adults. The third, Roddie, Jr., is 16.

A telephone could not be reached in time to summon the Alexandria fire brigade. However, neighbors said the roads were so choked by a snowfall Thursday that the brigade could not have arrived in time to save the building.

Alexandria is 60 miles southeast of Ottawa.

Die At Rouyn

At Rouyn a 13-year-old girl and a 40-year-old prospector died in a fire which destroyed a boarding house early today.

Young Claudette Paquette died on her way to hospital after firemen rescued her from the flames. The charred body of the prospector, whose name was given only as Decoaur, was found in an upstairs room after the fire was extinguished.

Mrs. M. Paquette, mother of the girl and owner of the boarding house, was in Montreal at the time and was advised of the tragedy by Police Chief Emile Dussault.

Russians Force Security Pact

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The United States State Department said today that Russian "obstruction" in the United Nations made necessary the projected North Atlantic Security Pact.

A detailed outline of the postwar difficulties between the west and Russia leading up to the Atlantic Security proposal charged that Soviet bloc tactics have "seriously hampered the activities of the United Nations."

Canada and the United States have joined the five western European Union countries—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—in negotiating the pact.

The State Department statement added:

"The end result, if not the aim, of the Soviet program has been to weaken the effectiveness of the United Nations and to shake the confidence of many people in it as an instrument of peace."

Elliott, who praised his long record and the part he has taken in the service and social activities of Kin.

Car Careens Into Tree, 2 Dead, 2 Hurt

WINDSOR, Jan. 14 — (CP) — Two men were killed and two women seriously injured today when a motor car went out of control on Riverside Drive, smashed into two trees, climbed another, and fell to the ground.

Arthur Spokdarek, 23, was killed instantly when the car fell on top of him.

Wallace Tousignant, 29, Remington Park, died shortly after admittance to hospital.

Critically injured is Miss Sophie Lokiec, and seriously injured is Miss Anne Andreychuk.

Driver of the car, Noble Joseph Tousignant, 23, a brother of the dead man, is being held in hospital for observation, and later released into custody of Riverside police who booked him on a manslaughter charge. In hospital he said he did not remember whether another car was coming. "I hit the curb and it knocked the wheel from my hands. I do not remember after that.'"

Jolted from the car by the final impact, Spodarek fell to the pavement just in time to receive the full weight of the toppling car. He was killed instantly.

When ambulance attendants arrived on the scene it was necessary to lift the car to remove the body of Spodarek.

Other occupants of the death car had to be extricated from the interior by main strength. The force of the fall had smashed out the entire floor; the roof was a tangled ruin and the frame was almost in two separate sections.

"We were going close to 60 miles an hour ourselves," said Douglas Harway, who was first on the scene and "that car passed us as if we were standing still. It must have been doing well over 70 when it went by."

'Quake In Shanghai

SHANGHAI, Jan. 14 (Reuters)—Office workers felt buildings sway when a short, but fairly sharp, earthquake hit Shanghai this morning. No damage was reported though the earthquake lasted at least five seconds.

Chinese Red Leader Mao Demands Treaty With U.S. Be Terminated

Trial Of War Criminals Must Follow Peace Communist Ultimatum; Heavy Fighting Reported Around Tientsin

SHANGHAI, Jan. 14—(AP).—Mao Tse-Tung, Chinese Communist leader, today demanded abrogation of treaties between China and the United States as one of the eight pre-requisites of peace. The Red leader, in a Chinese language broadcast heard here, also demanded trial of "war criminals," presumably to follow any peace move.

Mao, accusing Chiang Kai-Shek of warring against the Communists because he was lured by the glitter of American weapons, called upon the Nationalist leader to show the sincerity of his desire for peace by accepting Mao's conditions.

Mao said China was depending on United States support against the people's will. He added that Red soldiers will liberate them.

Eight peace conditions (which may be modified by an English language broadcast) were given:

1. Trial of all "war criminals." Chiang heads the Red list of "war criminals," followed by Madame Chiang, who now is in the United States.
2. Cancellation of the constitution.
3. Calendar years to be counted from Anno Dominii and not from the Republic of China's founding.
4. Elimination of "reactionaries" from the government and army.
5. Confiscation of "bureaucratic" capital.
6. Land reforms.
7. Cancellation of "treacherous" treaties with imperialistic countries.
8. Formation of a state council to include all Chinese elements, except reactionaries.

Meanwhile, Tientsin's negotiators with the Reds were reported representing not only their own city but Peiping and the rest of North China under Gen. Fu Tso-Yi's command.

No Progress Yet

There was no indication, however, that they were making any progress, and the Communists were using artillery on both Peiping and Tientsin, apparently trying to bring about a swift capitulation.

The report of the broadened scope of the peace talks came from Spencer Moosa, Associated Press correspondent in Peiping, who also said that the ancient capital of China was shelled for the second day in a row.

Moosa said his report came from besieged Tientsin, 90 miles south-east of Peiping. He had talked by telephone with a foreign source there.

Say Cabinet Resigns But Members On Job

ANKARA, Turkey, Jan. 14 — (Reuters).—The Cabinet of Hasan Saka, which earlier today was officially reported to have resigned, took their seats in parliament this afternoon as usual.

It was understood that between the time of the announcement of the resignation and the meeting of parliament this afternoon, Saka had been prevailed upon by President Ismet Inonu to continue in office.

Noted Doctor Gives Life In Cancer Fight

TORONTO, Jan. 14—(CP).—Dr. Gordon E. Richards, 63, considered one of the world's foremost radiologists, died Thursday night of an ailment contracted in his use of radioactive materials to treat cancer.

A routine blood test a year ago revealed the presence of a chronic blood disease sometimes found among persons exposed to radioactive radiation. Knowing that death could be no more than months away, he continued at work until a few weeks ago when increasing weakness forced him to his bed. The disease terminated in a form of leukemia.

His greatest achievements were in the field of diagnosing cancer and treating it with radium and X-rays. He was professor of radiology at the University of Toronto and director of the department of radiology at Toronto General Hospital.

Born at Lyn, Ont., north of Brockville, he was graduated from the University of Toronto in 1908 He lived for several years in British Columbia and served overseas in the First World War with the Royal Army Medical Corps. In 1917, he was appointed radiologist at Toronto General Hospital.

Dr. Richards started his special interest in cancer treatment as a diagnostic radiologist but in succeeding years he became more and more interested in radiotherapy. His rare skill in his chosen field, coupled with tremendous energy and drive, enabled him to make world-renowned contributions to the development of techniques of using radium and X-ray to combat cancer.

Must Sign Pact Or No Supplies

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14—(AP).—The United States served notice today that countries unwilling to enter collective defence pacts will get no arms and defence supplies from the United States.

Michael J. McDermott, State Department press officer, laid down this policy at a press conference.

Government officials said McDermott's statement was aimed primarily in reply to suggestions in the Swedish press that Sweden could expect American defence equipment even if she stayed out of the North Atlantic Defence Union now being formed.

Says Smelter Union Intends To Remain

TORONTO, Jan. 14 (CP)—R. H. Carlin, eastern Canadian director of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union (C.I.O.) said today his union has no intention of withdrawing from Northern Ontario gold fields.

Thursday A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor said the M.M. and S. Union was failing in its organizational work in the Timmins gold field area and that the Congress was planning an organizational drive there.

Mr. Carlin said his union efforts in that area recently were being hampered by what he called "raiding tactics" of the United Steelworkers Union [illegible] C.C.L. affiliate.

Will Suspend All Teachers Who Strike In Montreal

MONTREAL, Jan. 14.—(CP).—Lay teachers employed by Montreal's Catholic School Commission who do not report for work next Monday will be automatically suspended, the commission ruled today.

The action followed a decision taken last night by members of L'Alliance des Professeurs Catholiques de Montreal to strike Monday in an effort to enforce demans for higher pay.

It also was the commission's reply to Leo Guindon, president of the French-speaking Catholic Teachers' Union, after he had appealed to commission in person yesterday in a plea for sympathy and understanding.

The strike by 1,500 lay teachers would affect 50,000 pupils in French-language schools. Another 50,000 are taught by 1,500 teachers belonging to religious orders, who are not likely to take part in the strike.

The teachers are asking for top salaries of $3,500 a year for men and $2,500 for women. Minimum salaries asked are $1,700 for men and $1,300 for women.

Their pay now is a minimum of $1,000 and a maximum of $2,900 for men, and $1,000 and $2,000 for women. The union rejected a commission offer of $1,700-$3,200 minimum-maximum for men and $1,300-$2,100 for women.

Cripps Says Canada's Trade Rising

Dominion Only One To Show Steady Increase Since 1947

LONDON, Jan. 13—(CP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer Thursday said that Canada alone among the hard-currency areas had steadily increased its imports from the United Kingdom since mid-1947.

In an review of 1948 achievements in bettering Britain's trade balance, Sir Stafford said further export efforts will be needed in 1949.

"The most important markets to which we must give more attention are the United States and Canada, followed by Argentina in the western hemisphere and Belgium and Switzerland in Europe . . ." the chancellor said in a press conference.

"Only in the case of Canada has there been a steady rise, quarter by quarter, since mid-1947, while exports to Belgium and Switzerland have actually declined in recent months.

"But much more is needed. In the case of Canada, for example, exports have been paying for less than one-third of our imports, which include, as well as such foods as wheat and bacon, industrial raw materials like nickel and aluminum."

Britain's four-year economic recovery program anticipated further purchases of food supplies from continental sources like Poland, Sir Stafford said. Products bought from the Dominions might vary as the program developed, he said, but heavy buying from Commonwealth countries unquestionably would continue.

Greater Efforts

Calling for still greater efforts to earn more dollars, especially by pushing up exports to the western hemisphere, Sir Stafford said:

"We cannot, and should not expect the United States to bear the whole burden of reconstruction and recovery."

He said he had discussed with the Canadian Government last fall proposals for the four-year plan, including buying of food in non-dollar markets in Europe. He said he felt Canadians agreed this must result from Britain's currency difficulties.

When the government advocated increased efforts to sell more in Canada and suggested methods of salesmanship be closely examined, it was realized the Canadian market was not easy. Despite that, there was a large increase in exports to Canada in the last year. There was some difficulty in selling textiles in Canada, but there had been a large increase in machinery sales.

Better Quality Butter Needed-Lackner

LONDON, Jan. 14 — (CP) — Whether white or yellow, margarine "undoubtedly will be misrepresented as butter," the dairymen's Association of Western Ontario was warned at its 82nd annual convention here Thursday.

The warning was given by R. W. Morrison, president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture and also secretary-manager of the Ontario Cream Producers' Marketing Board.

For the protection of producer and consumer, he urged that retailed margarine should be designated some specific color which may be recognized easily and cannot be substituted for, or blended with butter.

C. E. Lackner, director of dairying for Ontario, told the 400 odd delegates that better quality butter is one answer to margarine and butter substitutes entering the market. Canadian butter has been "very ordinary" and he thought possibly that "lack of competition has not been good for the dairy industry."

In another address, W. C. Cameron, dairy marketing official of the Dominion agricultural department, predicted that output of concentrated milk products will hit a new high this year, but that cheese production for the home market will be the lowest in many years.

Reason for the cheese slump, he said, would be sharply increased consumption and demands of export markets.

PEI Bans Sale Of Margarine

CHARLOTTETOWN, Jan. 14—(CP(—Sale and manufacture of margarine was banned in Prince Edward Island today, for the time being at least.

This was done by proclamation of the province's Dairy Industry Act, passed in 1937 but never put into force until today.

Premier J. Walter Jones said the act would be referred immediately to the Prince Edward Island Supreme Court for a ruling on its validity.

Until a decision is handed down, sale and manufacture of butter substitutes, including margarine, are automatically prohibited in the province. If the Supreme Court rules the act is valid, the ban will remain in force unless legislation is passed to repeal the act.

Prince Edward Island, almost wholly an agricultural province, thus becomes the first province to take into its own hands regulations governing sale and manufacture of butter substitutes. In December, the Supreme Court of Canada ruled margarine could be made and sold in the Dominion but not imported.

The 1937 act was to come into force at the request of four or more directors of the PEI Dairymen's Association. That request was made yesterday.

Cut Bomber Force

LONDON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The United States force of 90 B-29 bombers training in Britain since last summer will soon be reduced temporarily to 60. An air force spokesman said today that 30 Superfortresses of the 301st Bomb Group will start returning to Salina, Kas., Jan. 17. Replacement by a new group "is being deferred for a few months," he said.

123 Americans Die In Storms

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP) — Winter's January punch at the United States has killed more than 100 persons, cost millions of dollars in damage to crops and property and brought much misery and hardship to thousands.

It's been a tough 13 days for much of the country—particularly in the western half.

An Associated Press survey showed today that at least 123 Americans died since Jan. 1 because of bad weather conditions.

Damage to citrus and other agriculture crops in California is estimated at more than $43,000,000. In Arizona, the citrus crop damage is estimated at $2,000,000.

Thousands of telephone and utility poles were downed by ice storms. In Texas, Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas and Oklahoma, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company estimated the damage at nearly $2,000,000.

Winter's weather elements appear to have been on a binge ever since New Year's Day.

Link Industry With U.S. For Defence

Will Develop Network Of Committees On Continental Basis

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—(CP). — Canada and the United States are expected to project their close defence co-operation into the realm of industry by the end of the month, qualified sources said Thursday.

The first informal and purely exploratory meetings have already been held in a movement which it is anticipated here will develop into a network of international committees which would, in effect, place inndustrial preparedness on somewhat of a continental basis.

These first meetings involved representatives of the chemical and non-ferrous metals industries who got together again with wartime acquaintances in Washington. More sessions are in the cards.

They were members of the Canadian Industrial Preparedness Association, an important civilian body. At Government request, the Association has established preparedness committees in a wide range of important industries to adive the government's own Advisory Defence Board on war potentials and needs.

The Canada-U.S. co-operation is expected to build on those and defence board committees to establish interlocking bodies which could advise in various fields on such matters as stockpiling of strategic materials and procurement of vital supplies in any emergency.

Hop Canadians

The top Canadians in this hierarchy will be S. D. Pierce, ambassador to Mexico, who will become associate deputy minister of trade Feb. 1, and H. J. Carmichael of St. Catharines, chairman of the IDB. There will be a high-level policy committee, overlooking all the others, on which they probably will sit.

The U.S. has already embarked on a five-year stockpiling program and President Truman's budget this week included another $525,000,000 for that purpose. Defence Minister Claxton said recently that Canada also is taking steps but so far no special stockpiling agency has been established.

Tin is one material believed earmarked for stocking and recommendations for similar action on natural rubber, quartz crystals and antimony are before the government.

Mark Quarter Century With Insurance Firm

A sterling silver tray, suitably engraved, was presented to E. L. Sackville on Tuesday night on behalf of the Manufacturers Life Insurance Co.

The presentation was at a special dinner in the Empress Hotel marking the 25th anniversary of Mr. Sackville's association with the company. All 16 members of the Central Ontario Branch of the Company were present, as well as several representatives from the head office.

George Holmes, Assistant General Manager, presented the tray, which contained the engraving: "To E. L. Sackville on his 25th anniversary with the M.L.I., Jan. 11, 1949. From your associates."

Mr. Sackville was branch manager in Peterborough for 16 years and gave up this position in 1940 to become one of the foremost salesmen of the company.

E. L. SACKVILLE, a leading salesman with the Manufacturers Life Insurance Co., and former branch manager here, has been associated with the company for 25 years. On Tuesday he was guest of honor at a special dinner where he received an engraved silver tray.

22 Homeless

The chief said none was injured or listed as missing in the fire.

6 Children Escape

Six children escaped from the second storey of their burning homes in Toronto early today by jumping into the arms of Edward Hamilton as fire swept four east-end residences and caused an estimated $10,000 damage.

Firemen said the fire, which started in Hamilton's home, was probably caused by a cigaret smouldering in the chesterfield downstairs. Hamilton, his wife and four children, were among 12 persons made homeless. Seven others fled from their homes in night attire.

Hamilton, who discovered the fire about six o'clock raced among his neighbors to warn them.

Sounds Alarm

"It's lucky I awoke when I did or there wouldn't have been time to get everybody out," he said. "I opened the bedroom door and was thrown back by a sheet of flame. I shouted, ran into the street and turned in the alarm, and ran back to the houses to get everybody out."

Among the homeless were: Hamilton and his war bride wife and four children, James, 6, Peter, 2, Robert, 10 months, and Linda, 5; his mother-in-law, Mrs. Annie Weiler; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. MacLean; Mr. and Mrs. William Cranegie and their daughter, Frances, 7.

Find Missing Child

AYLMER, Jan. 14 (CP)—Eight-year-old Carol Powell was returned to her parents today after being cared for during the night by Mr. and Mrs. David McDowell of Courtland, 15 miles northeast of here. Carol had been missing since Thursday night after a fire destroyed her home three miles east of here.

The McDowells said they were at the scene of the fire and recognized the plight of the little girl who had just been rescued from the blaze by her mother. They said they took the child into Aylmer to get her warm and later were unable to find her parents.

Carol's mother, Mrs. Norman Powell, tossed the child from the second storey of their burning house to the arms of neighbors. Origin of the fire is still unknown and damage is estimated at $12,000.

Mrs. Powell said earlier that shortly after the fire as she stood with her two children, Carol and Gordon, seven, a "good quality" automobile drove up and a well-dressed woman offered to help. The woman told Mrs. Powell she was driving to Aylmer for a half-hour, that there was a heater in the car and that Carol would be comfortable while her parents sought shelter.

The girl was clad only in a night dress.

"That's the last we heard of Carol or the woman," said Mrs. Sears, a neighbor who took Mrs. Powell into her home. "Mrs. Powell can't tell us who the woman is and she doesn't remember her around here. She knows the woman wasn't a close neighbor."

OBITUARIES

MRS. ISABELL BRIDGEWATER

Mrs. Isabell Bridgewater, 76, of 177 Hazlitt St., died on Thursday in hospital following a lengthy illness. Find Man Dazed Badly Frost-Bitten

Found this morning dazed and suffering from exposure, John Grant, 49, of 212 Aylmer St. was taken to hospital for treatment. Indications are that he had spent a large part of the night outside. He was brought to the police station and later to St. Joseph's Hospital by Det. Sgt. John Stevenson and Det. William Clarke. They found him standing off the River Road near the old Auburn Rd.

The man's location was reported at the station by a passing truck driver, who saw him sitting in the snow near the place he was found. He told police he did not think about investigating until he was in the city, then reported the incident.

Grant's limbs were partly frozen from the night in the cold.

Jackson Attacks Policy Of Steelworkers

"The United Steelworkers of America are following an unprincipled policy of raiding which can only result on chaos and confusion in the ranks of Labor," said C. S. Jackson, Canadian Director of the UE today. He launched a bitter attack on that union's attempt to become the bargaining agent for the Outboard Marine workers.

He asked the employees to compare the respective gains made by the UE and the Steelworkers during the past three rounds of wage negotiations.

"The UE has gained for its members 40 cents an hour in wage increases compared with the Steelworkers Union getting 29 cents an hour in the basic steel plants—and five cents of that was volunteered by the companies.

He stated that employer resistance to unions was "stiffening," and that the Steelworkers "now find happy company with company unionism as they attempt to disrupt the bona fide unionism and unity of the workers with the main group of organized workers in Peterborough."

The Outboard Marine situation he described as another example of raiding.

"I have a letter from Pat Conroy to the Minister of Labor asking for a full investigation into the anti-union actions of this company against the UE, and another letter from Cleve Kidd, one of the top officials of the Steel Workers' Union, suggesting that we take court action against the company for perjury in their alleged submission of falsified lists and information to the Ontario Labor Relations Board."

"In the face of this, the same Steelworkers raid the UE at the Outboard plant," he said.

Turning to the Sovereign Potteries case in Hamilton, he said that the UE withdrew from that plant to avoid expulsion from the CCL, and that the Steelworkers had not the strength to organize it.

"The company - management sent two of the employees on company time over to the Steelworkers' office to see Mr. Sefton of Steel and urge him to come to the plant and intervene in the UE's situation," he said.

"Sefton showed every willingness and was only deterred because the two employees told him that it was doubtful if more than 40 employees could be signed up to Steel."

Mr. Jackson contended that the UE had a right to organize the plant particularly in view of the fact that "the question of jurisdiction has never been worked out properly in the CCL".

He added that on December 14 when the UE was given 30 days to vacate the Potteries plant, the Steelworkers were also ordered to leave INCO at Port Colborne, but there was no threat of suspension for them if they did not comply.

"They just ignored it," he said.

He learned that the Tientsin City Council, which had been represented as speaking only for that city in its talks with the Reds, was "representing the five provinces under Fu Tso-Yi's command and the two municipalities of Peiping and Tientsin."

While he spoke of five provinces, actually Fu's command was shrunk, through Red advances, to the four surrounded cities of Peiping, Tientsin, Tangku—Tientsin's port—and Taiyuan to the west, and part of the Inner Mongolian Province of Suiyuan.

5-Year Trade Pact

WARSAW, Jan. 14 (AP)—Poland and Britain signed today a five-year trade agreement calling for an exchange of goods worth $520,000,000. It was the largest trade deal between countries of eastern and western Europe since the war. Britain agreed to release all Polish assets, amounting to about $2,000,000,000, frozen during the German occupation. The Poles agreed to use these resources by paying them into a special Bank of England account toward liquidation of pre-war debts to British creditors.

Adoption Of 4-Point Agenda Emphasizes Hopes For Peace In Palestine

US-Britain Reach Better Understanding On Holy Land Crisis; Policy Differences Constitute Threat

RHODES, Jan. 14—(AP)—Swift adoption of a four-point agenda emphasizes expressions of hope for peace by both Israeli and Egyptian spokesmen at the Rhodes armistice talks. Authoritative sources said the program for the talks, approved unanimously at the opening conference late Thursday, dodges no major military issue between the Cairo and Tel Aviv governments.

A dispatch from Tel Aviv, however, said the Israeli Foreign Office now fears that little more than a redrawing of truce lines may result. An authority close to the government said Jewish hopes for broadening of the negotiations to include other Arab states had been hit hard by recent British activity. The government was pictured as believing Britain has pressed Egypt to resist peace overtures and pressed Trans-Jordan not to resume informal parleys she has had with Israel.

Topics On West

These are the topics Egyptian and Israeli delegates will discuss:

1. Assurances as regards military offensives and national security.

2. Implementation of resolutions by the United Nations Security Council No. 4 and Nov. 16, including: the Faluja pocket (where Israelis have penned up an Egyptian brigade); delineation of an armistice line; withdrawal of forces; and reduction of forces.

3. Drafting of an armistice agreement.

4. Initiating of the armistice agreement.

Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the United Nations' acting Palestine mediator, urged the negotiators to hurry.

His expressions of hope for success in the discussions was echoed by the chiefs of the two national delegations, Egyptian Col. Mohamed Ibrahim Seif Eddine and Israeli Walter Eytan.

Better Understanding

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14—(AP). —The United States and Britain were reported today to have reached a better understanding on the explosive Palestine situation.

But officials indicated that after a fast round of diplomatic conferences here that important policy differences exist which may grow worse unless Arab-Jewish fighting in the Holy Land is brought to an end as quickly as possible.

President Truman freshly emphasized to the press conference Thursday that American policy is aimed at creating peace and stability in the Middle East.

But while he denied that relations with Britain have become strained over the Palestine situation, this basic split apparently remains in the attitudes of the two powers:

While the weight of American support over many months has fallen on the side of the new Jewish States of Israel, Britain is bound to the Arab States by various treaties of alliance.

If Britain at any time feels compelled to go to the defence of her Middle-Eastern Allies, authorities here fear grave harm might be done to relations between the United States and the United Kingdom.

State Department officials already have indicated considerable concern because Britain moved troops to the Trans-Jordan city of Aqaba and put aerial reconnaissance over the Egyptian-Palestine border area. Five British planes were shot down there last Friday.

Declare Mine Union No Status At Plant

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—(CP). — The Ontario Labor Relations Board ruled Thursday that the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO-CCL) no longer has any status at the Niagara Falls plant of the Canadian Carborundum Company.

Workers at the plant voted to withdraw from the Mine-Mill union several months ago and the United Steel Workers of America (CIO) applied for certification as bargaining agent of the employees.

The Board Thursday ordered a vote of employees as to whether they wish to be represented by the U.S.W.

Fetherstonhaugh QuebecHistorian Dies In Montreal

MONTREALI, Jan. 14.—(CP). —Robert Collier Fetherstonhaugh, 56, who wrote of the deeds of Canadian units in the First World War, died in hospital Thursday.

He was born in Montreal, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. C. B. Fetherstonhaugh, and educated here. He entered business with the drygoods firm of Greenshields, Ltd., of which his father later became president.

Soon afterward he was stricken with an illness that limited his activities for the remainder of his life. Unable because of his physical condition to enlist in the First World War, he took a lively interest in the activities of his contemporaries who volunteered.

The first history was published in 1925, that of the 13th Battalion Royal Highlanders of Canada. Then came "Royal Montreal Regiment, 14th Battalion, 1914-18," for which he was awarded in 1927 the David prize of the Province of Quebec for historical publications.

Next came "No. 3 Canadian General Hospital (McGill, 1914-19)" followed by "24th Battalion, C.E.F., Victoria Rifles of Canada, 1915-19"; "Royal Canadian Regiment, 1883-1933" and a short history of the Royal Canadian Dragoons.

The Graduate Society of McGill University sought Mr. Fetherstonhaugh as editor to rejuvenate the "McGill News," quarterly official publication of the society. He did this with signal success, raising it to a new level of writing and typography. He was editor for many years and continued as a member of the editorial board until his resignation in 1914.

Asst. Teachers Can Receive $4,000 Salary

TORONTO, Jan. 14—(CP). — Men and women secondary school teachers in Toronto, if classified as assistants (non-specialist), can receive maximum annual salaries of $4,000.

Increases are being considered by the School Board.

In Hamilton, 1949 salary scales already adopted provide for maximum salaries of $4,400 to non-specialist men and $4,150 to non-specialist women. Comparative 1949 scales in Ottawa are $4,200 and $4,000.

The Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation today released these figures, which it claimed present "a more accurate picture" of salaries in Ontario's five largest cities than a Canadian Press story of Jan. 10. The Jan. 10 story gave figures only for male teachers.

The Jan. 10 story gave these figures: Toronto, $4,100; Hamilton, $4,600; Ottawa, $4,400; Windsor, $4,000, and London, $3,950.

The Federation, quoting 1948 figures, showed the Windsor maximum $3,650 for men and $3,650 for women, while London paid men $3,650 and women $3,450

A Federation spokesman said his organization favors equal maximum pay for men and women teachers with equivalent qualifications and service.

Weather Conditions Stops Odom's Flight

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14—(AP)—Winter weather stopped lanky Bill Odom a continent short of a flight he had announced as a non-stop attempt from Honolulu to New York. But it didn't rob him of a world record for light planes.

The 29-year-old flier landed his 165-horsepower, single-engined Beechcraft Bonanza at Oakland airport at 6:30 p.m. PST Thursday night.

He was 22 hours and six minutes—and 2,375 statute miles—from his Honolulu takeoff at 8:32 p.m. PST Wednesday.

Official recognition of his record must await approval by the National Aeronautics Association. But the distance computed by civil aeronautics authority officials is about 313 miles over the 2,061.7-mile mark set by two Russians, A. Goussarov and V. Glebov, in 1937.

Rough air after the Honolulu takeoff and strong headwinds which buffeted him at daybreak Thursday forced Odom to alter his announced plan to fly to New York via Seattle.

He changed his course for a landfall off San Francisco, and 19 hours, 55 minutes after his takeoff his "Waikiki Beech" flew over the Golden Gate bridge here.

Then the weather conspired against him once more. There were clouds and icing conditions over Nevada. His little plane had no de-icers.

Court Reserves Linton Judgment

TORONTO, Jan. 14 — (CP) — Judgment was reserved Thursday on the appeal of Seth Linton, 61-year-old Simcoe, well-digger, from his conviction of murdering his housekeeper's husband.

The five-man Ontario Appeal Court said it would try to bring down its decision by Monday.

Linton had been sentenced to be hanged Feb. 3 for the bludgeon-slaying last June 6 of Lew Stewart, 44-year-old plasterer, during a fight at Linton's farm home.

A second murder charge in the shooting at the same time of John Kipp, 32, a tobacco worker, has been held over to the Spring Assizes pending the outcome of Linton's appeal.

The appeal, conducted by G. A. Martin, of Toronto, was based on the grounds of misdirection by the trial judge—Mr. Justice A. M. LeBel.

At the conclusion of his argument, Mr. Martin asked the appeal court either to set aside Linton's conviction in favor of a new trial or to substitute a verdict of manslaughter for the murder verdict.

Offensive And Indefensible Generosity

Many of our readers, we have no doubt, shared our annoyance with a picture which appeared in this newspaper, and many others, yesterday; it showed two men in a Montreal hospital sharing a packet of Chesterfield cigarettes, and the caption ran thus: "Canadian customs officers on the Quebec-U.S. border recently have confiscated more than 65,000 American cigarettes and then worked off duty to deliver the smokes to 1,740 war veterans in Montreal area hospitals....In the past U.S. cigarettes were destroyed after confiscation by customs men". We think that the sooner these large-hearted customs men return to the habit of destroying contraband cigarettes, the better it will be.

* * *

What right have these Quebec customs men to give away what does not belong to them? It is illegal at present to bring American cigarettes into Canada, but many people either do not know that, or think that they can smuggle a carton or two across the border. If the cigarettes are taken from them by customs authorities, it is certainly not in order that these same illegal cigarettes should be distributed to a favourite charity of the customs men; it is just as illegal for a customs man to distribute cigarettes as it is for another citizen to do so, and the fact that they give the cigarettes to war veterans does not whitewash an action of dubious legality and shoddy morality.

* * *

If this sort of nonsense is tolerated in the matter of confiscated cigarettes may we ask what is done with the American liquor which is confiscated by customs authorities? Who receives this bounty of the big-hearted excisemen? What Old Folks' Home or Children's Shelter is gladdened by the contraband rum which is seized at the Montreal customs offices?

* * *

This distribution of cigarettes may seem a small thing, but it involves a great principle. If American cigarettes are contraband, it is just as wrong for a veteran in a hospital to have them as it is for anyone else. If these cigarettes are seized from Canadian citizens, who have paid for them, it is utterly wrong that the Canadian Government, through one of its customs houses, should distribute them to other Canadian citizens who have not paid for them. And it is particularly offensive that any group of government employees should gain a reputation for benevolence by giving away what has become, by law, the property of the Canadian people.

* * *

We have hesitated somewhat in expressing this opinion because the cigarettes were given to veterans who are in hospitals. We have no wish to deny any injured veteran anything which may give him pleasure. But it is the Montreal customs men, and not the veterans, who have behaved indefensibly, and there is no reason why laws which are binding upon the nation should be relaxed in this instance. After all, if the Montreal customs men are eager to give American cigarettes to veterans, they can buy them for that purpose at the high legal price, just as the rest of us would have to do in the same position. We do not believe that this action has the approval or knowledge of the Minister of National Revenue, and we hope that he will take action to put an end to it, for it is undoubtedly an abuse.

Peterborough In Britannica

The imposing compendium of knowledge which is the Encyclopedia Britannica does not, we note with complaisance, omit Peterborough, Ontario. As should be expected, there is a reference to the city in the "P" volume, although among the six Peterboroughs (place-names) listed in the index, only Peterborough, Ont., and Peterborough, Northants, are dignified by separate treatments. Peterborough, Ont.: "a city and port of entry of Ontario, Canada...The five falls of the Otonabee at this point, with a total descent of 50 ft., furnish power...Peterborough has an electric railway...". In the article on Canals and Lifts in another volume the Lift Lock gets due notice.

It is not for these routine matters that the Fourteenth Edition (1941 printing) of the Britannica commends itself to our Peterborough attention. The most flattering item is a sketch of our Hunter Street bridge—a small sketch, 'tis true but nevertheless there it is, our erstwhile white elephant, smaller than life but arched as naturally as the thing itself.

The sketch is in august company, among a half page of sketches or arches, temples and bridges illustrating an article on Arches. Can our bridge have greater fame than to be listed among the illustrious arches of time? There it is among an Etruscan tomb, the city gate of Ferentino (Italy), the tomb of Atreus of Mycenae, the Nebraska State Capitol, the palace of Delhi, the gateway of St. John's College, Cambridge, the west door of Amiens cathedral, the arches of the chapel of the Tower of London. Our bridge is included in this notable array because, apparently, architects and non-residents of Peterborough consider the bridge to be a notable specimen, in its arch at least. The Britannica specifies it as "Modern Canadian". Perhaps the money put into the bridge was not spent in vain, if our vanity can be flattered by it in an encyclopedia.

"The Little Rosewood Casket"

In the questions and answers column of the Brantford Expositor we found the following verse, which is the first of an old song called The Little Rosewood Casket:

In a little Rosewood Casket
That is resting on the stand,
There is a package of old letters
Written by a cherished hand.
Will you bring them to me sister,
And read them all for me tonight,
I have often tried but could not,
For the tears would blind my sight.

The remainder of the song, we believe, gives the hearer to understand that the letters in the box were written by the singer's lover, who died before his time.

Occasionally such songs as this are made fun of by modern writers, who have no patience with the sentimentality of an earlier age. Only Me (about a child who died of neglect), Whisper Your Mother's Name (about a girl who went to the Big City and Went Wrong) and The Baggage Coach Ahead (about the untimely death of a young mother) were of the same general character; so also were Papa's Letter (about a child which was run over on its way to the post-box) and The Choir Boy (about a boy who was so good that it proved fatal). They were notable tear-jerkers in their time.

Have we earned the right to sneer at them? In a music store recently we heard a man ask for a record called A Rose From My Mother's Grave, and when we made enquiries we learned that this was a very popular ditty. And what was more mournfully sentimental than I Don't Want To Walk Without You, Baby, which afflicted the ear so painfully during the early war years? What strums more clumsily upon the heart-strings than the still popular Night and Day? Gluey sentimentality is the stock-in-trade of popular song writers in all ages, and although the idiom may change, the theme is the old familiar one of Love and Death.

Russian Rivers

The Soviet Union possess more than 180,000 miles of navigable rivers. That is a matter of some importance to Russia and to other countries who do not consider the U.S.S.R. a political and economic model, because rivers mean water-power, and water-power can mean industrial power. Russia's three longest rivers—the Ob, the Lena and the Amur are longer than Canada's longest, the 2,514-mile Mackenzie. Five of them are longer than the 1,900-mile St. Lawrence system, considered from its origins in Minnesota, through the Great Lakes, to its debouchment into its Atlantic gulf. Russia has fourteen rivers which are more than a thousand miles long. One economic factor which we can consider is that the longest are in Siberia which is sparsely populated and but little developed industrially. Another is that all of the fourteen longest are frost-free only between 165 and 275 days in the year. Four of them are open at most only half the year. Frost is a bigger enemy of Russia's progress than the U.S.A.

The Detroit Free Press says that British critics have been unkind to General Eisenhower's book because "he mentions other people besides the British as having participated in the war". Perhaps the British critics can't forget those eighteen long months during which the General and his countrymen were making up their minds.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column, particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

SIR: Was Gilchrist Street named after Dr. John Gilchrist about whom Mrs. Gerald Marryat wrote in an article which appeared in the Examiner on December 31st?

ANSWER: As far as I know, yes. Dr. Gilchrist was a prominent citizen of the district—he lived variously at Peterborough, Keene, and Port Hope. He was elected M.P. in the first Union parliament, 1841, for the riding of Colborne, which included Peterborough.

It is not generally realized that this Doctor John Gilchrist (by birth an American) was the first legally licensed member of the medical profession in Upper Canada. He had been educated and received a medical diploma at New Haven, Connecticut. He came to Canada and in 1819 passed the Upper Canadian Medical Board examiners at Hamilton. As Mrs. Marryat said in the article which you have read, he died in 1859 at Port Hope, and was buried in the Gilchrist vault at Cobourg.

QUESTION: What is a mugwump? I have heard a ribald definition. Is it merely a coined word?

ANSWER: I do not know why you use that adjective "merely". Some coined, invented words are among the best we have in the language. Banter, cocksure, dood'e, flirtation, fun, humbug, jilt, mob, pell-mell, prig, sham, twang, are all coinages at least two hundred years old. "Mugwump" comes from a North American Indian word for "chief". In American slang it means a person who holds himself aloof from, and superior to, party politics. It was originally used of independent members of the Republican party. One definition—which is perhaps the one you refer to in your question—is that a mugwump is a person who sits on a fence with his mug on one side and his wump on the other.

ALPHA: What is the best way to pronounce "margarine"? I do not ask the "correct" way, because as a constant reader of your column I know your dogma about there being no "correct" or "incorrect" pronunciation or usage. I have heard "margarine" pronounced in three ways.

ANSWER: So have I, and I suppose the same three: (1) the pedantic way—"marguh-arine". People who pronounce it thus with a hard 'g' as in 'gad' presumably do so because they have learned a rule that c's and g's are 'hard' before a's, o's and u's, and 'soft' before e's and i's: e.g. 'gad', 'gem', 'gin', 'gone' and 'gun'. The rule has numerous exceptions in the English language and margarine is one of them. After all, it's a soft substance.

(2) The snooty way: "marjarin"—with the accent on the first syllable and the 'i' short. I call it the snooty way because it is often so pronounced by people who look down their noses at margarine and people who use it. Or they like to give fancy names to common things. They call taps faucets, turnips rutabagas, and pronounce Quebec Kaybec, and ski shi. Kaybec is a proper French pronunciation, shi is permissible English or Norwegian. Actually, the people who say marjarin have linguistic logic on their side. This substitute for butter was originally called margarine because of a mistaken notion that all oils and fats contained margaric acid—even the vegetable fats which go into margarine. Margaric acid is a fatty acid of pearly appearance. The name comes through the French from the Greek 'margaron' which has the accent on the first syllable. English dictionaries give "marjarin" as the preferred pronunciation. However, dictionaries are not written by ordinary people, and margarine is ordinary people's food. "Marjarin" is suspect in my ears partly because I hear some precise (I must not say illiterate) and dictionary-trained radio announcers trying to foist it on people.

(3) The popular pronunciation is "marjareene" with the accent on the last syllable. That is good enough for me, because it is a natural and easy pronunciation, because it is the common Canadian pronunciation, and because I cannot reject the testimony of tens of thousands of Canadians in uniform overseas who ate margarine daily, found it good, and called it "marjareene".

QUESTION: Who invented the idea of God?

ANSWER: God knows, my dear fellow. I don't. However, you might get some light on your darkness by reading Sir James Frazer's "The Golden Bough", a most remarkable fascinating and scholarly anthropological exposition and analysis of fetishes, tribal customs and related matters in twelve volumes. Theologians value it as a reference work. A one-volume condensation is now available. Certain it is that the concept of a God is as old as the eternal hills.

IS Methuselah the oldest man that ever lived? How old was he?

ANSWER: Genesis v. 27 reports thus: "And all the days of Methuselah were nine hundred sixty and nine years: and he died". I suppose that makes him the oldest man—older than G. B. Shaw, who 28 years ago when he was merely 65 wrote the play "Back To Methuselah". Methusaleh was a son of Enoch, and he was 187 years old when he begat a son Lamech, and after that begat other sons and daughters. The ancient I am most fond of is "Old Parr". A benevolent friend gave me a bottle for Christmas. "Old Parr" (the man, not the Scotch) was born in 1483, and died in 1635, aged 152 years, and was buried at Westminster Abbey. This Thomas Parr was a native of Middletown, a hill-perched Welsh village, on the English border not far from Shrewsbury. His longevity was celebrated by Taylor, the water-poet. He was sent to court in 1635 as a kind of curiosity (as Champlain sent Indians to the French court at about the same time). The change in his way of life killed him, but his bones did get to the Abbey.

FOR THE RECORD: Winter sports have got off to a lame late start. Until the eve of New Year's there was not enough snow for proper skiing, and that was soon spoiled by rain and heat. There have been until mid-week only three or four days of good cold weather for hockey. The new Civic Arena on Park street south had its formal official first game only last Friday, and the mild week-end that followed destroyed what ice was left. As we approach this week-end things are looking up because the thermometer is dropping and fresh snow has fallen.

Letter To The Editor

A NEW CALENDAR?

Sir: The calendar for 1949 is now up on the walls of our home and in other places of our work and leisure. Every January the new Calendar is of special interest to us, because, if we have any imagination, we see in it time made tangible, as far as it can be, for us; it is a portion of our life-time measured out, and we anticipate its coming days with varying emotions.

How We Got The Calendar

Primitive man measured time by the sunrises and sunsets, by the waxing and waning of the moon, and by the seasons.

At first the time in which each moon waxed and waned was called a year. Later 5 moon-months made a year, then 6, then 10, then finally 12. The increasing length of the years can be traced through the diminishing ages of Biblical characters. Methuselah, who lived when a single moon-month was counted a year, lived, according to our reckoning, not 969 years but 79. Likewise Abraham, who lived in the era of five-month years, was 72 years old when he died, not 175.

It was in Egypt that the Israelites learned the true length of the year, for after the Exodus we find the ages of men recorded in the Bible within the normal range of lives. To their credit the Egyptians, over 60 centuries ago, had a year of 12 months of 30 days each, and almost astronomically correct.

Our calendar of today is derived from that of the Romans, reformed by astronomers and mathematicians under Julius Caesar first and later under Pope Gregory.

The root of the difficulty, as we know, in arriving at an accurate calendar is found in the fact that the earth circles around the sun not in an exact number of days but in 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes and 46 seconds. The error in the Julian calendar was only 11 minutes 14 seconds every year, but this in the course of centuries meant the seasons were changing places! The Gregorian calendar in 1582 rectified this by dropping ten days, arranging for leap years, and making a new start altogether, declaring January the first month of the year instead of March. This calendar (which only gains a day in 3,320 years) is now the standard and official guide for the whole world, though some of us may be surprised to know that the British Isles and our country only adopted it a little over 200 years ago!

Is It Time For Reform?

Reform of our present calendar has been under consideration by individuals, by associations, governments, churches, etc., for a number of decades.

What imperfections have been urged in our present arrangement of the calendar? (1) Unequal months, (2) movable feasts, (3) shifting holidays, (4) a new calendar necessary each year, (5) the position of the week-days changing from year to year, and (6) the months containing an uneven number of weeks.

These defects perhaps do not mean any great measure of importance to us just because we have become so accustomed to them, but with those who have to work with the increasing volume of figures of all kinds the demand for a more convenient calendar is getting very vocal. As any reform could be best effected when January the first comes on a Sunday it was hoped by several countries that such a reform would take place with 1939. However the state of the world prevented that. Now, that next year, 1950, brings the same opportunity about, 'The World Calendar Association', with office in New York City, is doing all possible to make 1950 the year of reform.

What Form For Reform?

"The World Calendar", as the proposed new form is called, correcting inequalities and discrepancies in our present calendar, arranges the length of the 12 months so that they are regular, making the year divisible into equal halves and quarters in a "perpetual" calendar. Every year is the same, every quarter identical. Each quarter begins on Sunday and ends on Saturday. The first month in each quarter has 31 days and the other two 30 days each. Every month has 26 weekdays. To effect such an arrangement the 365th day of the year is considered a holiday and is placed between December 30th and January 1st. Also to preserve astronomical accuracy the 366th day in each leap year is considered another holiday and is placed between June 30th and July 1st.

Such reform certainly makes for simplicity The day of the week would always be the same for the same date in each year. The year would always begin on New Year's Day with a Sunday. We would have a fixed Easter, always Sunday, April 8th. Christmas Day would always come on a Monday. We can conceive of Ecclesiastics not liking such fixity which plays havoc with the church's year, but perhaps even here difficulties could be overcome.

What Likelihood Of Reform?

Who can answer the above question. Sentiment must have its say as well as efficiency. All nations would have to agree, and general approval is not always easy. It would seem that inevitably such calendar revision will come, but it may not come for several decades yet. "Let patience have its perfect work".

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done, and withal how he had slain all the prophets with the sword. Then Jezebel sent a messenger unto Elijah, saying, So let the gods do to me, and more also, if I make not thy life as the life of one of them by tomorrow about this time.

And when he saw that, he arose, and went for his life, and came to Beer-sheba, which belongeth to Judah, and left his servant there. But he himself went a day's journey into the wilderness, and came and sat down under a juniper tree: and he requested for himself that he might die; and said, It is enough; now, O Lord, take away my life; for I am not better than my fathers.

And as he lay and slept under a juniper tree, behold, then an angel touched him, and said unto him, Arise and eat. And he looked, and, behold, there was a cake baken on the coals, and a cruse of water at his head. And he did eat and drink, and laid him down again.

And the angel of the Lord came again the second time, and touched him, and said, Arise and eat; because the journey is too great for thee. And he arose, and did eat and drink, and went in the strength of that meat forty days and forty nights unto Horeb the mount of God. (1 Kings 19: 1-8.)

And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst....It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me....

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life. (John 6: 35, 45, 47.)

And when the sons of the prophets which were to view Jericho saw him, they said, The spirit of Elijah doth rest on Elisha. (II Kings 2: 1, 2, 4, 6, 8-12, 15.)

I thank God whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day....Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God; who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began, but is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel. (II Tim. 1: 3, 8-10.)

37 Americans Charter Bus To See Kawartha District

Thirty-seven American sportsmen will visit Peterborough and Camp Cleveland in a chartered Greyhound bus for a week's holiday, next summer, Frank Laurie of the resort said today. Mr. Laurie with his partner George Christiansen, and Arthur Pally and Paul Balint reached the city Thursday morning after motoring from Cleveland.

"We got a bit lonesome for the Kawarthas, and there was no snow down in Willoughby, Ohio so we just told the girls we would be away for three days" Mr. Laurie said.

He explained the men had brought their shotguns along and after checking the camp would indulge in a bit of fox hunting in Ennismore.

"Herman Kransteauber has 12 men signed to make the bus trip already and the good roads up in this part of the fishing country will permit them to drive to the door of my resort. If the fish aren't biting in Pigeon. They intend to drive around to other fishing spots in the district. From what I have heard the bus driver will have a grand time, because he rides free." Laurie reported.

Commenting on the visitor possibilities for 1949, he said they have several reservations already, but are delaying their advertising so that they can direct the customers over the completed causeway. He said the only layoffs in the big plants of Cleveland and its suburbs now are seasonal, caused by stocktaking.

"Competition for business is very keen, and it is now a buyer's market in the States, with more and more salesmen on the road, but the business forecast is healthy, and we anticipate a record year."

Mr. Laurie said he hoped to interview Mayor Swanston and Alderman Dick Raine in the hopes of having Peterborough exhibit at the Cleveland Sportsmen's Show. "That booth did a wonderful job, and Cleveland people are just starting to become Kawartha lake conscious. It would be a shame and to my way of thinking poor business to discontinue it," Mr. Laurie remarked.

He also brought best wishes from Mayor Burke and members of the Cleveland city council to "the friendly Irishman," Alderman Pat Anglesey, and also to Alderman Dick Raine who met some of the officials.

Planning To Limit Socialization, Coldwell

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—(CP).—M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, said Thursday night a CCF government would "socialize only those things where socialization would bring great benefits to the Canadian people."

In a speech prepared for delivery on free time provided by the CBC for political broadcasts, Mr. Coldwell said that public enterprise, when operated by people who believe in humanity first, can provide these beiefits:

1. Greater service at a smaller cost.
2. More efficiency and less red tape.
3. Democratic control.
4. Points for all instead of a few.
5. A financial base for social security.

Wants Gov't Define Its Responsibilities

REGINA, Jan. 14.—(CP).— A defining of government responsibilities and proper allocation of tax rights was urged Thursday night by Progressive Conservative Leader Drew.

"A decentralized government isn't my belief," he told 3,000 at a public meting. "Too greatly concentrated government power is a great danger."

He said he had come west on his current speaking tour as a citizen of Canada and as the head of a "completely united party." Provincial interests best could be advanced through strengthening of governments financially so that no dependency existed on central governments for funds, he said.

Freight Commission Waste Of Time—Drew

REGINA, Jan. 14. — (CP). — The Royal Commission to investigate Canada's freight rate structure was tagged by Progressive Conservative Leader George Drew Thursday as a "waste of time."

In a press conference at the second stop on his western tour, Mr. Drew said all essential data seemed to have been assembled and that the most important thing now was "determining the principle on which adjustment must be made of rates."

Mr. Drew said that one of the purposes of his trip was to learn more specifically the details of problems facing each province.

NATURE BOY — Edmonton police have again rescued Carl Mikkleson from the elements. A year ago he was found living in squalor in a hut by the North Saskatchewan River, and ordered to move. He moved, but again returned to nature. Here he is shown standing beside the cardboard shack where he has been living without blankets and only a straw mat on which to sleep. Mikkleson, who said he kept warm in sub-zero weather by building a fire in a pail, has been moved to a Salvation Army hostel.

Want Rink Site Quickly Mayor Says

COBOURG, Jan. 14 —(ENS)—The opinion expressed at this week's council meeting by Mayor Joe Smith and members of the council, that something has to be done, and quickly, about selecting the rink site, has resulted in the question of the rink again becoming a popular topic. A considerable portion of the necessary funds have been collected but further activity along the financial front is said by Mayor Joe Smith to depend on where the site will be.

The opinion of an engineer that the temperature is too moderate and also that it is too damp in the park, are two facts which are expected to put an end to the move to place the rink in Victoria Park, according to the opinion of many.

"We have to get busy and settle the site question. The question of financing the project is stymied until we get a site," commented the Mayor yesterday.

Cobourg Chamber Has Gay Meeting

COBOURG, Jan. 14 —(ENS)—One of the most successful and entertaining dinners of the Cobourg Chamber of Commerce was the one held Wednesday in the Empire Room of the British Hotel with a program of varied entertainment. There was no speaker. Instead of the usual long tables with a head table at the front of the room, the mixed gathering sat at individual tables seating four.

Master of ceremonies was Art Jones of Peterborough, whose superb voice is the talk of Cobourg. Art contributed several vocal numbers with Stan Williams at the piano. Two skits which showed the town council and counties council in session, convulsed the crowd. Mayor Joe Smith was the commentator during the council skits. Fines were levied with reckless abandon and the proceeds go to buy food to send to a British Chamber of Commerce.

Basketball tonight on two fronts and again tomorrow eve on one. Girls go this eve with a twin bill in the YWCA starting at 8.15: CGE vs. Normals, and Neill's vs. Nurses. Lots of action likely by the lasses. Two boys' battles billed for this eve at the Collegiate, commencing at eight: Eaton's juniors of Toronto vs. PCVS juveniles, and Marines "A" vs. PCVS seniors. They should be worth seeing, too. Senior PCI-ers go to Pickering tomorrow aft. And tomorrow night at the Collegiate gym, Guelph OAC cagers tangle with the Marines "A" intermediates in an exhibition which will be fast basketball as both clubs are classy.

Ran across the following Canadian Press dispatch the other day out of Buffalo: "Jack Dugan of Toronto last night scored a technical knockout over Claude Flager of Buffalo at 2.39 of the second round of a boxing bout at Memorial Auditorium. Dugan weighed 166½, Flager 160¾. For Dugan, a former Peterborough, Ont., amateur who did much of his pre-pro fighting in Toronto, it was his 18th straight triumph, being undefeated in professional ranks. He was Canadian amateur middleweight champion in 1946, and is managed by Pete Calderone of Toronto." Good going, Jack.

Sour Grapes, Maybe?

Oshawa scribe comments: "Peterborough's lacrosse team, after winning the OLA senior 'B' championship for two seasons in a row, have decided to have a fling at senior 'A' competition. It is announced they'll play some of their games at Miller Bowl. Don't know whether that means they'll play some of them inside their new Civic Arena or whether some of the senior 'A' clubs have insisted on having less trips to Peterborough than an even 50-50 schedule. We think perhaps the latter is the case, for in conversation with a veteran OLA officer last fall we were informed that Peterborough should have gone senior 'A' last year and maybe they had lost their chance and wouldn't be given a franchise this year." Stuff and nonsense. Besides, all home games here will be at Miller Bowl.

Petes play Legion at 8.30 tonight in Civic Arena and this senior "B" game should pack 'em in. Good ice is promised and a swell scrap between these bitter rivals should result. Legion had a good third line operating the other night in Hill, Stewart and Coombs. The latter and Burns (on defence) are Lindsay puckists recently given the green light to play for the locals. This will be the first clash of the 1949 schedule between these clubs and they won't be fooling out there on the ice. The Petes will be trying hard to hand Legion their first setback of the season.

Monty Is Banged Up

This from today's Globe: "Keith Montgomery, 19-year-old member of the OHA Guelph Biltmores junior hockey club, is in Wellesley Hospital with serious back injuries. The player was injured in Wednesday's OHA junior 'A' game at Barrie. It was at first believed his neck was broken, but the extent of his injuries will not be made known until X-ray plates are examined at the hospital this afternoon. According to reports of game, Montgomery was tripped as he sped down centre ice in the third period of the game. He was reportedly poke-checked by Real Chefrevils, crashed into defenceman Stan Long and fell heavily to the ice." That's real tough luck for Monty.

PMHA was active on two fronts last gloaming. St. Peter's juveniles lost a 7-1 decision to East City, St. Peter's bantams won 4-1 from the southend Jaycees, the East City bantams beat Trojans 4-1, and Ouboard Marines blanked St. Peter's bantams 6-0. Some good hockey being served up by the youngsters, the future OHA stars around these parts. They go again next Tuesday with Marines bantams playing Trojans, St. Peter's midgets meeting Clapper's, and East City juves facing northend Kids at Civic Arena; while St. Peter's bantams tackle the Kids, Jaycees midgets mix with Trojans, and St. Peter's juves play Legion Trojans over east.

Topped The Trundlers

Ostranders were top trundlers last eve in the men's City Bowling League as they totalled 3619 pins and included a high single chore of 1378. Credit Jewellers climbed into a top place tie in the standing with Ostranders. Stan Murduff led the individual rollers in threesomes with 844, and he tied with Alf Pepe for single honors as each smacked the maples to the tune of 337. Some of the others came close, too, with neat counts as this loop continues to dominate bowling circuits of the city by a goodly margin.

St. Peter's Win

St. Peter's midgets defeated the southend Jaycees 4-1 in a well-played PMHA fixture last evening. Carravaggie had a goal and an assist to lead the winners, while Gooley, Richardson and O'Reilly each counted once for the Saints, as Monahan drew an assist. The teams:

Win By One Shot

TORONTO, Jan. 14 (CP) — By the margin of one shot, Toronto Royal Canadian Curling Club rinks skipped by Andy Grant and Bert Kennedy Thursday won district four of the Ontario Tankard. Royals edged Toronto Granites 31-30 in the final round.

Back Badly Injured In Game At Barrie

TORONTO, Jan. 14 (CP) — Keith Montgomery, 19-year-old player on the Guelph Biltmores Junior A Ontario Hockey Association team, is in hospital here with serious back injuries following Wednesday night's OHA game in Barrie. Examination of X-rays today is expected to reveal the extent of his injuries.

It was at first believed his neck was broken. He fell heavily to the ice in the third period after crashing against Stan Long, Barrie Flyers defenceman.

Little Arthur King Gets Chance In N.Y. Fight

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP) — Boxing director Harry Markson of the 20th Century Sporting Club presents "new faces of 1949" tonight at Madison Square Garden with Vince Foster, Roland La Starza and Toronto's Arthur King in the feature roles.

Foster, 22-year-old welter prospect from Omaha, Neb., gets top billing among this trio of newcomers who are graduating from recent successes in Garden semi-finals.

There is a good chance that Foster may open and close in one. His foe is tough Tony Pellone, an experienced main-eventer from Greenwich Village. Pellone, only 23, lost a close one to Kid Gavilan in his last Garden appearance. Today he is a 1-to-2 favorite.

King, British Empire lightweight champion, may be the best prospect of the trio. In stopping Tony Lauba Dec. 17 on the Sandy Saddler-Terry Young card, he scored a terrific hit with the customers.

Only 21, Lil' Arthur is quick with both hands and a good left-hand puncher, Willie Beltram of New York, winner of four straight since he was stopped by Tippy Larkin, should give him a good test.

Marines Victors

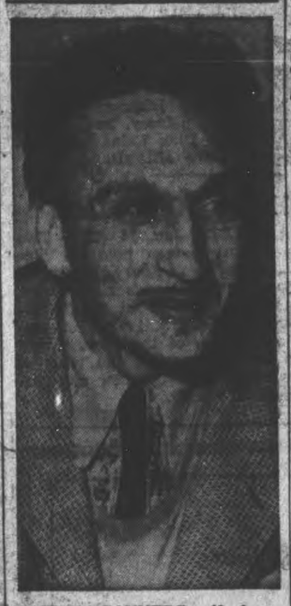
Outboard Marines blanked St. Peter's bantams 6-0 in a speedy PMHA joust last night at Civic Arena. Good goal-tending by O'Brien kept down the count as the Marines showed an edge all the way. Turner led their attack with three goals, while Strickland and McGrath each had a goal and an assist, with Byrne getting the other marker. The teams:

Marines—Goal, Delahaye; defence, McCormick and Byrne; centre, McGrath; wings, Frizzelle and Strickland; alternates, Ball, McGillen, Kearns, McDougall, Kelly, Corbett, Holden and Turner.

St. Peter's—Goal, O'Brien; defence, Cupoli and Legrow; centre, Lefevre; wings, Hickey and Corkery; alternates, Foley, Griffin, B. Ferren, Pearson, O'Connell, T. Ferren and Ryan.

In Lead For Cars

(CP). — Two comparative unknowns were neck - and - neck leaders today in the tussle for the cars at Nipawain's automobile bonspiel. Willard Cleveland of Fairlight, Sask., and Pete Hume of Flin Flon, Man., now have racked up four victories against no defeats in round-robin play. Another victory in the final round would put them automatically into a best-of-three playoff for the cars.



JEFF CONNERS, 40, free-lance writer and former Hollywood bit player, awaits in San Francisco for removal to Los Angeles. Conners was reportedly named as the "Black Dahlia" killer of Elizabeth Short by ex-bellhop Leslie Dillon.

Tee to Hack

The open bonspiel that was advertised for next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday has been withdrawn. The committee made this announcement last evening.

Instead there will be a one-day open bonspiel for men's rinks on Wednesday, Jan. 19. Fee $8. The first 28 rinks entered complete the draw.

Tomorrow's program is the same as usual—men's bonspiel at 2 p.m., mixed rink bonspiel at 7.45 p.m.

Up in Lindsay on Wednesday Ray Best's rink won their three games and were placed second. He had with him, C. Girouz, R. Bacon and C. Williamson.

The committee in charge of the Scotch curlers, who are coming here on Monday, Jan. 31, is making great preparations. We understand an elaborate program is being arranged. We'll have more details later.

The ladies continue the vice-skips' bonspiel today.

Caps Trounce Providence 12-2

By The Canadian Press

The surging Indianapolis Capitals trounced Providence Reds, eastern division leaders, 12-2 on Thursday while goalie Connie Dion scored his fourth American Hockey League shutout of the season as Buffalo Bisons downed New Haven Ramblers, 2-0.

The Caps tallied first within 41 seconds of the initial period and ran the count up to 4-0 before the Reds replied early in the middle session.

Nelson Podolsky, Pat Lundy and Gerry Reid each contributed a brace of goals while Rod and Don Morrison, Freddy Glover, Al Dewsbury, Eddy Nicholson and Joe Lund got singles. Providence snipers were Jackie Hamilton and Danny Sommers.

Dion, now tied with Ralph Almas of Indianapolis for the league's shutout honors, made 32 saves in blanking the Ramblers.

The two teams went scoreless until the halfway mark in the game when Bob Blake slapped home a shot from 30 feet. The Bison's second goal came in the third period when Len Halderson rapped in a rebound.

Expect $5,000 Increase Over Newhouser

DETROIT, Jan. 14 (AP) —Hal Newhouser, Detroit Tigers' southpaw pitching star, who more often than not is the last man in with his signed contract, is about to come up with a change of pace.

Although the 1949 Tiger contracts won't go in the mail until later today, Newhouser was scheduled for a salary conference with general manager Billy Evans this morning.

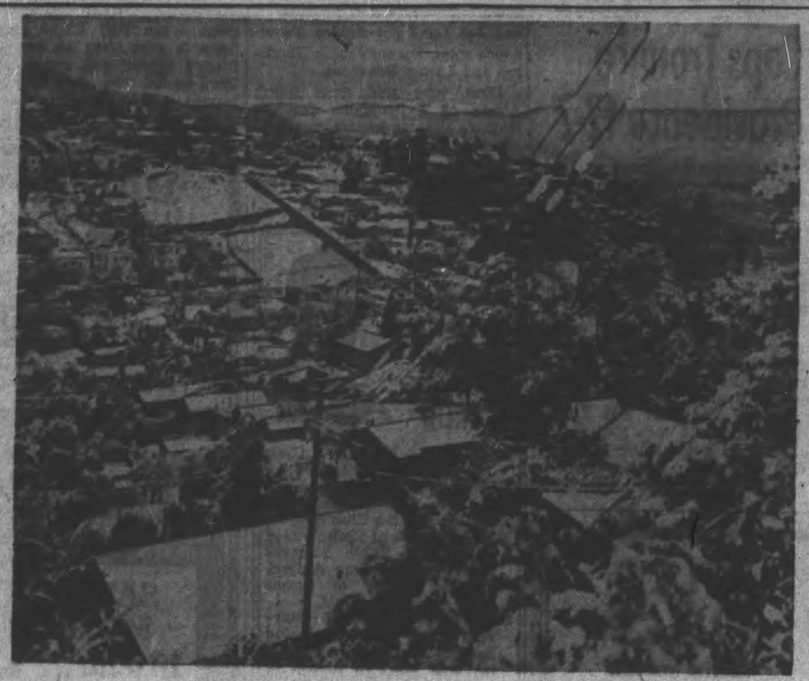
Indications were that the big left-hander, who topped the American League in victories with 21 last season, would sign promptly.

Certainly he was expected to be offered a raise. If big enough, Hal would be the first Tiger under contract for 1949, assuming he'd sign immediately.

Best guess appeared to be that Newhouser would receive a contract calling for a $55,000 salary in 1949. That would be a $5,000 increase over his pay of last year but still would leave him short of the $60,000 he earned in 1947 after topping 25 victories three years in a row.

Since the departure of Hank Greenberg after the 1946 season, Newhouser has been the highest-paid player on the Detroit roster. He is certain to retain the top position for 1949 since it's doubtful that any other man on the club will pass the $30,000 mark.

Newhouser had an earned-run mark of 3.01 with his 1948 won-lost record of 21-12. Cleveland's Gene Bearden and Bob Lemon were the only other pitchers in the American League to win 20.



HOUSES AND TREES in the Elysian Park section of Los Angeles, California, just three miles from the City Hall, presented this appearance to startled residents recently after a record-breaking snowfall descended on the sleeping city.

The season will open at the Dufferin Park half-mile racing strip, starting May 7 and running for 12 days.

Frank Boucher is going out west "to look 'em over."

Boucher, manager of New York Rangers, is leaving New York on an 11-day tour of western Canada and the United States next Wednesday to look over what he considers the finest farm and scouting system in the National Hockey League.

When Lynn Patrick took over the coaching duties of the Rangers Dec. 21, Boucher said he hoped it would give him more time to scout around himself and look over promising young players.

School boy curlers in Quebec City high schools will engage in a bonspiel there at the end of the month, it was announced by Robert Cream, in charge of the school meet.

The Quebec city winning team will play off with winners of school 'spiels in other sections of Quebec to determine a provincial winner to compete later in school curlers' finals at Edmonton.

At New York, the tournament of champions announced that Ray Robinson, welterweight champion, had given assurance he was ready to go through with his postponed fight with Steve Belloise.

George Gainford, Robinson's manager, wrote matchmaker Chickie Bogad that Robinson's doctor said it would be all right for him to start training immediately.

At Cincinnati Sam Becker, boxing promoter, announced he had signed Joey Maxim of Cleveland and Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati for a 15-round heavyweight boxing bout Feb. 28. The fight will be held in the new Cincinnati Gardens, now nearing completion.

The Canadian middleweight boxing title bout will be fought at Halifax Jan. 28 between champion George Ross of West Bay Road, N.S., and Joe (K.O.) Pyle of New Waterford, N.S., promoter Gussie MacLellan announced.

Appoint Joe Zeigler, 41 Manager of Toronto Leafs

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—(CP). — Joseph William (Joe) Zeigler, 41, of St. Lous, Mo., today was appointed general manager of Toronto Maple Leafs in the International Baseball League. He succeeds Peter Campbell of Toronto who died last November.

Appointment of Zeigler, general manager of Rochester Red Wings of the International League since 1945, has been rumored since Campbell's death. Contract terms were not announced.

Zeigler handled publicity and promotion work for St. Louis Cardinals of the National League in 1935 and was business manager of Sacramento in the Pacific Coast circuit from 1936 untill 1942 when he joined the U.S. Navy.

Announces Resignation

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Jan. 14. — (AP). — Joseph M. Zeigler announced today his resignation as general manager of Rochester Red Wings to go to Toronto Maple Leafs.

Ziegler, in a statement, said Donald Ross, president of the Toronto club, had offered "such a fine opportunity" that he "could not refuse to accept."

The 40-year-old Ziegler came to the Red Wings in December, 1945, after serving in the United States Navy as a lieutenant.

A graduate of the University of Missouri in 1934, he joined the St. Louis Cardinals National League organization shortly afterward, serving in a promotional capacity.

He was made secretary and business manager of the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast League in January, 1936, remaining six years until he went into the navy.

Ziegler's resignation means Rochester will have both a new front office chief and a field manager. Johnny Keane, former Houston, Tex., manager, recently was named manager of the Red Wings.

Kansas City Wins At St. Paul By 5-4

By The Associated Press

Ray Powell, an established star in the United States Hockey League, shared praise Thursday night with a couple of newcomers.

Powell, the league's leading scorer, scored three goals as Kansas City won at St. Paul 5-4. Powell's final score, an unassisted shot, brought his season's production to 35 goals and 33 assists.

With a point total of 68, Powell becomes a threat to the season mark of 112 set last year by Houston's George Agar. Powell has 29 games left to shoot at Agar's mark.

Billy Warwick and Al Rollins shared the league spotlight with Powell.

Warwick drove in four goals at Houston as Ft. Worth won 7-1. He scored one in the first and came through with three more in the second.

Patrick Demands More Goals From Rangers

By BERT ALLEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Just a few days ago the New York Rangers, riding a six-game unbeaten streak, appeared to be headed for the upper brackets of the National Hockey League.

But the New Yorkers suddenly have cooled off. Lynn Patrick, who took over the coaching reins from Frankie Boucher in the midst of Rangers' recent victory string, sums up the club's trouble in three words: "not enough goals."

The purchase of defenceman Allan Stanley from Providence of the American League and the return of playmaking centre Buddy O'Connor helped the Rangers get back into contention after a slow start.

But their drive upward has stalled and the team look particularly weak in dropping a 4-1 decision to the pace-setting Detroit Red Wings Wednesday night before the home fans. And the Blueshirts didn't look like world-beaters in their previous start when they played a 1-1 tie with Montreal.

Behind In Goals

It's easy to see how Patrick arrived at his conclusion that Rangers' main trouble was a lack of scoring punch. They have scored 14 fewer goals than any other club, but at the same time their defensive record is topped only by Montreal, who probably have the best defence corps in the circuit.

Patrick also thinks some of his players aren't giving their best.

"We have as good players as any team in the league but it's the team that works the hardest that wins," Patrick said in New York yesterday when discussing Rangers' plight with hockey writers.

Saturday, Rangers invade the lair of Toronto Maple Leafs who have been having troubles of their own. A victory would send the New Yorkers into a tie with the fifth-place Leafs. In another Saturday night game Montreal Canadiens play host to Chicago.

Leafs announced that Johnny McCormack, a centre with Toronto Marlboros in the Ontario Senior League, would be brought up for the game against Montreal next Wednesday. McCormack will replace Cal Gardner who is suspended for this game along with Canadiens' Kenny Reardon.

Y's Men's Club Hears History Of Business Life

Forerunners of the Chamber of Commerce were the Merchant Guilds of Mediaeval Europe in the 12th century, James Fraser told the Y's Men's Club at its weekly dinner on Thursday. His topic was "What is the Chamber of Commerce."

Town fairs were held in conjunction with church festivals, Mr. Fraser saaid. Large crowds met to exchange their wares and from these early markets developed the Merchants Guilds, and more recently, the Chamber of Commerce.

Guilds assumer greater importance as public bodies after the feudal system broke down. They brought little change, however, and at Marseilles in France, 450 years ago, the name of Chamber of Commerce was applied to a group of merchants. Most of the early Chambers were operated by the governments. In fact, the first Chamber of Commerce, entirely independent of a government, was formed in Halifax in 1750. This was followed by the founding of Chambers of Commerce in the States and the British commonwealth."

The speaker maintained that London's Chamber of Commerce was the largest in the world and was founded in 1881. There were 100 Chambers with 60,000 members in Britan; in United States there were more than 3,000 organizations and in Canada, 550 associations represented nearly 100,000 business men. There were 48 countries represented in the International Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Fraser's definition of the Chamber of Commerce was a voluntary organization of the forward-looking citizens of a community for the purpose of promoting the civic, commercial, industrial and agriculture progress of the community. "They don't want standpatters and those who look back on the 'good old days.' They want people who look ahead and are concerned with the health, wealth, education, protection and general well-being of the community," he declared.

Peterborough Chamber had 550 members, he said, who were nearly all business men of the city, although there were a few resort owners and professional men.

Mr. Fraser told the meeting that the Chamber of Commerce had been instrumental in having the city's level crossings improved. He recalled the time when most of them were in bad shape.

Other things the Chamber has done were the checking on street crossings where stop lights were needed, and the setting up of a tourist information bureau for Americans and Canadians. Correspondence from people making enquiries was heavy and advice to the people in the city planning trips to the States and to people seeking information on door to door salesmen was given. The number of people being cheated by false enterprises in Peterborough was high, Mr. Fraser thought.

The important part played by the Chamber of Commerce was indicated by the serious attention paid to its recommendations and criticisms placed before the Federal government.

Mr. Fraser was introduced by Wendell McNevin and thanked by George Moore.

Miss Ruth Hircock, a student at the Normal school, sang a number of old favorites. Members joined in the choruses. Q. McKinney accompanied Miss Hircock in the piano.

Guests of the club were A. Holmes, A. Dollack, E. Brown and S. Csumrik.

Teen-Ager Gangs Discuss 'Boys Town

TORONTO, Jan. 14 —(CP) — Members of several of Toronto's 'teen-a-ger gangs met Thursday night in a mass meeting to discuss the formation of a "Boys Town" or recreation centre here, it was learned today.

The junction gang, whose members were involved Sunday night in a row at suburban Long Branch was reported abolished and formed into the Junction Athletic Club. The new club sponsored Thursday night's meeting at which 'teenagers were present from the Tips gang, the Beanery Boys, and three other Toronto juvenile groups.

Free Speech Has Limitations Speaker Tells Kinsmen Club

A free press is "the champion in the battle against foes which would deprive us of our freedom," William McCulloch told the Kinsmen Club Thursday night. The guest speaker, a former newspaper reporter and executive and now a brewery executive, reviewed the development of man's "yearning to tell his story," the struggle for freedom of expression and the importance of the press in guarding the principles of the Atlantic Charter.

Pointing out that Hitler's first act when he came to power was to seize the newspapers and radios, Mr. McCulloch said that "the newspaper is a power for good if it is properly used . . . it is a means of safeguarding those heritages which have been dearly bought."

He warned that modern attempts to muzzle the press have shown that "it could happen again, right here in Canada, in 1949." He mentioned one outstanding example — the Alberta Press Act of 1937, which was ruled ultra vires of the province by the Supreme Court of Canada and the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. This Act, he said, gave the provincial government the authority to bar writers whose reports were critical of its administration and could force papers to publish government propaganda releases. Other examples in modern times were mentioned by the speaker.

"The newspaper is the source through which we receive our information and base our actions, if required," he said, and he stressed the desire of newspapers to present factual reports on which honest opinions could be based.

The origin of "news" began with man's history, he said. The urge to express himself, the desire to tell something to others began before speech—by erecting piles of stone for fallen chieftains, with carvings of animals, battles and events on cave walls. With speech came the want "to write it down" and so began the search for material, beginning with heavy stone slabs, through Egyptian papyrus to modern times.

The invention of the printing press was another example of man's "ever seeking better and faster means of production." With improvements over the first crude presses to moveable type to modern methods came the means to carry messages to the masses. Inexpensive books and papers, now a part of our daily life, are the fruits of that evolution.

"Now, with the means to write, man wanted to write what he thought . . . but he could not do that if it disagreed with the authorities . . ." said Mr. McCulloch.

Thus began the struggle to gain freedom of expression. Citing the political symbolism of supposedly innocent nursery rhymes in 16th and 17th century England. It was, he said, "the first popular attempt to ridicule a monarchy—the first free expression, although it was not really free."

From that start, freedom of expression grew, "and it became a bit easier after that. . . ."

On the phrase "Freedom of Speech," he said that there can "be no complete freedom of speech." It must always have "sensible limitations, within the bounds of the laws governing libel, indecency and sedition."

Terming journalism "a precious boon," he said that newsmen endeavored to present the facts as they happen and as objectively as possible.

He mentioned many improvements in newspaper technique in recent years and spoke of future possibilities. Facsimile reproduction of newspapers on private receiving sets will be a reality some day, he said. Already experiments in natural color pictures for newspapers, new and neater forms of advertising, were being developed. Although these predictions today may seem far-fetched, he said, they can be relied upon as certainty. Just as we may scoff today at such plans, so did people a few years ago belittle the 'theorists' who talked of what we now know as the commonplace—aircraft, fast cars, living comforts, radio.

Mr. McCulloch was introduced by Ed Henwood. The thanks of the club were expressed by Art Lewis. President Stanley Gilmore was chairman.

Following the dinner meeting, Richard Schram entertained with several selections on the piano-accordion.

TURNING THE PAGES OF "Canada Unlimited"

The first mill in Canada was operated by water power, built by a young lawyer—Marc Lescarbot—in 1606. Lescarbot helped establish the first town in Canada, Port Royal. Here he built his grist mill. Canadian industry was born.

While in a few places windmills were used for power, Canada's water resources were so great that by 1734, the country had 52 sawmills and 118 grist mills operating by water power.

The forges and furnaces of early Canada's Industry before 1877 were operated by coal. Street lamps in Quebec up to 1849 burned fish oil.

Operation of electric turbines by water power, first started in 1880, opened a great era of industrial progress, and, by 1900, installations were supplying 173,000 horsepower.

Last year hydro power in Canada amounted to more than 10,500,000 horsepower, furnishing energy greater than that of 100 million workers!

The future promises limitless power through atomic energy. And with this will come undreamed of opportunity in our industrial expansion. Yes, there's room to grow in Canada Unlimited.

Increasing Pressure Of Barrage On Tito

BERLIN, Jan. 14 — (AP). — The Russians to-day intensified their cold war against Marshal Tito's Yugoslav military mission here by publishing allegations accusing it of "anti-Soviet slander."

The allegations were attributed to one Vitomir Nedic, described as former Berlin correspondent for the official Yugoslav news agency Tanjug, and were distributed by the Russian-controlled German news agency ADN.

One week ago the Russian command here charged members of the Yugoslav mission were engaged in large-scale black marketing and demanded the mission staff be reduced by 90 per cent.

Yugoslav spokesmen denied those charges and asserted the accused were not official personnel but Yugoslav displaced persons.

Yugoslav spokesmen declined comment when asked about the new assault.

Scores Injured In Riots

DURBAN, South Africa, Jan. 14 (Reuters)—Scores of native Africans and Indians were injured, motor buses and cars were damaged by stones and shop windows shattered during racial riots in Durban's Indian quarter Thursday night. Cause of the riots was not known. First reports said no Europeans were involved.

'Duke' Munro To Stand For Liberals At Hastings

MARMORA, Jan. 13 — (ENS)—John Wellington "Duke" Munro of Madoc accepted nomination as Liberal candidate for Hastings Peterborough at a convention held in Marmora Town Hall on Wednesday. Others nominated, who retired in favor of Mr. Munro were John Davidson, Havelock; Rork Ferguson, former member for Norwood; Bernard Hughes, Marmora and Dr. Atkinson of Norwood. Mr. Munro had a distinguished career as Flight Lieutenant during the war.

President Norman Gilroy of Coe Hill presided and expressed appreciation at the fine attendance also mentioning that bad roads in the north of Hastings County had prevented an even larger attendance. William Fraser M. P. for Trenton, spoke briefly on the purpose of the convention.

Declining nomination, Rork Ferguson paid trubute to the Liberal party which, he said had done so much at Ottawa. He though the people of Canada were getting a better living today than they ever had, due to the Liberal party being in power and promised to support the new candidate. . . .

Dr. Atkinson felt that the candidate would receive better support in the western part of the riding than had been accorded in previous elections. Bernard Hughes the other nominee also spoke briefly.

William Fraser, M. P. then introduced the Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, who he described as the personification of the British bull dog of fair play and Canadian citizenship. He referred to the Minister's efforts for Liberalism and his settlement of many disputes thus keeping the wheels of industry turning.

The Hon. Humphrey Mitchell speaking on behalf of the Liberal party said its success lay in unity. If there was the same unity in Europe there would not have been war. He spoke of the stability and leadership of the Right Hon. Lyon Mackenzie King and also described the present leader, the Hon. Louis St. Laurant as a great humanitarian. He was convinced the electors of Hastings, — Peterborough would see to it that Munro was successful in the next general election. He said that the only countries in trouble today were those which followed Socialism.

It was the industrial capacity of North America that defeated Hitler. Continual redistribution of the wealth of a nation was the only way and the British had clung to that method. It could be proved that the introduction of family allowances was the most forward step taken in the country and Workmen's Compensation and old age pensions had been other progressive steps. All had been founded under the Liberal Government.

Canada had the highest employment status. Farmers were never better off than today nor was the working man and conditions of labor better. The Liberal Government should receive credit for those conditions and he though they would not be forgotten in the next general election. The supreme duty of Liberalism was to protect the weak against the strong.

William Fraser, M. P., took charge of the meeting for the election of the executive. Before this Mr. Macdonald of Kingston was called upon for some remarks to the young people.

The retiring executive was returned to office as follows: president, Norman Gilroy, Coe Hill; vice president, J. Davis, Apsley; secretary, Gordon Munro, Madoc; treasurer, James L. Shannon, Marmora.

Church Groups Support Food Gift Fund

By FRED G. MANN

The value of any teaching or precept is always found in the amount of actual practice it inspires, and nowhere is this more apparent than in social endeavor which benefits those in unfortunate circumstances.

During the whole of the time the local British War Victims Fund was in operation, much support was given by church groups of every creed and denomination, and in the short time the continuation of this fund, known as the UEFB, has been in operation, a number have played their part in the total of $1,400 raised to this date.

Besides those reported previously, it is now possible to add Park Street Baptist Church Sunday School, which gave the proceeds of the Christmas white gifts service, the Women's Friendly Bible Class of St. John's Anglican Church, who supported the old fund during the war, and Mrs. Donaldson's Class at Knox United Church Sunday School. In addition, gifts have also been received from Mrs. S. Fallis of McTaggart, Sask., on holiday in the city, Franklin Timlin, Fanny Rosenburgh, and A Sympathetic Farmer.

Radio Pledge Program

Arrangements are now being completed for a radio pledge program to be conducted over CHEX this coming Tuesday evening. Definite announcement of time, etc., will be found in this paper in ensuing issues.

It is also expected that Christie A. McDonald, assistant national director of the UEFB, will be in the city on Wednesday evening to meet with the local committee in the Chamber of Commerce at 8 o'clock when all who are interested may attend.

Dr. Richard's Death Shocks Colleagues

Members eof the Peterborough medical profession were stunned at the news of the death of Dr. Gordon E. Richards of Toronto, who died on Thursday. In the opinion of several he was one of the world's greatest radiologists and its history in Canada is the lifestory of Dr. Richards.

His work received great acclaim by a medical commission in England recently according to Dr. George E. Richards. It was the opinion of Dr. G. S. Cameron that although the medical profession would suffer a great loss in his passing, the greatest loss would be felt by Canadian people as a whole.

Dr. J. M. O'Brien was one of Dr. Richards' students at the University of Toronto's School of Medicine. He, like all of Dr. Richard's former students, felt a deep personal loss as well as a professional one.

"HERE'S WHAT I WANT THIS YEAR," says George Downer, amateur gardener of 125 Morrow St. Each mail these days brings new flashy 1949 seed catalogues to garden fans throughout the country. Mr. Downer knows all about this too; he will retire in June after carrying Post Office mail for 37 years and after that will devote full time to gardening.

Bounties Paid On 92 Foxes Bagged In Two-Week Period

The County Treasurer, Mrs. Jennie Spurway, on Thursday paid out bounties on 84 foxes which were brought into her office to be marked. Since January a total of $276 has been paid hunters who have brought in 92 pelts.

High man for the second week since the bounty became effective was Charles Gordanier of Bonarlaw, who trapped 15 foxes—all of them in Belmont township over a nine-day period from Jan. 3 to Jan. 12.

Runner-up was Leslie Crowe of Dummer township, who trapped and snared 12 in four days, all in Dummer.

Hallis Taylor of the Curve Lake Reservation and Charles Forsyth of Smith township each shot eight—both of them getting their bag in Ennismore.

Others who brought in pelts were: Gordon Taylor, Curve Lake, seven—all shot in Ennismore; George Taylor, Curve Lake, six, in Harvey Twp. Albert Taylor, Curve Lake, five, in Smith Twp.; Sam Taylor, Peterborough, four, in Douro near the Canal; Cecil Johnson, Peterborough, three—two in north Monaghan near Berry's Garage and one in Otonabee; Francis Ruttan, Belmont, three in Belmont; John Fulton, Harvey, three, in Ennismore; Gordon Manley, Peterborough; two, in Otonabee; and single foxes by Leo Swift, Ennismore, in Ennismore; Bert Taylor, Smith, in Smith; Harold Warner, Ennismore in Ennismore; Gerald Monahan, Peterborough, near Apsley; Percy Adamson, Otonabee, in Otonabee; Wilfred Wood, Peterborough; near Jackson's Park; and Earl, Carl, Peterborough, in Douro.

If this week's bag is any indication Ennismore is the township with the largest number of foxes. Of the 84 brought into the Treasurer's office 25 of them were killed there; Belmont was second with 16.

Most of the animals were shot; 30 were trapped or snared.

No wolf bounty has been claimed since before Christmas.

Remove One Storey From Windsor Hotel

A new roof is to be put on the Windsor Hotel but it will be one storey lower than the present one.

The present roof was badly damaged when the $11,000 fire broke out in the upper two storeys of the four storey hotel on Dec. 26. Edwin (Buster) Johnston, manager and owner, decided to rebuild it on the third storey instead of the fourth.

In order to do this he is going to eliminate the three rooms which make up the fourth storey.

Before the old roofing is ripped off a wooden platform will be erected over the sidewalk on the hotel's 36 foot frontage to protect patrons from debris that might fall.

The hotel will be open for for business as usual, the only difference being the canopy of stout planks that will project over the Brock St. entrance. Scaffolding for this has already been erected.

NO WOMEN ALLOWED

It was learned officially today that women are not invited to take part in the fox hunt on Saturday. At a later date in the winter a mixed hunt is planned, but this one is strictly stag.

The counter-offer was accepted by the Association in a letter to the Commission which was read Thursday and the increase moved by resolution.

BETTER THAN SHOVELLING

A number of pedestrians stopped to gape at a handy snow-clearing machine that was being used by a George St. resident on Thursday. Seed Catalogues Arriving; Gardeners Muse

Seasonal rush of Christmas mail is over but directly on its heels comes a flood of 1949 catalogues. The volume does not create any great problem for mail carriers, especially if they happen to be amateur gardeners in their spare time.

George Downer of 125 Morrow St., has been a mail carrier for 37 years and a successful amateur gardener for 35. He is a man that knows both sides of the matter intimately.

He not only cultivates a backyard garden 50 to by 60 feet, but another plot near his home on Montgomery St., that measures 100 feet square. Aside from enough vegetables for household use, he devotes all his effort to the raising of flowers.

Fortified with eight or ten new seed catalogues, he spends winter hours planning what he wants to grow in the summer following and, since he is backed by 35 years experience in the hobby, new-fangled flowers do not appeal to him.

Although he is a member of the Peterborough Horticultural Society, Mr. Downer finds little time to attend their meetings and only takes time out from the cultivation of his gardens to show cut flowers at the Peterborough and Lindsay Exhibitions and smaller fairs such as Omemee and Norwood.

He is a successful exhibitor having taken 41 prizes at the Peterborough Exhibition out of 43 entries.

Gardening on this scale is a year-round effort, even when the snow is on the ground. Starting in the fall, he gets about four loads of leaves from the city to make the basis for a mulch pile which cures all winter and is ready for use after the ground has been broken.

Absence of watering facilities is no drawback to successful gardening, according to Mr. Downer. He has proved year after year that proper cultivation to retain natural moisture is the answer. His large plot is in light sandy loam and in it he grows his prize-winning plants.

Another complaint he hears more frequently each year from fellow gardeners is the increasing chore of controlling various blights. Here again he has found that it is a matter of continual watchfulness and work to eliminate the causes.

On the matter of seeds and seed catalogues Mr. Downer thinks there is no better seed to be had than from Canadian seed houses. He still gets an American catalogue from Philadelphia to see if there is anything new in the business that appeals to him.

He expects to be pensioned from the Post Office in June of this year and looks forward to being able to spend all his time at gardening. He may experiment with creating some new plant strains in the future and even do a bit of fishing.

To the question of how he took so naturally to gardening, Mr. Downer said it was possibly due to inheritance for his mother could grow anything. "She had the Green Thumb," he said.

Symbol Of One Man's Silent Defiance Cigarette Butt Found In Prisoner's Box

A half-inch butt of a hand-rolled cigarette was found under the seat in the prisoner's box in police court early this morning. It was found by one of the station's maintenance men. The simple little item began a little debate as to how it got there.

Who brought it there? Presumably only prisoners would be sitting in the cramped quarters of the box, so it is likely that it was dropped by some unhappy member of the citizenry whose antics had met with stern disapproval by the force.

Was he just rummaging thoughtfully through his pockets, came across the butt and threw it away? Perhaps.

However, the most interesting chain of thought comes if one considers that the lonely little butt was left there for the same reason which all butts are—it had been smoked.

When? And how did the unknown prisoner manage to smoke the cigarette in the midst of the courtroom, with the eyes of court constable and magistrate upon him? Many occupants of the box lean forward, heads hanging, while awaiting their turns. Did the cunning tobacco addict simulate a sick-as-a-dog attitude and surreptitiously drag on the fag from a cupped hand, cautiously exhaling the smoke in a thin cloud downward? Would it be possible for this to be done and escape notice?

The possibility has a romantic only slightly less dramatic than the 20-year labors of the Count of Monte Cristo to escape from prison. One unnamed man defying the court to have his weed...

Anyway, the butt was found this morning.

Short Life of Light Bulbs Explained By Electricians

"What's the matter with the light bulbs?" That seems to be a favorite question of householders these days as they unscrew the burnt out lamps and replace them with new ones. Explanations seem almost as numerous as the complaints. But on one thing the vast majority of electrical dealers agree: people are getting better light for their money than ever before.

Consumers often say they can remember faithful light bulbs shining year in and year out in the old family home and they contrast these with the modern variety that seems to die with unseemly hate. One northwest resident of the city said he had used three bulbs in one fixture since Christmas.

"It's generally recognized now that you get a better light in your bulb than you ever did," says Peter Dominik, electrical contractor. "The bulb may not last as long but the lighting is more efficient."

"What some people forget," he says, "is that when a bulb is frosted the illumination is reduced between 25 and 30 precent. And the modern bulb which is frosted to prevent flickering and glare throws just as bright or brighter a light than the old fashioned one we hear about."

He also considers that one of the greatest enemies to the longevity of a bulb is variation in voltage.

"If you live near a transformer you will get a greater variation in voltage than your neighbor who lives a couple of blocks down the street," he says. M. Dominik contend that this variation causes many lamps to burn out and the cause would remain unknown to the householder.

"A good bulb should carry 120 volts," he says. "Many people buy low-voltage ones and when a high surge of power comes along they are immediately burned out.

Speaking in favor of modern electric lights and production methods, he points out that despite improvement the unit cost had been recently reduced.

"The standard 60-watt bulb can be obtained five cents cheaper than five years ago, the cost is now 15 cents instead of the former 20 cents." He balanced this remark by conceding that some of the lesser used variety were going up in prices.

Mr. Dominik says another cause for a high mortality rate among bulbs was vibration. If the householder lives in a district where heavy trains go rumbling by or other traffic that shakes the house, the life of a bulb is bound to be shorter than in a quieter residential area.

"As the filament burns it gets brittle," says Mr. Dominik, "and even a slight jar will snap it."

Two other constractors agree that fluctuating voltage is the chief offender.

"If people would take the trouble they could get a 120-volt bulb, and thus guard against this," a Cobourg wholesaler maintained. In some cities the surge sometimes is as high as 125 volts and obviously this will break any ordinary bulb."

Three larger of the department stores in Peterborough report that sales of lightbulbs are high at the present time. But as sales girl said "They're always in demand at this time of the year so I don't know that it's because they are of inferior grade."

The manager of one store said that many 60-watt, 110-volt bulbs from the United States had been imported since the hydro shortage began, and because of the low voltage many of them were likely to burn out prematurely.

But skeptical John Public listening to these many reasons has a stock answer: "They're just not putting the stuff in them that they used to."

135 Picnics Held In Jackson Park

Jackson Park continued to be during the past year Peterborough's most popular place for the holding of church and family picnics according to the report of caretaker Robert Manley. There were 135 organized picnics held during the summer and in addition hundreds of families went to the park to enjoy a small family picnic. Hot water was provided and tables and benches are always available.

The busiest day of the season was Civic holiday when three family re-unions were held, the Kidd family, Hughie family and the Mahood family. Upwards of 300 people were in the park that day.

The wading and bathing pool for kiddies and children was visited by hundreds and every fine day the little folk could be seen having the time of their lives.

The members of the Nicholls Park Trust have in mind some added facilities for the coming season.

Cars Meet Head-on

A head-on collision between two cars on the Young's Point bridge Thursday afternoon caused about $50 damage to each vehicle. Drivers, who were unhurt, were John Maxwell of Midland and Gerald Tedford of Young's Point. Slippery surface of the bridge and centering of the cars due to narrow approaches were held responsible for the mishap. Provincial constables Cecil Chambers and Harry Cook of Peterborough investigated.

District Prices For Hockey Lower Than City

Hockey fans at various district arenas are enjoying games at moderate prices, according to a survey of admission fees gathered to-day.

At Norwood Arena, adults pay 35 cents to see both Trent Valley League and Rural Loop games and children pay 20 cents; officials are considering raising adults admissions to half a dollar.

Junior games at the Lakefield Arena can be enjoyed for 15 cents for children and 35 for adults. Intermediate games cost 25 and 50 cents for the different age groups.

Reserved seats in Lindsay are costing 75 cents, rush seats 50 and children pay 25 cents to see the Senior B games series. Twenty-five and 50 cents is the admission for intermediate games.

An arrangement of buying season reserved seat tickets for $1.50 plus 50 cents per game is working out very well in Marmora and children pay 15 cents at all times.

Rink managers are in charge both Lindsay and Lakefield Arenas. The former is paid salary plus a prorated commission at the end of the season and the latter is on straight salary. In Norwood and Marmora, a caretaker-manager is retained by each village on a salary arrangement that has been effective for past seasons.

License Revoked For 3rd Offence

The Police Commission ruled on Thursday that any taxi driver in the city being convicted under the Highway Traffic Act three times would automatically have his licence revoked. The ruling was made when the Commission reviewed applications for 1949 renewal of licences in the city. Several applicants had convictions listed.

Judge Sheldon Smoke pointed out that the primary concern of the Commission was the qualifications of the cabbies as drivers, and that special attention to breaches of traffic laws should be made.

It was pointed out that the ruling did not interfere with the Commission's right to revoke licences for other convictions if it were deemed advisable.

Forestry Expert E. J. Zavitz Honored For Planting Work

TORONTO, Jan. 14 — (CP).— Nearly 70 years ago a fuzzy-haired boy walked which his grandfather in the woods about Ridgeway near Welland in the Niagara Peninsula and learned how to prune and transplant tres.

Now a white-haired man with twinkling eyes, E. J. Zavitz was honored Thursday night by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests as one of the world's leading forestry experts

Since he joined the Department 45 years ago, Mr. Zavitz helped to organize Ontario's present forest fire protection system, had a hand in the establishment of the Ontario Provincial Air Service, which grew into the world's biggest aerial forest fire fighting force and was the prime mover in reforestation projects in all parts of the province.

Despite his 73 years, he still looks ahead. He told the annual Department banquet Thursday night that there is a great future for forests in the older settled parts of Ontario and predicted that the day will come when the trees will blanket the many sections where the land is not suitable for agriculture.

Forestry Plantation

In 1909 40 years ago, he launched a forestry plantation at St. Williams on a sandy stretch of land not far from Simcoe. To-day the trees on the eight-acre tract stand 50 feet high and feed a sawmill which turns out timber for Department use.

At the dinner two Cabinet ministers praised E. J.'s service to the province. Hon. George Challies recalled when the guest of honor was the most popular student and a star athlete with the nickname "Fuzzy" at Woodstock Baptist College. Hon. H. R. Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, spoke of his invaluable contribution to the work of the Department.

Mr. Zavitz, replying after he was presented with a radio, said, "I was only a pessimist once in my life." That was when he doubted the value of a water-pump which a private company developed for use in fighting forest fires. He now looks on pumping equipment as a major factor in firefighting.

Once Deputy Minister of Lands and Forests, he now heads the Department's reforestation work. Just last year he was called to Bermuda for expert advice on tree planting work there.

Reforestation has always been the great love of this descendant of a Pennsylvania Dutch family who came to Canada as United Empire Loyalists in the War of 1812. Sometimes he recalls how in his earlier days he travelled by horse and buggy through some parts of Southern Ontario to convince farmers they should plant trees as windbreaks and to prevent erosion. "It required a great deal of talking, but then I could talk a great deal," he sometimes recalls.

Anxious To Know Security Costs

OTTAWA, Jan. 14 — (CP) — Cost to Canada in men, money and materials for participation in the North Atlantic Security Pact promises to be a keen subject for debate after parliament meets Jan. 26.

It is expected the Speech from the Throne will contain all the information the government is free to disclose on progress of negotiations at that time.

Prime Minister St. Laurent is known to be anxious to talk with President Truman on this and other topics of mutual interest. It is known also that the President would like to see the new prime minister, but the presidential inauguration next week and the preparations for parliament's opening here a week later will prevent a meeting for some time to come.

Both government leaders have the task of selling the North Atlantic Pact to their respective legislative bodies and are in the difficult position of not being able to disclose details in advance.

Canada's negotiations are being handled by Hume Wrong, ambassador in Washington, who is in constant touch with Mr. St. Laurent and External Affairs Minister Pearson.

ROSS-ON-WYE, Eng.—(CP)—Cigarets containing 100 per cent English grown tobacco have been produced by a London firm from the crop of a market gardener, Raymond Coombes. Coombes said the experiment had proved so satisfactory that a wholly English cigaret is to be produced commercially.

Gable Ready To Start Another Holiday

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 14 (AP)— No sooner does Clark Gable get back to work than he starts thinking about a vacation again.

"I work for a living," he admitted as he started work on "Any Number Can Play." "I hate to get up in the morning and hate to go to bed at night." Clark always has four months off between pictures and he said he'd like to spend his next vacation in Europe.

"I think I'll take my car over and stay four months. Pass up Deauville and just go through over the Pyrenees and then into Italy." As for being back at work, Clark admitted, "it's like a kid who has to go to school—though I'm not quite a kid."

Stars And Things.

Joan Caulfield is hunting for a house out here. After a fling at the stage, she has decided to pursue her film career in earnest. She passed up two good roles to tour in "Voice of the Turtle," but now her film jobs come first.

Bing Crosby will be spending most of his time at his new Carmel home until "Broadway Bill" starts in March. A co-star hasn't been selected yet for him, but it's reported he has decided whom he wants. Bing always selects his own leadinng ladies. Donna Reed, maybe?

William Powell is sleuthing again in "Take One False Step" and that's good news. His last two pictures weren't so good for him. Bill has to do only three films before 1952—one for U-I and two for MGM. What comes after that? "I guess I'll just pin a 'for rent' sign on myself."

Anne Jeffreys is heading back to Hollywood after her stage triumphs. She'll again pursue her film career.

Poor Eating Habits Of Indians Opens Way For Many Diseases

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, Jan. 14—(CP).—Canada's northern Indians have lost the art of eating. Not that they don't eat. They do, but not well. They have abandoned the native eating habits of their forefathers and adopted a semi-civilized, semi-native diet which lacks essential food values, brings them to malnutrition and leaves them prey to tuberculosis and a host of other diseases. The white man, who unintentionally is responsible for the Indian's changed eating habits, now is trying to salvage the red man by directing him towards proper food channels.

Dr. P. E. Moore, Director of Indian Health Services for the Federal Health Department, is heading a program which has two main objections: 1. Teaching the Indian what he should eat for an adequate diet; 2. Bringing wholesome foods containing protective components closer to his hand.

The program is directed mainly at the 50,000 Indians leading a nomad existence as hunters in Canada's Northern lands. It has little to do with the 80,000 reserve Indians who live near populated centres and have access to proper foods.

Dr. Moore explained the Indian's problem in one simple sentence: "The Indian used to hunt for food and now he hunts for fur," that he said, was the basic factor.

Interviewed in his Ottawa office, he explained how the old-time Indian obtained essential vitamins and minerals from the game and soil about him while the present-day Indian gets little food value no matter how much he feasts.

Catch his Own

The old-time Indian, he said, would catch a fish or kill an animal and eat it virtually whole, thus supplementing the red meat with a vitamin and mineral-rich diet.

The Indian of today, adopting white man's standards, eats only the red meat and discards the rest. To this he adds food purchased at the trading post with his furs—flour, sugar, lard, tea, which by themselves are lacking in many food essentials.

With the loss of his native eating habits, the Indian has lost, too, the physical stature of his forefather.

In addition, the Indian has acquired characteristics of shiftlessness, indolence, improvidence and inertia, now regarded as hereditary traits of his race, but actually the results of years of inadequate diet. He is weakned and less able to resist infection.

Dr. Moore said the department is trying to get the Indian to drink milk, either powdered or evaporated, to supply the calcium which his forefather obtained by boiling animal bones until they softened and then chewing them.

The Indian also is being urged to establish garden plots and grow fresh vegetables such as potatoes, turnips and carrots.

Dr. Moore said the department began its studies and the accompanying diet-improving program in 1940. Improvement already has been noted in the eating habits of the Indians and, as a consequence, in their general health.

One Major factor, he said, was family allowances. Northern Indians receive no cash for family allowances but rather are allowed a food credit at the trading post. Through the allowance scheme, they now obtain prepared baby foods, powdered or evaporated milk and other nutritious products for their children.

INDIAN MEDICINE MAN—Heading a program aimed at improving the health of Canada's Northern Indians is Dr. P. E. Moore, Director of Indian Health Department. He hopes Hesolth Department. He hopes to improve their health by teaching them what to eat for an adequate diet.

CENTRAL SCHOOL

Solo and duet selections by Murray and Ann Manders pleasingly entertained members of the Central Home and School Association at their meeting this week. Guest speaker was Miss Rachael Young of the Children's Aid Society, introduced by Miss P. Bennett of the teaching staff. Title of the thought-provoking address was "Am I a Citizen?" Miss Young said: "To be a good citizen one must have knowledge, action and a goal." She also stressed the fact that first lessons in good citizenship begin in the home.

We must concentrate on formation of character, try to attain a sense of proportion and have as one object in education the understanding of others."

Family council in which father, mother and children participate should be held in every home, he declared. "We should practice self-denial as well as self-expression."

MAN-SIZED STEAKS!

Of Interest to Women

Man Should Stay Friends With Family When Married

Dorothy Dix

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married for four months to a woman whom I love dearly, but she is so jealous of my family that it make me very unhappy. She will not allow me to visit them. When they come to see us, she shows them that they are so unwelcome that their self-respect prevents them from repeating the visit.

Is there anything to be done about this?—P.D.Q.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I think a man is very weak and foolish who lets his wife dominate him and cuts him off from his family. By giving in to her he may save a few tears and a little nagging at the start, but the love of power grows by what it feeds on in a woman. The more the husband lets her henpeck him, the more she will do it, until at last he will come to the place where his very soul isn't his own. And it will get him nothing in the long run but his wife's contempt, for every woman secretly despises the husband she can boss.

A man's love for his mother is something sacred. His love for his father is made up of respect and gratitude and admiration. His love for his brothers and sisters is just part of the warp and woof of his life. He cannot think of them without remembering kindnesses they have done for him, sacrifices they have made for him, help and encouragement they have given him, fights they have fought for him; and when a woman tries to tear this affection out of his heart she is attempting the impossible. She may deny him the expression of it, but it is always there.

Stiffen Backbone

My advice to you is to stiffen your backbone and have the courage to defy your wife and assert your right to maintain your family allegiance. If she had any gumption, she would know that if a woman wants her husband to hate her, she can take no surer way of achieving her purpose than by cold-shouldering his family out of the house.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a girl 22 years old. My father and mother are both dead. I am the sole support of my 18-year-old brother who is very talented as a singer. A wealthy man wants to marry me and says he will give my brother every advantage and see that he has the finest teachers. But the trouble is I do not love this man. I have been going with a poor boy for two years and it would break my heart to have to give him up to marry the rich man.

What is my duty in the matter?
—DORIS.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: In old-fashioned novels and melodramas it was held to be a noble and heroic thing for a young girl to sacrifice herself for some member of her family and marry some man she loathed. Fortunately, in these practical days we look at the matter from a saner standpoint and see nothing fine and altruistic in a girl wrecking three lives for the sake of some possible benefit to her family.

First, consider the wrong you will do yourself. Consider the violence that you will do to your principles when you sell yourself to a man for whom you care nothing. Consider the long, sodden years of misery you will have to live, dragging through a marriage that is nothing but an endurance test.

Then consider the young man who loves you, and whom you love, who will have his faith in women wrecked, his life embittered, his ambitions slowed down by your leaving him for a richer man.

Consider the rich man who has been so kind to you and who certainly deserves something better at your hands than just being turned into a cash register for you to punch for your brother. It is a poor return for his goodness to you to give him a cold and unloving wife who never can make him happy.

As for your little brother, why sacrifice three lives for one? Is it any more important that he should be happy and successful than that you and the two men should be? If he is a great genius, they way will be opened for him. If he is only mediocre, it isn't worth breaking your heart over.

Go on and marry the man you love and let your brother take his chances.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I was engaged to a young man who gave me a diamond ring. We broke up, but I have not returned his ring. Do you think I should?
—MARY T.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If you are an honest girl, you will return the ring to the young man. It was given to you on the understanding that you were to marry him; and when you broke off with him you lost all right to the ring, and every consideration of honor and honesty requires you to give it back.

Bare Minimum For Bathing

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP).—Beach queens in calico will cavort on the sands this summer, if Claire McCardell has her way.

Old-fashioned fabrics used in strictly new-fashioned ways are highlights of her resort collection, as of many others of the top designers.

The youthful, casual Claire McCardell makes her biggest news, as usual, with beach and play clothes. The author of the diaper swim suit of several years ago approaches the bare minimum this season with a bright green silk shantung bathing outfit consisting of pleated brief bloomers and a bra consisting merely of two discs held on by a narrow string.

Incongruously, Miss McCardell shows with her super-brief swim suits voluminous "Mother Hubbard" beach coats.

SHANE AND ROSE ALEXANDER, children of Viscount Alexander, Governor-General of Canada, and Lady Alexander, stand on the deck of the liner Noordam in New York before sailing for London where they are attending school. They visited their parents at Rideau Hall over the holidays.

Army Nurse Sent North

EDMONTON, Jan. 14—(CP)—A pretty brunette Ottawa girl is embarking on a new career as the second Canadian girl to join the army as a nurse since the Second World War.

She is Gloria Caldwell, who comes from a soldiering family and has been posted to Whitehorse, Y.T., deep in the Canadian northland. Miss Caldwell isn't sure just what prompted her to join the army but thinks perhaps it is the fact that her father is a major in the Royal Canadian Medical Corps and her brother is training at the Royal Canadian School of Military Engineering at Chilliwack, B.C.

The fact that her best friend, Lois Frood, also of Ottawa, was the first girl to join the army as a nurse since the end of the war may also have had some bearing on Miss Caldwell's choice.

Never very far north or west of Ottawa, Miss Caldwell thinks the idea of a sojourn in Whitehorse intriguing. She said she doesn't like snow or cold weather but like a good soldier thinks she will get used to them.

Willing To Travel

"I'm game for anything—I love travel and I'm willing to go anywhere," she said when she stopped off here en route to her new posting more than 1,000 miles northwest of Edmonton.

At Whitehorse, Miss Caldwell will have lots to keep her busy. There are seven other nurses and three doctors at the 50-bed hospital which looks after military personnel, government employees, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and emergency civilian cases.

At 23, Miss Caldwell has packed a lot of training into a short space of time. She graduated from the Oshawa, Ont., General Hospital in 1947 and took post graduate training at John Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore.

Specially trained in obstetrics and gynecolgy, Miss Caldwell's knowledge of these subjects will come in handy at Whitehorse where an average of 100 babies are born at the hospital each month.

LOST STITCHES COSTLY

OSLO—(CP) — A shortage of sewing machines in Norway is costing the country $4,000,000 yearly. During the war 10,000 sewing machines were destroyed and it is estimated that a sewing machine saves $40 on the family budget. The present shortage of 100,000 machines makes it a costly problem.

Britain, France Growing Closer Together

BY JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARIS, Jan. 14 (AP)—France and Britain are growing closer together in a wide range of fields —political, military, economic and cultural.

So reported the British Embassy here in a survey of Anglo-Francoco-operation made just prior to Foreign Minister Robert Schuman's official visit to London this week.

France is making nets to harvest the Brussels sprouts so dear to an Englishman's menu, and is refining oil in the surplus French refining capacity for British trucks and cars. Britain is training French aviators and building new merchant ships for the war-devastated French high seas fleet.

The present phase of Anglo-Franco co-operation dates from the treaty of Dunkerque signed by Foreign Secretary Bevin and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault March 4, 1947, amid the ruins of the war-blasted port. This policy has been continued and extended by Schuman, Bidault's successor.

Army Trading

British and French non- commissioned officers and enlisted men are being traded into each other's army to show the down-to-earth soldiers how things are done on the other side of the channel.

British training teams instructed French infantry divisions enroute to Indo-China on handling airborne equipment furnished by Britain. Britain already had furnished basic equipment for three infantry divisions bound for Indo-China, more than 1,000 planes to the French Air Force and had loaned a 14,000-ton carrier to the French Navy.

Military aviation agreements now permit planes of either country to fly over the other's territory at will, and allow them to use landing facilities on British or French military and civilian fields. France and Britain have set up a standing joint committee to co-ordinate their respective civil aviation.

The respective labor minister have encouraged the exhange of "student-employees" to work in British or French factories, offices or farms to learn each other methods and language.

Along with this the two countries have adopted a reciprocal system for social security payments whereby a worker from one country who holds a job in the other contributes to the Social Security System of the country where he is working but may draw benefits in either.

Keeps In With Union

REGINA, Jan. 14 (CP)—Labor Minister C. C. Williams was a telegrapher before taking his government post in 1944. He was given leave of absence by the order of Railroad Telegraphers (AFL) but, he said Thursday in a statement, "some difficulty has been experienced" getting the leave extended. So, to protect his seniority rights, he leaves his cabinet duties for a short period daily to go back to pounding the brass.

Kiwanis Club Studies Nature

"Plants are as intelligent as humans who manufactured atomic bombs, " said Ernie McWilliams when he addressed his fellow Kiwanians at their luncheon on Thursday on the subject of Insects, Animals and Plants.

"Humans cannot duplicate the manufacturing qualities of plants he said. Nearly all their food comes from the energies of the sun and although they lack the human senses, they are more finely developed in some ways."

"Trees seem to know when winter is coming. The food substances from the soil are prevented from entering the tree and sap combines with a sugar solution which will not freeze at the ordinary freezing temperature" Mr. McWilliams explained.

"In the insect world plant lice are quite common," Mr. McWilliam said. The lice suck the juices out of the plants. These juices turn into sugar, and ants, having a close association with lice, take manufactured sugar from them."

There were three classes of bees which come under the group called the honey bee. They were the queen bee, drones and worker bee. The drones just lie around the hive and are waited on by the worker bees. But when autumn comes they are killed by the workers or put out of the hive without their wings to die. The queen lays the eggs and the workers find the nectar and bring it back to the hive. They also feed the queen and look after the eggs.

"A backward animal is the Echidna, which is similar to the duck. It lives on ants and has no fur but quills. The front paws are turned in while the back paws are backward. The claws on this animal are long and strong. If on soft ground this animal can dig faster than a human being. It has a body temperature of 78 degrees."

'If we are more observant of what we see every day and try to learn about every animal, plant and insect we see, our lives will be more interesting and more profitable," Mr. McWilliams declared.

Gordon Hancock introduced Mr. McWilliams who was thanked by B. Myers.

A short singsong was conducted by M. Knox and S. Northrop.

Can Order Tea In U.S. Restaurants But Results Not Guaranteed

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14—(CP).—Tea is on most Washington restaurant menus. But anything can happen when you ask for it. "Tea?" a wide-eyed waitress may ask. "Do you really mean that?" Hardened coffee-drinkers at the next table may pause and stare in blunt disbelief. And what you finally get will probably be a far cry from the old-fashioned brew you knew and loved so well back 'ome.

Chances are the gal will come back with a cup of water — not necessarily boiling; not necessarily even hot; maybe only extra lukewarm—and a teabag.

Depending on the restaurant and the waitress, the teabag may be in the water or in the saucer.

This sad state of affairs has led to a survey. United States tea merchandisers report that their products has dropped so in popularity — and no wonder!—that an all-out education campaign must be undertaken. They put most of the blame on the restaurants.

There's a suggestion, though, that Americans need more than just a renewed realization of the glories of tea.

The merchants, say the Washington Star, for instance, "could do worse than try selling all of us the idea of recapturing a little of the grace and good manners that our society used to have but now has somehow lost."

The Star looks at it this way: to say merely that tea isn't popular any more and that restaurants are to blame is "oversimplifying" the situation.

"It ignores the fact that within the past few decades life has been growing steadily less gracious and afternoon tea-drinking—the epitome of graciousness — accordingly has fallen upon evil days.

"Like candy, it may be dandy for breaking the ice, but liquor is quicker, and so our society—generally speaking—has replaced it with the cocktail party."

Fisher Condemns Arrest Of Cardinal

LONDON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, Thursday condemned the arrest by the Communists in Hungary of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty and Bishop Lajos Ordas, Lutheran Bishop of Budapest.

He charged that Communism is using "insidious means" to frustrate activities of the church.

Addressing Church of England clergymen attending the annual convocation of Canterbury, the Archbishop said the arrests "gravely affected both the Protestant and Roman Catholic churches on the continent."

The arrests, he said, "grievously increase our sense of the dangers to which the western churches are exposed in a large part of eastern Europe."

Cardinal Mindszenty was arrested in December on charges of high treason and alleged breaches of the currency laws. Bishop Ordas was sentenced in October to two years imprisonment for alleged offences against the currency laws.

"We are witnessing a deadly struggle between the Christian faith and the Christian church on the one side, and on the other a Communism which will not tolerate any form of the Christian church unless it be subservient to itself," said Dr. Fisher.

100 Dead As Race Riots Of Natives And Indians Flare Again In S. Africa

Armed Police And Troops Try To Quell Violence In Durban, As 1,000 Injured; Residential Areas Burned, Stores Looted

DURBAN, South Africa, Jan. 15—(CP).—Rioting broke out again today between Indians and African natives in Durban and authorities officially estimated at least 100 persons have been killed and 1,000 injured during the three days of fighting. An earlier estimate from Johannesburg placed the dead at 300 but police here said this figure was too high.

Territorials of the Royal Durban Light Infantry were ordered to report to their headquarters at once with arms and one day's ration. Members of the Durban section of the Natal Mounted Rifles, another territorial unit, were ordered to report tomorrow.

More than 200 extra police, armed with machine-guns, are being flown into Durban, a city of about 470,000 population.

The riots flared anew today after a night of uneasy calm.

The disorders, worst in the city's history, have caused damage estimated at $1,000,000.

A thunderstorm on Friday night stilled the frenzied crowds for a while but fighting broke out again after it cleared.

Quiet was restored about 3 a.m. The fighting was between native Africans and Indians. One European was killed and another badly injured as a result of the two-day riot. It was the first time South African military units have been called to quell racial violence.

The Indians involved, a minority group in South Africa, are immigrants and the descendants of immigrants from India.

The injured totalled more than 300 and hundreds of others are destitute and homeless. Whole streets of Indian houses and stores have been burned down or looted.

The rioting broke out Thursday, when a young native boy was injured by an Indian market peddler. He was taken to a hospital and reports spread that he had been killed.

Homes Burned

The incident snowballed into wholesale native attacks on the Indians. Whole families were slain in their homes. Entire residential areas were put to the torch. Indian homes and stores were looted by native rioters, chanting Zulu battle cries.

Durban's population includes 110,000 Indian immigrants and descendents of immigrants from the Asian sub-continent. The white population is 120,000 and the native about twice that. The white population of South Africa totals 2,400,000 compared with 8,000,000 blacks and 265,500 Indians.

Natives cannot vote in parliamentary elections. The Indians have about the same status as the natives.

Communists Seize Key City Of North China

SHANGHAI, Jan. 15 —(AP)— The great commercial city of Tientsin, battered by Communist shells and afire in several places, fell to Chinese Communists today in what may be the crowning blow to Chiang Kai-Shek.

Victorious troops of Gen. Lin Piano, conqueror of Manchuria, seized the burning city after a fierce artillery barrage that devastated old landmarks and many buildings.

Radio reports from the "gateway to North China" described the city of 3,000,000 as one of death and desolation.

Many civilians were killed. Hospitals were jammed with wounded.

Robert Smyth, United States consul-general, radioed that all of his staff was safe.

Down broad Victoria Road, which winds through the heart of the former British concession, the Red conquerors marched, stopping in front of the United States consulate to fire their rifles into the air.

Before the United States information service office in the former French concession, a few blocks away, they stopped and fired their rifles into the air again as Americans watched from the roof of the building.

Confirmation of Tientsin's fall came in messages received in Nanking, where the bow to the Nationalist cause is certain to have terrific repercussions.

Unions Tangle In Mine Fields

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—(CP). — Union jurisdictional storms today appeared to be brewing in the snowswept Northern Ontario gold fields around Timmins and in the most southerly International Nickle plant at Port Colborne.

Labor quarters say the Canadian Congress of Labor—currently tackling a job of organizational house-cleaning — is prepared to back up its campaign to drive the International Union of Mine and Smelter Workers (CIO) from these labor weak points with direct action.

The Congress maintains that in both the Timmins and Port Colborne areas union membership has dropped because of unhealthy union organization and weak leadership.

Recommend Dismissal Of Two Detectives

QUEBEC, Jan. 15.—(CP) — The Quebec morality squad was headed for complete re-organization today as a result of Recorder Emile Morin's 14-page report on a morality probe that recommended two dismissals from the squad.

The probe opened after a 42-year-old keeper of a bawdy house charged in court that morality squad detectives visited her place for pleasure as well as in performance of their duties.

In his report submitted to the city council the recorder found that two detectives had been "guilty of imprudence, errors and faults which make them unfit for their duties."

SOCIAL STUDIES ARE FUN at the Confederation School where Grade 7 students wrote, produced and enacted the pageant of Peterborough in their classroom on Friday. They designed costumes and mural backdrops, as well. The most impressive scene was of a typical social evening in Peter's Borough during the 1830's, shown above. Square dancers depicted celebrities of that day and are, Front Row couples, Marlene Constable, Ray Holland, Shirley Vaughan and Scott Pearton (Adam Scott). Back Row, Joan Walling, Raymond Brooks (fur trader Herkimer), Shirley Linsey and Don McIntosh (Hon. Peter Robinson). Assistant principal Arnold Olmstead provided dance music with a harmonica.

No U.S. Help To 'Neutrals' In Cold War

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP) —The United States Friday gave notice that countries remaining neutral in the cold war will get no American arms or defense supplies.

Michael McDermott, State Department press officer, told about this new policy shortly after the department charged Russian obstruction has seriously hampered activities of the United Nations.

McDermott told a press conference at U.S. Government has not enough arms to supply countries which are unwilling to associate themselves in collective defense arrangements with the U.S.

Government officials said McDermott's remarks were intended to "correct" Swedish press reports claiming that Sweden could get American military help even if she refused to enter into the North Atlantic alliance now being actively planned.

Meanwhile, the State Department struck out anew at Russia in a statement accusing Moscow of "gravely endangering the peace" with the blockade of Berlin.

The department's view was made public in a foreign policy outline distributed at a human rights meeting of 250 private groups and government agencies.

"Instead of the great power teamwork so devoutly sought by the people of the world, the obstruction of one country and its willing or unwilling associates has seriously hampered the activities of the United Nations," it said.

Federal Budget Surplus More Than $600 Million

OTTAWA, Jan. 15—(CP). — The Federal Government's budgetary surplus is continuing to climb by leaps and bounds, but Finance Minister Abbott warns that it may be cut considerably by expenditures recorded at the very end of the fiscal year.

Mr. Abbott announced Friday night that the surplus shot up another $49,942,376 during December to bring the surplus for the first nine months of the fiscal year to $609,949,698. In the corresponding period of the 1947-48 year the surplus amounted to $646,195,606 and the year was ended with a surplus of $670,000,000.

The Government has advanced $275,000,000 out of the cash surplus to the Foreign Exchange Control Board to finance increases in Canada's exchange reserves. It has also advanced another $140,000,000 in cash to cover requirements for loans to farmers, veterans, the Canadian National Railways, housing and export credits.

Bulk of the revenue in the period came from the following sources, with the 1947-48 figures in brackets:

Customs import dtuies, $159,077,312 ($227,807,639); excise duties, $160,905,520 ($150,688,646); excise taxes, $455,063,903 ($453,755,402); income and excess profits taxes, $995,213,818 ($992,515,857); and postal revenue $56,989,406 ($55,687,182).

Largest item on the expenditure side was the payment of interest on the public debt. It amounted to $304,645,907 compared with $310,401,727 in the 1947-48 period.

Family allowance payments were up from $196,756,548 to $202,408,967 and defence expenditures increased from $115,977,941 to $156,283,618. Veterans affairs expenditures were lower at $197,149,153 against $244,513,790.

Train Kills Woman

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 15—(CP). —Coral Watson, 50, was killed on Friday night when hit by a freight train while walking on railway tracks near Shannonville, nine miles east of here, police said. Miss Watson, whose home is at Bloomfield, 18 miles south of here, was spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. Audrey Robertson, Shannonville. An inquest will be held.

Tourists Aplenty

OTTAWA, Jan. 15 — (CP). — Tourist traffic from the United States hit a new high in 1948, the Bureau of Statistics reported on Friday. A total of 1,824,000 cars entered Canada on travellers' vehicle permits during the year compared with 1,663,853 in 1947, the previous high year.

Palestine Crisis Will Be Test Of Bevin's Policy

LOINDON, Jan. 15 — (AP). — Ernest Bevin faces one of the biggest tests of his career as the Foreign Secretary over the developing Palestine crisis.

Some members of his own Labor Party and the Conservative Opposition led by Winston Churchill will assail his handling of the Holy Land situation soon after the House of Commons reassembles next week.

Many Labor members said privately to-day that they intend to call for quick British recognition of Israel so that the Conservatives will not be able to use the issue in the 1950 general election campaign.

British newspapers, ranging from extreme right to extreme left, have accused Bevin of fouling up British-American relations by his attitude toward Israel.

One Conservative legislator said Churchill intends personally to lead his party's attack on Bevin and probably will call for a debate on the issue as soon as the House meets Tuesday.

Leaders of the Conservative, Liberal and Communist Parties have come out flatly for British recognition of the young Jewish state. Dissatisfaction in Parliament over aspects of Britain's Middle East policies was brought to a head last Friday when five low-flying RAF reconnaissance planes were shot down near the Palestine-Egyptian border.

Speculation that the Palestine issue might compel Bevin to resign is not borne out by informed officials in touch with members of the Cabinet. They say Bevin has the backing of a powerful group of ministers including Prime Minister Attlee. However, Prime Minister Attlee. However, there are persistent reports in British papers that the Cabinet is divided in its attitude toward Bevin.

POLICE ARE SEARCHING for the mother of this little girl, who was left with a stranger in a Toronto bus terminal Wednesday. A woman approached Mrs. Lillian Collier and asked if she would care for the baby until Thursday. She said she was from Kingston. On Friday, the child was placed in the Children's Aid.

Body Found Half-Hour After Tragedy

W. K. Goheen Victim Fatality In YMCA Pool Coroner Calls Inquest

The body of Winston K. Goheen 19, of Water St. was discovered shortly before 9.30 p.m. on Friday in the YMCA swimming pool. It is the first drowning in the pool since it was built more than 20 years ago.

Goheen, a popular student at the Normal School, had apparently entered the pool alone and plunged into the water.

Large signs painted on the south wall of the swimming pool bear the cautionary words: "Danger. Do Not Swim Alone."

Ralph Goodfellow, 20, of 466 Bonaccord St. was the first to see the youth who was lying on the floor of the pool, directly over the drain pipe, in more than seven feet of water.

"I came from the showers just ahead of my two friends at about 9.25 p.m." said Goodfellow. "There wasn't a ripple on the water and I thought nobody was there. I was just about to dive into the water when I noticed him lying on the floor of the tank, face upwards."

Goodfellow shouted to his chums, Jack and Bill Wakeford, of 95 Lansdowne St. and Jack helped him pull the body out of the water while Bill went for help.

Attempt Fail

Artificial respiration was commenced immediately at the side of the pool and a few minutes later an inhalator crew from the Fire Department arrived. They worked on Goheen for about 30 minutes but to no avail, and he was declared dead by Dr. C. F. Cahill at 10.03 p.m.

It is not known how long the youth was in the water, but other YMCA members who were using the showers adjacent the pool say they saw nobody leave or enter from 9 p.m. on. It is estimated that he was in the water at least half an hour.

As he had not resided in Peterborough long he is known by sight to only a few of those who frequent the Y; none of those present when the body was discovered knew his name. It was learned from friends that he had started to learn to swim at the pool since his arrival at the Normal School in September.

It was not until an hour and a half later that he was identified. He carried no papers in his clothing which would give a clue to his identity, and his name was only discovered when the initials W.S.G. were found on one of his handkerchiefs.

A check through the list of swimmers who had registered at the desk in the evening revealed the name that tallied with the initials.

Wheat Price Set?

OTTAWA, Jan. 15—(CP). —Early announcement on the 1949-50 Anglo-Canadian wheat price was awaited today. Unofficial quarters speculated that the negotiations on the price itself have been concluded and that the British and Canadian governments now are discussing the timing of the official announcement from London and Ottawa. There was a possibility, though not officially confirmed, that the announcement may come today or sometime this week-end. The price will cover the sale to Britain of 140,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat and wheat flour in the 1949-50 crop year under terms of the four-year wheat agreement between the two countries.

Gang Violence Flares Again, Arrest 8 Youths

TORONTO, Jan. 15 (CP)—In the third outbreak of youth-gang violence within a week, eight youths were arrested early today and charged with assaulting a Toronto streetcar conductor.

The conductor, William Genno, said that the eight youths, accompanied by two juveniles, tussled with him at the north end of his Yonge Street carline. One of the group had previously struck Genno after he told the gang to stop making a noise in the streetcar.

Police later arrested John Clendening, 18; Joe Riley, 17; George Pimm, 16; Edward Martin, 16; Don Ferrier, 16; Marshall Wood, 16; Thomas Brown, 18 and Robert Duncan, 16. The two juveniles, also charged with assault, were sent to the detention home.

Police said the gang had attended a dance in uptown Toronto and boarded the car to attend a house party at the city's northern limits.

Armistice Talks Discuss Jewish Gains

RHODES, Jan. 15 (AP)—Jewish military gains of the last three months neared the bargaining in the Israeli-Egyptian armistice talks today.

Point No. 2 of the agenda calls for implementation of the United Nations Security Council's resolution of Nov. 4 and Nov. 16, which ordered both Jews and Arabs to withdraw to positions held Oct. 14 and to negotiate for peace.

The withdrawal order to the Egyptians actually was just a gesture. Jewish troops had driven them back, mile after mile, since launching their Oct. 15 offensive, and were hammering at Egyptian border positions when cease-fire orders came last week.

Truman Says Seaway Plan Will Not Be 'Sabotaged'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP) —President Truman today told Senator Alexander Wiley (Rep. Wis.) he will make "every effort possible" to prevent "sabotage" of the St. Lawrence Seaway project within his administration.

Wiley, making public an exchange of letters between himself and Truman, asserted that groups within the Truman administration "have time and again utilized all sorts of devious means to try to delay and torpedo" seaway bills.

He said that he and other Senate proponents of the Canadian-American seaway were "deeply disturbed" by tactics which have been adopted by "some groups, particularly in the Department of National Defence."

"For the good of the nation," Wiley said, "these individuals, particularly in the defence department, should be made to know in no uncertain terms of what I am sure will be your vigorous disapproval of their tactics."

Mr. Truman replied:

"I shall make every effort possible to prevent any part of the administration over which I have control, from sabotaging the St. Lawrence Seaway project.

"I have adways been for it and I shall continue to do everything in my power to get it over."

Wiley told the President that the principal reasons for opposition within the Defence Department "seem" to be:

1. Opposition to tolls on waterways (for fear that if tolls are placed on the Great Lakes Waterway they will be placed on all inland waterways), and:

2. Fear that the $800,000,000 (combined) Seaway and Power project will compete with funds for other defence purposes.

Wiley said that "obviously" tolls on an international waterway set no adverse precedent for procedure on inland waterways.

"And," he added, "an appropriation of $800,000,000 for a self-liquidating project such as this is, is a comparative drop in the bucket over a six-year period and will hardly compete with defence needs because, by its very nature, the project will pay for itself."

French Reds Disavow Atom Leader

Paris Paper Reports Communist Party Ousts Joliot-Curie

PARIS, Jan. 15. (AP)—Frederic Joliot-Curie, chief of the French Atomic Energy project, has been disavowed by the Communist party, the newspaper France-Soir declared today. Joliot-Curie is a party member.

Both Communist headquarters and Joliot-Curie's own office refused to deny or confirm the report. The paper's editor in charge of the story, however, said: "The story will stand up."

Joliot-Curie told the Anglo-American Press Association Jan. 5 that he would leave the party if it ordered him to give secret information to a foreign country.

"If the Communist party did that," he replied to a question, "it would no longer be my party."

France, Britain In Agreement

LONDON, Jan. 15 — (AP). — Foreign Secretary Bevin said today Britain and France have reached an agreement providing hope for the world. He had conferred here for two days with Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France.

"We achieved a great agreement which augurs well not only for France and Britain, but for Europe and the world," Bevin told reporters after saying farewell to Schuman at Victoria Station.

There was no announcement of the specific details of the agreement.

Abbott Foresees Great Expansion

NEW YORK, Jan 15—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said today that Canada, by discovering "vast supplies of important raw materials," was on the threshold of "a further tremendous expansion of production and economic power."

This economic power, he said in a speech at the annual luncheon of the Canadian Women's Club of New York, would lead "to a strengthening of our trading position with the United States."

The "important" discoveries were iron ore in northern Quebec and Labrador, uranium in the northwest, oil in Alberta and titaniferous ore in Quebec.

Release Of Trapped Egyptians Asked

RHODES, Jan. 15 (AP)—Egyptians began negotiations today for the release of an estimated 3,000 Egyptian troops trapped by Israeli forces at Faluja, in Palestine's Negev desert.

This was the second major item on the agenda for armistice negotiations aimed at ending Israeli-Egyptian warfare and bringing full peace to the Holy Land.

Both sides agreed Friday, in conferences under the eye of Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the United Nations acting Palestine mediator, to halt all offensive military operations during the period of the talks to respect each other's national security.

Bag Two Wolves

150 hunters took part in the first wave of the combined fox and wolf hunt this morning, and by 10.30 when the first rest period was arranged, two wolves had been bagged. No foxes were taken but as they moved into the second lap, Campbell Rowatt president of the Peterborough Fish and Game Association said it looked like better fox country and they hoped to knock off some of the predators before winding up the hunt late this afternoon.

Carl Brisson Scolds Young Crooners

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan 15 (AP)—Carl Brisson, the world's most glamorous grandfather, has sharp words for the younger crooners of today:

"There are terrible. They show no style at all. They all hug a microphone and try to sing like Bing Crosby."

No mike-hugging Crosbyite, Brisson works hard for his applause. He travels all over the floor and acts out his songs with a continental charm. After the show I found him resting in his room from the workout.

Grampa Carl

Carl's son Freddie and Rosalind Russell have a four-year-old boy and I hinted that Carl was doing for grandfathers what Marlene Dietrich is doing for grandmas.

"What difference does it make if I am a grandfather?" He asked. "I'll admit it—I am 50 years old this year. That doesn't worry me. Who else can do the job I am doing?"

By his own admission, Carl is the king of the Supper Club entertainers. He has but five weeks off in seven years and he doesn't mind saloon singing at all.

"I have a hotel suite and I live like a king. I go down in the elevator two times a night, sing some songs and get lots of applause. How else could I earn $3,500 a week so easily?"

Way Back When

Movie fans will remember Carl form his Paramount films in the early '30s. Why did he quit pictures? "Let's face it—they quit me," he said frankly.

But he may be back in the movies soon. Son Freddie plans to film the life story of his famous father. It would make a fabulous story since Carl has done everything form winning boxing championship to playing before such varied persons as the King of England and Rasputin.

Council Discusses Buying Bulldozer

WINDSOR, Jan. 15 —(CP)— Thomas (Tommy) Andrews, 26-year-old Oneida Indian from the Muncey Reserve near London, Thursday was convicted of manslaughter in the death of Ernest Wilbert Antone.

Crown Attorney E. C. Awrey asked that the sentence be put over until the end of criminal work at the assizes. Jan. 21 was fixed as a tentative date for sentencing.

The 28-year-old Antone, a cousin of Andrew, died at Leamington, Sept. 25, as a result of injuries suffered in a fight which followed on the heels of a drinking party. Antone had been arrested for being drunk the day previous.

The altercation took place outside a group of bunkhouses maintained by the H. J. Heinz company as temporary housing for rush-season employees in the canning industry.

Mr. Justice J. Keiller MacKay, in charging the jury, said that the evidence did not reveal all the requirements "necessary in law to convict on a charge of murder." In his address to the jury, Crown Attorney Awrey hinted that evidence called for a manslaughter conviction.

Labor's Only Daily To Become Weekly

GLACE BAY, N.S., Jan. 15 — (CP)—The last daily issue of the Glace Bay Gazette, the Dominion's only Labor daily newspaper, rolled off tired presses here today.

In an announcement Friday night, Editor Stephen McCormack said the 48-year-old daily would cease publication today. It will continue as a weekly, however.

Mr. McCormack said increasing costs and worn-out machinery that could not be replaced except at heavy expense had made further daily publication impossible.

The Gazette was primarily a paper for Cape Breton's hardy coal miners. For them, loss of their daily was the last act in a seven-year tragedy of newspaper publication.

Air Lift Operation Now Six Months Old

BERLIN, Jan. 15—(Reuters).—As the Anglo-American air lift, now more than six months old, goes on into 1949, the predominant thought here is "how much longer will it go on?"

Since its birth June 26, 1948, when a handful of aircraft began to bring in food and fuel for 2,500,000 west-sector Berliners, the air lift has grown into one of the greatest aerial supply operations in history.

In the teeth of those who said that it could not be done, a combined British and American air armada has in the last half year flown in 700,172 tons of supplies in 96,640 flights.

Body Found

Leo Copp, principal of the Normal School, was called by phone and he officially identified the body which by this time had been taken to the Kaye Funeral Home.

The inhalator crew consisting of Captain Frank Shearer and Firemen Don Bartley and E. Close arrived shortly after they were called but it was too late. When Goheen failed to show any response to this treatment after half an hour he was pronounced dead.

Inquest Called

Coroner Dr. Herbert Young said that both a post mortem and an inquest will be held.

Goheen is the son of R. W. Goheen, principal of Newcastle High School. His brother Vernon, now teaching school in Port Granby graduated from Peterborough Normal School two years ago.

The family in Newcastle were informed of the tragedy shortly before midnight.

P. C. Gordon Trennum investigated.

Try New Method Of Outlawing Moths On Cloth

BY LESLIE HAYNES

BRADFORD, Yorkshire, Eng., Jan. 15 — (Reuters)—A saving of £5,000,000 ($20,000,000) a year to British housewives and an increase in the export of woollen goods from the wool manufacturing area of Yorkshire will result from successful experiments carried out by scientists to "outlaw" the common clothes moth.

Experts associated with industries allied to the clothing trade—the wool manufacturers themselves, dyers, cleaners and laundries— have for years been working on plans to prevent the destruction of clothing, especially woollen goods, by moths.

A year ago, Harold Wilson, president of the board of trade, announced the formation of an official committee to collate all known scientific knowledge dealing with moth-damage preventives. This commitee is expected to present its report to Parliament shortly.

In Yorkshire, it has drawn on the results of experiments carried out by a team of scientists attached to the Wool Industries Research Association. Using a 20-roomed house at Headingly, near Leeds, as their laboratory, these scientists have for months watched 10,000 moths at work.

Healthy Appetites

One of their discoveries is that in 12 months the family of one moth can eat 92 pounds of wool.

They have also studied the effect of hundreds of moths on ordinary material compared with their effect on material which has been soaked in chemicals claimed to make the material moth-proof.

From these tests, they believe that they have now discovered the perfect moth-proof solution.

Because of technical difficulties, however, it is likely to be many months before materials so treated is generally available to the public.

Holiday Empire Extended By Butlin To West Indies

BY R. D. BROWN

LONDON, Jan. —(Reuters)—"Billy" Butlin, Britain's 46-year-old holiday camp and entertainment king, has returned home with the deeds of a new Butlin empire overseas.

He told me recently of his plans to develop three big West Indian enterprises in which he is sinking over £2,000,000 ($8,000,000). Dollars from this embridge its dollar gap and adding the earnings which have made millionaires.

Butlin, South African-born, went to Canada with his parents when he was 14 years old. He enlisted in the Canadian Army at 15 and worked for a Toronto department store after the First World War. In 1921 he came to Britain and began his career in the entertainment field as a carnival barker.

In his West End office Billy Butlin—short, round-faced, half hidden behind a giant desk—does not seem to measure up to some of Britain's pioneers of the past. This impression soon disappears when he begins to talk.

He speaks quietly and precisely and everything he says is the product of a keen mind. He sticks to facts and rarely digresses.

These are among the qualities which have brought him success and made him almost a legend in Britain. He has gathered round him a talented team of executives and an organization with wide ramifications and big resources. With these ingredients, Billy Butlin is confident of his ability to turn his West Indian concerns into money makers.

The first is already open—the super-luxury Port Montague Beach Hotel at Nassau, Bahamas. "It is fully booked up for about three months and about 90 per cent of the visitors will be spending dollars," Butlin said. The hotel, 50 acres of lawns, lakes and tropical flora cost him $2,400,000.

Dollars For Britain

A second hotel, the Princess, in Bermuda, will open next month. This includes a "cottage colony" of private suites in separate buildings. Butlin paid $2,000,000 for it and anticipates that it will prove a big dollar-earner.

The third new enterprise, and the most spectacular, is the "Vacation Village" now being built on a mile-wide coral island at 3,000 acres and took an option on another 20,000; He sent out 30 British workers to lead a team mobilized from among the 700 local inhabitants who have hitherto had the island to themselves.

When completed the village will accommodate 2,000 holiday-makers. Butlin has set Jan. 1, 1950, as the opening date. Then he plans to fly in the first of the United States and Canadian visitors who, he hopes, will provide Britain with another $1-000,000 a month.

"I estimate that 75 per cent of those holidaying at Grand Bahama will be Americans and the other 25 per cent Canadians," Butlin said. They will each pay $100 a week and, with the amount they spend in the shops, I expect monthly earnings to reach about $1,000,000.

"All the money we are spending on these projects is in sterling and almost all the earnings will be in dollars, so they should play a valuable part in British recovery.

Find Germans Uniting Against Allied Orders

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (CP). — The New York Times said to-day in a Frankfurt dispatch that there are "concrete indications" the Western Allies are approaching "one of the most critical periods" in attempts to create a West German government

The Times quoted "authoritative reports" that the German politicians "are uniting to present a common front of opposition to any severe occupation statute while the Western Allies are threatened with further delays in their attempt to complete the statute itself.

France, said the dispatch, has demanded that discussions of the proposed trizonal military government organization and the principles of the Western German constitution be included in the meeting in London next week on disputed points of the occupation statute.

Fears had been expressed by a Western Allied official that should the French succeed in broadening the agenda of the meeting it would mean a serious delay in the project of a West German government.

the earliest and loveliest of the Cathedral," will be equipped with a simple marble altar, and behind it, beneath the Norman, stained-glass window, will be inset three concave plaques illustrating the Crucifixion, the Martyrdom of St. Stephen on the left and St. Stephen as Saint on the right.

The south transept, in whose St. John chapel Archbishop Temple's memorial is planned, suffered severely from blast damage during the war. The reconstructed chapels of St. John and St. Gregory, plus the "mission motif" of the transept, are integral parts of its projected restoration.

Focal point of the missionary theme will be a four-sided lectern in the middle of the transept. Its cupboards below will have copies of the Bible and the church's Liturgy in most of the languages in which they are printed.

Every day of the year four Bibles will be open upon it, symbolic of the "Ministry of the Word." Surmounting the lectern will be a crucifix-topped globe, indicating the position from Canterbury of "every branch of the Anglican Church throughout the world."

CGE And Neills Take Wins

CGE defeated Normals 25-9 and Neill's were victorious over Nurses by a 20-11 count over the week-end in Girls' Basketball League contests in the YWCA gym. Plenty of action was dished up in both fixtures with the losers in each case failing to cash in on scoring chances on free throws.

The Electrics turned it on in the first half of their game to build up a 17- lead as they dominated play completely. The Normals rallied somewhat the second half and were only outscored 8-7. I. Stewart led the winners with eight points, as M. Kennedy was right on her heels with seven, Marg Batley having four and Marg. Perrin three. M. Bayne led the losers with three points. The teams:

Second Game

It was plenty close in the first half of the second game with Neill's only having a 9-6 margin at the rest period. But they came on strong the last chapter to hold an 11-5 scoring edge in a good game. Nurses clicked on but three of 17 free throws. D. Callan and J. Vass topped the victors in sniping with eight points apiece. A. Bowler led the losers with four points and M. Collins had three. The teams:

In the only export business reported, the United Kingdom was allocated 240,000 bushels of wheat under the Canadian agreement.

Half Of Budget Costs Will Be For Defences

OTTAWA, Jan. 15 — (CP) — The costs of war, past and potential, will make up at least half of the next federal budget, it was indicated today.

Covering the care and rehabilitation of men who fought in the first two world wars, estimates of the veterans department will run to roughly $300,000,000, although they will be down between $70,000,000 and $80,000,000 from this fiscal year.

Defence costs will be up compared to this year's total which amounts to $650,000,000 all told.

Interest charges on the national debt amount to more than $420,000,000 this fiscal year and finance officials say a least three-quarters of the total goes to pay off war costs. Since the debt has not gone down markedly in the last year, those charges should be of roughly the same order.

Those three alone, therefore, run to something in the order of $1,000,000,000 or more—or roughly half the current budget of more than $2,000,000,000 — and added to them will be various tail-end war costs scattered through other departments.

Further, if Finance Minister Abbott does bring in a budget which soars beyond that for this year, it will probably be defence or allied costs that cause the bulk of the increase.

The drop in veterans costs reflects a trend established during the last few years. They were $749,000,000 in 1946-47, $455,764,000 in 1947-48 and $374,000,000 this year.

Canadian Physicist Spends Time Listening To The Sun

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Jan. 15—(CP).—Meet Arthur Edwin Covington, the only one among 13,000,000 Canadians who bosses a project devoted to listening to the sun. The work of the 35-year-old physicist from Vancouver and the few National Research Council employees who share it is the human reflection of another phase of the swashbuckling career of radar.

They use radar receivers to keep tab on the emission of radio-frequency energy or what scientists also call noise from the sun.

For the last three years, Mr. Covington has been compiling graphs, long sheets of paper bearing jagged rising and falling lines to chart the behavior of these noise patterns which come sporadically and average 10 minutes in length.

Celestial Activities

His tiny group, working at two stations near Ottawa, is doing Canada's share of a study that also is proceeding in the United States, Britian and other countries. It dates from the wartime period when bewildered radar operators in Britain began picking up strange celestial activities on their screens.

The receiving equipment perches atop a building and consists of revolving antannae constantly pointing toward the sun and a small radar receiver, a dector wich converts the noises into current which drives the recording meter which makes the jagged lines on the graph.

Secret Work

It also is possible to listen to the noises with the ear, but the scientists don't bother. They make a hissing sound and somethings can be picked up on the average shortwave radio.

Mr. Covington says investigations so far have indicated a relationship between the noise and sun spots and he blames them for some fadeouts on the average radio. The investigations have also come up with some other noises from the beyond that can't be traced yet to the sun or anything else.

Town Hall Decoration Fund Well Supported

MARMORA, Jan. 15 (ENS) — At the Wednesday meeting of the Women's Institute at the home of Mrs. Eugene Brady, it was announced that a substantial sum had been donated by the IODE towards the Town Hall Decoration Fund. Mrs. E. C. Prentice, president, was in the chair. The meeting opened with replies to roll call describing methods of removing stains from clothing and furniture. The secretary's report was presented by Miss W. G. Chrysler. Mrs. F. Sweet presented the social welfare report.

Further discussion and action was taken on the blanket drawing. It was decided to hold a bake sale in the room north of A. Heath's restaurant on January 22. The branch decided to purchase a copy of the book dealing with 50 years of Women's Institute Achievement. It was announced that the February meeting would be held at the home of Mrs. F. S. Sweet.

The program was conducted by Miss Grace Warren, who gave three short humorous readings, and staged a quiz contest in which honors went to Mrs. James Thomson. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

Stabilized Soil

NEW DELHI—(CP)—"Stabilized soil" has enabled the East Punjab government to build 3,500 houses in a very short time. Stabilized soil is just clay mixed with sand but has high insulating properties and costs much less than bricks, and the houses proved just as good.

District Board Holds First Meeting

First meeting of the newly-formed Suburban - Peterbrough District High School Board was held on Thursday at the County Building.

The new district includes part of Otonabee, part of Smith and the whole of North Monaghan. Students in these areas will attend PCVS to obtain their secondary school education.

Chief advantage of the new plan as it affects rural students will be in transportation. It is hoped to arrange an efficient bus service that will call for them in the morning and take them home again when the school day is done.

Ultimately the Department of Education will pay 75 per cent of the cost of transportation and the other 25 per cent will be levied on the whole district according to the mill rates of the various townships concerned.

The six members of the Board are: John Kitney, chairman, appointed by the County Council; Joel Walton, Otonabee School Area Board; Frank Sullivan, Separate School Board for Otonabee; Fred Stinson, North Monaghan; Elmer Milburn, Smith; and Allan Eason, Otonabee.

Two committees were formed: Mr. Eason chairman of transportation, and Mr. Stinson chairman ofa finance.

Similar boards have been set up to cover the Lakefield and Norwood-Havelock areas.

Seek Higher Allowances

MONTREAL, Jan. 15 (CP) — The National Council of Student Veterans will seek higher allowances for ex-servicemen attending universities when they present a brief to Federal authorities next month, J. Peter Kohl of Montreal, president, said Thursday night. Mr. Kohl said the brief will state that student veterans have obtained no increase in their basic grant which amounts to $60 a month for single men. It will advise the government that the basic grant is inadequate in view of the rise in living costs since 1944.

"FRESH" WINTER WINDS

The city's big horse-drawn garbage sleigh ran into grief on Water St. in front of the police station this morning about 10 o'clock. Piled high with half-frozen collections, the sleigh jolted slightly over the Simcoe St. inntersection and the load started to slide. Cartons of delicately-perfumed refuse, ashes, bottles, tin cans, slid gently into the street from back, front and sides. While the team of horses snorted impatiently, the two men on the sleigh tried to restore order. As they would shovel the stuff on the right side, it fell off the back. They went to the left side and the pile started to shift off the front. Finally the payload was restored and the sleigh was gingerly escorted on its way.—RB.

Girl 13 Injured Collides With Car

Thirteen - year - old Theresa Wood of 186 Lake St. was injured on Thursday afternoon when she ran into the side of a moving taxi on George St. Indications from the position of the taxi and the girl are that she went between the wheels of the vehicle and right under it without further injury. She received medical attention for facial cuts and bruises and bruised elbows.

Driver of the taxi, Shelburne Woods, 866 George St. said the girl was standing near the curb with some other teen-agers and ran abruptly into the street. He swung his car sharply, struck a telephone pole, causing damage to the grill, radiator, fenders, tire and bumper. The right door of the taxi was dented where the girl had struck.

Sliding on the icy street, the taxi turned completely around. As the girl had hit the right side and was on the left when the taxi came to rest, it is believed the vehicle must have gone right over her.

PC C. J. McGillen investigated.

Says Canada 'Heaven' After Czechoslovakia

FORT ERIE, Jan. 15—(CP)—A Czechoslovakian who returned to Fort Erie, from a one-year visit to his home in Hankova, Czechoslovakia, says that Canada is "heaven" in comparison with his Communist-dominated homeland.

He is John Hutnick, who left Fort Erie in December, 1947, to visit his wife and family. He said 95 per cent. of the people did not want the Communist government which came into power last February.

He said that farmers were forced to pay fines whenever they failed to meet production quotas. "The common people have nothing to say . . . they must work and keep up their quotas."

NEW SUMMER ISSUE — Smarter than the old khaki drills, these new tropical worsted uniforms will be issued to the Canadian Army next May. To complete the summer ensemble is the raglan-style raincoat of waterproof lined gabardine worn by Sgt. D. R. Carter at left. Pte. G. E. Bannister is wearing the new uniform.

New Uniforms For Army Will Be More Flattering

BY MEL SUFFERIN

OTTAWA, Jan. 15 —(CP)— "Jackets, khaki drill; trousers, khaki drill, long."

That's official military lingo for Canadian Army summer uniforms of the era pre-dating 1949.

The unofficial barrack - room vernacular for those same items of dress, on the other hand, would, if printable, make some of the epithets hurled at baseball unmpires sound complimentary.

Suffice it to say Canada's soldiers have never liked the old issue summer dress. So there was nary a tear shed this week when army headquarters announced that the sloppy uniforms of summer past would be replaced this May by smart, new walking-out grab.

The chief difference between the old and the new is the cloth. Replacing the soft, easily-creased and quickly-faded material of the khaki drills will be a tropical worsted of finer finish that won't wilt at the sign of warm weather.

More Flattering Cut

The cut of the new tunic will be more flattering to the military figure and the trousers will have more of a style.

The uniforms look the same as the Air Force summer dress issued last year with the addition of epaulets.

An indication of the unpopularity of the old khaki drills is the tale they tell of one Sergeant-Major on a mid-summer parade.

"Didn't you hear the order to stand at attention," he is said to have screamed at one wilting private.

"Yes, sir," came the reply. "I am standing at attention, but this uniform insists on standing at ease."

In addition, several other items of kit are being replaced. The many and varied types of raincoats—ranging from improvised ground sheets to slicers—are going to be called in. In their place will be gabardine rainproof coats. And finally, a greatcoat with a new and smarter pattern is scheduled to be issued next fall.

Britain Must Have A Voice In Palestine

Because Britain has pulled out of Palestine and taken no part in the so-called partition plans, she has not therefore abandoned all interest in the matter or all rights to make herself heard. Britain is the official protector of Trans-Jordan and Iraq. She is still a Middle East power. She controls the Suez Canal. She has obligations to Egypt, for her own and Egyptian interests. What happens in the Arab world is of concern to her. More, it is obligatory that she give heed, counsel and protection. Therefore Britain cannot and must not stand idly by if Egypt is threatened by Israel and if Arabs in Palestine and elsewhere are being sacrificed to American and Hebrew special interests.

* * *

Two matters of extreme importance underlie present events in the Arab-Jewish conflict: oil and communism. It is idle to pretend that the U.S.A. differs violently from Britain on these matters; the danger may be that Americans realize the importance of those issues less clearly than the British.

Canada Needs The Vatican

We observe that the Board of Evangelism of the United Church has decided to advise Mr. St. Laurent that the United Church opposes the appointment of a Canadian representative to the Vatican. We cannot feel that this decision is wisely taken, and we hope that Mr. St. Laurent will not be swayed by it.

Setting aside the fact that the Vatican is the focus of a Church which has a large following in Canada we must stress the fact that the Vatican is of the greatest diplomatic importance, and that, while the Vatican can get along very well without a Canadian representative our country cannot get along without the advantages which a representative at the Vatican would give us. The Vatican has one of the ablest and most widespread diplomatic services in the world; all kinds of information reach it, and pertinent facts relating to world affairs often reach it before they are in the hands of other chancelleries. No historian or student of world affairs has ever permitted himself to undervalue the political and economic acumen of the Vatican secretariat.

In order to gratify a prejudice which we can only describe as provincial, Canada would be foolish to neglect the advantages of having an able man in a court which very often becomes the whispering gallery of the world. Protestantism, like any other great cause, can suffer seriously from ignorance, and Canada's foreign service will always suffer from a blind spot while it neglects this vital centre of world politics. The United Church, like the rest of Canada, stands only to gain from a strong foreign service.

Western Arctic Weather

Misery likes company, and now that we in southern Ontario seem to be having a taste of real winter weather we may console ourselves by comparing our relatively salubrious state with the Canadian Arctic. It is true that parts of the Arctic have warm, even hot, summer weather which plumps tomatoes overnight (if there is any night), but the summers are short and the winters long. We shall limit our comparison now to the Western Arctic, and save the Eastern Arctic for consolation in blustering March days. By the Western Arctic we mean that part of the mainland of northwestern and north-central Canada lying north of the tree-line, and the nearby Arctic Islands (Victoria, Banks, Melville, Prince Patrick, Herschel, et al.).

Our climatologists have a delicate way of referring to the weather up there as either Arctic or Subarctic. The area around Queen Maud Gulf has, for instance, an Arctic climate; that is, in no month of the year is the average mean temperature above 50 degrees F. That is a truly mean climate. On the other hand, Aklavik, in the Mackenzie River Delta, near the Yukon border (the settlement which is the seat of the Bishop of the Arctic) has two months when the average mean temperatures are above 50 degrees F. That puts Aklavik and its All Saints cathedral in Subarctic climate, even though they are a couple of hundred miles north of the Arctic Circle, and even though Aklavik like Coppermine and Holman Island enjoys below-zero average temperatures for five months of the year.

There are only three meteorological stations in the Western Arctic: at Cambridge Bay at the east end of Victoria Island, at Coppermine on the mainland farther west in the District of Mackenzie, and at Holman Island, a patch of land off the west side of Victoria Island. From the records accumulated at these places it is possible to make general observations about the temperatures in the Western Arctic. The four months of June to September have average mean temperatures above freezing point in the southern parts of the region. In July and early August, afternoon temperatures may rise above 60 degrees F., but usually fall to 40 in the evening. A recorded maximum of 87 degrees F. has been reached at Coppermine. However, at Cambridge Bay at the eastern end of Coronation Gulf (Coppermine is at the western end) the average mean winter temperature is 27 degrees below zero. February is the coldest month at each of the three Western Arctic stations.

Lest some of our readers still have their heads warmed with stories of lush, dulcet Arctic summers, we give this official sentence from a report prepared by the Lands and Development Services Branch of the Department of Mines and Resources: "Summers may be described as cool in the Western Arctic". All of which is cold comfort for January days. However, as in the Western Arctic, the worst is yet to be: February.

The Turf In Phoenix Park

Dublin's celebrated Phoenix Park has been bulging with unusual protuberances these last three or four years. Acres and acres of it are covered with mounds of cut turf (peat) and wood, many of them as high, wide and handsome as our Armouries. The reason for the turf and wood was to have at hand a stockpile of fuel to brew Dubliners' tea and warm their homes should British coal fail them. There is enough now to make a phoenix pyre for the Dominion of Eire. There is so much that 120 watchmen are constantly employed to guard it.

The turf acres are a bit of a problem now, because the emergency has passed; coal is available and, even at the current high price, is more economical to burn than turf. The turf will not, like wood, remain in good combustible condition. It is disintegrating to dust on the outside of the piles, and on the inside is being corrupted by moisture. One of the domestic problems confronting the Taoiseach (the Prime Minister) Mr. Costello, is the thousands of tons of turf.

We mention the matter not because we have any pat solution to present him, but because the mountains of turf put Phoenix Park, a shrine of Irish Republicanism, in a different guise in the matter of Anglo-Irish relations. They are monuments to the economic dependence of the new Republic on the Britain from which it has removed itself politically. It would be as good Irish logic to send all the turf up in one great blaze as it was to destroy the other earlier visible signs of English consequence, the marbles of Dublin.

The Late Dr. G. E. Richards

It is not an exaggeration to say that there are thousands of people in Canada today who owe their lives to the fine work of Dr. Gordon E. Richards. He was a radiologist of world reputation, a great physician and teacher. His researches and his improvements in the technique of radiological treatment were watched with the keenest interest by his colleagues everywhere. He was named among the ablest and most courageous of those physicians whose chief work is the investigation of the nature of cancer.

His death at the comparatively early age of sixty-four is a direct result of his work. Radiologists must run serious risks, and strict rules govern the number of hours which nurses and clinicians may pass near the powerful rays which are used in radiological treatment. But a great research worker like Dr. Richards may become careless in observing such precautions, or his deep concern for his work may overbear his prudence. Whatever the reason, Dr. Richards fell a victim to the physical force which he had done so much to harness for the benefit of mankind.

The martyrs of science are high among the great men of our time. While they live they stand upon a commanding peak of our civilization and when they die as victims of the dangers of their work they die truly that others may live. Their ceaseless quest for knowledge, their courage and their human desire to help their fellow men are constant reminders to us that, in a world which often seems dark, these qualities are present and enduring.

Diary Of A Banquet Guest

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Have kept the fire in my fireplace burning for three days and three nights, for no special reason save that I share the universal human reluctance to let a fire go out. A friend of mine tells me that one of the most desperate acts he ever did was when he permitted a turf fire in an Irish farmhouse, which had been burning for over seventy years, to expire because he did not understand the nature of peat; it was as though he had strangled the patriarch of his tribe. But I must conquer my urge to coddle this flame on my hearth... Reflected this evening that all good books should be published in special light-paper editions for reading in bed. Time and again I try to read some weighty volume, only to doze off and have it fall on my face with a crash. The perfect bed book is one which falls lightly from the hand, glides like a feather to the floor, and closes in such a way that one's place may easily be found again next night.

◆ ◆ ◆

MONDAY: Became involved in a discussion about etiquette tonight, a subject which I detest. It seems that "Vogue" has published a book of manners which is thought to be the last word on the subject. Very well, let those who care for such things read it and comport themselves accordingly. I have the highest respect for good manners, but I doubt if they can be learnt from a book; mere conformity of rules cannot create an illusion of good breeding or fine feeling. I hate books of etiquette because I never peep inside one without discovering that I am an oaf, and that I undoubtedly offend persons of refinement several times a day. I have a fondness for mopping up the juice from a plate of bacon and eggs with a bit of bread; etiquette books say I mustn't. I like to sop up fruit juice in the same way. Fie, say the authorities. I have been known to dunk a banana in my coffee (delicious debauchery!) but the rule-makers won't have it. And yet I do not think that I really disgust anyone with these antics. Surely the secret of good manners is social easiness, and I am never so easy as when mopping, dunking, talking with my mouth full, and shouting and laughing. Perhaps I am a Noble Savage; perhaps not even noble.

◆ ◆ ◆

TUESDAY: Shovelled a lot of snow today, and rather enjoyed it, though I had had enough at least half an hour before the job was finished. But a friend of mine who sets up a great authority on health tells me that snow shovelling is wonderful for sedentary workers, because it makes them use their Big Hinge. Apparently "Big Hinge" is what health maniacs call the waist, because it bends. If you use your Big Hinge a lot it squeezes your tripes, causes your juices to squish and slither about inside you, wrings out your liver and spleen, and puts accordion pleats in your vermiform appendix; it scrapes your epigastrium on your backbone and increases the traffic on your alimentary canal. No doubt this is all very fine, but I find that any prolonged use of my Big Hinge makes me extremely hungry, and by the time I have satisfied my hunger I have short-circuited all my inner workings, and my Big Hinge is incapable of moving more than a degree or two in any direction. My juices are solidified, my liver and spleen are like rocks; my appendix is throbbing like a Congo drum and my alimentary canal is closed to navigation. You can't win in the fight for health.

◆ ◆ ◆

WEDNESDAY: Was reading Ben Jonson's play "The Poetaster" today and found this passage:

OVID: Troth, if I live, I will new dress the law
In sprightly Poesy's habiliments.
TIBULLUS: The hell thou wilt!
What, turn law into verse?

I had not thought that this special use of "The hell you will" was so old, for "The Poetaster" was written in 1601....Put my Christmas tree out for the garbage collection today. The custom of setting up an evergreen in the house and worshipping it is a pre-Christian Teutonic one, and there are times when I wonder if it might not be permitted to lapse. Could we not have synthetic Christmas trees, which fold up like umbrellas, and which can be stored away in the attic when the Yuletide is over? Every year I struggle with one of these gummy monsters, which scatter their needles about the house and make the place smell as though someone were trying out a new cold cure. Give me a chromium tree, which will collapse like a music stand.

◆ ◆ ◆

THURSDAY: A lady who has had quite a bit of experience of lending libraries tells me that a great many people demand a historical novel, "but not too far back", for week-end reading. Now why "not too far back"? Perhaps because of the widespread belief that people who lived long ago were not as smart as we are, and did not do very interesting things. Modern historical novels have spread the delusion that in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries people gave all their time to sex, and in the nineteenth century devoted themselves wholly to sex and adventures, such as building railroads. But previous to the seventeenth century people had neither sex nor railroads, and were consequently of no interest to anyone, even themselves.

◆ ◆ ◆

FRIDAY: Children learn the strangest stuff in school; today a child came to me with a sum involving an ice cream cone which cost three cents; this points to a dangerous cleavage between education and real life. I find also that modern teachers allow children to put down their "carrying numbers" in addition and subtraction. When I went to school this was considered a heretical and obscene practice, and teachers poured all their considerable stores of scorn upon it. I used to make ticks with my pencil on the paper to represent these numbers, which gave my arithmetic books a pocky and discreditable look. Indeed, I still do so, for I make no claim to be an Einstein, and think myself lucky to get the right answer in a piece of arithmetic, without worrying about fine points of etiquette.

◆ ◆ ◆

SATURDAY: Attended a banquet this evening at which an appropriate quantity of wine was consumed. But there were a number of people present who were plainly devotees of hard spirits, for they drank little or no wine, leaving it in their glasses. Now when the affair was over I noticed one of the cleaners collecting these remains in a large jug. Sherry, claret and port were poured without discrimination into the mixture, which had the murky, threatening colour of cough medicine. What did he intend to do with it? I am convinced that later, in some secret bower of his own—some sequestered broom cupboard or coenobitical lumber room—he drank the contents of that jug in which the conviviality of sherry, the sturdy manliness of claret and the episcopal blessing of port mingled in vinous kaleidoscope. I hope he had a good time, but I would not have his head on my shoulders tomorrow for a mine of gold.

NEW "TOP MAN"

Letters To The Editor

LOCAL UNION RIVALRY

Sir: I would like to use some of your valuable space, to comment on a few things, pertaining to the controversy between the two rival C.I.O. unions in the city. As a man who has followed the progress of unions in the city with interest, I feel that I can enlighten some of the public. The whole trouble boils down to this: the older union in the city is jealous of the fact that the second union is going to organize some of the plants that the older union by some of their blunders and lack of experienced organizers failed to do. So why should they adopt a dog in the manger attitude at the expense of the worker? I remember quite well when the older union organized four of the plants in which they hold contracts. If the organizers who were here at the time had been on their toes instead of "arm-chair" organizing they would have had two more plants signed up. I remember one prominent plant in which a part time voluntary worker canvassed the employees in the evening. He did such a good job that with one good push from the regular organizers the plant would have been under a union contract long ago. But they resented this part time man's success. To this day, that particular plant has not been organized, and yet the older established union here gripes like mad when another union wants to finish what they failed to do. I also think that the individual member of this union should find out where the loyalty of some of their officials and organizers stands. In the Provincial election previous to the last one, one organizer ran as a L.P.P. candidate in one district. L.P.P. is the new name of the Communist party. Another organizer who left, and was sent to another city, by his own statement admitted he was a Communist and was indirectly responsible for a local of his union switching over to their rival. Also the District or Canadian head office Sec. Treas. in the last C.C.L. convention made no bones about the fact that he belonged to the Communist party. Also the Canadian president of the union spent six months in an internment camp at the beginning of the war for a breach of the Defence of Canada Act. I think that a little house-cleaning is in order. One more thing before I close. The union which is accusing its rival of so-called "raiding" is under a threatened suspension for doing the same thing in another city. It has to appear before the C.C.L. to account for it.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, and hoping that you will publish this lengthy letter which was written in an effort to show some facts to the public. I am, yours truly,

IMPARTIAL LABOUR MAN.

REPLIES TO "ONE OF THE PETES"

Sir: I would like to answer the letter which was printed in the Examiner of January 5th and signed "One of the Petes".

In fairness to everyone concerned I would like to correct the writer and in the first place—also his first mistake — the meeting was called, not by the Petes, but by the Rink Committee.

After discussion by the Petes and Le ion Hockey Executive regarding the prices at the arena it was moved by Mr. Ed Riley, for the Petes, and seconded by Mr. Glen Carson, for the Legion, that the prices be as follows: $1.00 reserve and 65c and 35c rush for adults and children respectively. Incidentally it was also decided that these prices should last the full season—that is to say that there will be no increase during playoffs.

This motion was carried yet "One of the Petes" states that the Petes representative strenuously objected to it and I cannot see where his story agrees with the true one outlined above. It doesn't look as if anyone did. In his attempt to blame the Legion Club for the whole thing he states how much the Peterborough Hockey Club has done for sports and — yet in the short time the Legion has been in sports we are 'way ahead of them. We have sponsored different groups in sports for the last four years including a Trojan Juvenile Club in hockey just to give these lads a chance to play the game. I don't know if the Peterborough Hockey Club has but I also don't know if they haven't and I wonder why.

However, to forward the Legion's reputation for fairness in meeting anyone halfway, we are quite willing to sit in with the Peterborough Hockey Club and the Rink Committee for a discussion to lower the prices which now stand. Indeed we will even let the Peterborough Hockey Club make the first move—which we think will be a novelty for them.

I trust the people of Peterborough will now understand the true story and—if blame for anything must fall they shall understand that the Legion is not solely to blame for anything. I would also ask you to print my name and I trust that this will prompt "One of the Petes" to come forward instead of hiding behind a "nome de plume".

Incidentally I don't suppose it would hurt to say that I was present at the meeting mentioned and that the story I have outlined is what I honestly believe myself to have heard and seen.

Yours very truly,
C. G. WITHERS,
President, Legion Hockey Club.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the Lord spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend. (Ex. 33: 11.)

And the Lord said unto Moses, Hew thee two tables of stone like unto the first: and I will write upon these tables the words that were in the first tables, which thou brakest... And he hewed two tables of stone like unto the first; and Moses rose up early in the morning, and went up unto mount Sinai, as the Lord had commanded him, and took in his hand the two tables of stone....

And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, longsuffering, and abundant in goodness and truth, keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty....And Moses made haste, and bowed his heard toward the earth, and worshipped. (Ex. 34: 1, 4, 6, 7, 8.)

With PETE McGILLEN

FOXES ARE SO NUMEROUS, they will soon be tapping on kitchen windows of farm homes and waving to the mistress to toss out a few choice food scraps. One disgusted ruralite claims a fox wiped out his flock of 20 hens, and now sits near the barnyard each morning smacking its lips as the farmer goes about his chores. Maybe Reynard is saying "That farmer looks like tough chewing, perhaps I better switch to young cattle". Down at Cobourg, bounties have been paid on 126 pelts in two weeks. Victoria county figures are not available, but they have paid out a pile of $4 awards in that section too. Chicken, turkey, duck and goose losses continue to mount across the entire district, and city hunters report finding the remains of big jackrabbits that have been killed by these wily predators. Partridges, cottontails, and snowshoe rabbits are also being decimated. So it looks like a hot war against Mr. Reynard.

+ + + + + +

LONG-HAIRED FURS are a drug on the market. Best large prime fox pelts will bring between 80 cents and $1.25. Skunk pelts aren't selling at all, and raccoons brought up to $3. The season closed Dec. 31. Strangely enough silver foxes are in steady demand, with more than 3 million being marketed in 1948. Wild mink which last year brought up to $33 will bring at least $25 each this year. In 1948, blanket beaver pelts ranged to $46 to the trapper, and will probably slip to about $33 this year. There are not enough wild mink or beaver in the country, and these two wild animals are becoming more scarce all the time. On the other hand, fur brokers and dealers have warehouses piled high with red fox. Now a fox is scarcely worth skinning if it wasn't for the bounties that are being paid. There was a time when red fox furs were in great demand, and if some person could give the stylists a blood transfusion, perhaps they would popularize the lowly fox again. If the market stabilized, together with the bounty, the hunters would soon bring the predators under control. Certainly right now the foxes are a menace and a nuisance.

+ + + + + +

FOR $15, anyone can have a large fox pelt, dressed, tanned and made into a beautiful neckpiece, or if a man has 17 or 18 fine skins, he can have a three-quarter coat made for his wife. It would cost him about $140 and would look beautiful—but no, women want those dinky little mink skins draped around their necks. A pox on those frivolous characters—I like red fox. This lack of demand for the fox furs has been plaguing me like an aching tooth. I keep thinking something can be done about it. The Greeks if they had such a problem in the old days would have gone to Delphi and heard an oracle. Indian fakirs would go into a trance and come up with the answer, Mama Yokum would daub a bit of blood on her forehead and go into a tailspin to solve her problems, and I guess most men would just talk it over with their wives. But my wife was playing bingo, so I leaned back in the old comfortable chair wracking my brain for a solution. Then I must have dropped into a pleasant snooze.

+ + + + + +

FIRST INTIMATION that the pugwuzzies were near, came when I heard a slight humming sound, like an outboard motor in the distance. I looked down at the ash-tray, and there was Portia, the pugwuzzie, the cleverest of them all, perched on the edge. She beamed on me with an alluring smile, that would make the come-on glance of a midway palmist a frost. I always liked Portia, so I zoomed after her. In a split second I was at Broadway and 42nd St. in New York. Down the street walking like a young queen came Barbara Ann Scott, and believe it or not she was wearing a perfectly matched pair of Canadian red foxes over a chic tailored suit. The New Yorkers gasped at her beauty, and I heard her say, "These are Canadian red foxes" to a couple of smartly-dressed co-eds. In a few seconds I was in Madison Square Gardens, watching Barbara skate. I noticed two red rings at the top of her white skates. Looking closer, I saw these were narrow bands of red fox fur, and as I mused a dowager with more jewellery than a store window, said, "I'm going to buy a red fox stole, they're all the rage—you know".

+ + + + + +

MOMENTS LATER I was in Dept. of National Defence, Ottawa, and a brass hat was saying, "No more winter caps, melton cloth. I want 30,000 winter caps fur, to be faced with red fox". Boy that was good news to me, it would take 10,000 pelts to fill that order, and just for the permanent force alone, not counting the reserve. Then I was in Washington, and a bitter cold wind was whipping down Pennsylvania Ave. Two office workers were hurrying to work, heads bent into the wind. They wore homburgs. One was saying, "These Canadians are smart, the men wear fur hats, made of red fox, that you can pull down over your ears, and it sheds snow and rain. Look at our hats, they catch the rain, the snow, and the brim creates an alleyway for the wind to sing past the ears. I'm going to get one of those Canadian hats, and protect my ears". Hmmm, I hadn't seen any of those hats. I wondered if he meant the beaver or muskrat wedge hats that are quite popular. But no, he said "red fox". Then I was in Harry Jopling's fur shop, and he was haggling with Cec. Hayes over the price of pelts. "Five dollars is the best I can do", I heard Harry say, and the pelt was a red fox.

+ + + + + +

I WOKE UP when my grandson started poking me in the stomach with a metal dump truck, and I grinned as I recalled how the pugwuzzies had solved the problem. Why it was so simple, just get Barbara Ann to wear the red fox neckpiece and stylists would go gaga, the style would catch on, and in a few months, prices of fox pelts would soar, and every farmer and sportsman in the country would be hunting them. I was thinking about Portia, the coquette and wondering why she hadn't bought me a couple of cocktails when we were down in New York, when my wife came in. "That character who calls numbers at the Lions bingo should be fed ground glass. I waited ten numbers for a 52 and $50, but do you think he called it. No sir, I'm through with that game". Oh well, it was a nice dream anyway.

Plans to date indicate the Toronto Anglers Sportsmen's show in March will far exceed the one held last year....Fishing through the ice is permitted in Hastings and Haliburton counties....So far no fishing reports have been had from local anglers who journey to Lake Simcoe.....Why not have some rural church organization throw a meal for the fox hunters any Saturday. Rice Harvest Few Pounds

By MRS. A. NILL

Have you ever tasted that delicious typically-Canadian dessert, boiled wild rice with maple syrup? Or, perhaps you can recall some of those excellent roast wild duck dinners, ducks stuffed with wild rice dressing. It is safe to assume that you have never enjoyed these delicacies for some time, for wild rice is hard to come by these days.

In the first place, American summer visitors must have more discerning appetites for unusual food items than Canadian, because they buy all they can get their hands on from merchants in the Rice Lake district. According to M. D. Brown, who is called the Black Rice merchant of Roseneath, they buy his complete stocks which have dwindled away to a mere trickle in the past few years.

His reputation stems from the fact that for each of many seasons he handled at least one ton of black rice. By 1946 the situation stood exactly at zero, he didn't sell one pound of it. Last year he managed to buy 50 pounds which was snapped up by less than half a dozen people.

A man like Mr. Brown, who is an expert on such matters, has various reasons why the current rice crop is practically extinct. One, rice beds must be covered with sufficient water in their germination period to allow the chemistry of nature to complete its cycle. If water levels have lowered at this crucial time, rice will grow in height but will not head out.

Another reason is the destructive carp known to inhabit Rice Lake in thousands. This rooting pig-like fish is quite capable of destroying acres of young plants by nosing them out of their silty beds. They seem to attack the plants with the object of sheer destruction in an endeavour to find other plants to their liking.

As a final solution as to the shortage perhaps the post-war living boom has as much to do with the situation as any other factor: Mississauga Indians of Rice Lake reservations are in the best financial condition of any time in their existence. The majorty of them earn a good living by guiding in both fish and duck seasons; others work in factories and, with family allowances and other public benefits, they find little need for harvesting and selling rice.

They can turn to gathering rice at any time, however, and it appears that they retained this privilege even though they surrendered all but their reservation lands to the Crown as far back as 1856.

A few seasons ago there was an August frost which nipped the flowering rice plants. This situation spoiled the subsequent harvests for several seasons and it may be that the cycle is only again coming into normal productivity.

Believe it or not, although rice grows in water, the crop needs adequate rain to make it flourish. This theory comes from the Indians themselves who know more about wild rice than anyone.

If you feel the urge to have one of the delicious wild rice concoctions for dinner some night, we have found you can still buy it from a Simcoe St. grocer; he has about 50 pounds in stock and his few customers are of the older generation. He said, "Young people these days don't seem to know anything about it."

Dutch War Brides Thrilled With Homes Praise Friendliness of Canadian People

By HAZEL POULL

If a girl finds disillusionment in a strange country after marrying her soldier sweetheart, her troubles and discontent never fail to hit the headlines. She does not like the new country which is to become her home — they don't do things the right way there — at least, not nearly so well as they do it back home, and the news of her disappointment spreads like fire. For every war bride who has regretted coming to Peterborough, there are scores of happy women, thrilled with their new homes and full of praise for the overwhelming friendliness of the people. Their joy is all too seldom told, for theirs is the contentment which rarely attract attention. It is because of their happiness that so little is heard of them, but it is a refreshing experience to meet them and number them among one's friends.

In cities throughout Canada there are a number of Dutch war brides. When the Allied Forces liberated Europe in 1944, it was the Canadians who marched in Holland and although they were not alone in the struggle — other Allied Services were there too — Canadian soldiers won a special place in the hearts of the Dutch people. Several Peterborough men were in Holland for one, one and a half and two years, and married Dutch girls who have since settled in Peterborough. Others came back to build homes for their girl friends and these have since crossed the Atlantic to marry and adopt Canada as their "own country."

Two Dutch girls, whose smiles belie the adverse comments of the sceptics and Dismal Jimmies, are Mrs. J. W. Thirnbeck, 525 McDonnel St. and her friend, Mrs. Anna Elshaw, 262 Wolsley St., each of whom declares she has the best husband in the world and a great many really fine Canadian friends.

Mrs. Elshaw was amazed to find how exceptionally well Canadian men look after their womenfolk. They are much more helpful in the home than the men of her own country. In many European household such jobs as polishing floors, cleaning windows and drying dishes are regarded almost exclusively as women's work and it was, therefore, a welcome surprise to be given a hand with her work in the house. Nor do the men, probably for economic reason, set too, laying foundations and building their own homes when they want somewhere to live. Houses are built by contractors and although the Dutch are noted for being exceptionally good builders, the average working person in Canada has a more spacious and altogether pleasanter home than in Holland. Looking around her spacious home, Mrs. Thirnbeck said joyfully, "I am sure I would not have such an attractive house if I were living in Holland."

Mrs. Elshaw, who has not been quite so fortunate as Mrs. Thirnbeck in this respect — she and her husband share an apartment with another family — agrees that living conditions in Peterborough are advantageous. She had found, however, that on the whole, landlords here were extraordinarily intolerant of children. She had been refused accommodation because of this. In Holland, landlords did not object to couples with children and she found the attitude of landlords here inconsistent with the otherwise helpful characteristics of Canadians.

Mrs. Ella Ackerman, 153 Churchill Drive, is another radiant Dutch girl whose two and a half years in Canada have been a happy time for her. She cannot understand how anyone could dislike Canada, unless she came with the idea of converting the Canadians to the Dutch way, rather than adopting the Canadian way of life for herself. "You have to be prepared to become a Canadian in the widest sense of the term," she says. There is probably no happier wife and mother than Mrs. Ackerman. She prefers the winter months to the summer, especially when there is plenty of snow for skiing. "Canada grows on you," she says, "and I feel I am a Canadian already."

Mrs. Ackerman and the other war brides on the ship which brought her to Halifax, were greeted at the port by an Army band playing "Here Comes the Bride." "That was a wonderful reception and typical of the welcome I received from my husband's friends," she said.

Another Dutch girl is Mrs. Jenny Hope of Short St. She likes the spacious city and is thrilled with the bungalow she and her husband built on the banks of the Otonabee River. She had not been here long before she was invited to a party, only to find on arrival that it was a shower held in her honor. "That is something we do not have in Holland," she said, "and I think it is a lovely idea." Like the others, she was homesick at first, but now her only regret is that her family is not here.

Mrs. Joan White of Erskine Ave. is another who has found, after two years in Canada, that the country "grows on you." She was bewildered at first, because she spoke very little English, but now, with a fluent tongue, she gets along well.

Mrs. Anne Raine, Rubidge St., is also happily settled in Peterborough. She started off well by winning $200 at the races, which may have had something to do with her success here! She cannot speak highly enough of the kindness she received from people who often could not understand her broken English when she came to Canada.

The saying, "the way to keep a mean's heart is to feed his stomach," is proving to be true as far as the Dutch girls are concerned. There is a great deal of difference between cooking in the two countries and with a combination of the best features of both methods, these wives are having no difficulty. In Holland, there is no lard or shortening to use with butter when baking. "With the help of shortening you can make beautiful cakes, which would be much more expensive if we only had butter to use" Mrs. Thirnbeck says. Pies are never eaten in Holland, where there is more emphasis on puddings. "Now I can make a delicious pie," Mrs. Hope says proudly.

Legionnaires Defeat Petes By 6-5 In a Nifty Number

Edging out the Petes 6-5 at Civic Arena last night, Legionnaires took over sole possession of first place in their OHA Senior "B" grouping and gave the McGillis men their first loss while winning three straight. Some 2,000 excited fans saw a fine fray on fast ice, speedy throughout with some good hockey shown and rugged in spots.

Legion had a 2-1 margin in a hot first frame and rolled up a 3-0 margin next heat to have it 5-1 going into the third. Then the Petes fought back furiously for four goals without a comeback to sew it up, but Legion got the winning marker with less than two minutes to go in the game. There were two fights, though the referee let the culprits off with roughing penalties, as Legion drew 11 of the 16 penalties handed out in a well-handled contest.

Led Scorers

"Sixty" Coombs, Legion recruit from Lindsay, and Johnny Godfrey, team captain, led the winners in scoring with three points apiece, Coombs sinking the winning tally. Bert Hill and Toodie Greenlaw were also prominent on their attack with two points each. Honey Tompkins was the big gun for the Petes with four goals in a fine performance over the whole route. Both goalies kicked aside some hot thrust and all the players worked hard in this battle, possibly harder than they'd work against any other team in the group.

Mayor Max Swanston spoke briefly before the game to mark the official opening of the rink, with members of the committee on hand and thanked them for their efforts. He faced off, too. Play opened fast and the pace kept up. Tom Parson went off early for interference and Godfrey nearly notched one. Toodie Greenlaw got the first one from Godfrey in close and, with Tom back, Coombs made it 2-0 on a forward pass from Hill at close range. Tompkins got one back on a sharp angle drive inside defence. Humulka was gated for charging and later Parnell [illegible] for tripping. Then Hill and Creighton were waved away for high-sticking and Crowley followed a bit later for tripping. Kingdon was robbed by Nicholls near the close.

Piled It On

Legion pressed to open the second with Bob Greenlaw close. McMaster was chased for boarding and Parnell promptly cashed in on it in close with Toodie Greenlaw and Godfrey aiding. Coombs went over for tripping and Harding came away out to spoil a breakaway. Godfrey got it next for holding and then Tompkins for charging, but all were back when Dootch Vitarelli got the finger for hooking as they tore into each other at a hot clip to the fans' yells. He came back and McMaster made a nice try, and then Hill scored from Coombs, coming out of a corner with his pass. Bob Greenlaw made it 5-1 as the raced in fast from an angle and dented the hemp. Ray thefted Crowley before the gong went.

Garvey made a neat try to open the third and then Tompkins whittled the count down with a backhander inside from Jerry Creighton. D. Vitarelli nearly got one and Legion pressed when Tom Parsons was penalized for roughing. He came back as Crowley went away for slashing. Shortly after, a fight broke out with Tom Parsons, Dootch Vitarelli and Rochetta all chased for roughing. Crowley got back and Kingdon was robbed as the Petes pressed hard. Tompkins got a lovely goal unassisted with neat stickwork and they got another but after the whistle. With all back, Kingdon tallied again on Nicholls' doorstep from Floyd Parsons. Tompkins then tied it up as they poured in, with Garvey's pass. But Coombs got the winner on a forward pass from Godfrey in a scramble. Dootch Vitarelli and Garvey were waved over after a fight near the finish and the Petes vainly took out their goalie at the finish.

Earl McCready To Meet Australian Champ Atkins In British Empire Elimination Bout

Next Wednesday night in the Brock Arena it is expected the fans will see one of the greatest wrestling matches ever brought to Peterborough. Manager Jim Laidlaw announced last night that he had definitely contracted for a match between Earl McCready, former British Empire titleholder and Fearless Fred Atkins the heavyweight champion of Australia. The match will be a British Empire elimination with a good chance that the winner will be pitted against Whipper Billy Watson for the title.

Atkins has proven to be a terrific campaigner and Toronto and Montreal fans think he is the best yet. If he can beat the powerful McCready he will have proven his right to meet the Whipper. Earl, however served notice this week that he is in no mood for defeats as evidenced by his rousing victory over the hitherto impregnable Big Ben Morgan.

Tee to Hack

By HERB MARTIN

The Neill Trophy began on the evening of January 6, and since that time there have been many curling games played in this competition. True, there has been many close and exciting finishes, several extra ends played, spectacular shots and otherwise; yet the one executed by R. F. Downey last night was, in our opinion, the tid-bit of the bonspiel. K. Bissett and R. F. Downey were playing on ice No. 5. It was a good game to watch, but as the game progressed Mr. Downey's rink forged ahead until at the finish of the eighth end his boys were leading 12-6. On the ninth end K. Bissett's rink by some clever curling slipped over a big six to tie up the old ball game. On the final end, first one was shot and then the other, till one of the Downey quartette missed and then immediately Bissett started putting on guards. And that was the way it remained up to the time Downey came to play the last stone of the game. Bissett's side was shot just outside the four-foot ring and well guarded. There was nothing for Downey to do but play an in-turn draw shot right to the two-foot circle. He looked the situation over and then walked down the ice to the far end of the rink. On the way down he went through several limbering-up exercises and when he was about to deliver his stone, we saw him bow his head, and it seemed to us he might be saying a little prayer. However, Mr. Downey played his stone down that long stretch of 126 feet of ice, and with the help of some fine sweeping from the boys his stone stopped right on the edge of the two-foot circle—and won the game.

Once before in this column we said: "There are many Downeys, but only one Ross Frederick Downey." We were told on good authority that the Downey cat received two saucers of cream this morning.

To-night's mixed rink bonspiel is at 7:45, fee 25c. Lunch will be served at the conclusion of the games.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Ontario Agricultural College cagers of Guelph comes here tonight to tackle Outboard Marines "A" intermediates in an 8.15 exhibition game at the Collegiate. It may be preceded by a "Y" tussle but we haven't heard for sure at this writing. George Gray, former PCVS ace basketeer, is with the OAC outfit, as is Kevin Kennedy, who played outfield and did some pitching for Batawa last summer in the COBL. The team is reported strong and should extend the good Marines squad on the roomy Collegiate floor. Basketball is in full swing here now with the girls' and men's loops going strong and the COSSA schedules commencing.

* * * * * *

Trent Valley League hockey results should be in elsewhere tonight for games played last eve, at least those received in time to catch the sports deadline. District interest is warming up now in this lively circuit and good crowds generally attend the games. Play is Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights, with one club having to sit it out in turn as Stirling dropped from the 10-team loop. Games listed for Monday evening are: Tweed at Norwood, Warkworth at Frankford, Campbellford at Lakefield (that one should draw well), and Hastings at Marmora.

Games Coming Up

Let's see what the OHA setup for this borough is next week. Three local squads saw action last night. Monday at Civic Arena is a return senior "B" joust between the Petes and Legion, with the same clubs meeting again here Wednesday, it being the Petes' home game that night. Legion then rests the remainder of the week but the Petes have a Saturday night engagement with Toronto Meteors over in Lindsay. Our junior "B" Triple Links trek to Whitby next Wednesday and they take on Oshawa here on Friday in the gloaming. Yeah, plenty of OHA action locally these weeks it the ice lasts.

* * * * * *

Whether or not Toronto Bells have dropped out of the senior "B" group we don't know. Nothing official on it but a rumor to that effect. It's an odd grouping with a mixture of senior "B" and intermediate clubs aboard. Took some tall figuring to work out a schedule suitable to all, owing to hefty hauls. For instance, the Petes played in Stouffville, but Stouffville only comes here once—and then to meet Legion. Latter doesn't go to Stouffville but will go to Markham, whereas Markham will play the Petes (but not the Legion) here. Still following us? Bells declined to travel further than Lindsay, while Lindsay and 'Caygeon want no part of games with the Petes or Legion. So these latter two teams play some extra games. Have you got it now?

* * * * * *

It Was A Honey!

Last night's senior "B" number here was as neat a one for an opener — the Mayor officialy opened the rink — as you'd wish to see. Legion beat the Petes 6-5 but 'twas by the skin of their teeth. Those Petes' veterans showed plenty of their old fight in the third period to outscore Legion 4-1 and only lose out by a goal in the final two minutes of a fine fray. It was a fast fixture on excellent ice before a full house. Not a sellout but not far from one. The oldtime enemies played for keeps with a couple of fights and a lot of sly slashing and elbowing—and we'll bet any part of a sawbuck there'll be blood on the moon ere long in one of their matches. They just don't like each other.

* * * * * *

Honey Tompkins stood out in defeat. He scored four goals and played a whale of a game. Johnny Godfrey and Sixty Coombs led the Legion attack with three points each, as Bert Hill and Toodie Greenlaw were in on a pair apiece. Both goalies were good, no soft goals being scored in this tussle. The defences weren't sparing the body any, either, when they got a fair crack at an opponent. Ned Vitarelli was out of town till late in the game, so didn't see action. Yeah, it was a typical Petes-Legion battle and we look forward to their tangles twice next week, Monday and Wednesday. They'll draw the crowd with that kind of hockey.

They Get Better

North Toronto Lions took a 7-3 OHA junior "B" decision over our Triple Links in Richmond Hill last night, but we're told it was much closer than the score indicates. Actually, the IOOF-ers (who are showing marked improvement every time out now) outplayed the Lions more than half the game and deserved a tighter score. Art Pagett was acting coach for this one, and the boys hustled every minute in a speedy and clean contest. Ted Collins scored a couple of goals, Don Floyd had one and an assist, and Cack Pagett aided on two. Byers was good in goal, also. The Oddfellows are young and a bit green yet, but give 'em time and you'll see a lot of classy pucksters coming from this squad.

Ski Patrols Maintain Close Watch

By W. R. WHEATLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Jan. 15.—(CP).—Somewhere up in the Laurentian hills today the call will go out for a ski patrolman. It may be only a minor accident, or perhaps some scatter-brained skier must be cautioned. It may be a matter of life and death.

Whatever the call, the patrolman will know what to do; that's what he trained for.

Harold Millard, chairman of the Laurentian zone ski patrol, kept his fingers crossed when he said there have been no major accidents so far this winter.

Millard heads a patrol of 145 men who voluntarily cover the Laurentian ski area. There are 35 more in training. Patrols objectives are to "prevent accidents before they happen" or at least reduce the number, and to provide first aid quickly.

A ski patrolman must take courses in first aid and pass a stiff test each year. He must also pass a skiing test, qualifying at least in Class 3 of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association.

The Laurentian zone patrol was organized in 1937, a branch of the Canadian ski patrol which itself is part of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association.

In addition to first aid work, the patrolman must police his area against the brash skier who is willing to endanger the lives of others as well as his own.

"That fellow must be sharply warned," said Millard. "Then there are people who think they can ski 10 hours when two should be their limit. The patrolmen cautions them in a friendly way: 'Better take it easy and rest: you're getting a bit pale and wobbly'."

3-Factory League Competition Keen

This week's team scores in the Raybestos, Nashua and Sealright Bowling League were comparatively close with the exception of the Molded Lining No. 2 score of 3,129, with which they led the league. The team scores were: Molded Lining No. 2, 3,129; Receiving, 2,957; Advertising, 2,827; Rubber Room, 2,795; Itstix, 2,745; Shipping, 2,692; Mustangs, 2,664; Molded Lining No. 1, 2,657; Sealright, 2,545; Office, 2,535.

Ladies' high three and high single were taken by S. Siddall with a three game total of 638 and a single of 323. Fred O'Toole took the high three with 1999 and the high single with a 295.

This is the team standing after this week's bowling: Itstix 47, Molded Lining No. 2 41, Shipping 41, Receiving 40, Mustangs 38, Molded Lining No. 1 29, Rubber Room 28, Advertising 27, Office 25, Sealright 24.

St. James Victors

St. James peewees of the Church hockey League defeated All Saints 5-1 at King Edward in a neat tussle. Hunt and Wright each scored two goals and Dugan one for the winners. The losers' lone tally was garnered by Hewitt. The teams:

All Saints: Goal, Rye; defence, Hollingsworth and Downer; centre, Carveth; Wings, Chamberlain and Hewitt; alternates, Montgomery, Yoke, Hutchison, Crowe, Morton, Johnston, Byers, and Vargo.

St. James: Goal, J. Phillips; defence, Keeting and Wright; centre, Hunt; wings, Smyth and Dugan; alternates, Johnson, Stevens, Curtis, Peters, Kent, McCallan and Hutchison.

Toronto Lions Extended Defeating IOOF Puckists

By FRED MAYBEE

Triple Links under acting coach Art Pagett, were great in defeat last night at Richmond Hill as they went down 7-3 at the hands of North Toronto Lions in a clean, lightning fast OHA junior "B" contest.

It was the second meeting of the season between the two clubs and though the Toronto team have won both, the score last night by no means indicates the play. Links actually out-played their rivals most of the way, particularly in the first and third periods but the breaks favored Lions as they took advantage of what apportunities came their way to click for the necessary margin of victory. But Triple Links fought throughout to make it a battle, from start to finish.

Ron Hinde, crack left-winger for the yellow and black squad pulled the hat trick to net three goals, two in the second period, to prove the individual star of the game while Doug Dyson copped a goal and an assist. Cliff Lawrence, Jim Barfield and Craig Robertson potted one apiece. Teeder Collins again sparked the first line for Peterboro with two goals while Don Floyd had one and an assist and Cack Pagett two assists.

Every Triple Link player played his heart out for the cause to surprise the home team and thrill the spectators with an exciting and wide open hockey game.

Started It

North Toronto opened the scoring at the 4.05 mark when Lawrence potted the disc on a pass out from Sinclair, following a wild scramble around the Link net. Collins evened the count for Peterboro on a neat pass from Don Floyd on a beautiful play that beat Crouch all the way.

Ronny Hinde got his first biscuit however at the 15 minute mark from Barfield to put his team one up at the end of the first session with Peterboro actually outplaying the strong rival squad. Barfields tally from Kett midway in the second put Lions two up but Teeder Collins again closed the gap to a margin of one from Pagett and Berwick, seconds later, as the teams battled tooth and nail.

Got A Break

Lions break came late in this stanza as Hinde clicked on two rather lucky counters one from Kett and Vousden. Jack Byers was good in goal for Peterborough as he stopped at least six or seven shots for every one scored against him. Many of his saves were remarkable as he fell on loose pucks repeatedly and speared shots from all angles.

Each team scored one in the third as Links fought furiously to add to their total but Lions, though tested, held on grimly to maintain their margin gained to the end, in a thrilling struggle.

North Toronto—Goal, Crouch; defence, Barringham and Robertson; center, Barfield; wings, Kett and Hinde; alternates, Popadiuk, Dyson, Wolfe, Brown, Edwards, Lawrence, Sinclair, Vousden, Lyall.

Triple Links—Goal, Byers; defense, Berwick and Anderson; center, Pagett; wings, Floyd and Collins; alternates, Grainger, Truss, Crowley, Wyatt, Miller, O'Heron, Hickson, Whitnell, Birch.

Referee—K. Braithwaite, Toronto; linesman, Frank Moat, Toronto.

Varsity Downs Queens In Rugged Tangle

TORONTO, Jan. 15 (CP) — Led by right-winger Bob Henry with three goals, University of Toronto Blues edged Queen's University Gaels 4-3 Friday night in a rugged Intercollegiate Hockey League fixture.

Varsity took a 2-1 lead in the second frame and were never headed despite terrific pressure by Queen's.

Paul Hutzriak was terrific in the nets for Varsity while Wilf Digby, Ernie Frey and Cec Turcot were also standouts for the Toronto group.

Carrying the attack for Queen's was Ken Potts, who tallied twice, and Don Murray with a singleton.

L'il Arthur King Wins N.Y. Bout

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (CP) — The new talent, all-star boxing card at Madison Square Garden here Friday night really paid off — all the new-comers, who have scored recent impressive semi-final Garden victories, won.

Lil Arthur King of Toronto, 134¼, British Empire lightweight champion, floored Willie Beltram, 139¼, of New York, six times while winning a unanimous eight-round decision.

A crowd of 14,421 paid $44,639 to see the card.

In racking up his 23rd victory in 24 professional fights—he has reversed the one decision he dropped—L'il Arthur showed the same flashing left hand that won him the respect of fans in his two previous fights here.

He had Beltram out on his feet in the third round but could not finish him before the bell. In the fourth he floored the Bronx belter for counts of three, nine and one in the first 90 seconds. Then Beltram rallied, connected with a solid left hook and managed to hold on for the rest of the round.

L'il Arthur was penalized, losing the seventh round for "unnecessary roughness," after repeated warnings from the referee for pushing away the clinging Beltram.

Remember When...

By The Canadian Press

Governors of the National Hockey League decided seven years ago today to impose automatic fines of $25 each on players taking part in fights they did not originate. The rule was intended to discourage free-for-all brawls similar to those which had broken out in New York, Chicago and Montreal during the 1940-41 season.

Montreal Still Ahead

MONTREAL, Jan. 15 (CP) — University of Montreal Carabins hung up their second victory of the season over McGill University Redmen Friday night, beating their inter-city rivals 5-2 in a Senior Intercollegiate Union hockey game before 3,000 Forum fans. The triumph allowed the league-leading Carabins to maintain their four-point lead over the second-place University of Toronto Blues, who edged Queen's 4-3 Friday night.

Consider Montreal

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP) — Montreal or New York's Borough of Queen's may be Newark Bears new home during the 1949 International League baseball season. The Bears have been invited to move their franchise to Montreal and are also considering a plan to shift to Queens and operate from the famed Bushwick semi-pro park.

British Actors Doing Well On Broadway

BY PAT USSHER

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (CP)—A noteworthy element of the New York theatre this season is the series of fine performances contributed by British actors.

An outstanding example is the characterization by Robert Morley in 'Edward, My Son." The heavy-set Briton gives a superb portrayal in the fat role of an unpleasant business man who devotes life to cherishing a worthless son. Morley also is co-author of the play, collaborating on the writing end with Noel Langley.

Another Briton, Peggy Ashcroft, was equally impressive in the principal femine role during the play's early run. Later she was replaced by Adrianne Allen. Most of the competent cast is British.

More Than Matinee Idol

"Anne of the Thousands Days" enabled Rex Harrison to prove that he is something more than a matinee idol. He interpreted the role of Henry VIII in the Maxwell Anderson play with depth and skill. Joyce Redman fiery and gripping performance as the ill-fated Anne Boleyin.

Other productions in which British players showed their talents to advantage included "The Madwoman of Chaillot" with Martita Hunt in the principal role; "Goodby My Fancy" with Madeleine Carroll starring; and "Make Way For Lucia," with Cyril Ritchard, Isabel Jeans, Catherine Willard and others.

An exceptionally fine acting job was that of Margaret Phillips, in Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke." Miss Phillips comes from the little town of Chmgwrach, in wales.

Planning Department

Hume Cronyn, actor from London, Ont., has renewed his option on the Elaine Ryan dramatization of "Now I Lay Me Down To Sleep" by Ludwig Bemelmans. The option now runs until January, 1950 Cronyn plans to direct the production which he says will be an expensive one. . . Margaret Sullavan has declined to appear in "People Like Us," on the grounds that it is substantially the same play as "Spellbound," which was produced here in 1927.

CHILDREN who normally greet a visit to the barber's with tears, now shed them when they leave the Children's Toyland hairdresser's recently established in a Kingston, Surrey, England department store. Here toddlers are seen riding cars and horses while their hair is slipped almost without their noticing it. Meanwhile, mother is shopping in the other departments of the store. Her problem is to get the tots to leave when she's ready to go.

Montreal, Chicago Tangle For Third Place Berth

By PIERRE DUBOIS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

There'll be a lot of people under surveillance in the Montreal Forum tonight as Chicago Black Hawks tangle with Canadiens in a National League fixture with third place at stake. In the only other Saturday NHL fixture, New York Rangers meet Maple Leafs in Toronto.

At Montreal, Les Habitants will be shadowing Roy Conacher and Doug Bentley, the circuit's leading scorers, while up in the stands the ushers will be watching for hooliganism among the fans.

The zany, missile-throwing hockey fan is by no means new, least of all in Montreal. Not so many years back the Forum was noted for its "Millionaires Row".

You never could tell what the "Millionaires," who paid an admission of 50 cents, would throw onto the ice surface. Indications that such shenanigans are again on the upswing came last Saturday when the ice-sweepings showed some fans were armed with potatoes.

One customer uncorked a wild pitch with an empty whisky bottle aimed at Referee King Clancy. The shot missed its mark but clipped an usher. A second usher was fired for not tending to chores in his section. Then, to top it off, what should another fan hurl at the arbiter during a mid-week senior amateur game but a fresh herring.

Clancy went on to New York Sunday to be conked in the eye with a coin thrown by a Madison Square Garden fan.

On the heels of these two incidents Clancy, recognized as one of hockey's all-time greats as a player, announced his retirement at the end of this season as an official.

To get back to tonight's games, Coach Charlie Conacher has kept his Hawks in trim, taking advantage during the week of a break in the schedule for exhibition games with Ottawa and Quebec of the Quebec Senior League. The Hawks won easily in both contests, and Roy Conacher sharpened his sights by scoring eight goals, four a game.

In Toronto, the Rangers are expected to show more go and drive after Coach Lyn Patrick's pep-talk this week. He said his boys can do better than they did in recent games against Montreal and the league-leading Detroit Red Wings.

All six teams swing into action Sunday with Canadiens at Detroit, Toronto at Rangers and Chicago at Boston.

INSTRUCTORS GRADUATE

Collingwood—The season's first group of ski instructors was graduated Friday from the Ontario governmen's travelling school at Collingwood. Thirteen of the class of 70 were graduated by Travel Minister Cecile as assistant professional instructors and the rest were given the rank of "registered amateurs."

The school, forst government-sponsored ski-school in the province, now moves to Port Arthur for its second six-day course.

Outclassed Canuck Team Calls For More Men, Money

WINNIPEG, Jan. 15.—(CP). — Anguished cries for help of the Sudbury Wolves echoed through the ranks of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association today and it seemed likely that aid would soon be on the way for Canada's representative at the world championships in Stockholm.

George Dudley of Midland, Ont., secretary-manager of the C.A.H.A., told delegates at the Association's semi-annual meeting here Friday that the hapless Wolves, after a forlorn showing against teams in exhibition games in Britain, had cabled for three players of top calibre.

Coach Max Silverman sent message to the CAHA and Mr. Dudley said a request also had been made for additional funds.

Delegates decided to leave the matter of aid for the Wolves in the hands of the Association officers. But because of Canada's prestige in the world of hockey, and taking into account the poor showing of the Wolves so far, it was felt by observers that steps would be taken to bolster the Canadian squad.

Tie Game in Scotland

DUNFERMLINE, Scotland, Jan. 15—(CP)—Sudbury Wolves, Canada's entry in the forthcoming world hockey championships at Stockholm, ended a seven-game Scottish tour Friday with a 1-1 tie with Dunfermline Vikings.

During the Scottish tour they suffered three defeats, won two and tied two. They scored 19 goals to 20 against.

Fatty Rebellato, 20-year-old left winger of the Wolves, scored the tying goal in the third period. Art Sullivan of Toronto, scored the Viking tally.

After the game the Wolves left for Nottingham, England, where they will play one game before returning to London.

Plan Benefit Game For Injured Player

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 15 (Staff)—A Bob Chittick Night, with benefits going to Lakefield intermediate Hockey Club's injured player, will be held at Lakefield shortly. The decision was made Thursday night at a meeting of officials of the club. Chittick received a fractured skull on Wednesday night in a game at Warkworth. He is now in Civic Hospital, Peterborough.

Marlboros Pay $2,000 For Queen's Player

TORONTO, Jan. 15 (CP) — In a new move to bolster their club, Toronto Marlboros of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A loop have paid a reported $2,000 for the services of defenceman Hugh Bolton of Queen's University, it was announced Friday night.

Bolton, who started out with Young Rangers of the Junior A division, played with the Dukes last season and for a while this season.

Gene Chouinard, coach of the Queen's hockey team, said Friday night that "Marlboros gave Bolton $2,000 to finish out the season, and will give him $3,000 to play for the Marlboros Senior next season." Chouinard was in Toronto for the University of Toronto-Queen's University Intercollegiate game.

SCOTS WIN OVER TORONTO

The touring Scottish curlers rallied Friday to defeat a team of Toronto district rinks 47-41 in a five-game match after taking a 50-26 shellacking earlier in the day. The Scots, touring the United States and Canada, won three of the five afternoon matches.

City Carpetball

There is a strong rumour going around that the Fighting Parsons are dickering with Joe Louis to come in as their trainer owing to the trimmings they have received during the past week. In the first place they got tangled up with the Scotch Thistles and got scratched to pieces, leaving with many a burr sticking to their pants—losing the first double header of the season 7-0 and 4-15. Thinking of getting patched up, they visited the Treasurer's gang for a loan, but these money-grabbers, taking advantage of their weakened condition, stripped the Fighting Parsons of all they had, making it a dull week for the league leaders by repeating a double loss for the Saints 6-9 and 9-14.

Garside's Spark Plugs went after some additional points but the best they could do in the games they played was divide the points. In their first against King Billie and his gang, the Spark Plugs managed to get the odd one in the final frame to win 11-10 but slipped badly in the second to lose 9-20. They fare a little better in points against the Bouncers, losing the first 9-12 but came back with a 15-6 win in the last frame.

Schedule

The first games must be played during the coming week or else: LOI No. 3 vs Glengarrys No. 7, LOL No. 4 vs Woollens No. 8, LOL No. 3 vs Woollens No. 8.

Schedule balance of last week: LOL No. 3 vs LOL No. 4, BESL No. 6 vs BESL No. 6, Glengarrys No. 7 vs Woollens No. 8.

This week: Treasurer No. 1 vs BESL No. 6, SOE No. 2 vs LOL No. 4, BESL No. 5 vs Glengarrys No. 7, Woollens No. 8 vs BESL No. 9.

Next week: Treasurers No. 1 vs BESL No. 9, SOE No. 2 vs Glengarrys No. 7, LOL No. 3 vs BESL No. 6, LOL No. 4 vs BESL No. 5.

Only four results sent in during the past week. One apparently held up. Let us have these results right away. Keep up the good work of signing the cards, it helps a lot.

BISONS GET ROBERTSON

Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League announced Friday night that George Robertson, 21-year-old left winger, has been acquired from the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League. He will make his debut in the A.H.L. against the Springfield Indians Sunday night.

Kitchener-Waterloo Regain Sr. OHA Lead

By The Canadian Press

Kitchener - Waterloo Flying Dutchmen took over the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A leadership Friday night—the first time since their unprecedented player-cash-deal in mid-December.

The revamped Dutchmen, who acquired Billy Flick and Mickey Roth from Stratford Indians for $5,000 and four players, ran their total to 42 points by defeating the veteran Hamilton Tigers 4-2 in Hamilton.

The win moved the Dutchmen one point ahead of the idle Toronto Marlboros.

In the Junior A circuit, Stratford Kroehlers downed the second-place Barrie Flyers 3-2 in overtime, the sixth-place Guelph Biltmores beat the eighth-place Galt Rockets 7-2 and St. Catharines Teepees battled to a 5-5 overtime draw against Oshawa Generals.

Four Junior games are scheduled for today. Toronto Marlboros meet Toronto St. Michael's College, St. Catharines plays Oshawa, Barrie Flyers clash with Windsor Spitfires and Guelph plays a return match with Galt.

Make Necessities Not Luxuries British Experts Tell France

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, Jan. 15—(CP).—British trade experts are telling French manufacturers to forget about luxury goods and devote more time to producing necessities. The French reply that they're doing their best, and suggest that Britain might be more generous regarding purchases in France.

Differences between the two countries were underlined when Britain submitted her long-range plans to the organization for European co-operation. These indicated she would spend about $26,000,000 on equipment in western Europe in the next four years, while selling about $403,000,000 worth in the same area.

French spokesmen immediately protested this was unfair to their country France would be left with an adverse sterling balance which would upset her economy.

Want Plans Modified

The French have been consistently pressing Britain to modify her plans, and to open her markets to French goods, perhaps admitting a greater flow of luxuries until essential industries become better established. One of France's gravest problems it to increase her industrial production.

Foreign Secretary Bevin referred to French distress in a House of Commons address. The British luxury market had gone, he said, and "it's no use trying to hang onto something which one cannot have in any event."

"Britain, with her new needs, with her greater equality of income, will for along time be a necessity market," he said. "I therefore appeal to my friends in France to shape their economy to meet a necessity market, rather than a non-essential one."

THIS IS "MUSIC while you work", Czechoslovakian brand. A brass band plays while youths, beneath portraits of Stalin and Czech President Klement Gottwald, labor at their bench in a Prague screw factory. The New Year holiday in Czechoslovakia ended with the inauguration of a new five-year economic plan which follows a two-year plan stated by President Gottwald to have produced a 10 per cent increase in production over 1938. The plan was launched throughout the country with banners extolling Stalin and Gottwald and decorated with slogans calling for increased effort from the workers. Two days later, January 5, the workers learned of a new official edict. Prices of practically everything were upped, some as much as 100 per cent. A market of "free" rationed goods was set up, with prices ranging from 400 per cent to 2,800 per cent over the rationed level.

A Huge Generator Or A Mammoth Churn Could Embarrass The Sales And Ad Club

Sales and Ad club members are hoping city manufacturers get their orders straight on the meeting next Tuesday at the Empress Hotel. That is "Manufacturer's Night," when each industry has been invited to display one item. If the C.G.E. decides on a refrigerator or a stove, that's O. K., but what if they sent a huge generator, or if the DeLaval sent a mammoth churn? It would be a bit embarrassing.

James Wharry is head of the committee handling the details and through the cooperation of another member Jack Jobe, Sales Manager of Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Co., all members and guests will be taken on a tour through the Lock Co. This firm manufactures more than 4,000 items, and 80 employees will return to work that night so that the visitors will get a complete picture of the processes.

Don Henshaw, a director of the McLaren Adertising Agency, will be the guest speaker. It is a return engagement for this top flight orator.

Heads of all industries in the city hall will be guests of the Sales and Ad club at this meeting, and along with the members will get a first hand picture of the manifold products from Peterborough's industries.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Ontario junior provincial ski championship competition will be held Feb. 26-27 at Dagmar, 38 miles north of here, it was announced at Toronto Friday night. Officials of the Toronto Ski Club, sponsors of the meet, say they hope to have representation from the Gatineau and Lake Superior areas.

Miss Tilly, sensational Connecticut-owned three-year-old filly, heads the list of 74 eligibles for the 1949 Hambletonian Stake, the Hambletonian Society announced Friday at New York. The trotting classic, harness racing's Kentucky Derby, will be held at Good Time Park, Goshen, NY, Aug. 10. Miss Tilly, a sturdy bay owned by Charles W. Phellis, Greenwich sportsman, became the largest money-winning two-year-old trotter of all time last season. The daughter of Nibble Hanover captured five major stake races over mile tracks without the loss of a heat, collecting $49,876.

Hal Newhouser, Detroit Tigers' 27-year-old southpaw pitching star, came up with a new and different delivery Friday. Newhouser became the first player of the club to deliver his signed 1949 contract. Frequently he has been the last. The salary figure wasn't announced, but Hal's 1949 pay cheque will be at least $55,000 and possibly as much as the $60,000 he earned two years ago. Last year he received an estimated $50,000.

At Detroit, Boxing Commissoiner Floyd Stevens Friday granted Tony Galento permission to wrestle in Michigan after a nine-year suspension. Galento was suspended Feb. 3, 1939, after he knocked out Natie Brown in the fourth round of a boxing bout. Fight officials said they didn't like the way the fight ended.

Sunday Football Spat Expected

OTTAWA, Jan. 15 — (CP) — Sunday football—a contentious issue of long standing in the Interprovincial Rugby Union—may be food for some sharp discussion at the league executive meeting ing here today.

If the matter does come up, and League President E. K. (Eddie) Emerson of Ottawa thinks it will, the battle lines will probably form in their usual pattern.

Ottawa Rough Riders and Montreal Alouettes may favor Sunday games. Toronto Argonauts and the Hamilton Tigers may be expected to take the other side.

Montreal had Sunday engagements last year but Argos and Hamilton didn't want any part of them.

Emerson explains why he favors Sunday football. "It now costs more than $100,000 a year to run a team," he says. "It used to be draw 20,000 fans on Sunday where only $6,000. That makes football big business, and if Montreal can Saturday, then they must have Sunday football. The league should be operated to the best advantage of all teams concerned."

Aside from Sunday football discussions, there isn't likely to be much to liven up proceedings at the meeting.

Emerson has said he will bring up the matter of losses incurred by Rough Riders in their trip to Toronto for the Grey Cup game last November which saw them whipped 12-7 by Calgary Stampeders.

Emerson's suggestion is that prices of tickets to the big game be increased. "When a man pays $30 or $40 to go to Toronto from Ottawa for the final, it's silly for him to pay only $1 to get in to the game."

TO PLAY IN JAPAN

From New York comes word that the winners of the Little World Series and the Pacific Coast League play-off champion will play a seven-game exhibition series in Japan this fall, if Frank Shaughnessy's plan is approved. Shaughnessy, president of the International League, is keenly interested in bringing baseball to Japan to entertain United States troops over there and help recreate goodwill of the Japanese toward the American people.

SIR OLIVER FRANKS, British Ambassador to the United States, is shown leaving the White House recently following a 30-minute talk with President Truman on the Jewish-Arab crisis.

CANADA FROM COAST TO COAST

Regina blossomed overnight, from tent city in 1882 to today's 64,000. From the beginning, she was imbued with the enterprising, adventurous, restless spirit characteristic of the western plains. Regina is a city to be reckoned with: Centre of one of the continent's most famed farming areas, the flat, heavy clay soil is admirably suited to mechanized farming. Regina is also a great merchandising, distributing and convention city. To the annual Regina exhibition and rodeo come Canadian and American visitors in their thousands. Here, too, are the headquarters of the "Redcoats," Canada's own famed Royal Canadian Mounted Police. In industry, art, education, she has made giant strides. Her cancer clinic is one of the finest on the continent. But, come, see for yourself, this city of clean, dignified, fresh beauty . . . the city that grew from a settlement of tents to the lusty greatness that is Regina today.

Sydney G. Dobson, President, declares private enterprise the very basis of Canada's progress and freedom—Right to take risks and reap rewards the major motivating force in country's development—"Socialism and communism are not systems of freedom, but of rationed democracy, in which liberty is doled out like social security benefits.

James Muir, Vice-President and General Manager, reports high records in field of Canadian Banking—Royal Bank assets exceed $ 2,000,000—Deposits reach new Canadian record of $2,067,488,000—Profits moderately higher—$4,000,000 added to Reserve Fund.

The threat to personal freedom inherent in the Socialist and Communist philosophies, and the high promise of Canada's future were stressed at the Annual Meeting of the Shareholders of The Royal Bank of Canada. "On the evidence before the world today, capitalism works," said Sydney G. Dobson, President. "It works so well that the lowest paid workers in these North American democracies are better fed, better housed, and better supplied with the comforts of life than are the great mass of the population of collectivist countries. And they enjoy freedom."

"Our successful development of natural resources confirms our belief in private enterprise as the best motivating force in an economic system. All the natural resources imaginable are useless until they are brought out where they can be turned into serviceable goods, and the primary seeker, the most successful finder, and the greatest manufacturer has been private enterprise.

"Under this system people think hard and work hard because there are reasonable rewards. The need of incentives is recognized in every country where men are free to choose whether they shall work or not work, and how hard they shall work.

"In all collectivist economies—Communistic or Socialistic—the idea prevails that dictators or bureaucrats can arrange the lives of people better than people can do it for themselves. Capitalism, on the other hand, believes that individuals should be free to express their abilities and thereby bring about a better standard of living and a better social order.

"Our system hinges on initiative, the right to take a reasonable profit from such enterprises as are successful and the obligation to stand such losses as may be incurred in enterprises which fail.

THREAT TO FREEDOM

"Socialism and Communism do not seek to make the best of people's minds and enterprise. On the contrary, their process is to level all people by dragging down those who might have superior attainments. They need a strong centralized government with control over all sections of the economy They are not systems of freedom, but of rationed democracy, in which liberty is doled out like social security benefits. Incentives are lost, and individual initiative is smothered. Standards of work and product remain unimproved, because jobs are assured without regard for efficiency or performance. The ambition of men declines to doing just as much as has to be done and no more. Progress is sacrificed to a worship of averages—and they are averages somehow arrived at so as to be well within the reach of the least progressive. Promotion on merit is abandoned in favour of promotion in turn. Skilled workers receive very little more than unskilled workers. It is only natural that such a state of affairs should drive the best brains out of a country.

"I believe in equality, so long as it is equality of opportunity in education, careers and public life. Socialism is a force which holds back, while enterprise is a force which propels us forward, and gives men and women a chance to display their talent and their worth."

FOREIGN TRADE

While Canada's export figures had shown satisfactory gains during the past few months, Mr. Dobson warned that, "there is nothing in our foreign trade picture today about which we can afford to be complacent.

"Our present peak of business is being maintained to a large extent by artificial respiration in the form of credits from Canada and the United States. To realize our position we need only imagine what would be the state of our commerce—and therefore of our standard of living—if the Economic Recovery Programme and our own loans to Europe were suddenly cut off.

"It is true that we can examine our rising export business of the past few months with certain satisfaction. Last October saw us strike a new high record in domestic exports, both in total and in shipments to the United States. Our total in the first 11 months of 1948 was $250 million higher than in the corresponding period of 1947."

Turning to domestic affairs, Mr. Dobson noted that while the pressure of demand has tended to push prices steadily higher, there has been a levelling off in the rate of increase.

PRICES

"It is with regard to prices," he said, "that the manufacturer and the business man have their greatest worries. No matter how they balance increased labor costs with technical advance, and other increased costs with prevention of waste, they are driven, in spite of all their ingenuity, to raise prices to their customers.

"It seems to me that those who work for wages are ill-advised when they rush into demands which are planned to give them an immediate advantage through increased wages, while losing sight of the fact that there is an important long-term aspect to be considered. How much money a worker makes is far less significant than how much he can buy, and if he is to buy anything at all his employer must be able to stay in competition with manufacturers in the rest of the world."

ELECTRIC POWER

The importance of Canada's hydro-electric power development to the national economy was emphasized by Mr. Dobson. Wide distribution of power and its healthy development had been, he said, vital factors in promoting Canada's industrial progress and maintaining a high standard of living. "Each installed hydraulic horse-power, if operated continuously throughout the year, would be the equivalent of the power obtained from four tons of coal. On this basis, the present hydraulic installation in Canada might be said to represent the annual use of about 44 million tons of coal.

"There are still large reserves available for development. A government tabulation shows 40 million horse-power available, and a little less than eleven million developed by turbine installation."

Discovery of additional oil in Alberta and Saskatchewan was a favorable development to which Mr. Dobson made special reference. "It has become evident," said Mr. Dobson, "that Western Canada, and particularly Alberta, has become one of the brightest prospects for our future supply. It is forecast that by 1950 the oil requirements of our Prairies will be satisfied out of home production and there my be a surplus available for other markets. This is important because every barrel of oil produced and consumed in Canada conserves from three to five dollars of United States dollar exchange."

CONCLUSION

"I believe that more attention needs to be paid to the education of our people in the responsibilities as well as the advantages of democratic citizenship. Too much stress is being placed, these days, on human rights and not enough on human obligations. If it is reasonable for a man to expect to be taken care of when disaster threatens or strikes him, he should be educated to know that he needs to contribute his share to the welfare of the nation. I deplore the increasing trend among a portion of the younger generation today to think too much of security and not enough about going out and really accomplishing something for themselves.

"We live in a world where we should not expect to receive something for nothing. This is an old, old law recognized in economics, and no discovery by any political party or reform faction has ever found a permanent substitute. Queer creeds based on ease and leisure may rise and flourish for a time, but they always run into difficulty which can be overcome only by work."

GENERAL MANAGER'S ADDRESS

Mr. James Muir, Vice-President and General Manager, reviewed the bank's 1949 Annual Report and noted that new high water marks in the bank's progress had been established during 1948. Assets had topped $2,222,000,000, a point never before reached. The bank's liquid assets equalled 74% of all liabilities to the public. Commercial loans in Canada had also increased, denoting "an expansion of connections and clients as well as the fulfilment of the additional needs of old customers." Mr. Muir also noted a further substantial increase in the number of depositing clients and total deposits of $2,067,488,000, an increase of $133,303,000 over the previous year, and a new high water mark in the history of the bank. Earnings had been moderately higher, and in addition to providing for the customary deductions including taxes of $3,150,000 and increased dividends for Shareholders, had enabled the bank to transfer $4,000,000 to the Reserve Fund which not totalled $44,000,000. This left a carry forward in Profit and Loss Account of $1,532,000.

AID TO TRADE

The important role played by the Royal Bank's extensive system of foreign branches in furthering Canada's trade was stressed by Mr. Muir. "We have had a half-century's experience in this regard," he said. "Our oldest branch outside Canada and Newfoundland, and still in operation, is that in Havana, Cuba, opened fifty years ago this spring. Apart from those in Newfoundland, we have at present 62 branches outside Canada, and, in addition to this direct representation which covers New York, London, Paris and most South American countries as well as the Caribbean area, we have unsually extensive correspondent relations with banks throughout the world. Your bank is in a preferred, if not unique, position to facilitate, as it has for many years facilitated, Canada's foreign trade activities.

NEED FOR ENTERPRISE

"Whatever the outlook for Canadian business in the short run, our long-run position should be secure. For our economic fortunes as a nation depend, not on disturbing short run ups and downs, but on our tremendous wealth in natural resources. Of course, natural resources are of little use unless they are developed. And I agree heartily, therefore, with what the President has just said about the need for ambition and enterprise.

"We Canadians might appraise ourselves and our possibilities a little higher than we are inclined to do. No country on earth has a future that promises to surpass or even to equal ours. Whenever we forget that fact some Canadian voice must speak out, reminding us both of the greatness of our resources and the responsibility that rests upon us to take a mature and an ardent view of Canada's capacity for economic development. Then, surely, a breed of courageous, clear-sighted and Canada-conscious men will arise who will become acutely seized of the fact that we are in duty bound to develop these resources and endowments and deal with them in our day for the greater good of generations of Canadians yet to come.

PRAISE FOR STAFF

"It is no secret that public opinion of the bank is formed by and large through dealings with the staff, and so the Royal Bank's prestige is largely dependent on personnel — for it is through them that the bank is known to the world for what it is — good, bad, or indifferent. In all modesty, I feel I can properly say that the bank is held in the highest esteem, not only in Canada but in the many countries where we have branches.

We have a large organization, 10,587 men and women, and if there is sometimes a tendency for members of the staff to feel that they are but very small cogs in a vast machine, I ask them to dismiss the thought, for every single job in the bank is important—every single job must be well done. That our staff, both men and women, are discharging these important duties with untiring efficiency and in good spirit is properly exemplified in the fact that the success embodied in this year's Annual Report is in no small measure due to their efforts. The Executive are fully aware of this — and acknowledge it gratefully.

"We have reason to be proud of our staff, and on their behalf I can tell the shareholders, the public, and our clients that they can all reply on the knowledge that the members of the staff will endeavour to continue to serve them well — with efficiency — with accuracy — and with friendliness."

Best Good Of All Come Out Hilly Village Of Nazareth

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D .D.

It would be interesting to know how many of the world's great teachers and leaders, religious and otherwise, have come from small towns and lowly homes.

Jesus came from both. He was a small-town boy, and the carpenter's home Nazareth must have been quite lowly. But Jesus glorified both the small town and the lowly home. It was a part of His mission in life to bring blessedness and glory into humble lives and lowly places, to give new life and new environment, no matter how ordinary and commonplace everything had been before.

The little town of Nazareth would never have been heard of but for the Boy who grew up there. It was just an ordinary, unnotable Galilean village. It is not mentioned anywhere in the Old Testament, and there is no reference to it in the pages of Josephus, or in the Talmud. If men spoke of it at all, it was as a no-account place, as one in our modern world might speak of "Podunk," or some typically no-account and unimportant place. It was not without warrant that Nathaniel said, "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?"

Yet the best of all came out of that hill village. The unknown town was destined to become among the world's most famous places, And, best of all, the town ignored or held in ill contempt, was strangely well fitted to be the environment of that wonderful Boy.

Here, remote from busy and troubled Jerusalem, the Boy could grow up in that normal development, which Luke sums up in the simple sentence, "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man." These words of Luke are all that we have concerning the long years of preparation from 12 to 30.

Yet to some extent we can fill in the picture, and what we find further emphasizes the fitting nature of that home and environment in Nazareth. A mile away, from the brow of a hill, from which His enraged townsmen would later have thrown Him down, the boy Jesus could look out over a great part of the scenes of His later ministry.

The great caravans of trade, though they never touched the village, passed nearby in the valley, typical of the busy world, and of the "uttermost parts," to which the Master was to send the ambassadors of the Gospel. Here, too, though a town boy, He was near to the farms and fields, to husbandry and shepherds.

Remote, yet near to the world with its teeming masses and its tense problems, was the hill village. And near to the heart and mind of the growing Boy was the synagogue, to which He went "as was His custom," and to which He returned to begin His ministry.

"Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" "Come, and see."

Good Samaritans Required To Bring Peace To World

A Samaritan, as he Journeyed, Came Where he was, and When he Saw Him he had Compassion on Him. St. Luke 10:33.

Are you a sob sister, male or female. In this wellknown parable the priest and Levite were sob sisters. They felt sorry for the man but "they passed by on the other side" Your mind will be uplifted when you clearly understand the meaning of the Greek word for "compassion" which means as a modern scholar tells us "Moving toward with the outstretched hand." The Samaritan expresses this in his acts. He bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, homely remedies, took him to an inn and took care of him and provided for his future as far as possible.

The learned Jesuit, Bishop Goodier, says:—"If all the parables of Jesus were perfect, this parable of the Good Samaritan must be classed as the most perfect that ever fell from the lips of a man".

"A certain lawyer, (Doctor of Divinity) stood up and tempted Him, saying: Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?" He was not hostile. The word "tempted" means "trying, testing" Jesus answers by another, His frequent practice. "What is written in the Law. The lawyer immediately answers: — "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all the heart and with all thy soul and with all thy strength and with all thy mind and thy neighbour as thyself" Jesus said; Thou hast answered right, this do and thou shalt live". The lawyer asked the all important question; "who is my neighbour?"

"A certain man (a Jew) went down from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell among theives" This often happened on this dangerous road. "They stripped him of his raiment and left him half dead". A priest and a levite came and looked on him and passed by on the other side. They were men whose profession was to care for the hurt and distressed. They would not do anything but passed by on the other side

"A certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was and when he saw him he had compassion on him". You know what he did.

"A certain Samaritan". The Samaritans were descendants of Assisryans sent to Samaria when the ten tribes were taken away. They had Jewish blood in them by inter marriage. When the Jewish Temple was being rebuilt they were anxious to help but were refused. They built their own Temple on Mount Gerizim. There was bitter hatred between the two people. On this historical back ground "A certain Samaritan" might have passed by on the other side with the thought "The only good Jew is a dead Jew."

"A certain Samaritan poured in oil and wine and bound up his wounds and put him on his own beast and even took care of him and left "Two pence", two days wages at least, and provided for his future. When he returned he would pay anything further. "which now of these three was neighbour unto him that fell among thieves? The lawyer answered "He that showed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him. Go and do thou likewise.

A practical lesson. Can you be a good Samaritan. A hurt German, Russian, or some other nationality. It is true that such men are not easy to get on with. But God made them in His own image even as He has made up. It is a very hard lesson to learn that the Fatherhood of God includes all men.

Why should you do this? Because you are acting in the name of the Lord Jesus, who gave himself for all men. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these My brethren, ye have done it unto Me, is the Master's claim.

THE LORD JESUS SAITH, WHOSOEVER SHALL GIVE A CUP OF WATER TO DRINK IN MY NAME, VERILY I SAY UNTO YOU, HE SHALL NOT LOSE HIS REWARD.

Canterbury Memorials

CANTERRBURY, Jan. 15 (CP) —Memorials to two recent archbishops of Canterbury—Lang and Temple—are to be included in rebuilt Canterbury Cathedral and an appeal has been launched for funds to build them.

They will be chapels — long part of the fabric of the cathedral —converted or rebuilt for the purpose. The appeal is for £7,000 ($28,000).

Cosmo Gordon Lang was primate of the Church of England from 1929 until 1942, when he resigned, and he died the following year. After cremation he was buried in the chapel of St. Stephen the Marytr.

William Temple, elected in 1942, died two years later, after an episcopate whose accent was on the church's missionary endeavor. The Chapter decided on the chapel of St. John the Evangelist for his memorial and that the whole south transept "should be treated in such a manner as to strike a missionary note."

SAFETY MEASURES TAKEN

Three shields have been put up on traffic lights on the northwest corner of Park Hill Road and Water St. They are about a foot to a foot and a half in length. The lights are easily seen by drivers travelling west on Park Hill Rd. Drivers travelling south on Water St. are no longer confused by seeing the two sets of traffic lights.

Wells, Cisterns Full No Water Shortage

The recent soft spell may have been annoying to a lot of people but it was welcomed by farmers. Wells and cisterns were becoming quite low by the New Year and in some district water had to be hauled to supplement the supply.

In the village of Norwood J. R. Thompson had several customers before the thaw came. "Everyone has a good supply now," said Mrs. Thompson, "we have had no more calls."

Reeve James Gifford of Ennismore said water condition in the township were good. Down Cavan way, Sam Staples reports no change in water supply for each farm has an abundant supply of spring water and there never has been any shortage to his knowledge.

A BAD MARKET

A number of local district owners of chinchillas won't be happy to hear the word out of Toronto that the bottom has fallen out of the market at present for these rodents. An auction there on Wednesday saw some 45 chinchillas bringing only $2,000, despite the fact that it requires about 130 pelts to make a coat retailing at $80,000 to $120,000. Two years ago a live chinchilla here cost $800, but apparently now the market is over-stocked.

WESTERN STAMPEDE

A small western stampede occurred in the northend on Friday night when a team of horses broke loose from a sleigh and proceeded to go home. The horses raced across Water St., cut the corner and headed east on Inverlea St. Some boys walking west on Park Hill saw the horses heading down Dennistoun Ave. The horses were dragging part of the sleigh which had been used for a sleigh-ride. This part hit Morris Duke's parked car. One of the horses fell. Righting itself immediately the horses took up the pace again. Down an alley they sped into the back yards of the homes on Elcome Crescent. When last seen the horses were travelling down Water St. lickety-split.

533 New Homes Started In '48 In City, Suburbs

Permits for 307 houses were issued in Peterborough and its adjoining townships last year. Add the 226 Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation dwellings that are in various stages of building, and the total was 533.

Total investment in new construction in the city and its neighboring townships was $3,199,437. Most of that outlay was undertaken in the city and its suburban fringe.

Peterborough's permits were 193 houses $1,077,900; 142 garages $43.843; 746 miscellaneous $1,234,354. Total $2,356,097.

Smith topped the townships with permits represting $464,000, including 59 houses.

North Monaghan reported permits amounting to $140,290, most of which was to be spent on 22 houses.

Douro's permits were valued at $102,450 including 17 houses.

Thomas Weir of Otonabee informed the Examiner today that 42 permits were issued for a total value of $135,700. They included 16 houses in the area bordering the city representing $65,800. The others were for houses, cottages and new construction generally in the rural area of the township.

"One of the outstanding developments last year," Mr. Weir said, "was the building of houses in the district east of Burnham's woods. Some of this work was only temporary until the new houses are resumed next spring. The section down the old Keene Road in the neighborhood of the new Catholic parish hall also took on a new look. That section now has a general store, two new houses and parish hall."

The building permits in the four twonships showed an aggregate value of $848,340.

Red Cross Requested To Find Joseph Resko

Peterborough Branch of the Red Cross Society have been asked by their Ontario Division to assist in locating a man named Joseph Reski or Resko who lived in Peterborough a few years ago. The inquiry for Reski has been made by Father B. Reski who is in the Russian Zone of Germany.

"Josef Reski" is the name given by the inquirer from Germany, and it is believed that the former Peterborough resident may be the man. He was born in 1906 in Schellen Kr. Ropel, came to this continent in 1926. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of Joseph Resko is asked to telephone Mrs. Charles Ray.

Pupils Present Pageant On City's History

A splendid example of modern educational methods was demonstrated by the Grade VII pupils of Confederation School Friday, when they presented a cavalcade of Peterborough.

Under the leadership of their teacher, Mr. Arnold Olmstead, these enthusiastic boys and girls prepared this pageant as a correlation of their social studies, art, english and music.

The entire class of 37 pupils took part in the presentation. Jack Nurse, as narrator, introduced the play, reading from a script written by the pupils.

The first scene showed the early settlers in Peterborough with the Indians giving a welcome to Adam Scott and later to Peter Robinson as acted by Scott Pearson and Donald McIntosh. In pioneer days one of the chief forms of entertainment was the square dance which these young artists depicted in fine style with violin accompaniment by their teacher. Those taking part in the dance, included Ray Holland, Marlene Constable, Shirley Vaughan, Ray Brooks, Joan Walling, Don McIntosh, Shirley Linsey and Scott Pearton.

A pleasing solo number was the Highland Fling performed by Marlene Constable in Scottish dress. Reminiscent of the old time school concert was the graceful drill contributed by 12 girls in dainty blue and pink costumes.

"Peterborough today" was presented in short talks by seven pupils with appropriate pantomime to illustrate. Shirley Hawkins and Carl Simmons told of modern industries. Lillian Young spoke on religion. June Murphy on medical services, Lorraine Bullied on tourist trade; Allen Doleman on sport and Gail Burfield concluded with a talk on the school system.

A beautiful tableau was the fitting finale to this excellent production. Authentic costumes added much to the interest of the pageant which had for its background a large mural, artistically painted by a group of talented children under the direction of Mr. Olmstead and the supervisor of art, Miss C. E. Wagar.

The original sketch for this pioneer scene was drawn by Linda Jordan who was assisted by Patsy Caccavella, Dorothy Watkins and Lorraine Bullied in planning costumes and scenery.

Man Who Built 70 Years Ago Foresaw Day When Building Would Become A Store

A prediction by the late Joseph Lundy after whom Lundy's Lane was named, has come true.

Mr. Lundy, one of the first assessors in the city, built a semi-detached building at 338-340 Aylmer Street more than 70 years ago. At that time he predicted that one day the premises would be wanted as a store.

He was so sure of this that he built special brick columns at the corners of the building and inserted a huge wooden beam between the first and second floor, running parallel to the street.

This was to give the upper storey support and prevent the complete facing of the building being removed when the front was renovated for commercial purposes.

As Mr. Lundy had said, the building is now in demand as a store. And when the contractor tore away the brick front wall he was agreeably surprised to see the beam in good repair and exactly in the place where the Lundy family assured him it would be.

His two grandsons, Frank of Douglas Avenue and Homer of Antrim Street, recall the story as told by their father, the late William John Lundy, who died in 1945.

As president, he said, he wished to thank the directors for their support, the exhibitors, the general public, Mr. G. A. Gillespie, secretary-manager, and particularly Tom Brown whose experience for years was invaluable to the new president and the board.

"The president has given me altogether too much credit," said Mr. Brown. "My health did not allow me to take a very active part, but I have always been interested in our Exhibition, and I am glad to give any assistance I can."

Attending directors were, Mr. Stewart, Frank Savigny, Mr. Brown, Gordon Hancock, Harold Rehill, W. C. Wilks, Clarence Bacon, John Kitney, Melville Johnston, Manson Cathcart, Arthur McIntyre and Mr. Gillespie and Mr. Ward.

Cobourg Revises Water Rates

COBOURG, Jan. 15 (ENS). — Revision in the water rates, effective February 1, was announced yesterday by William A. Woods, manager of the Public Utilities. The rate changes do not increase the water bills of the average householder but some increase will occur in the commercial and industrial billings.

In connection with domestic users, instead of the former yearly basis, the rate will be computed on monthly water consumption basis and the change will facilitate billing. However, there is a change in the minimum charge for a single tap service, without hose connection, of 58 to 75 cents per month.

In the commercial rate there is no change in the first charge of 30c per M gallons for the first 20 M nor in the 20c per M for the next 80 M gallons a month but the third charge for all water over 100 M gallons, has been raised from 12 to 15 cents. Where a store or dwelling are occupied by the same tenant, the charge will be two dollars per month if plumbing is installed in both premises and this is an increase of one dollar. Where a hot and cold tap come into one basis, as in a barber shop, it will be classified as one faucet.

The industrial rate is unchanged except in the third charge which has been raised from 12 to 15 cents per M gallons for all water used in excess of 100 M gallons a month.

Rambling Reporter

99 DOGS KILLED

Humane Society Inspector Gerald Dunford reports 99 dogs disposed of during the past month, most of which had distemper. Nine were killed on the streets. Of 16 dogs found wandering in the street, 13 were claimed. Fifty-five cats were put to sleep in the electric chamber.

The Humane Society is appealing to teamsters to leave their horses standing with their backs to the wind when left for any length of time to avoid suffering in cold weather.

A BITING COMMENTARY

Wrestling crowds are apt to produce anything—and usually do. At the first match of the season on Wednesday night, the fans were out in force to cheer, bellow, applaud, curse and encourage the grunt-and-groaners. One trio included a pair in hot debate over the respective merits of their favorites. The third man listened quietly for a while, then quietly slipped his upper plate out of his mouth. Wiping the teeth on his coat, he carefully replaced them and settled back to continue the debate and watch the match. RB.

DOUSE THAT LIGHT, DIOGENES

A Campbellford man is thanking his lucky stars that, unlike the eccentric Greek philosopher, he has found an honest man. On Friday afternoon Fred J. Kelleher, RR 5, Campbellford, left the Empress Hotel beverage room and continued on about his business. Some time later he felt in his pockets and his heart began doing flip-flops when he realized that his wallet was missing. He raced back to the hotel where he was informed that a waiter, Tom Heffernan, had picked it up from the beverage room floor. It was then handed over to the police and Mr. Kelleher hurried to the police station to claim it. All smiles now, he returned to the hotel, thanked Mr. Heffernan and gave him $10. The gratitude was not misplaced for the wallet contained $1,423.

Averages 38 Miles a Day In Cross-Canada Hike Walker Carries 80-lb. Pack

If you are one of the weak sisters that complain of having to walk to work these chilly mornings don't try matching strides with Earl Mitchell. Earl, a 28-year-old batchelor from Victoria, BC, is amusing himself by walking across Canada and he has picked the winter months for his journey. Not one to shrink from the public eye, Earl marched into the Examiner newsroom on Thursday evening and announced: "I'm Earl Thomas Victor Mitchell, the Trans-Canada hiker. I've hit the headlines all across Canada."

He explained that he was following the Trans-Canada Highway and had got as far as Barrie on his way to Toronto.

"I've heard a lot about Peterborough," he confided, "and always wanted to see it, so I made a detour and came here.

As Peterborough is not marked on his route he was willing to accept a ride from a truck driver. At all other times such a method of locomotion would have been scorned as unworthy of a nationally-famous hiker.

By March 21—the first day of Spring and also his 29th birthday—Earl hopes to have arrived in Halifax, thus completing his trip in roughly five months. He started on his long journey from Vancouver on Oct. 29.

But Earl doesn't intend to give up when he has completed his cross country walk. No easy ride back to Vancouver in a Pullman for him. He intends to carry on his tour by sightseeing along the Atlantic coast as he heads south into the United States.

As though outlining plans for a Boy Scout outing on a Saturday afternoon he related that he then intends to turn west, ramble through the southern states to California and finish his trip by way of Oregon and Washington.

If all goes well he hopes to complete the North American circuit within a year.

Nine Days Behind

"Right now I'm nine days behind," he told the Examiner. "After I've stayed a couple of days in Toronto I'll have to bear down and make up that lost time."

He claimed that he averaged about 38 miles a day and on Thursday he boosted his distance to 46 miles.

When he decides to finish for the day he lights a fire, erects a specially-constructed rayon tent and cooks his meal. To keep him warm during the night he leaves the flap of his tent open to get the heat from the smouldering fire at the entrance.

When near civilization, however, he is not averse to accepting the comforts of a hotel room, often as guest of the proprietor who likes a little unexpected publicity.

"You want to know what I take with me?" he queried. "Well, it's just standard camping equipment: a first aid kit fastened to the belt, frying pan and pot, small kettle, salt and pepper, baking powder, yeast, vinegar, a sleeping bag and a 10 by seven-foot nylon tent built to my own specifications."

"It weighs about 80 pounds," he said.

Earl is quick to point out that he is no novice at the walking game.

Walked 960 Miles

Last year he went the 960 miles from Fort Yukon in the Arctic Circle to Whitehorse together with "Happy" Sweeney, a well-known Indian trapper in that territory.

In the summer he runs a horse-pulled pack-train between Whitehorse and Dawson City. And in the winter the trip is made by dogsled. Mail and food for prospectors and hunters is the usual pay-load.

"I thought if I could travel that distance behind a dogteam I could also travel across the country on foot and earn my living at the same time," he said.

He wears a pair of mocassins laced nearly up to his knees and they are re-inforced on the inside with a pair of shoes that have been built in.

"Specially designed to my own specifications," he said slapping his strange footwear.

A two-piece suit, insulated with eider down, complete with a hood, is his protection against the winter winds. A navy blue tuque gives the finishing touch to his traveller's clothing. In case of a driving snow or wind he carries a colored eyepiece to protect his eyes.

But he has no intention of continuing to cross the Dominion as a way of earning his living. And the larger cities have little attraction for him.

"I'm from the Yukon," he said, "and that's where I'm going back."

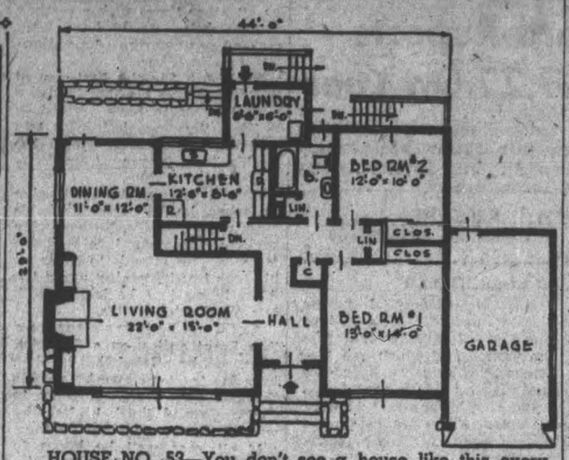
PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT



HOUSE NO. 53—You don't see a house like this every day do you? Its dramatic appeal is derived from splendid handling of simple lines and a pleasant contrast in materials and color. The low shake roof and stonework are soft grey, while the clapboard siding is a gleaming white. Study the splendid room arrangement shown. The plan has many features that will be sure to interest you. Many will appreciate the spacious feeling achieved by omitting the wall separating the dining room from the living room, and every housewife will cast envious eyes on the bright kitchen and first-floor laundry room. Both bedrooms are apart from the rest of the house, and insulated from each other. Location of the bathroom is good. For further information write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto. Please enclose stamp.

Wide Range of Requirement In Lighting of Living Room

The most important room in the house is very appropriately named the living room . . and because it is here that members of the family gather in the evenings lighting must be adequate, at enough places, and flexible enough to fill the wide range of living room requirements.

There are three types of lighting used in the living room; ceiling room; ceiling fixtures, wall brackets, and floor and table lamps.

Ceiling Mixtures

Ceiling Fixtures: It has been said that the ceiling fixture is a thing of the past. There is nothing further from the truth. However, many a home is labelled "old-fashioned" because the lighting fixtures are outmoded extravagances of the past. Often fixtures are not lighted because the bare bulb is annoying and glaring.

Modern ceiling fixtures employ in most every case indirect or semi-indirect lighting. They are not only decorative in themselves, but produce soft, glowing illumination which adds to the colour of the room.

Whether a pendant or close-fitting ceiling fixture is used depends upon the ceiling height. For the modern room with a low ceiling, the fixture may be built in or hung close to the ceiling. Always remember that the duty of a ceiling fixture, regardless of style or type, is essentially to provide general illumination.

The most modern of all ceiling illumination is that provided by built-in cove lighting. The cove may extend around the room, or at each end of the room, or in sections over windows or doors. The lamp bulbs or tubes are placed in a trough, thus giving soft light that is novel and decorative.

Floor And Table Lamps

Floor and Table Lamps: Rarely are living room ceiling fixtures designed to provide adequate local light for any of the various chairs. To meet the individual needs of every member of the family, floor and table lamps are necessary at every point where one sits to read, sew or work. These lamps must be chosen to blend with the decoration of the inferior, but, more important, they must be chosen for their ability to provide proper light for any eye task.

Before you purchase a new table lamp for reading, see it it meets these specifications.

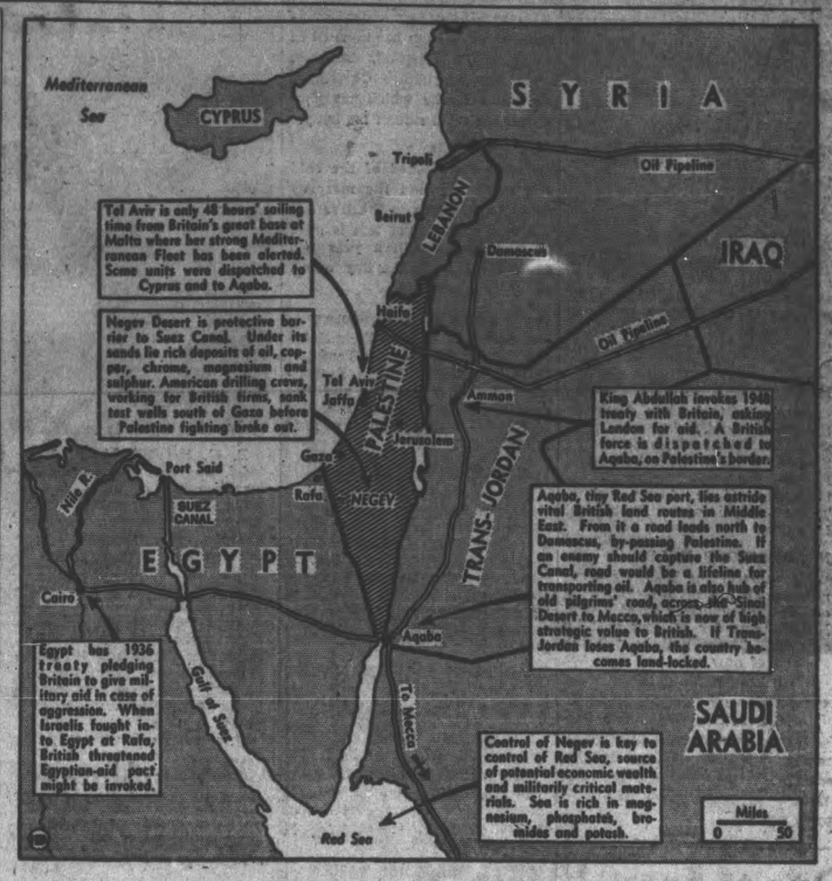
Base: The lamp complete with shade should be at least 21" in height. Lamps shorter than this concentrate the light over a very limited area and necessitate uncomfortable reading positions.

Lamp Shades

Shades: The shades must be deep enough to completely hide the bare lamp from the range of vision. It must be wide enough at the bottom to permit a wide distribution of light, and it must be open at the top so that light may be directed to the ceiling and walls. In this way light is reflected back into the room providing general room illumination.

Choose only a shade with a cream, ivory or preferably a white lining. Dark linings absorb great amounts of light, while white linings reflect the light. On the outside of the shade bands, binding, flowers, etc., may be used for decoration . . and to accent the furnishings in the room. Finally, the shade must be of sufficient density so that the burning lamp bulbs are not visible "hot" spots.

Wall Brackets: Wall brackets should be considered for their decorative value only, and not as a source of light when reading, working or entertaining. The most important thing to remember about these lgihting fixtures is that the lamp bulbs must be shaded.



MAP ABOVE SHOWS how location of Palestine in relation to Great Britain's strategic lifelines and oil sources, plus potential mineral wealth of the Negev desert, are factors in developments in the Palestine war. Israel and Britain have been antagonistic since before fighting even started, the crux of the hostility being London's traditional policy of maintaining friendship with Arab states to protect British economic and strategic interests in the Middle

Robbers Torture Man To Get More Money

CLEVELAND, Jan. 15—(AP)—Three robbers severely beat and burned John Krutov, 49-year-old grocer, Thursday night in an attempt to learn the hiding place of his money.

The beatings and torture began when the trio expressed disappointment at finding only $20 in the store. Despite denials of Krutov that he had any more cash, he was kicked and burned on the ball of his left foot with a match or cigarette lighter. Previously he had been tied, gagged and blindfolded.

The robbers left without finding any more money.

Thief Suffers Remorse

TORONTO, Jan. 15 — (CP) — George . Birmingham, 19, told Thursday how he robbed a deaf tobacconist of $10 and then, overcome by remorse, telephoned police and told them to come and get him. The magistrate gave him suspended sentence and put him on probation for two years.

One of Every 10 Greeks Has Become a Refugee

ATHENS, Jan. 15—(Reuters)—One of every 10 Greeks today is a refugee. Some 625,000 peasants from the northern provinces have left their villages because they either are under rebel control or in the field of military operations.

About 17,000 children from these areas have been taken by the "democratic army" across the border into neighboring countries behind the iron curtain. Some 15,000 other Greek children, removed from the Communist-threatened areas, now are in special camps and hostels established for them in the south.

The families of those fighting in the rebel bands are reported to be living in desperate plight in Albania, where they went after leaving their homes in the mountain villages of Epirus and Macedonia.

After Communist raids on a peaceful village, panic-stricken peasants, who escape forcible recruitment, rush away leaving their modest belonging behind.

Official figures issued recently show that 456,000 of these refugees are lodged in half-destroyed buildings, warehouses, requisitioned schools, and churches, 96,000 are living under tents, and 133,000 are totally homeless.

In addition to the $100,000 a day appropriation needed to feed them, the Greek Ministry of Reconstruction has called for a credit of a further $6,000,000 to provide provisional housing for 80,000 of the 133,000 who still are entirely without shelter.

Another $18,000,000 have been allocated to finance public works designed to give them a regular job near their new homes.

There is also growing concern over the conditions in which these refugees are living. Their increasing distress makes them an easy prey to Communist propaganda, ever ready to exploit their sufferings to undermine the country's morale.

SHELTERED GOUZENKO—Official recognition is being sought for Mrs. Doris Elliott, 54-year-old wife of an Ottawa civil servant who gave Igor Gouzenko and his family shelter on the eve of his disclosure about a Soviet spy ring in Canada. Mrs. Elliott now critically ill in an Ottawa hospital was aware Soviet agents were seeking the former cipher clerk and was a witness at the trials following the arrest of the members of the ring. Her doctor says testifying when she was ill aggravated her illness.

Color the Cue in Footwear Women's Styles Dressy Men's Bold and Rugged

By MARGARET LANCASTER

There'll be buttons but no bows on her shoes if the girl in the popular song is in style this spring. Yes it's come! When dress styles reverted to the gay '90's for inspiration, shoe designers took a peek under the crinolines and discovered high button shoes.

But don't go hunting for a button hook—yet. A local shoe retailer will offer a high fashion shoe with dive-button side closing, but its vamp is slightly stretchable and the shoe so lasted that they don't have to be undone. Three buttons trim the vamp of another model they are bringing in black and navy calf leather and this they expect to be a sale-leader. Bow trims are out—not one to be seen in previewing spring shoes styles.

Color Interest

"It takes 166 pairs of a line to give each size and with up to 10", Mr. C. G. Collins of Peterborough, Ontario vice president of the Canadian Shoe Retailers' Association, advised. So buyers must choose stock very carefully, ever with an eye to preferences shown by Peterborough buyers.

"Color is the big news in the fashion field this spring. Navy and a new shade called 'electric blue' are creating the most interest right now, but black will outsell them all" Mr. Collins predicted.

The shoe industry believes green will replace red among the rival colors. At the dealer's convention in Toronto this week they placed colored shoes in this order: blue, green, red, grey and bronze. Closed-in toes are the trend but there weill be some with small openings shown here because the girls like the extra room and comfort they give. Platforms are down to one-quarter inch width in an effort to get away from this style. Many extreme sandalized types were shown with wedges going to cuban and three or four inch heighths.

All Have Straps

"Anything with a strap" said Mr. Collins as he set out a costume shoe of paddy green suede. Even the popular "baby doll" of last spring now has a strap across the instep and a wedge heel. Widow's peaks and high backs are other innovations in shoe design, and three is a new pointed toe. A wide choice of heel heights is given and in more expensive lines there is the breasted French heel.

Teen-agers will get a kick out of the "tippy canoe" shoe that is replacing the loafer. It is coming to Peterborough in a range of colors with genuine hand stitching. Another new one is the "limberjack". Basket weave gives a different look to a red leather loafer and good ventilation. Summer sandals are being styled to meet the younger set's demand for shoes like mother's that look young.

Deceiving Ways

"The woman with a very wide foot and ankle to match has previously been forced to wear the same old oxford type of shoe for years. Lately an attempt was made to produce a nice dressy shoe with style points for her." Mr. Collins displayed four products of the effort that are just full of deception and flattery. One is a fairly open sandal type and another has narrow straps across the instep.

What of the Man

What about the traditionally "forgotten man" in the shoe style picture? Well, the "bold" look is stressed for him and here again the girls are taking his favorite style the Ghillie and adapting it for themselves. Leather laces fasten a really rugged looking shoe with notched welting and longer-wearing composition soles. The heavy sole is the thing in masculine types, often showing two or three thicknesses. Crepe soles are tending toward smooth ribbed crepe which pick up less dirt. The "gentlemen's shoe" is made of fine grain leather with much less of "the dog" and has a Barbour welting finish. Fastest seller in the men's department is a snappy shoe with brass eyelets and a reversed welting finish.

For Splashers

Good news for the gal who splashes mud on the back of her stockings every wet day. The "splashee" rubber, brought out last fall, has proved really effective in 98 per cent of cases. A small pointed extension of the inner heel corner makes the difference.

Mr. Peterborough may be getting nasty spatters on his pant legs too, come spring, and if so the "commuter's rubber" will fix that. Of mid-calf height, it pulls up over the shoe, but the top can be buttoned over underneath too.

New Child's Style

Biggest development in children's shoes today is a sole which extends up the back and is stitched to the upper, ont the outside. This not only prevents sagging tops but tends to keep little ones up on their toes. White rubbers are back on the market and there is in all-waterproof overshoe that buckles.

The Babylonians had an adequate banking system as early as 2000 B.C., according to the Encyclopeadia Britannica.

THIS, ladies and gentlemen, is a house-dress, 1949 style. The off-the-shoulder model, worn by Royce Kane, was shown in New York. Note that Royce is wearing gloves. Very chic for dish-washing.

'Apple of His Eye' Use These to Be

The person who is perfection in the eyes of another has for many years been said to be "the apple of his eye." Apples, even the type produced a hundred years ago, were considered to be one of the choicest fruits. So today with many improved varieties the expression is even more applicable.

Winter apples that are excellent for crunching raw, either for dessert or between meals, are McIntosh, Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, Northern Spy, Winesap and Jonathan. Good cookers are Northern Spy, Winesap, Jonathan, Rhode Island Greening, King, Stark and Rome Beauty.

They all make good pies. Greenings go to pices so they make excellent sauce and Rome Beauties. are perfect bakers.

Red Apple Tarts

6 medium apples, 1 cup water, ¾ cup sugar, a few drops red coloring, 6 baked pastry tart shells.

Peel and core apples. Boil sugar and water 2 minutes. Add red vegetable coloring. Simmer apples in syrup until bottom half is cooked, turn and cook until whole apple is tender. Drain and place an apple in each tart shell. Boil syrup 3 minutes longer, cool and pour over apples in tart shells. Serve with whiped cream. Yield, six servings.

Applesauce Pudding

3 cups sweetened applesauce, 2 egg yolks, 1-3 teasoon grated lemon rind, ¾ teasoon vanilla, 2 egg whites, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons brown sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Place applesauce in a bowl. Beat egg yolks, and lemon rind and the ¾ teaspoon vanilla. Add to applesauce. Place mixture in a baking dish. Set dish in a pan of hot water and oven-poach in a very slow oven, 300 deg. F., for 15 minutes. Make a meringue of the egg whites, salt, sugar and the half teaspoon vanilla. Heap on the apple mixture, return to oven and bake ten minutes longer. Serve hot or very cold with cream. Yield, six servings.

Baked Apple Supreme

3 large apples, preferably red, 1-3 cup sugar, 1 cup water, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 3 tablespoons mincemeat or jam.

Wash apples and cut in half crosswise; scoop out core, being careful not to break the skin. Boil sugar aid water 5 minutes, then add lemon juice. Arrange apples in shallow baking dish. Fill centre of each with mincemeat or jam and pour syrup over all. Cover and bake in moderate oven, 350 deg. F., until tender, about 25 minutes. Removes apples to serving dishes and boil syrup unttil slightly thickened. Pour over apples and chill. Yield, six servings.

Local Red Cross Seeks 2,500 Blood Donors

A campaign for 50,000 voluntary blood donors from Central Ontario starts Monday. Peterboroug Branch of the Red Cross Society will seek 2,500 in this area. The reward to those citizens is the knowledge they are helping to save countless Canadian lives.

Peterborough is one of the few centres that has a local blood transfusion service and has recently received high praise for its conduct from Provincial Red Cross authorities.

"It was started in 1942 and donors have been giving blood continuously since then," said Mrs. Chas. J. Ray, who has also been continuously associated with this work.

"We have records of all donors who have given blood since the day the service started, and we feel a personal interest in them," she continued. "Pins have been given out on the third, sixth, tenth and twentieth donation and this we will continue to do in the new service."

"Only difference now will be that blood is taken at the Red Cross rooms at stated intervals instead of donors having to go to the hospitals at all hours of the day and night." Mrs. Ray added that they have done this willingly enough, though many times they are called from their beds. Through fullest cooperation of employers in industry, stores and offices, they have been allowed to leave their work at any time to give a much-needed blood donation.

Mr. C. G. Collins Chairs Convention

Mr. C. G. Collins, was chairman of the third annual convention of the Canadian Shoe Retailers' Association held in Toronto this week. Also, he was in charge of arranging the grand "Cinderella Ball" of Wednesday evening, biggest thing ever held in the Royal York Hotel with 3,500 in attendance. Included in the list of prizes for Mr. and Mrs. Cinderella, the lucky ticket holders, is a gift from the Peterborough store.

Commenting on the events which took place, Mr. Harry Silver said "It was the finest convention yet and everyone was highly pleased." He added that a survey is being made to give the Canadian public the best in shoe value.

"Some arrangements are already made for next year's convention" Mr. Collins, Ontario vice president of the Association, said. He was re-elected to this office during the sessions, and Mr. Jos. Kennedy from the Maritimes is new president of the coast-to-coast organizations. Convention dinner speakers included Lieutenant-Governor Earl Lawson, and a prominent clergyman, the Rev. Young who gave an outstanding address on "The need in the world is character."

History of China Studied At St. Paul's WMS

First regular meeting of St. Paul's Senior WMS Auxiliary this year was held Friday afternoon in the Guild Room. Mrs. D. T. Diplock, president, presided. Devotional was led by Mrs. A. Sollitt who followed the service of worship based on the "Beatitudes," and planned to line as closely as possible with the year's program of study. This included reading a portion of scripture and prayer.

Mrs. T. J. Carley introduced the new study which is on China, her land and people with particular emphasis on the sections in which the Presbyterian church has responsibilities. It was pointed out that China is an ancient country and must be approached with this in mind. Chinese culture today is based on the writings and teachings of Confucius who lived 500 years before Christ. In periods of the turbulent history, all Confucian writings were supposed to have been destroyed, but they have survived in remarkable ways.

Also in those early days, roads and canals were built and the most remembered achievement of all, the great wall, endures to the present time.

When a vast horde of Mongols swept down upon China, it was told that instead of being actually conquerors they settled down to copy Chinese customs and manners and gradually became absorbed. It is hoped the Communists who now appear to be conquering may once more become her conquered, and so more than ever, China presents a great opportunity for Christian teaching.

Study showed that in the time of Marco Polo wonderful developments were being made in porcelain, painting, works in bronze, gold and silver, and in building by the Chinese who have been more advanced in learning than any other country in the world.

It was following the Boxer uprising of 1900, an attempt to oust the foreigner from China, that she began to adopt western ways and under Sun-Yet-Sen a new nation came into being. For the problem of driving the Japanese out of the north the government sought help that only Russia seemed willing to give Chiang-Kai-shek's able regime, seems now at an end study revealed and much discontent and apathy is evident in China.

Much information was also gained from a letter from former Dr. Louise Gates, general secretary of YWCA, read by Mrs. Carley. Now Mrs. Sherwood Eddy, she wrote from China in November referring to frightful conditions prevailing, the look of utter weariness on faces, squalor in streets, poverty, disease and hardship on every hand. An hour which the writer spent with the General and Madame Chiang-Kai-shek she describes as the most quiet and peaceful of her time in that troubled country.

With more than half of China under Communistic control, requests are coming from Christian missionaries for re-opening of hospitals and schools, so it is felt perhaps China is able to take some good from the Communists.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Diplock.

Spring Fashion Turns Its Back on Pockets

Women's Hip Pockets Placed Not to Carry Wallets in Them

NEW YORK, —(ENS)—Restless pockets, which are always on the move, have settled this spring at the back of women's clothes.

Although this new location is a style idea borrowed from men's pants, women's hip pockets are not intended to carry wallets or ease the burden of a lady's handbag.

The weightiest object seen in a back hip pocket, woman-styled, is a silk print handkerchief which probably weighs little more than a feather. This hankie in anchored for a flip effect into one of the two cuffed pockets with which Hattie Carnegie whoops up the hip array on a woollen sharkskin suit of wedgewood blue. More hip interest comes from the jacket's stiffened peplum which flares out like a lampshade above a pedestal-slim skirt with more pockets in front.

Patch pockets, styled like those on a man's levis, look much more sophisticated than that at the back of a suavely-tailored coat dress. Made of acorn-brown tropical worsted, this design of Jo Copeland's matches back interest with white pique collar and cuffs as fresh-looking as the first crocus.

Of Interest to Women

ents' quarrels, and to be buffeted by their passions, wrecks his nerves and makes him subject to all sorts of neuroses that may blight his entire life.

Surely, if your father and mother could be made to realize how miserable they make you by their quarrels, they would deny themselves the pleasure of their daily spat.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I adore my husband, but he makes me very unhappy by bragging about what an aristocratic family he belongs to, when he well knows that I come of poor and humble people. Don't you think it is mean and small of him to do this?

✧ ✧ ✧

MRS. X.

ANSWER: I certainly do. He may have good blood in his veins, but he is not acting as a gentleman should when he boasts of his family and humiliates you. It is just as vulgar to boast of one's ancestors as it is to boast of one's money, and it is something that a real aristocrat never does. The man who has to proclaim the fact that he is a gentleman is no gentleman.

DOROTHY DIX

Woman Deepens Every Joy And Lightens All Sorrow

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My boy friend says that a man is a fool to marry until he is over 40 years old. He says that a man has to give up so much when he marries; that a man is still young at 40, while a woman is old, and that the man has to sacrifice more than the woman does in order to have a family.

Dorothy Dix

What are your ideas on the subject—ADELE J.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Well, I think your boy friend's view are all wet. If a man waits until he is 40 to marry, he has missed the 10 best years of his life, supposing, of course, that he marries happily. He has missed the rapture of young love, and the companionship of a woman that deepens every joy and lightens every sorrow, and he has missed those 10 crucial years of youth in which a man and woman can adapt themselves to each other until they literally become one.

By the time a man is 40 he has hardened into bachelorhood. He has gotten set in his ways and he cannot change them. The bloom is rubbed off of romance for him and he cannot love with the impassioned fervor of 30. And at 40 a man's children are apt to be brats instead of playthings. Their noise disturbs him and he cannot enter into their amusements as he could if they had come to him when he was younger.

Common Illusion

As for your friend's contention that a man at 40 is young and a woman is old, I know that is a common illusion among men. But if you will look around among your acquaintances, you will see that most wives at middle age are just as young and attractive-looking as their husbands are. The old theory that women age quicker than men is being discounted in these days when men live under such a strain in business and women make a cult of preserving their youth.

It is ridiculous to assert that the man makes a greater sacrifice than the woman in rearing a family. Who goes down into the valley of the shadow of death to bring children into the world? Who watches over the babies day in and day out, night in and night out Who washes for them and sews for them and feeds them? It is Mother who is first at the cradle and last at the grave.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My parents are always quarreling with one another over everything and anything. They say terrible things to each other, and I have gotten to the place where I hate to come home to a mother and father who are always fighting. I have tried everything to bring them to their senses, but have failed.

They both claim to love me dearly. Do you think if I went away it would help any? I have a good business education and could get a job anywhere.

✧ ✧ ✧

AN ONLY CHILD.

ANSWER: I think that if you told your parents that you could no longer endure such a place of discord as they make your home, and that you are going to strike out for yourself to get away from it all, it might bring them to their senses. It is worth trying and, at any rate, there is no use in you having your life wrecked and your nerves shattered by continuing to live in a house that is nothing by a battleground. You have a right to peace ,even if you have to leave your mother and father to find it.

There is nothing else in the world so curious as the fact that married couples never consider what the effect of the way they treat each other is upon their children. They never stop to think that for a child to be brought up in a house of strife, to be compelled to assist in its parents' quarrels, and to be buffeted by their passions, wrecks his nerves and makes him subject to all sorts of neuroses that may blight his entire life.

Surely, if your father and mother could be made to realize how miserable they make you by their quarrels, they would deny themselves the pleasure of their daily spat.

Housing Picture Improved Mayor Reports

Peterborough is overtaking its housing shortage, Mayor Swanston has informed the council.

Progressive completion of the 226 houses that are being built for Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation is offering accommodation that will gradually become available first to the ex-service men whose names are on the Corporation's list of applicants.

Central Mortgage has not reached a definite opinion on the housing problem and its proximate solution. But, they are making a thorough enquiry to obtain the facts of this year's supply and demand. More than 400 names of ex-service men are on their list. Each of them is being investigated. That fact-finding is now in progress.

This is a sample of the response as it looms at the beginning of 1949. The top thirty names of applicants in the list of 400 plus were investigated one by one. Ten are still in the tenant market. The others have bought or are buying or have moved out eof Peterborough.

If that average of one-third continued down the list as the enquiry proceeds, there would be at least 100 applications from that source.

Central Mortgage opinion is that while the prolonged emergency continues, and may be reduced by the new houses that are becoming ready for occupation, the solution may be upset by new circumstances and their effects.

Small families that have acquired one or two children in rooming quarters are in many instances being advised to look elsewhere. Owners requiring houses for their own family use, under the new order of last November, have been giving notices to tenants who in turn are bound to look to Central Mortgage for relief.

The almost constant movement of people continues. Demand for the first block of the new houses has been active and is likely to remain at that pace, but there is still the prospect of this new supply of 226 houses finally pushing the accommodation problem into a corner for the first time in ten years, probably since 1940, when the circumstances of shortages existed but were not being strained then by the influx of people who came later.

Heads Red Cross For Third Year; Reports Progress

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 15 (ENS)— Mrs. W. W. Leonard was elected president of the Red Cross Branch for a third term at the annual meeting held at the Curry home.

Mrs. Bob McCracken, secretary gave a complete report of the year's activities.

Two new projects, the Weel Baby Clinic and the engaging of a school nurse had been of untold benefit to the community due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. W. Delledonne in charge of the baby Clinic, Mrs. Wallace Hendren, school nurse, and Dr. Hugh Gastle, M.O.H.

In the baby clinic, 85 babies and 13 older children were registered. Thirty one babies and older children were immunized against whooping cough, diphtheria and tetanus and nine had been vaccinated.

Mrs. Hendren, school nurse said there had been co-operation from parents. Two head inspections found conditions much improved. As a result of eye examinations nearly all defected eyes had received attention. Inoculations and step-up doses for diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus, and vaccinations for smallpox were given to children in grade 1 and 2.

Dr. A. Campbell did dental inspections in Lakefield last spring and me at Young's Point this winter.

In the swimming and water safety program, despite severe set back of polio and poor swimming weather, the results were encouraging. Eight juniors, 14 intermediates and 12 seniors received their certificates and pins.

Lend Equipment

Another achievement accomplish by the Red Cross this year was the loan cupboard. The village council loaned a room in Memorial Hall for this program and it is well equipped with addional articles being added as suggestions were received. A hospital, bed was added this summer and had been in use a great deal.

Four layettes were sent to the Children's Shelter and three were used in local baby cases. Two warm bed jackets were sent to the House of Refuge

The Red Cross helped pay for the inhalator which the Societies in Lakefield are purchasing. Though not paid for this summer, it was at the disposal of the waterfront for the swimming program.

Sewing and knitting reports revealed that more than 200 articles including 20 quilts were distributed.

A parcel had been sent every month to veterans in hospital.

At Christmas, three needy families had been remembered with suitable gifts.

US Senators Quite Miffed Not Consulted On Acheson

BY GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (CP) —President Truman's latest cabinet appointment revives the oft-forgotten fact that the Senate hold a traditional check-rein on all such moves. In naming Dean Acheson to succeed George C. Marshall as Secretary of State, Truman touched off a flurry of jabbing criticism from Republican Senators. Angry because the President did not consult them, they lined up to fight—or at least minutely analyze — the Acheson appointment.

That is their right although it is customary to go along with presidential cabinet choices.

Two Burning Issues

For the Republicans, there are two burning issues in this case:

1 Acheson's alleged "soft" attitude toward Russia when he was Undersecretary of State shortly before the end of the war.

2. The "slap" Truman took at the bipartisan foreign policy by not asking them in advance what they thought of Acheson.

And it's the second that's really hurting.

With one possible exception, Canada's system of government has no parallel for this senate-approval requirement. When a Canadian cabinet post is given to a man who is not a member of Parliament—the recent appointment of L. B. Pearson as Minister of External Affairs is an example—the voters of the riding which he seeks a Commons seat do, in effect, rule on the appointment.

Most Canadian cabinet jobs, however, go to men who have worked up through the commons ranks. United States cabinet members, on the other hand, are not members, of either the Senate or House of Representatives. The constitution says no man may be a National Office-Holder and a Cabinet Member at the same time.

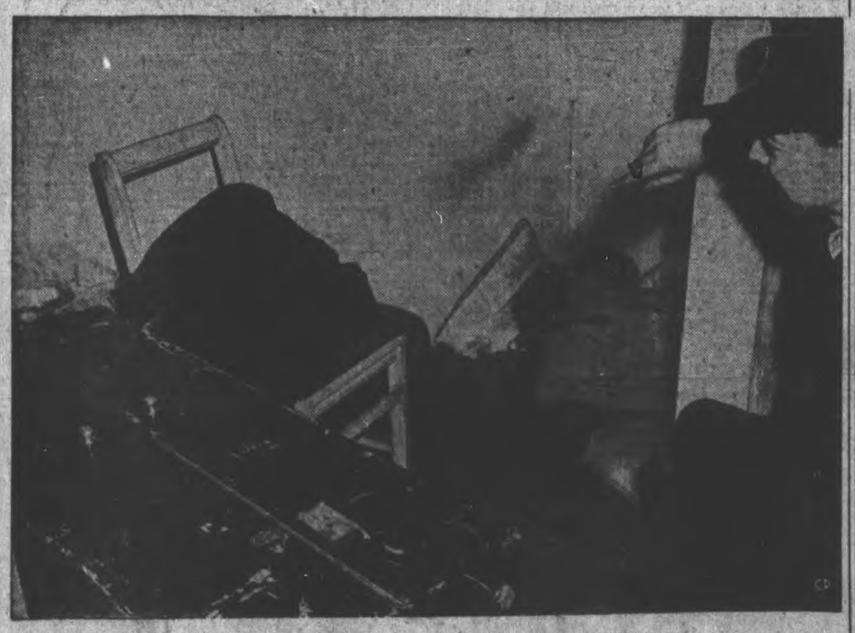
There are other notable differences in the cabinet set-ups of the two countries.

In the United States, cabinet members are simply presidential advisers. They are not permitted to appear on the floor of either house, even to answer questions. But in Canada, a big part of a cabinet minister's time is spent doing just that—and in introducing and explaining and pushing Government Legislation.

There are nine men in the United States cabinet: A Postmaster-General and Secretaries of State, Treasury, Justice, Interior, Agriculture, Commerce, Labor and Defence. The Canadian cabinet is twice as big.

Abandons Child

TORONTO, Jan. 15 (CP) — Police today were looking for a mother who left her two-months-old daughter with another woman two days ago in a bus terminal here. Lillian Collier told police that a woman whom she met casually in the bus depot restaurant asked to to care for the child until Thursday. The woman said she came from Kingston, and had nowhere to go. She did not return for the child. The baby now has been placed in an infants home.



PRISON CELL—In this low-ceiling basement cubby-hole in a house in Vancouver's Dunbar district, Ernest Conduit claims he was held prisoner by would-be counterfeiters. Left foreground is a metal chest to which he was chained. Policeman Jack Slater points to the blanket and mattress on which Conduit slept.
